FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

WASTING DISEASES

Such as Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, Loss of Vitality, Nervous Complaints, Constipation, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, or

Loss of Nervous Power,

Are positively cured by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.

As phosphorus enters so largely into the animal economy, it becomes par excellence the idea vehicle with which to administer the other vitalizing ingredients of healthy Blood, Nerve and Bone. Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites are combined all the substances found necessary to insure robust health, and wherever it was invented with a view to supply every deficiency, it certainly has performed some wonderful cures.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 18, 1880.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS,

Dear Sir: I wish to acknowledge the great benefit I have received from the use of "Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites." I have been an invalid for nearly two years, with bronchial affection that had become chronic. In the fall of 1878 I had a physician eighty days in succession, besides the counsel of several others. They gave me but little encouragement, some of them none. Last July I was advised to give your remedy a trial. I did so, and in less than one week there was a marked improvement for the better. I have continued its use from that time until the present, improving all the time, and I can truthfully say I am more than hundred per cent. better than when I commenced its use. I have increased in weight about fifteen pounds, and my cough, which was fearful, has nearly disappeared. I believe had it not been for your Syrup, I should ere this have been beyond the cares of life. Very truly yours,

ALBERT STORY.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

For sale by A. P. Preston.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them a early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAKER.

Rational Treatment, Positive Cures.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, President of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, is in earnest in selling his medicines under positive guarantees, and if anybody who purchases and uses any these widely celebrated remedies, does not derive benefit therefrom, the Association would like to hear from that person with description of symptoms and history of case. Organized and incorporated, as the Association is, to teach medicine and surgery and for the successful treatment of all chronic diseases, and managing annually thousands of cases through our original method of diagnosis without ever seeing the patients, and having also the largest sanitarium in the world for the accommodation of the more complicated cases, and also for surgical cases, the Faculty feel themselves prepared to undertake even the most discouraging cases. They resort to all the best remedial means known to modern medical science—neglecting nothing. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Postal Rules.

Judge Freeman, assistant attorney general for the post-office department, has written an official letter to the postmaster general, which takes the ground that printed commercial papers filled out in writing are legally subject to letter rates of postage, and that therefore section 232 of the present postal regulations (allowing such papers as bills of lading, invoices, way bills, insurance documents, deeds, circulars, and handbills, to pass through the mails as third class matter) should be omitted as contrary to law.

Since the introduction of postal cards, and the reduction of rates upon different classes of printed matter, some business firms have acquired the practice of sending through the mails printed cards, other than the postal cards issued by the department; these have been of all sizes and shapes, and have proved a great annoyance in making up mails, from the unusual dimensions some of them have attained to. The post-office department has accordingly issued an order that on and after January 1st, 1881, no single cards, written or printed, not enclosed in envelopes, shall be mailable as such, excepting the postal cards issued by the post-office authorities.

Naval Affairs.

The Brooklyn Eagle of Dec. 27th says: "The United States marines stationed at the marine barracks in the navy yard had a bountiful dinner on Christmas day. It was decidedly the best dinner ever given to the enlisted men at the barracks, and was heartily enjoyed. Eighty out of the 200 marines stationed at the barracks were given twenty-four hours liberty, and every man returned on time and fit for duty. The marines are under command of Capt. Henry J. Bishop, who relieved Col. Field two weeks since of the command. He was ably assisted by Capt. Meade, Lieuts. Denny and Turner. Capts. Bishop and Meade are war veterans, and each has had a long and faithful service in the corps."

It is thought by members of both houses of Congress that the bill reported last session to the House by Mr. Harris of Massachusetts, providing for the creation of a construction fund, from the income of which new ships of war shall be built, will pass the Senate this session. It passed the House by a large majority last session.

News and Notes.

Two boys, aged respectively seven and five years, children of George Newell of Aylmer, Ont., were playing with a revolver supposed to be unloaded on the 29th ult., when the elder shot the younger just below the right eye, inflicting a fatal wound.

Spain has contracted in England for war vessels, and is building in the arsenals of the peninsula several gunboats and fast sloops for service in the waters of Cuba and Manila, at a cost of nearly $2,000,000.

At Cincinnati, on the afternoon of Dec. 30th, the books were opened and stock to the amount of $300,000 subscribed in a few minutes, for the formation of a company to introduce Maxim's electric light into Cincinnati, Covington and Newport.

A. S. Logan, a lineal descendant of the celebrated Indian chief of the Six Nations has been appointed to a position in the interior department.

The British steamer Montgomeryshire, with a crew of thirty men, has been totally lost with all hands on the coast of Portugal; and the British steamer Gannett has gone down in the North sea, with a crew of twelve men.

A man named Patrick Hennelley has been arrested at Tipton, Ireland, charged with the murder of Lord Mountmorres in September.

The twin children, three months old, of William and Fannie Johnson, were recently frozen to death at New Albany, Ind. The family were very poor. Johnson left home in the morning to hunt for work, leaving his wife and children with no fuel, and despite the efforts of the mother to keep the infants warm with their scanty clothing, one perished at three o'clock and the other at six o'clock. The destitution of the family was not known to the neighbors.

The Old Colony Steamboat Co. have contracted with John Roach & Son for a new steamer to take the place of the wrecked Rhode Island. The new boat is to cost nearly $1,000,000, and will be larger than either the Providence or Bristol.

Patrick Rock, of Union Hill, N. J., had a sore on one of his fingers which a druggist lanced, but the finger grew worse and finally had to be amputated. Rock has now sued the druggist for malpractice, laying his damage at $20,000.

At North Augusta, Ont., Mrs. Hart, aged eighty-six years, was murdered by her son on Christmas day. The body was horribly mangled and hid in the barn, and discovered Dec. 28th.

The Australian steamer just arrived at San Francisco, brings particulars of the massacre of Capt. Romer and four of the crew of the schr. Fly in the South Sea islands. The natives of Rito surprised the boat's crew while bathing and pursued them in the water, mutilating the bodies of the slain, and torturing those captured alive by roasting them at the stake.

The celebration of the centennial of Cowpens, with the unveiling of the monument of Daniel Morgan, at Spartanburg, S. C., is postponed from Jan. 17 to a later day, not yet determined on. The principal object of the postponent is to give an opportunity for the co-operation of New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, most of whose legislatures meet this month.

At Babylon, L. I., during the storm of Sunday night, Dec. 26th, the telegraphic connection with Fire island was broken. On the 29th news was received from Fire island that the storm was severe there. The surf broke across the beach between the Surf hotel and the lighthouse. The Pavilion on the ocean side was undermined, and a hundred bathing houses washed away. The hotel narrowly escaped. A large ship's cabin and much wreckage washed into the bay. An old hull of a 1200-ton steamer washed on the beach. The vessel was not recognized. No steamer is remembered to have stranded near where the hull lies, and it is supposed to be the wreck of some of the many missing steamships which have at various times put to sea, and never after been heard of.

James H. Brady, alias Mooney, the burglar who in company with Edward C. Marshall, alias Lavoie, robbed the house of G. H. Norman in Boston of $11,000 worth of jewelry and government bonds, in February, 1880, and subsequently murdered Lavoie in a room in a Boston boarding house, where the dead body was found about nine days after the murder, was arrested in Albany, N. Y., last Thursday.

—The London World says that Beaconsfield's "Endymion" and Tennyson's latest volume of poems furnish "the clearest indications we have yet had of the literary exhaustion and intellectual decadence of two of the most distinguished men of the epoch."

Burnett's Cocoaine.

The Best Hair Dressing in the World.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE allays irritation, removes all tendency to dandruff, invigorates the action of the capillaries in the highest degree, and has earned a deserved reputation for promoting the growth and preserving the beauty of the human hair. Ladies dressing their hair elaborately for the evening will find that it imparts a healthy natural gloss to the hair, and will cause it to retain its shape for hours.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are used and endorsed by the best Hotels, Confectioners, and Grocers throughout the country. They are perfectly pure.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB, Jun. writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething stage, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

—A fashion paper says "gathered waists are very much worn." If the men would gather the waists carefully, and not squeeze so like blazes, they would not be worn so much. Some men go to work gathering a waist just as they would go to work washing sheep. They ought to gather a waist as though it was eggs, done up in funnel-shaped brown paper at a grocery store.

—A man in Warren county, Kentucky, drives an ox team that once belonged to an intemperate man, and that got so used to stopping for him at saloons that now, when passing a saloon, the animals will not move until their new owner goes in to get a drink. He doesn't care for liquor, he says, but is obliged to drink to get his team along. He has refused $5,000 for the oxen.

—Senator Ingalls of Kansas remarked in the Senate that "the sickly colleges scattered around the land were responsible for the very large number of failures in life. Boys had been taken from the plough, plane and anvil and sent to the great cities to be poor lawyers, miserable doctors and wretched ministers, until, failing in these pursuits, they degenerate into lightning rod peddlars and book agents, to finally disappear beneath the earth they had encumbered when above it."

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Robertson, clerk of the Gibson house, returned on Friday from a visit to his friends at the eastward.

The old saw, "As the days begin to length'n the cold begins to strengthen," seems to hit the case very nicely this season.

By the will of James Brennan of Newmarket, recently deceased, his entire estate, valued at $20,000, goes to St. Mary's Catholic society of that town, after the death of his widow.

Do not forget the poor children's dinner at Bow Mission hall to-day. Hand cash gifts to Mr. D. H. Montgomery, and send cooked food to the mission hall this forenoon, after eight o'clock.

Now is the time for good resolutions. Almost everybody has got a large stock on hand, made in previous years and never used; these, if brushed up, will be found to answer the purpose just as well as new ones.

The directors of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad company held a meeting Dec. 29th, and voted to declare a semi-annual dividend of three per cent, payable January 15th to stockholders of record December 31st.

The full text of the interesting and valuable sketch of New Hampshire's early history, given by Charles W. Tuttle, Esq., of Boston, at the special meeting of the Historical Society in this city on the evening of Dec. 29th, was published in the Boston papers of the 31st.

Junkins Council, Legion of Honor, of Greenland, at the late annual meeting elected the following officers: Commander, Clarence DeRochemont; vice commander, Ernest Holmes; past commander, Nathaniel P. Ordway; orator, Nathaniel Gookin; chaplain, Crosby R. Edmunds; guide, Willie Bennett; warden, J. C. Shaw; sentry, Willie Johnson; trustees, J. C. Shaw, Ernest Holmes, Wesley Jenness. The council has thirty-six members.

Early risers on Friday morning, that is, persons who got up before half-past eight o'clock, saw a very respectable eclipse of the sun, if they looked at that luminary before nine o'clock. The sun rose with about one-fifth of its disc obscured, and at the moment of greatest obscuration, at twelve minutes past eight o'clock, nearly one-half of it was invisible. Shortly after nine o'clock the moon got out of the world's sunshine, and the eclipse was over.

"Glimpses of Europe" is the subject of the lecture to be given at the opening of the course at the Universalist church, next Monday evening, Jan. 3d, by Col. Wm. H. Hackett of this city, and the audience will doubtless be limited only by the capacity of the house. Col. Hackett is well known as a man of genius, a ready observer, of quick perception, apt in illustration, and a fluent and pleasing speaker. Our people will be glad indeed of the opportunity of listening to him. Those who are familiar with the scenes and customs of foreign lands, as well as those who are strangers to them, will be interested to hear a description in the humorous vein of the speaker.—Times.

The steamers Forest City and John Brooks, which arrived at Portland on the afternoon and night of December 30th from Boston, reported having seen, sticking out of the water about a mile and a half from York ledge, the masts of a vessel, apparently a brigantine. It was supposed the vessel struck the ledge, capsized and filled. The only clue given to the identity of the wreck was that she was painted red—how this was known the first reports did not state—and that the only vessel sailing along the eastern coast known to be painted that color is a schooner belonging in Eastport, Me., name not given.

The Norfolk Jubilee singers, an ex-slave troupe of marked musical merit, give a sacred concert at Music hall on Sunday evening. See adv't.

Friday morning was the coldest of the season thus far. At the CHRONICLE office, at four o'clock, the thermometer was two degrees below zero; at Eldredge's brewery, shortly before sunrise, twelve below; on Union street ten, at Noble's island bridge nine, and at Christian Shore eight degrees below.

A horse drawing a load of coal slipped and fell on the Eastern railroad track at the Vaughan street crossing, Friday forenoon, just as the train which arrives from the eastward at eleven o'clock was approaching. The train was promptly flagged and the engineer clapped on the air brakes, stopping the train just in time. Had the old-fashioned hand-brakes been the only means of checking the train, the team would have been pulverized.

At the recent annual communication of Washington Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, the following officers were elected: Chas. W. Norton, H. P.; Thos. E. O. Marvin, K.; J. Horace Kent, scribe; John Nutter, treasurer; Oliver G. Fernald, secretary; John Dame, Capt. of Host; John R. Holbrook, P. S.; Howe Call, R. A. C.; Andrew J. Sides, Master of 3d Veil; William S. Hazel, Master of 2d Veil; William R. Foster, Master of 1st Veil.

On the day of the recent election Mr. Jonathan Perkins of Hampton was ninety-one years, eight months and one day old; Mr. Moses Perkins was ninety years old; and Capt. James Perkins was seventy-seven years, three months and twenty-one days old. The three are brothers; their united ages were 258 years, eleven months, and twenty-two days; average age eighty-six years, three months, and twenty-seven and one-third days. They all voted the republican ticket.

THE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Public Library opens for the issuing of books this day.

It is the intention of the trustees to have the library open every evening of the week, and those who call for books will be governed by the following very reasonable rules:

1st. Borrowers will be allowed to keep books two weeks, and when kept a longer time a fine of one cent for each additional day will be imposed.

2d. Strangers will be required to be vouched for by a citizen known to the librarian.

3d. Any defacement or mutilation of books will subject the borrower to a fine.

The number of volumes on the opening day amounts to nearly twelve hundred, and the trustees have secured the services of Mr. Robert E. Rich as librarian. Many of our public-spirited ladies and gentlemen have devoted much of their time to this desirable object, and it is through the influence and persistent work of those who have intesested themselves in making it a success, that it has finally been accomplished. Further contributions of books will be gratefully received and acknowledged by those having the matter in charge.

UNITED ORDER OF THE GOLDEN CROSS.

At the annual meeting of Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, held at their citadel on Thursday evening, Dec. 30th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Noble Commander, James Sanborn;
Vice Noble Commander, Mrs. Lucy F. Perkins;
Treasurer, Mrs. Rebecca J. Raitt;
Keeper of Records, Samuel Dodge;
Financial Keeper of Records, Dr. R. C. Grant;
Treasurer, James Janvrin;
Herald, Charles S. Dodge;
Warder of Inner Gate, Frank L. Marks;
Warder of Outer Gate, Samuel Taylor;
Trustees, Stephen W. Clarke, Rev. E. M. Grant, Alfred C. Hoyt;
Grand Representatives, John Dame, Mrs. John D. Swain;

Medical Examiners, Dr. S. C. Whittier, Dr. R. C. Grant;
Past Grand Commander, S. W. Clarke;
Past Grand Treasurer, S. C. Whittier;
Past Noble Commanders, E. M. Grant, John Dame.

The Portsmouth branch of the order is in a flourishing condition; the membership is quite large, and the meetings always well attended. In order to still further increase its beneficent work the Commandery has applied for a special dispensation permitting them to accept members at a considerably reduced rate for the next three months. The installation of the new officers takes place on Thursday evening, Jan. 6th.

Elder G. W. Sederquest will preach at the Advent church on Sunday.

The pulpit of the South Parish church will be occupied by the pastor, who has recovered from his recent indisposition. The morning service will have special reference to the new year.

On Sunday the pastor of the Universalist church, Rev. E. M. Grant, will give the second of his series of monthly Sunday evening lectures; subject, "The place and utility of the public lecture in education." In the morning will be repeated, by special request of those who heard it, the sermon delivered on "Thanksgiving day; subject, "God's dealings with our Nation." It will be made a special theme for the new year.

At the North church, there will be a New Year's service in the morning. In the evening the subject of the sermon will be "The philosophy of happiness."

Strawberry Bank Lodge of Good Templars will hold a fair next Wednesday and Thuasday evenings, when a nice easy chair will be voted to the most popular foreman of a fire company.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The schools in district number three, of Kittery, have been suspended for a short time, on account of the prevalence of chicken pox.

The selectmen of York are supplying a long-felt deficiency in that town by erecting guide posts at the junctions of the principal highways.

A box of Christmas gifts was sent from Portsmouth to the poor children in the Mt. Agamenticus region of York, and a present in cash to the pastor of the little church at Groundnut hill, near the mountain.

Scarlet fever is prevailing to considerable extent in the outskirts of South Berwick, toward the boundaries of York and Wells. One man has three children sick with it. Spinal fever has also prevailed there to some extent.

The Young People's Union connected with the Christian church at Ogunquit, gave a concert and supper one evening recently, realizing $35 therefrom, which is to be used in the purchase of new books for the Sunday school.

—The divorce lawyer's favorite fruit—A tart pair.

—There will be five colored men in the Tennessee legislature. The rest will be plain.

—The discovery that old shoes were being collected for some unknown use in Brooklyn led to an investigation recently, and it was found that the old shoes were made into Jamaica rum. When they came from the rag pickers the good pieces were cut out and sold to small cobblers for patching purposes. The rest was distilled with spirits, colored with burnt sugar, and sold as Jamaica rum, and the most singular fact about the business is that it is bought not by saloon keepers, but by druggists, who pride themselves on the purity of their articles.

Patents.

Year by year the business of our patent office increases in volume, and in a similar ratio the difficulty experienced by inventors in securing for themselves the full benefits of the products of a fertile brain. This is not due to red-tapism in the department, but to lack of information regarding patentability, conflicting claims and other obstacles, such as none but an expert in the business is competent to give. While the United States is the most prolific of all nations in its inventive capacity, it is also favored in having many gentlemen of great experience in procuring for inventors the proper recognition of and protection for their inventions. Of these agents, no one is better known or more justly esteemed than Mr. R. H. Eddy, of Boston, who for two-score years has been recognized as one of the most judicious and successful patent solicitors in any country. His vast experience in the business, and perfect familiarity with all the details and routine of the patent office, render his services particularly desirable to all having transactions therewith.

New Hampshire Items.

According to the census just taken, New Hampshire's population is 347,782, against 318,300 in 1870, which denotes an increase of 29,482 in ten years.

In Alton and New Durham the scarlet fever is proving quite fatal. Six deaths have already occurred.

Garments of Glass.

A short article was printed recently, stating that a Pittsburg firm was about to begin manufacturing all kinds of garments from spun glass. Specimens have been made and exhibited, among the articles being a large tablecloth, a towel and a napkin. At first sight they could not be distinguished from the common kind, but on closer inspection, were found to be marvellous specimens of glass manufacture. The tablecloth was about six feet square, and white in color, save near the ends and sides, where a border of delicate but pretty green added a tasty finish to the entire piece. The cloth was fringed on its four sides. The other articles were similar, save in the ornamental borders, which were pink and red respectively. The cloth was found to be made of threads, not transparent, which rivalled cobwebs in gossamer like tenuity.

These frail filaments were woven together perfectly, and the cloth proved itself to be as flexible and but slightly heavier than if it had been composed of cotton. It is said that this cloth could be washed and ironed with equal propriety. Feathers were exhibited, fashioned into a natural shape out of variously colored threads of glass. The base of each feather was a piece of brass wire, about which the million of fibres of the article were connected. The curious process of manufacture is a secret with the firm. About .50 of the fine glass threads are spun in a minute, and each thread is ten miles in length. The weaving is done on an ordinary loom, adapted, in some respects, to the requirements of the manufacture.

The fabrics can not be ripped or torn, and can be spun, woven and sold at a less cost than cotton, silk, or whatever other fabric the firm chooses to imitate. Whether this crystal cloth be for her coarse or fine in texture, when worn as a dress, shawl, or other garment, it will prove itself to be just as warm, easy-fitting and comfortable in every way, as clothing of any other kind. Some of the white neckties made from glass when worn at night in a brilliantly lighted room, sparkle and glisten like diamonds, giving a very startling and pleasing effect. The firm intends placing manufactured articles upon the market at once.

—"Tis said that absence conquers love," quoted a husband in writing home to his wife, from whom he had been some time away; "I hope, dear, it won't be so in your case." "Oh, no," she replied in her next letter, "the longer you stay away the better I shall like you."

TRADE MARK. DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over two years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back and region of the Kidneys, which was most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was therefore, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resuming my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and with my health, this some the very picture of health I write this personally and voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad a God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been is my earnest wish."

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have been using Day's Kidney Pad nearly days and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—(30 years in business)—"DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is having a sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 28 days I feel better than I do in 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives satisfaction."

For sale by drug. lists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular Pad, $2.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

LIEBIG CO'S COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony, Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbagus; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weakness; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; pedic flatulency; sesselkrankes; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that it has lengthened great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"Five or ten years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of my back and region of the Kidneys, which was most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Detroit brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt but I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co., God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been is my earnest wish."

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used Day's Kidney Pad thirty days, and it has done me more good than any medicine I have ever tried."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—(30 years in business)—"Day's Kidney Pad is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 35 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. A. T. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by drug'ists, or sent by mail (free of postage) receipt of the price—Regular, Pad, $1.00; Special Pad (extra size), $1.50; Children's, $1.00. Our book, "How a Life was saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address, Western Scenery.

A gentleman who accompanied Secretary Schurz on his trip through the Yellowstone region and the parks, states that the parks can not compare in beauty with the mountain scenery of either California or Colorado. It is in this northwest region of Wyoming that is to be found the most picturesque scenery in the whole country. Clark's Fork canon, which has never been described, and is now visited for the first time, surpasses by far in grandeur all the sights in the parks. It is a crooked valley, which for one hundred miles and more leads through a narrow and almost impracticable pass. Even the Yosemite, it is represented, hardly equals it in weird, artistic effects. At the bottom of the Clark's Ford valley is the canon, varying in depth from 100 to 300 or 400 feet, and between its perpendicular walls rolls the winding river on its course toward the Crow reservation. This valley is virgin, and has apparently never been explored. Its access is very difficult. One of the gentlemen in the Schurz party writes, "We had to trust to luck almost to get out of these imposing mountains, as there was no path, and not one of our scouts or guides knew the ground. No one in the parks, not even the superintendent, could tell us anything about the valley. For four days we hunted a passage through these mountains, whose most remarkable peaks are Index and Pilot peaks, which rise up in their grandeur some 13,000 feet." Maps so far give scarce an indication of this section of Wyoming, which, Mr. Schurz thinks, surpasses the finest Alpine scenery in majestic grandeur.

Boston Gold and Silver Mining Company.

But few mining companies which have been organized during the past two or three years have been so successfully managed, or attained so high a reputation in financial circles as a safe and solid investment for capital, as the Boston Gold and Silver Mining Company; from the commencement of its operations, it has been carefully and energetically managed. The work of development at the mines has been steadily pushed forward until the mines have been placed on a bullion-producing basis.

The company was incorporated with a capital of $2,000,000, in 200,000 shares of the par value of $10 each, and a portion of the treasury stock was sold. While prospecting the ground a rich quartz ledge was discovered, and subsequently three other ledges were uncovered, thus doubling the value of the property. The company then bought the Union mine, on Mineral Hill, two miles east, with a shaft 145 feet deep, and two levels, respectively eighty and ninety feet in length. The mineral exposed in these levels carries fifty per cent lead and from 20 to 152 ounces silver. The ore, when delivered at the smelters, brings just half its weight in bullion. The company next secured the Peruvian mine, ten miles northeast. On this property there is 200 feet of shafts drifts and levels, and there is on the dump and in sight in the stopes from 600 to 800 tons of first-class argentiferous galena ore, which will run thirty-five per cent lead, and from eighty ounces upwards of silver. While these properties were being negotiated for, work was continued on the ledges in the placer beds, one of which has been thoroughly developed, showing a vein about sixteen feet wide, with a rich pay streak of some twelve inches. This ore, at a depth of thirty-seven feet, runs sixty-six per cent lead, forty-seven ounces silver and one-half ounce gold.

The purchase of the Union and Peruvian mines not only again doubled the value of the property, but rendered reduction works absolutely necessary. To secure a plant at the earliest possible moment, a company was formed for the purchase of the smelting works of the Summit County Mining Company, which had been just erected at Breckenridge. These works consist of a plant sufficient in size to reduce 100 tons per day, and the buildings, engines, boilers, shops, etc., were all built or bought for works of that capacity. One stack, capable of treating from twenty to twenty-five tons per day, is already completed, and the plant can be increased to sixty tons capacity for less than $10,000. This extension will no doubt shortly be made, as the accumulation of ores at the Boston Gold and Silver Company's mine, at the mines of the Summit County Company, and at the numerous other mines in the district, is very great and rapidly increasing, and the miners are naturally anxious for an opportunity to realize the value of the dumps.

Col. A. J. Ware, general superintendent of the Boston Gold and Silver Mining Company, has been in Boston for several days. He has been appointed general manager of the Boston and Breckenridge Smelting Company, and leaves to-day for Breckenridge to start up the works. Col. Ware says he will be shipping bullion from the Boston Gold and Silver mines within thirty days, and from his well-known reputation as a practical and skilful manager, we predict a brilliant future for the company.—N. Y. Economist.

—The officers of ocean steamers, it is said, can, from their posts of observation on deck, tell more of what is going on among the passengers—flirtations and elopements—and better judge of their characters, whether they are fugitives from justice, commercial travelers, clergymen or grass widows, than the passengers learn below. One of these observing captains declares that he knows whether a young woman has left her lover at one port or expects to meet him at the other. If her lover is behind her she cares nothing for wind, rain or fog, but gets tanned, freckled and roughened in a highly healthful and independent fashion. But if her lover is waiting for her she takes infinite trouble with veils and other complexion preservatives.

The Height of Happiness

Is the restoration of a woman after years of sickness to perfect health. Imagine then the joy of the family of Mrs.—— of Kingston, who had suffered untold misery for over five years, consequent upon the Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to Females. She was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." After using only two bottles all her ailments disappeared, and she says that she feels and considers herself in perfect health.

News and Notes.

Paul Nelson and Charles Lunt, two of the crew of fishing schooner Waldo Irving, of Gloucester, were lost one day last week while tending their trawls. It was reported on Saturday that their dory had been picked up, with their frozen bodies in it. [A later despatch, from Halifax, says the two men have arrived there all right, having been picked up by a passing steamer.]

A London despatch of Dec. 31st says the British authorities contemplate the despatch of flying columns through Ireland almost immediately, as was done during the Fenian rising. It is said that every step necessary for the movement is already arranged. Nine columns will be started, each comprising one troop of cavalry, a division of artillery with two guns, four companies of infantry, ten sappers, and a detachment of the army service corps with four wagons. Each soldier will carry sixty rounds of ball cartridge.

The Cincinnati Commercial recommends Boston Common as an appropriate and safe place for the Poncas.

A Somerset, Me., jury has given a verdict for the defendant on one of the celebrated mowing-machine notes, on the ground that the holder knew that the note was obtained fraudulently and without consideration.

The military preparations at Dublin indicate a prospect of serious trouble in Ireland. It is hardly possible that the nine flying columns to be sent out from that point, will make a quiet promenade through the island and return without any adventures.

The schooner W H. Brookfield sailed from Port Medway, N. S., for Boston, Dec. 4th, and has not since been heard from. She had a crew of five men, and five passengers.

The unknown ship reported ashore on Romer shoal was the Paulina, from New York for Amsterdam.

Lewis B. Follette of Boston has been held in $10,000 for trial on a charge of complicity in the criminal malpractice which resulted in the death of Rebecca T. Long at Malden.

In Newport, R. I., on Friday, the summer residence of James R. Keene of New York was burned. A defective furnace was the cause. Several thousand dollars' worth of paintings were saved. Mrs. Keene and her family were occupying the house, which with its contents was valued at $100,000; insurance upwards of $50,000. Inability to get water, owing to to the extreme cold, prevented the firemen from working effectively until the fire had been under way a long time.

John Lanehan of Woonsocket, R. I., who is digging a well, went down the other day and lit a fuse for a blast, but while being drawn out the rope became entangled, and he was left suspended five feet above the burning fuse. He had just time to jump down and get behind a rock when the explosion took place, leaving him unharmed.

Colonel Pejevalsky, the Russian explorer, has been endeavoring to find the source of the Yangtze and Yellow rivers in the Thibetan mountains. Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Shenandoah, flag-ship of the South Atlantic squadron, arrived at Montevideo Nov. 13th, from Brazil, all well. The Marion expected to leave Montevideo for Sandy Hook on the 10th of December.

The Alliance arrived off Vera Cruz, Mexico, Dec. 13th, from Key West, and expected to sail on the 19th for Tuspan. Health of crew good.

The flag-ship Tennessee arrived at Barbadoes on the 19th ult. The Kearsarge arrived the same day, having visited St. Thomas. The Tennessee expected to sail in about a week for Port Spain, Trinidad. All well on both ships.

New Hampshire Items.

New Year's day was a cold one all over the Union. In this state the thermometer ran very low—twenty-six degrees below zero at Claremont and Milford, thirty at Bath, and thirty-two at Hanover.

A boarding-house owned by the Hillsborough mills at Pine Valley, was burned Friday morning. Loss $3000; insured. A defective chimney caused the fire.

George Stowe, mill sawyer at Benton, was caught and drawn upon a saw last Thursday, splitting his head open and causing instant death.

The Pillsbury Light Guard of Concord gave a grand ball Friday night.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The steam-tug Ann, of Dover, goes on the ways at Kittery to-day, for a thorough overhaul.

Mr. Asa Hayden, the railroad station master at Eliot, received an elegant gold watch, chain and charm as a Christmas present from his friends.

The schooner Florence Dean, hailing from Taunton, Mass., and registering 562 tons, has been abandoned at sea, dismasted. She was built at Kennebunk in 1873.

Eben Emerson, a new deputy sheriff of Biddeford, made a seizure at the Eastern railroad station in that city the other night, and when he tapped the cask at the police station found it contained nothing but water.

Foundations for three new hotels have been put in at Old Orchard beach, and more than fifty cottages are now going up, or are contracted for. Before the close of another season fully one hundred and fifty will have been erected.

The schooner B. Frank Nealley, of Dover, having had the damages she received on the rocks in the Cocheco river thoroughly repaired, and been made a better vessel than ever, under the superintendence of Mr. Warren Keen, came off the Piscataqua railway on Saturday, and was taken alongside of Stover's wharf at Kittery, where she will lie up for the winter. Shortly before she was floated, Mr. Keen discovered that a hole had been bored by some person in her bottom, well aft and five or six strakes from her garboard, at a point where no work had been done during the progress of the repairs; had this hole not been detected it would have caused a very decided leak, but as it was no harm was done.

A very pleasant affair took place in Eliot on the evening of Dec. 30th, at the residence of Mr. Sylvester Bartlett—a gentleman well and favorably known throughout the western part of York county—it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of his marriage with Clementina Raitt, of Eliot. Although the night was one of the coldest of the season, their relatives, friends and neighbors to the number of more than sixty met, and spent the evening in social interchange of thought, singing, ect., until ten o'clock, when the company repaired to a hall adjoining the house, owned by Mr. Bartlett, where supper had been prepared. After an hour spent at the hall in doing justice to the well-spread board and listening to the well-considered remarks, the company returned to the pleasant rooms they had left, and kept up the cheerful gathering until nearly twelve o'clock, when they separated with many a kind word and wish in behalf of their host and hostess. All seemed to enjoy the gathering, and the company no doubt would have been much larger had the weather been more favorable.

—Considerable excitement has been caused in Cincinnati by a stringent set of orders issued by Bishop Elder, coadjutor of Archbishop Purcell. The rules forbid the wearing of other than plain clothing by young girls on the occasion of first communion and confirmation, forbid round dancing, and any sort of dancing after dark, at church fairs, and condemn the popular music now in use in the churches.

—An attendant at the Oregon insane asylum was told to climb a tree and bring down a patient who had taken a position in its top. He had reached a height of thirty feet when a limb broke, and he fell, bouncing from branch to branch, and finally sitting on the ground like the hammer of a pile driver. For twenty years this man had been dumb, though able to hear, but now the spectators were astounded by such an outbreak of fluent and shocking profanity as they had never heard before. The cure was permanent, too.

NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

AT the close of twenty years' successful practice of Dentistry in Portsmouth, (at the old stand on Congress Street, and since May last, at his residence, 36 Islington Street) Dr. Goodall sends "A happy New Year" to all his patients in this city and in the towns and counties adjoining; and cheerfully informs them that his usual health and strength is fully restored, and his facilities for operating in all branches of his profession are greatly increased by the removal of his office to his residence, where he is able to receive patients at all hours during the day and evening, from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Teeth extracted and impressions taken in the evening as well as day time. His successful and extensive experience with nitrous oxide gas, enable him to recommend it with renewed confidence, as a perfectly safe and reliable anæsthetic. Dr. Goodall's large and artistic stock of Artificial Teeth cannot be excelled for beauty and durability. During the months of January, February and March will be offered to those needing artificial dentures whose mouths are now ready. Dr. Goodall has invented an improvement in filling lower sets of teeth, by which those difficulties which usually occur in fitting lower dentures are largely overcome. He also offers a very desirable obtundent to prepare sensitive teeth for filling, thereby mitigating the pain.

Cavities filled with Goodall's Amalgam (prepared by Dr. Goodall) at reasonable charges, from 75 cents to $2, according to size of cavity. Platina and gold fillings, bright and durable for common cavities, only $1. Cavities filled with pure gold from $1.50 to $3 according to size. Dr. Goodall gives his personal attention to all departments of his profession. Those employing him are not only sure of his great skill in extraction and administering anæsthetics, but also in the entire manufacture of all artificial dentures. Repairs promptly and skillfully attended to. Patients visited at their homes when desired. Teeth extracted on Sunday when necessary.

AROUND HOME.

The first lecture in the course at the Universalist church will be delivered this evening by Col. Wm. H. Hackett, subject, "Glimpses of Europe."

Two hundred and three books were taken from the public library on Saturday, the opening day. The rooms were visited by a large number of people, especially in the evening.

The usual semi-annual dividend of three per cent on the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad is now being paid at the office of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee company, No. 17 Market street.

A master mariner of this port, referring to the wreck sighted near York ledge last week by two Portland steamers, and which was described as a brigantine or schooner apparently painted red, informs us that the only vessel he knows of, painted that color, is the schooner Convoy of Calais, Me., a vessel of about sixty tons register.

The Portsmouth Weekly will hereafter be conducted by Mr. Charles S. Dodge, who has had full charge of its columns since the death of Hon. F. W. Miller, and was to a great extent its manager for some weeks prior to that event. Mr. Dodge is a young man of much energy, an uncompromising advocate of prohibition, and was associated with the projector of the Weekly from its first issue up to the time of Mr. Miller's decease—a sufficient guaranty that he not only has ability but is a worker as well.

The New Year ball given by Kearsarge fire-engine company in Franklin hall on Friday night, was a great success. Harlow's orchestra furnished choice music, eighty couples joined in the grand march, the supper was excellent, and no ball could be better conducted or more orderly; and while the large company fully entered into the enjoyment of the occasion, and kept it up until a late hour, there was an entire absence of unpleasant incidents. The managers of the affair, and the firemen in general, are to be congratulated.

Dr. Goodall presents his new year's greeting in another column. He has been so long and so well known here that we need only call attention to his advertisement. His removal to his residence proves to be a convenience both to his patrons and himself. In his card as printed in the papers he wishes a happy new year to all his patients in this city and the "towns and counties adjoining," which in the same card as printed in a handbill and distributed on Saturday, by a typographical error was changed to "countries" adjoining; we are assured the doctor will not commence practice outside of this country, for the present.

The steamer Mystic, Capt. Rashe Trefethen, on Saturday took a party of five persons, four men and a child, from this port to Boon island, arriving back at the wharf in four hours and a quarter from the time she started, though the small boat at the island had to make two trips to land the party and their gear. The wind was blowing heavily outside the harbor, and the steamer was much iced up on her arrival, the spray instantly freezing wherever it struck. Capt. Trefethen reports sea fowl of various kinds as more numerous that day than he ever before saw them, all along the coast from the harbor to Boon island. A sharp lookout was kept for the brigantine recently reported wrecked near York ledge, but no sign of her was seen. The steamer on her return steered the same courses as she did on her last previous trip to Boon island, in November, on which occasion the mast of a sunken vessel was seen above water; the intention was to pull the mast out, if it could be found, but careful search failed to discover it, and the vessel has probably gone to pieces.

The Norfolk Jubilee Singers gave a fine concert to a very large and well-pleased audience in Franklin theatre, Sunday evenig, they not being able to occupy Music hall on account of some accident to the heating apparatus. The troupe is a really good one, and merits liberal patronage.

Of the entertainment given in Danbury, Conn., by Mme. Rentz's minstrels—the company which is to appear at Music hall on Thursday evening, the 6th inst.,—the News of that place said: "The large audience present will bear us out in the assertion that it was one of the most charming melanges of melody and refined mirth ever witnessed in this place, and the prediction is confidently made that should they ever return no hall in this vicinity will be able to hold their many admirers."

A half-barrel of flour is to be voted for at the Good Templars' fair in Grange hall, No. 5 Congress street, Jan. 5th and 6th.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A special meeting of the Board of Instruction was held at the aldermen's room, city building, at half-past seven o'clock last Friday evening; present, Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Gardner, Goodrich, Knight, Newton, Vaughan, May and Pender. In the absence of Mayor Siso, detained at his home by illness, Mr. Chas. W. Gardner was voted to the chair.

The applications of Miss Margaret Leavenworth and Miss Lucia N. Coleman, for positions as teachers, were received and placed on file.

Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Vaughan and Locke, were appointed a special committee to consider the question of introducing drawing into the public schools as a study, to report to the board as to its advisability and probable cost, what system appears best, etc.

The resignation of Miss Emma F. Johnson as teacher of the sixth division of the Haven school was accepted. The committee of district number three recommended that the first, second and third divisions of the school be consolidated, and placed in charge of Mr. Perkins and Miss Marshall; that the fourth division be placed under Miss Clark, the fifth under Miss Prescott, and the sixth under Miss Smart, thus dispensing with the services of one teacher. This recommendation was adopted.

The subject of the employment of two teachers in the lower room of the schoolhouse on School street, was referred to a special committee consisting of Mrs. Knight and the chairmen of the committees for districts one and two.

THE MISSION DINNER.

The annual New Year's dinner for the poor children of the city was given at Bow Mission hall on Saturday last, one hundred and fifty boys and girls being present. This is the largest number ever attending one of these festive occasions, and as there was not room in the hall for all of them at once, thirty or more were forced to wait, which they did somewhat impatiently, until the second table. There was an abundance of food, all of a kind "fit to serve a king." The way the youngsters disposed of it was marvellous and interesting. As a rule they were well-behaved and cleanly, and all seemed to enjoy their repast hugely. Mr. Loyne evidently worked hard to get up the dinner, and much travel and inquiry was involved in discriminating between the worthy and undeserving. He had an able corps of lady assistants, however, without whose aid the entertainment must have proved a failure. At the close of the feast each child was presented with a copy of "Our Animal Friends," a beautifully-illustrated paper devoted to the interests of the dumb animals. These were given by a lady in this city whose efforts in behalf of the animals are celebrated far beyond the limits of Portsmouth. The children seemed to be as pleased with their papers as they had been with their food, and we doubt not that the most, if not all of them, will carefully preserve and read them.

WILLIAM STEARNS.

William Stearns died at his residence on Islington street, Saturday evening, at the age of seventy-six years.

Col. Stearns came to Portsmouth about thirty years ago, to become agent of the Portsmouth Steam Factory. He had been mechanical superintendent of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. at Dover; and upon the resignation of Mr. Young as agent of the Portsmouth Mills, Col. Stearns took charge and served until he was succeeded by Col. Samuel Webber.

Mr. Stearns was known by his friends and the citizens of Portsmouth as an honorable and upright man, who attended with undeviating care to the business under his charge. He was affable and gentlemanly, and was probably without an enemy in the world. He was a constant attendant at the services of the North church, with which he was connected during his residence in this city. He served the city several terms as one of the assessors of taxes. He was also an honored member of the Masonic fraternity. His wife died not long ago, and since her departure he has shown symptoms of decline. He had acquired by a life of industry and in the practice of judicious economy, quite a competence. He leaves a daughter, his other child, a son, having died several years ago.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE POST-OFFICE.

When the present post-office building, the construction of which began during the administration of President Pierce, more than twenty-five years ago, was completed, it was found to have been planned and constructed with less regard for the convenient and economical transaction of the business of the post-office than for architectural proportions and showy and uncomfortable spaces.

The old articles officially denominated "office furniture" were passed from the outgoing postmaster to the new appointee, and purchased or receipted for, whichever might have been the case. They consisted of tables for assorting mails, ancient and inconvenient, and a few chairs, desks, etc. When the office was removed to the present quarters, some of this was kept in use, but was far short of what was needed. The present post-office rooms were in cold weather attempted to be warmed with ill success, whereas now the whole building is kept comfortable by steam; and the conveniences for handling mail matter were few. Box-holders, even, had to go to the office at stated hours, and tap on the glass windows to obtain their mail matter; now lock-boxes to the number of sixteen hundred can be had, and box-holders can get their mail from an early hour in the morning until nine o'clock at night.

The business of to-day shows an immense increase in the number of letters mailed at the office. Two thousand daily is an ordinary mailing at this season, with double that number when the summer visitors are here and hereabouts. Seven postal clerks report daily to the postmaster, and from twenty to twenty-five registered letters are sent off each day. There is also a comparatively new feature in the money orders issued, of which about a hundred thousand dollars in amount of funds are sent from and a like sum received at the office yearly. Mails arrive from early in the morning, when the Bangor mails by the Pullman trains come in, up to nine o'clock in the evening. We have four daily mails from Boston, two over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, three from the eastward, besides the Dover, North Conway and way, and other mails by rail, and to and from towns sent by stage, etc. With cheap postage and increase of newspaper subscribers, and the means of sending so many articles by mail at low rates, the bulk of matter handled at our office is by no means inconsiderable, and would surprise one unacquainted with its quantity.

For some time past the postmaster has represented to Collector A. F. Howard, the custodian of the post-office building, (which is in charge of the treasury department, of which the collector is the representative,) the need of increased accommodation in the money-order office. At length permission was granted at Washington to make certain long-desired improvements, and a definite sum was appropriated for this purpose. Most of this kind of work upon public buildings under the department is done at Chicago, by contractors who take the measurements, prepare the work elsewhere, and have it sent to and set up at the place where it may be required. But it was thought that Portsmouth mechanics, than whom none better can be found, could as faithfully and economically perform the work as could those of a distant city, and the work was offered by contract. George W. Pendexter, Esq., a widely-known master mechanic of this city, was the successful bidder; and he, with the assistance of Messrs. Warren Prior and S. H. Kingsbury, has just completed the job which to-day adds so much to the convenience and comfort of persons receiving or sending money orders or registered letters through the Portsmouth post-office.

An elegant black walnut counter has been built, the inside of which contains drawers and closets for blanks, envelopes, books, etc., in use. It has desks for the clerks, and in front are substantial frames with glass partitions, similar to those in use in banks. The work though performed under contract seems to have been completed in the most faithful manner, and its appearance is highly creditable to our local mechanics. The money-order door is in the north part of the vestibule, near the door leading to the staircase by which the second story is reached. The room in which is this counter is larger than before, so that persons waiting may be comfortably seated and will not be crowded. The improved room will be opened to the public this (Monday) morning, and the postmaster and his clerks may be congratulated upon commencing the new year with such increased facilities for transacting business.

Ruffianism in West Virginia.

The Vigilants, or "Red Men," in West Virginia, are forty disreputable characters, gathered from all parts of the state and elsewhere, about three months ago, ostensibly for the purpose of enforcing the laws in Ritchie county, which, being thinly populated, has always been more or less subject to the depredations of ruffians. The Vigilants at first received the countenance and support of the respectable element in the community, but these latter were quickly undeceived by acts of lawlessness committed by the band. An open rupture took place between the band and several farmers two weeks ago, since which time the latter have been subjected to the most cruel and merciless persecution.

On Saturday night, Dec. 25th, the gang, led by a desperado named Simon Martineau, surrounded the house of Edward Davis, a well-to-do farmer living on Spring creek, in Rome county, and announced their intention of punishing him for alleged affronts offered them. Mr. Davis had received an intimation that he would be attacked, and had arranged for the removal of his family to Parkersburg the next day.

At the summons of the Vigilants to open his doors, he hastily loaded several rifles in his house, and, posting himself at a garret window, warned his assailants to stand back. The moon was shining brightly at the time, and he had no difficulty in watching the movements of his foes. The desperadoes, finding that they would have to force an entrance, seized a fallen tree and advanced toward the door, intending to use it as a battering ram. Mr. Davis again warned them off, and as they did not heed the warning he fired a shot from a rifle. Martineau urged the band on, and Mr. Davis again fired, this time sending a ball through the head of the leader, who fell dead. The gang, thoroughly infuriated, made a charge, and, getting close to the house out of range of Mr. Davis' rifle, set fire to the building. Mr. Davis again fired, and probably fatally wounded a Vigilant named Strouse. The party then retired to the woods, and as the flames spread through the burning building a number of rifle balls whistling around the structure told the inmates what to expect if they left their quarters.

Mr. Davis with much difficulty got his wife and children into an outbuilding, where, however, they were quickly discovered by their foes, who at once burst in the doors. The undaunted farmer was preparing for a hand-to-hand struggle, when his wife's pleading induced him to surrender. The gang tied him to a tree near the dead body of their comrade, and then stripped and beat him with birch rods until the blood poured from his writhing body. Mrs. Davis and her children were horrified spectators of the scene, and once when the wife attempted to rush to the assistance of her husband a ruffian struck her with his fist, knocking her senseless. Mr. Davis bore his torture without a cry, which seemed to greatly incense his persecutors, one of whom finally stepped up to him and with a dirk knife deliberately cut off both his ears close to the head. The scoundrels then departed, carrying with them the dead body of Martineau, but leaving Strouse behind.

By daylight some neighbors came to the assistance of the Davis family. The dwelling, a three-story frame structure, was totally destroyed, with its contents, valued in all at about $5,000. Strouse, the wounded member of the gang, was arrested, but is so badly injured that he will probably die. The ball went through his right arm, shattering it and rendering amputation necessary. Mr. Davis, though terribly mutilated, will probably recover.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease incidable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietors name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

The Dominion Scandal.

When Sir John A. Macdonald called Professor Hind a blackmailer upon the floor of the Dominion Parliament he fired a mine of scandal which threatens to blow him and his government into the air. We have already mentioned the terrible charges of official falsification of documents which Professor Hind brings against the Dominion government in connection with the Halifax commission. These he now reiterates, adding some detailed cases of fraud and forgery, and challenges the premier to summon him before a committee of Parliament for the investigation of the case. In support of his general charge that the Dominion government swindled the United States by presenting false statistics before the Halifax commission, Professor Hind takes for illustration the case of Prince Edward Island as set forth in the secret memorandum, and shows that "the whole of those fish tables taken in the aggregate, and the averages deduced from them and used in argument, are a huge forgeries, entirely altering the fish trade relations of the Dominion with the United States." These falsified tables were used to show that the balance of advantages from reciprocal trade lay with the United States, and on these statistics the award was based and the treaty framed. It is indeed a bad scandal which Professor Hind has stirred up. He stands by his words in every particular, and courts investigation, saying: "These are facts which shake the honor and credit of the country until atoned for; facts which cannot be refuted, which are vastly injurious to the maritime provinces, and which, if passed over, mock at all honor in government and all faith in law." And the Halifax Chronicle says: "It is useless to attempt to ignore this matter. It must be investigated. There has been rascality somewhere, and the country should learn who is responsible. If this wrong is on the part of Professor Hind, as Sir John alleges, surely means can be found to punish him. If it is on the part of public men or subordinate officials of the Dominion of Canada, let their conduct be exposed and let them receive any punishment that can be inflicted. The charges of Professor Hind are very grave, affecting not only individuals but the honor of Canada, and even of the empire."—Boston Globe.

—Uncompromising.—The doctor's daughter—"I declare, you're a dreadful fanatic, Mrs. McGizzom. I do believe you think nobody will be saved but you and your minister!" Old lady—"Aweel, my dear, ah while I has my doubts about the meenister!"

—Lieut. Schwatka, the Arctic explorer, recently broke one of his legs by a fall in New York city, and has been removed to quarters on Governor's island to free him from the kindly but injurious visits of his many friends, who called to enquire after his condition. It is a singular thing that a man who escaped the terrors of the Pole and travelled several thousand miles over Arctic snows, should have returned to civilization to break his leg by a fall on an icy pavement in New York.

Have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and pronounce it the best medicine in use. A case of consumption here was cured by its use. We cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers.—Jeffress, Roberts & Co., South Boston, Va., November 17, 1875.

—A New York policeman came up behind three burglars who were working at a basement window. That is, two of them were waiting under the trees while the third was caressing the window with a jimmy. The patrolman came up behind him before the other two could notify him. The burglar thought it was one of his accomplices, and remarked, without looking around, "This is some new-fangled catch on this window." As the policeman collared him he replied, "Yes, but this is not." That was a much surprised burglar.

—A border idyl: Dr. Washington, of Topeka, Kan., moved to New Mexico, after having been twice divorced. There he killed his man with a revolver. He then killed a child with his practice, and made love to a young lady, who refused his offer of connubial bliss. He then killed several other people with his revolver, and had his great revenge upon the young lady by treating her fatally during an indisposition which would have been slight had she escaped the doctor. The citizens of the town in which he had established his practice and his graveyard recently turned out and hanged the doctor.—Chicago Tribune.

—Count Bellavitis, the eminent professor of the University of Padua, who died a short time ago, closed his career by a grim joke. He prepared, a little while before his death, a letter to a friend at Rome, informing him that the writer had just died. He left a space in this strange epistle for the date to be inserted, and had instructions prepared for his executors that when he died the day was to be filled in and the letter sent to its destination. The instructions were faithfully obeyed, and the first intimation the Roman friend had of the death of Count Bellavitis was the receipt of a letter from him stating the fact.

Another "Boss" Kicked Out.

Hugh McLaughlin, who for years past has been notorious as "Boss" McLaughlin of the infamous Brooklyn ring—a gang of plunderers second only to the Tammany-Tweed ring—is not so much of a "boss" as he was, the control of all the county buildings of King's county, and of the penitentiary, having been taken from him, thus depriving him of a large part of the patronage which he has for years controlled for his own purposes. The Brooklyn Eagle of Sunday said editorially:

We have, in the new administration of the charities department, the proof of the decisive victory gained, after a prolonged struggle by the opponents of inefficiency, extravagance, dishonesty and even brutality in office. It is more than a decade since the Eagle directed public attention to the charities department, as a sink of abuse. There is evidence enough to show that the money appropriated for the relief of the worthy poor and afflicted was systematically being diverted from the proper objects. Vast sums were, under the thin disguise of outdoor charities, dispensed as largesse to dependents and auxiliaries of ward politicians. An army of sinecurists was maintained, contracts were awarded fraudulently, and payments made for supplies never delivered, or for the refuse of the food market. The unworthy were fattened upon the spoils of the treasury, while those who needed and deserved aid, and for whom the generous public had made ample provision, either starved in garrets or were treated like beasts at Flatbush. The hospital was not unfrequently without medicine required by the sick; the nursery set apart for orphan children was hardly second to the Black Hole of Calcutta as a place of death; and the asylum of the insane was made a theatre of infamies too shocking for description, and from which fiends in good standing in pandemonium would have turned with loathing.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Michael Tweede and two children, living in a squatter's hut near Red Valley, N. J., were found on the 31st ult. by the neighbors, suffering from the intense cold and having been without food for several days. Assistance came too late to save the woman's life, and she died Friday night. The children are in a pitiable condition, but will probably recover.

In a drunken quarrel at a dance in the township of Kochville, Saginaw county, Michigan, last week, Peter Wells stabbed and almost instantly killed Henry Fisher, and a young man employed by Wells, named Chase, whose parents reside near Montreal. Wells was lodged in jail.

Frank Boyle, a disreputable character of Brockton, Mass., was found in Warren Shaw's billiard room at Randolph by the proprietor early Sunday morning, having got in by a window. A scuffle ensued, and the burglar was fatally shot by Shaw. Boyle is about forty years old, has a wife and several children, and has served a term in the state prison for burglary.

Kate Campbell and Mamie Wood, two young ladies belonging to prominent families at Hamburg, Mo., were burned to death on New Year's eve by the clothing of the latter taking fire from a stove, the flames then communicating to Miss Campbell's dress. The young ladies were attired for a ball, and were awaiting their escort when the accident occurred.

On Friday afternoon, at Otis, Ind., Henry Augustine of Chicago called upon his uncle, James Augustine, and endeavored to get the latter and his family to drink from a bottle, which was afterward found to contain poisoned whiskey, but they all declined to drink. At eleven o'clock at night Henry threw open the door of the room where his uncle and aunt were in bed, and commenced firing at them from a revolver, killing Mrs. Augustine and mortally wounding her husband. The assassin then shot one of his cousins, Christian Augustine, dead, slightly wounded another cousin, and escaped without hat or shoes. Plunder is supposed to have been the young villain's object, but he is more likely to get a rope from Judge Lynch.

Simeon McKew, an old colored man of Seguin, Tex., recently drank three pints of whiskey on a wager, which proved fatal.

A dissolute Omaha barber named Flanigan went to Sydney, Neb., Saturday, to kill Detective James L. Smith, and instead was slain by the latter, who was unhurt.

Negotiations are in progress for the purchase of land in the eastern portion of North Carolina, whereupon to settle a colony of Swedish immigrants who are expected to arrive in early spring.

It is reported at Wichita, Kan., that Maj. Blass of the Oklahama colonists has sent a peremptory challenge to Lieut. Wood of the United States army.

George H. Willett is under arrest at Glenn's Falls, N. Y., for the murder of John P. Pair, the barber who was recently shot through the window of his shop. The evidence is strong against Willett.

"Perley" writes to the Boston Journal that it is expected to be shown in the Whittaker court martial, by the defence, that Whittaker's ears were mutilated by colored bootblacks, jealous of the cadet because he appeared at darkey balls in full uniform, and outshone them. It is asserted that the bootblacks acted at the instance, not of cadets but of professors of the academy, who wanted to get rid of Whittaker.

One Hildebrand, formerly of Missouri, and brother of the notorious and brutal desperado Sam Hildebrand, with whose deeds the people of the west are familiar, is now in jail charged with killing three men in Missouri, and also with the death of a sheriff in Arkansas.

The signal station at Cape May, N. J., reports that at seven o'clock Sunday evening two large steamers, supposed to be Reading coal steamers, struck on the Rapp shoal, three miles off shore. No assistance could be rendered on account of the ice.

Epes Sargeant, the well known author and advocate of spiritualism, died in Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 30th, at the age of sixty-eight years.

Five persons of six in the family of Samuel Crump, a prominent New York printer, have died from diphtheria within six days at Crump's residence in Montclair, N. J.

It is reported that the British government has determined to call out the militia to fill the posts made vacant by the troops sent to Ireland and the Cape of Good Hope. The present generation of militiamen are ignorant of garrison life and duty, as England has not been reduced to this extremity since the Crimean war. The news causes a profound sensation all over the country. Some idea of the number of militiamen that will be required for duty may be gained from the statement that there are 30,000 troops in Ireland.

New Hampshire Items.

The late Benjamin Lang, of Exeter, who died at the age of seventy-nine years, was one of ten brothers and ten sisters, all of whom lived to grow up and be married, and all became parents except Benjamin. Two brothers are all that now survive. The youngest to die was nearly fifty years of age.

At Farmington, on the night of Dec. 31st, the ladies gave a "leap year ball," Mrs. Nell Seymour acting as floor director until midnight, assisted by ten young ladies. At midnight the lady managers gave up the direction of affairs to a committee of gentlemen, leap year having expired.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The United Service" for January contains an article by Gen. Schofield upon "The origin and organization of the military academy" at West Point, which is of special interest just now, when that institution is virtually on trial before the people of the United States, on account of the Whittaker case. The number contains the usual liberal amount of reading matter of interest and value to both branches of the national service, including scientific and historical papers by several prominent officers of the army and navy. L. R. Hamersly & Co., Philadelphia, publishers; $5 per annum, single number fifty cents.

We have received "Vick's Illustrated Floral Guide" for 1881. It is an elegant book of 120 pages, one colored flower plate, and 600 illustrations, with descriptions of the best flowers and vegetables, and directions for growing. Of the many "guides" and seed and plant catalogues sent out by our seedsmen and nurserymen, and that are doing so much to inform the people and beautify our country, none are so beautiful, none so instructive as Vick's Floral Guide. Its paper is the choicest, its illustrations handsome, and given by the hundred, while its colored plate is a gem. This work, although costing but ten cents, is handsome enough for a gift book, or a place on the parlor table. Published by James Vick, Rochester, N. Y.

A Chance for Debaters.

For some time past a controversy has been carried on in the columns of a Paris newspaper on the following delicate question: "If a man finds himself, at one and the same time, in the society of his wife and his mother-in-law, to which of these ladies should he offer his arm for the purpose of conducting her home?" On the one side it is contended that preference in this regard should be accorded to the mother-in-law; for should she, lacking support and protection while in charge of her daughter's husband, slip down and break her leg, or haply be run over at a crossing, her son-in-law could scarcely fail to be saddled with the cost of repairing her—a contingency which no married man can contemplate without a shudder. Another writer upon this issue observes that "even admitting the mother-in-law's prior claim to be established by some lex non scripta of polite manners, exception must be taken to it during the honeymoon, when the prescriptions of etiquette are bound to give way to the dictates of the heart." A battered worldling exhorts his married readers to offer their arms to their young wives, leaving mothers-in-law to care of themselves. "For," he argues, "if your wife walks alone, who knows what amatory whispers may reach her ears, and with what effect? Whereas your mother-in-law is shielded from these insidious molestations by her greater—experience!" The expert appointed by the Figaro to sum the argument on both sides and pronounce judgment upon the original question gives his decision in the following terms: "A mother-in-law enjoys priority of right to her son-in-law's arm; but upon the sole condition, to which no exception will be tolerated, that she be older than her daughter!"

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the loss of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely some great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

AT the close of twenty years' successful practice in Dentistry in Portsmouth, (at the old stand on Congress Street, and since May last, at his residence, 30 Islington Street) Dr. Goodall sends "A happy New Year" to all his patients in this city and in the towns and counties adjoining; and cheerfully informs them that his usual health and strength is fully restored, and his facilities for operating in all branches of his profession are greatly increased by the removal of his office to his residence, where he is able to receive patients at all hours during the day and evening, from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Teeth extracted and impressions taken in the evening as well as day time. His successful and extensive experience with nitrous oxide gas, enable him to recommend it with renewed confidence, as a perfectly safe and reliable anæsthetic. Dr. Goodall's large and artistic stock of Artificial Teeth cannot be excelled for beauty and durability. During the months of January, February and March will be offered to those needing artificial dentures whose mouths are now ready. Dr. Goodall has invented an improvement in fitting lower sets of teeth, by which those difficulties which usually occur in fitting lower dentures are largely overcome. He also offers a very desirable obtundent to prepare sensitive teeth for filling, thereby mitigating the pain.

Cavities filled with Goodall's Amalgam (prepared by Dr. Goodall) at reasonable charges, from 75 cents to $2, according to size of cavity. Platina and gold fillings, bright and durable for common cavities, only $1. Cavities filled with pure gold from $1.50 to $3 according to size. Dr. Goodall gives his personal attention to all departments of his profession. Those employing him are not only sure of his great skill in extraction and administering anæsthetics, but also in the entire manufacture of all artificial dentures. Repairs promptly and skillfully attended to. Patients visited at their homes when desired. Teeth extracted on Sunday when necessary.

AROUND HOME.

On Sunday several degenerate youths fished from the wharves for smelts. It was no day for fishing.

The ice on the south pond is strong enough for the owners of fast horses to try the mettle of their steeds on.

The schooner Margie, Hoyt, arrived at C. E. Walker's wharfon Monday at noon. She was immediately stripped, and has gone into winter quarters.

The schooner Gov. Goodwin sailed from Doane's wharf on Sunday, with a cargo of fish for New York. She will go from there to the West Indies, and will be engaged in the fruit trade during the winter.

The schooner Comet recently took on one of her trawls a monk-fish weighing one hundred pounds, the largest one ever caught in this vicinity. His last meal was a cod-fish that weighed thirty pounds, which was taken from him.

The tide one day last week ran out lower than has been seen before for years. A person could have walked out to and around the stone beacon without difficulty, as the ledge in shore of it was entirely bare; and boats that were moored in the channel inside of Peirce's island were completely out of water.

As for years past, Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, the insurance agents, have furnished us with a large calendar for office use—the most serviceable one we have seen. It is issued by the Insurance Company of North America, (fire and marine,) at Philadelphia, of which company and others the firm named are the local agents.

Some persons who would be indignant if called elderly, have suggested that the new free library is so high up as to be difficult to get at; but Ex-Gov. Goodwin walked up there one day last week, and apparently made nothing of it, as he went down again without resting, after having a brief look around and exchanging a pleasant word with those present. But then the honored Ex-Governor is a younger man than many who have not seen near his number of years, so perhaps it would be as well to bring the library-room nearer earth as soon as convenient.

The number of arrivals at the port of Portsmouth from foreign ports during the year ending Dec. 31st, 1880, was twenty—two brigs and eighteen schooners—with a registered tonnage of 1914 tons. During the same period 705 vessels arrived from coastwise ports, viz: thirty-five steamers, registering 32,936 tons; six barques, 3076 tons; five brigs, 1315 tons; 659 schooners, 91,240 tons. Total number of arrivals, 725, with an aggregate tonnage of 130,381 tons. There was brought into the port during the year just ended, 138,626 tons of domestic coal, and 1602 tons of foreign coal. The whole number of arrivals in 1879 was 691, with an aggregate tonnage of 127,503 tons.

A number of the fishing vessels arrived Monday with fares as follows: Schooner Helen F. Tredick, 7000 lbs.; Flying Eagle, 4000; Daniel C. Baker, 4000; Can't Come It, 4000; Rover's Bride, 5000; Josie Johnson, 12,000; Good Templar, 5000; Addie and Hattie, 8000; Mary E. Caswell, 6000; E. Pluribus Unum, 2000; Nettie Adams, 7000; Comet, 6000; Mary E. Smith, 11,000; Ella M. Johnson, 8000 lbs. The fishing vessels which sail regularly from this port number twenty-five; the largest number which has been in at any one time was thirty-three. Several vessels arrived in the lower harbor on Monday afternoon, but were unable to get up on account of ebb tide. Some vessels which did not get in were reported as having large fares.

Charles B. Shackford, Esq., county solicitor of Strafford county, died in Dover on Sunday, at the age of forty years.

Lobster pots have been set in the vicinity of Whalesback lighthouse, and fifty-eight lobsters were brought in Monday, the result of one week's fishing.

Take a look at the doll now on exhibition in the window of Goodrich's bookstore, which some lucky person will get at the Good Templars' fair on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The schooner Tillie E., of Deer Isle, Me., which put into this port some days ago in distress, having been ashore on the Western Sisters, sailed for her home port last Saturday, having effected temporary repairs.

The Exeter News-Letter says that the parents of the fellow calling himself James Taylor, recently arrested in this city for stealing two coats from the Kearsarge house, reside in that town, and that his real name is Moulton.

Sheriff Kent will sell by auction at eleven o'clock this forenoon, at the premises on Market street formerly occupied by the Ten Cents Savings bank, the bankrupt stock of millinery goods there, with the fixtures. See advertisement.

One of the former overseers in the Kearsarge mills, and a number of the operatives, are now at work in the Victoria mill at Newburyport. A large proportion of the people formerly employed in the Kearsarge mills have procured work in other cities.

A gondola with a cargo of coal for the Exeter Coal company was caught at "the roundabouts" in Exeter river when the ice closed that artery of navigation, and has a fair prospect of remaining there until spring. On Christmas day an attempt was made to take some of the coal over the ice to the company's wharf, but the ice was not strong enough, and the loss of a load, by breaking through, caused the experiment to be relinquished.

The Dover Republican says the Dover Navigation company, the owners of schooners John Bracewell, C. H. Trickey and B. F. Nealley, have contracted with Goss, Sawyer & Packard of Bath, Me., for a three-masted schooner to be launched in April next, and of the following dimensions: one hundred and twenty feet keel, thirty-two feet beam and eleven feet depth of hold; capacity about five hundred tons. Her name has not yet been decided upon, but she will be commanded by Capt. Kelly, formerly master of the C. H. Trickey.

The January term of the supreme court for Rockingham county will open at Exeter on the 18th, Hon. L. W. Clark presiding. The docket is made up as follows: Civil actions, 228; equity cases, forty-nine; state actions and appeals, twenty-two; cases in sessions, six; total, 305. The number of actions is a little larger than was the case at the opening of the unusually short October session in this city, but still is hardly half as large as was usual five or six years ago; this gratifying result may in part be owing to the referee system.

John Adams, Esq., of Newington, is now ninety-four years old, and in full possession of his faculties. He has always resided at the Adams mansion, which had the honor of entertaining John Adams, the second President of the United States, when on a visit to his relatives. Mr. Adams and his father were both born in this house, which was built by his grandfather. The old gentleman has been unwell recently, but is now better. The well on his farm has dried up this winter for the first time within the memory of Mr. Adams, so that it is necessary to bring water for household purposes from a distance of half a mile.

M. R. Kennedy, of Dover, N. H., is a large manufacturer or compounder of alcoholic liquors, and an ale and beer bottler. For some time past he has done a good business, so it is alleged, sending whiskey, ale and beer to Portland parties, but contained in casks that had either been previously used, and on which the government stamps had been cancelled, or without stamps at all. A little job was put up on Mr. Kennedy last week, and he fell into the trap. An order for whiskey, amounting in value to some $39, was sent for, and in due course of time it arrived by the American Express company. Ex-Sheriff Ring, whose term had not expired, smelt out the package at the express office and gobbled it, but when U. S. Detective Horton claimed it in the interest of the government, Mr. Ring, of course, gave it up. Mr. Horton, who has been on Mr. Kennedy's track for some time, has, it is alleged, got a "dead open and shut" on that gentleman, and will proceed to attach his stock.—Portland Press.

The first lecture of the course to be delivered in the Universalist church was given on Monday evening by Col. Wm. H. Hackett, his subject being "Glimpses of Europe." The lecturer did not assume to give a full history of Europe, ancient and modern, but to picture to the audience the scenes and incidents which most attracted his attention during a summer's sojourn in the old world. He evidently veiwed the countries he passed through with his own eyes, and not with the eyes of any guide-book maker; hence he saw many things in strange contrast to those on this side of the Atlantic, which are not ordinarily noted by travellers, and his description of the peculiarities of manners and customs which he observed made the lecture interesting even to those who have been in many of the countries alluded to. Occasionally a vein of quiet—and sometimes sarcastic—humor could be detected in the speaker's remarks, which took nothing from the interest of the lecture. The audience was very fair in numbers, and of superior intelligence; and the closest attention was paid to the lecturer until the close.

THE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Books were contributed to the public library during the week ending Jan. 1st, as follows.

By Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, one hundred and ten volumes; M. E. Billings, eleven volumes; Mrs. Samuel Adams, four; Mrs. J. M. Tredick, thirty-six; Newton Johnston, Miss S. E. Gray, Wm. A. Loyne, James Richardson, Miss Lizzie S. Wilson, Kate S. Wilson, and Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, one volume each; N. P. Mathes, Miss Mathes, Edwin C. Richardson, five volumes each; A. W. Haven, four; Edward W. Riley, two; Mrs. Thomas Harris, twenty; Mrs. Joseph L. Martin, six; Edward S. Ryder, thirty-six; John R. Holbrook, seven; Misses Foster, nine; Reform Club, thirty-eight. Total, 308.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The gospel temperance meeting was omitted Saturday evening, in consequence of the poor children's dinner, given in the hall. Next Saturday evening a dialogue will be given at the meeting, by a class of girls.

Mrs. Hooper presided at the bethel service, Sunday afternoon; and Rev. Mr. Downs, from Mt. Agamenticus, made remarks. The meeting was a good one all through.

The reform club had a pleasing social service in the evening, Mr. Downs and others taking part.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Lieut. Herbert Winslow reported for duty at the navy yard on Monday.

Mr. Joseph Shaw, of the Brixham district, in York, has on hand fifty bushels of nice cranberries which await a purchaser.

The ladies of the Congregational society of Eliot realized nearly $150 by their fair held on the evenings of Dec. 22d and 23d, in aid of the new church. On the second evening of the fair it was announced that John R. Hanscom, Esq., would present the church with a bell weighing a half ton.

On the 29th ult., at York, Willie Moulton, about seventeen years old, son of Mr. Asa L. Moulton, fell from a willow tree, from which he was trimming limbs, and broke the small bone of his right leg, just above the ankle. On the same day Mr. Alfred Trafton, while chopping wood, cut a gash three inches long and quite deep, in his left foot. Dr. Stewart attended both patients. On the 30th Capt. A. L. Emerson was reported to be lying dangerously ill at his home in York.

Rational Treatment, Positive Cures.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, President of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, is in earnest in selling his medicines under positive guarantees, and if anybody who purchases and uses any these widely celebrated remedies, does not derive benefit therefrom, the Association would like to hear from that person with description of symptoms and history of case. Organized and incorporated, as the Association is, to teach medicine and surgery and for the successful treatment of all chronic diseases, and managing annually thousands of cases through our original method of diagnosis without ever seeing the patients, and having also the largest sanitarium in the world for the accommodation of the more complicated cases, and also for surgical cases, the Faculty feel themselves prepared to undertake even the most discouraging cases. They resort to all the best remedial means known to modern medical science—neglecting nothing. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., or Great Russell Street Buildings, London, Eng.

—An Irish priest was addressing his flock on the dangers of intemperance, and concluded his harangue with these words: "Drink, my children, makes you beat your wives, starve your families, and shoot your landlords—aye, and miss them too!"

From hundreds of reported cases where patients have increased in weight from five to forty pounds while using Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites, no double remain of its powerful action on the organs of nutrition.

—Ruby velvet seems to be one of the favorite materials with bridesmaids in London at this time. They sometimes wear whole suits of it, and sometimes jackets with cream colored skirts.

To Build up a Broken Down System Use the Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic, indorsed and recommended by the foremost physicians of Europe and America.

—A Philadelphia paper says: "A Boston man recently fell dead in a dry goods store. He must have asked the price of something, and the shock was too great."

Clergymen, lawyers and authors find Malt Bitters a pure and safe invigorant.

Caught on a Trap.

Once a funny thing occurred behind the scenes that might have been still funnier. The English blondes were playing in New York. It was a wet, cold night, and a writer for one of the papers, with his overcoat on, and his pants rolled up over his top boots, and an umbrella in his hand, and an old slouch hat on his head, stopped a moment to have a chat with Pauline Markham, who was playing Stalacta. Markham was waiting below the stage, standing on the trap, that was to bounce her up into her fairy realm. The writer was talking to Polly, and they got interested in the chat, and before they knew it the trap had began to go up. Markham noticed it first, and cried to the reporter, "For heaven's sake get off!" But getting off wasn't so easily done as said. The reporter was pretty tall and very clumsy, and thoroughly scared, so he stood looking about him like a fool—going up, up, all the time. But Markham at last, just at the last moment, too, gave the fellow a shove and knocked him off the trap. He struck his head against the floor of the stage, and then tumbled down on a coil of ropes. He might have broken his head, or his bones, or his back, but he didn't. But it was a mighty close shave, and Markham kept laughing to herself all the evening, thinking how the audience would have roared to have seen that long, lank, slab-sided fellow, with his dirty, muddy boots, and his rolled-up breeches, and his slouch hat, and his old cotton umbrella, coming up out of cloudland alongside of her, in all her skins, and spangles, and flesh-colored tights, as the queen of the fairies.

Fashionable Footwomen.

Footmen are going out and footwomen are taking their place. Dining the other night in Eaton place, the door was opened by one of the latter in a charming and becoming livery. Black and white, mob-cap for head-dress, stand-up collar with white cravat and small pin it it, rich brown cloth coat with livery buttons, cut something like a man's hunting coat, and a buff waistcoat with a High Church collar—such was the uniform. I was so struck with the upper portion of the dress that I never thought of looking at the extremities; but I fancy my eye once got a glimpse, going up stairs, of red stockings, and shoes with silver buckles. During dinner four winsome lassies, all similarly attired, waited on me hand and foot, and certainly never was a dinner more deftly handed and served. Why not? Women are, by their nature, much better suited for this sort of work than men. The latter think nothing of eating onions and smoking vile tobacco before serving the soup, or putting their thumbs into the gravy of one's mutton, or breathing stertorously at your ear, or perceptibly on your cranium if it lacks a covering. Besides, there is a decided economy; footwomen are not taxed, nor do they eat so much.—London World.

Willing to Give Way.

An amusing incident occurred on a street car the other day. A woman of fifty, made up to look about twenty-five, got aboard at a crossing to find every seat occupied. She stood for a moment, and then selecting a poorly dressed man about forty-five years of age, she observed:

"Are there no gentlemen on this car?"

"Indeed, I don't know," he replied, as he looked up and down. "If there hain't and you are going clear through, I'll hunt up one for you at the end of the line."

There was an embarrassing silence for a moment, and then a light broke in on him all of a sudden, and he arose and said:

"You can have this seat, ma'am. I am allus perfectly willing to stand up and give my seat to anybody older than myself."

That decided her. She gave him a look which he will not forget to his dying day, and grabbing the strap, she refused to sit down, even when five seats had become vacant.

—"See here," said a fault-finding husband to his wife, "we must have things arranged in this house so that we shall know just where everything is kept." "With all my heart," she sweetly answered, "and let us begin with your late hours, my love; I should dearly love to know where they are kept." He lets things run on as usual.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

Choice Words.

Pleasure comes through toil, and not by self-indulgence and indolence.

The man who enjoys what he has, and is thankful, is a wise man.

Those who trample on the helpless are disposed to cringe to the powerful.

All our professions of piety will not go far to establish our claim to an heavenly inheritance.

There cannot be a greater treachery than first to raise a confidence, and then to deceive it.

Unto thyself be true, and it shall follow as the night and day, thou canst not then be false to any man.

If we would leave the superintending of this world to God, we should be saved a needless amount of anxiety.

You may shrink from the far-reaching solitudes of your heart, but no other foot than yours can tread in them.

It is easy enough to make sacrifices for those we love, but for our enemy we have to struggle and overcome self. Such a victory is noble.

It is a bad sign to see in religious circles a way of talking and acting as if one set of men (and a small set at that) had all the theology worth having.

Afflictions are the medicine of the mind. If they are not toothsome, let it suffice that they are wholesome. It is not required of physic that it should please, but heal.

Hasty words rankle a wound; soft ones dress; forgiveness cures it, and forgetfulness removes the scar. It is more noble to avoid an injury by silence than to overcome it by argument.

Welcome evermore to gods and men is the self-helping man. For him all doors are flung wide; him all tongues greet, all honors crown, all eyes follow with desire. Our love goes out to him and embraces him, because he does not need it.

Many a man gets committed to some high and heroic course in his best moment, often wondering afterward by what inspiration he was thus raised above himself. Happy is he whose opportunity of decision finds him at high water mark. Happy, if he have stability enough to stand by his decision after it is made.

—A short stop—The woman who turns suddenly in a crowded street.

—While two East Bradford, Pa., girls were crossing Scott's ford on the ice the other day their horse and wagon broke through. One of the young women jumped out, extricated the horse, and mounting him galloped to a neighboring house for assistance. Meanwhile the other young lady remained in the carriage. When a man reached the shore he cast her a rope. She made the rope fast to the carriage, and the vehicle with its courageous passenger was pulled out of the flood.

PERSONAL.—Should this meet the eye of the individual who created a disturbance in church last Sunday by his continued coughing, he will confer a favor on the congregation by procuring a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which will cure him.

—An amusing toy is a donkey with a boy on its back. When a penny is put in the boy's hand the donkey kicks, throws the boy nearly over his head, and in the confusion the penny disappears in the donkey's mouth.

For the past four years I have sold a large amount of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, and it has given such universal satisfaction that I always recommend it before anything else for coughs or colds.

CHAS. C. FRARY, of Adrian, Mich., says:—To my complete surprise, I obtained a good night's rest, the first night I wore an "Only Lung Pad." I have suffered from Asthma for years.—See Adv.

—Ladies, says the London Truth, will be glad to hear that the "fluttered frog" is the name of the last new color; it is rather lighter than "frightened toad" or "angry mouse."

Remember Me.

Dr. Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., would have you remember that you will avoid mistakes by bearing in mind the name of his new medicine is "Favorite Remedy," and the price one dollar. For the cure of urinary difficulties, kidney complaints, constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females, there is positively no medicine offered to the public at all equal to it. For sale by all druggists. The doctor's address is Rondout, N. Y.

Some More Morey Letter.

On Tuesday the New York Truth, (the paper which first became known to a majority of the people of this country through its publication of the so-called Morey letter,) published an "open letter" to President-elect Garfield, declaring that it has discovered evidence proving the Morey letter a forgery, and fastening the guilt upon the real authors of that famous epistle. In an editorial headed "The Morey Letter a Forgery," the Truth says:

When the Morey letter came to us we believed it to be a genuine letter of James A. Garfield. Our belief became absolute conviction when Speaker Randall, Senator Barnum, Orestes Cleveland, Abram S. Hewitt and other prominent members of the Democratic National Committee, all better able to judge than we were, unhesitatingly pronounced it genuine. Upon their assurance we published it in a form best calculated to impress a conviction of its genuineness upon the people.

The editorial closes as follows:

Our investigations resulted in the discovery of positive proof that the letter is a forgery. * * The details of the investigation, facts discovered and parties implicated, will be made public in a court of justice, where we now challenge a meeting with those who have bent their energies to annihilate Truth, some of whom were actually and knowingly connected with the forgery before it came to us.

News and Notes.

By a tenement-house fire in New York, Tuesday, nine women and children were burned to death, and several others injured.

At Moretown, Vt., a Mr. Rock and his wife, both old people, kept house for Samuel Wright, an old man. On Saturday night they all celebrated New Year's day by getting drunk. The two men went to bed in a stupefied condition, leaving Mrs. Rock sitting in a chair; and Sunday morning her dead body was found, burned to a crisp. It is supposed she set fire to her clothes while smoking, and was too drunk to help herself or even to give an alarm.

The Western Union telegraph company has been ordered to withdraw on Friday next, giving place to the American Union company, from all the lines owned or controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad company, in the aggregate about 5,000 miles of road.

A syndicate has been formed, it is reported, to build a series of narrow gauge roads to form a through route from New York to the city of Mexico.

A fire caused by a boarder smoking in bed destroyed the Commercial house at North Adams, Mass., imperilled the lives of over forty persons, and caused the loss of $30,000, on Monday.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday, James Walsh, aged nineteen years, fatally stabbed Barbara Greenthal, aged sixteen, for refusing to accept his addresses. The murderer afterward attempted to drown himself in a canal, but was fished out.

John B. Evans, fifteen years old, was fatally stabbed Monday night by Martin Dorf, fourteen years old, in Pittsburg. Evans had for a long time been accustomed to torment the younger boy whenever he met him.

The coroner's jury at Chicago, which has been investigating the loss of the steamer Alpena, returned a verdict that the vessel was rotten; that the life preservers were unfit for use; that the lifeboats were unseaworthy and the seamen inexperienced in handling them; that the bolts of the bed plate of the engine were defective, and that the Goodrich Transportation company should be held responsible for all damages.

Paul Nelson and Charles Lund, the two seamen lost from the fishing schooner Walter Irving, of Gloucester, Mass., and before reported as having arrived at Halifax, N. S., were picked up by the steamer Sardinian. They were three days in their dory, exposed to a hard gale and severe cold, and without food, before being picked up; they were badly frost-bitten in hands and feet.

A scheme to blow up the British ironclad Lord Warden, the guardship of the Firth of Forth, is supposed to have been discovered; a torpedo was found beneath the bows of the vessel. A large torpedo net has consequently been buoyed around the ship, to keep boats or torpedoes off, and other measures of precaution taken. The Lord Warden is an armor plated steamship of 7,600 tons, and carries eighteen guns. She is in the coast-guard service.

New Hampshire Items.

The anniversary meeting of the "National Guard Association" will be held at Concord, Thursday, Jan. 13th, and very extensive arrangements have been made for the event. The programme includes a business meeting at the Phenix hotel, a banquet at White's opera house at four o'clock, and a grand concert, reception and ball in the evening. Those who are eligible to membership in the association are the present officers of the state militia, as well as all honorably discharged officers who have been in service under the existing law. Ladies are especially invited to attend the reunion, and it is expected that the banquet and evening exercises will be of a very brilliant character.

The eighteenth annual session of the New Hampshire State Musical Festival will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, January 25th, and continue four days. The solo talent will include eleven artists of acknowledged reputation, headed by Mrs. H. M. Smith; while the orchestra, composed of thirteen players, will be an unusually fine one. Carl Zerrahn will be conductor, C. N. Allen leader of orchestra, and Mrs. M. D. Shephard pianist.

Political Notes.

The California legislature organized at Sacramento on the 3d inst., the republicans electing the officers for both houses.

The Tennessee legislature met on the 3d inst., W. B. Ramsey, republican, was elected speaker of the house. The senate balloted twenty-five times for president, without effecting a choice.

The republican caucus of members of the New York assembly met on the evening of the 3d inst., and Gen. George H. Sharpe was unanimously nominated for speaker.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[Dist. of New Hampshire: Lowell J.]

Patrick H. Hughes vs Martha Elsher; action of covenant broken. Plaintiff lives in Dover, and declares that deft., who lives in Jersey City, N. J., in October, 1870, in consideration of $3,500 paid her by plff., executed to him a deed, as guardian of her minor children, purporting to convey to him land in Dover, and covenanted that she had complied with the requirements of the statute in relation to sales by guardians, whereas she had failed to fellow the statute in certain particulars, by reason of which omissions plff. acquired no title to the land.

The defendant pleaded that the plaintiff had brought a bill of complaint and motion for new trial against her in the supreme court of New Hampshire, and stated that he agreed with defendant to pay her the sum of $10,000 for the brewery of her late husband in Dover, consisting of the land in question and certain personal property; that he received from her the deed mentioned, and also deed of her dower, and also transfer of the personal property; that he paid about one-third of the purchase money in cash, giving six notes for the remainder, three of which he paid at maturity; the other three were sued by the defendant, who recovered judgment against him, and the executions were levied upon his property; that since the recovery of the the judgments, he has learned of invalidity of the defendant's deed, and now asks for a new trial of the three actions in which these judgments were recovered.

The pendency of this bill is pleaded in abatement. The plff. makes three objections to the plea, all of which must prevail.

I. It does not appear that an action is pending elsewhere. The bill of the plaintiff is an application to the equitable jurisdiction of the supreme court of New Hampshire, to enable him to maintain such an action. To test the soundness of this position, it is only necessary to suppose that I should abate this writ, and then the supreme court of New Hampshire should refuse the petition for a new trial.

II. A defence to an action upon the notes, though it may rely upon the same breaches of covenant as are sued upon in this action, would not even within the same jurisdiction be a ground of abatement. It would be a reason for requiring the plaintiff to elect between his defence and this action.

III. That the pendency of an action in a state court within this circuit is not ground for abating one in this court, is entirely settled by authority. Plea overruled.

Wm. H. Dodge and Wm. J. Copeland, Esqrs., for plaintiff;
Hon. Thos. J. Smith for defendant.

Children Poisoned with Tobacco.

In one of the schools in Brooklyn a boy thirteen years old, naturally very quick and bright, was found to be growing dull and fitful. His face was pale, and he had nervous twitchings. He was obliged to quit school. Inquiry showed that he had become a confirmed smoker of cigarettes. When asked why he did not give it up he shed tears and said that he had often tried but could not.

The growth of this habit is insidious and its effects ruinous. The brain, nervous system, the memory, the power of application, are all impaired by it. "It is nothing but a cigarette," is really "It is nothing but poison." German and French physicians have recently protested against it. And a convention of Sunday and secular teachers was recently held in England to check it. It was presided over by an eminent surgeon of a Royal Eye Infirmary, who stated that many diseases of the eye were directly caused by it. Parents, save your children from this vice if possible? Do not allow them to deceive you. In future years they will rise up and bless you for restraining them.—Christian Advocate.

—A young woman in London was recently smothered by the "London fog." She fell and died in the street while trying to grope her way to a friend's house, and the medical experts pronounced her death due to asphyxiation by the fog.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool can affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Fort Kwen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

AROUND HOME.

The fishing schooners Grace Choate and Young Selim each brought in a cod-fish weighing one hundred pounds, on Tuesday.

Go to the Good Templars' fair to-night at Grange hall. Supper from six o'clock to nine, only fifteen cents. Tickets to fair, including a chance to one cut of cloth, ten cents.

The total quantity of fish delivered from vessels at the wharves, and brought up from the lower harbor in dories on Monday and Tuesday, amounted to fully 200,000 lbs.

It is hinted that a "still hunt" is being conducted by out-of-town detectives into the cause of death of the fisherman whose corpse was found in one of the docks on a Sunday morning some weeks ago.

On the last day that Mr. Thompson was secretary of the navy he sent a complimentary letter to Naval Constructor Philip Hichborn, formerly of this city, and now stationed at the League Island navy yard.

Elder A. A. Waite, the chalk talker, spiritualist exposer, and prince of magic, is coming here on the 21st inst., and will give one of his unique performances, and tell the public all about the humbuggery of spiritualism.

A cod-fish weighing a good hundred pounds was landed at Tredick's fish-wharf on Tuesday. Cod weighing seventy-five pounds each have been so common this winter that they have ceased to attract special attention.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham Masonic Mutual Relief Association will be held in Masonic hall on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when an important proposed change in the by-laws will be finally acted upon.

Charles E. Laighton & Son, Exchange building, advertise a fine selection of teas and coffees, and a large variety of canned articles. They add that "the above are all good goods"—which seems a superfluous announcement, as the firm has had the reputation of dealing in no other kind of goods ever since we can remember.

The arrivals of fishing vessels on Tuesday were as follows: Schooner Christie Campbell, 35,000 lbs.; Celia, 6000; Lucy, 4000; Flying Cloud, 4000; John Smart, 5000; Grace Choate, 10,000; Mary E. Smith, 4000; Ella M. Johnson, 6000; Comet, 2500; Young Selim, 3000; Ev Nichols, 11,000; Flora Temple, 10,000 lbs.

On Monday evening next a choice entertainment will be given at the Congregational church in Rye, under the auspices of the Martha Washington society, by a double quartette from this city consisting of the following-named ladies and gentlemen: Miss Edith Wendell and Miss Nellie Locke, sopranos; Mrs. J. S. Bennett and Miss Susie F. Ham, altos; Lafayette S. Butler and Lafayette V. Newell, tenors; Henry Harlow and Jerome C. Butler, bassos; Miss Georgie Hill, organist.

Drilling operations at the Eastern railroad station were suspended Monday night, the hole having reached the depth of three hundred feet. The hole bored is seven and three-quarters inches in diameter,—large enough to take a seven-inch pipe if necessary; but the material drilled through being all rock, no tubing has been required. Granite, marble and blue slate have been struck in the course of the work, and also several small seams, each of which contributed water. On Tuesday forenoon preparations were made for pumping water from the well, to see how much of a supply can be depended upon.

At South Seabrook, on Christmas eve, an entertainment was given for the benefit of the pastor, and netted $20. On New Year's eve Elder A. A. Waite gave an entertainment in aid of the church, whose treasury was benefitted $37 thereby.

Mr. Aaron Pinkham, of Dover point, drove into Dover on Saturday evening, and while he was in a store to purchase a newspaper somebody stole his team; and after reporting the theft to the police, Mr. Pinkham was compelled to ride home with a neighbor. On Sunday Mr. Pinkham called at Col. Joseph Cushing's place at Dover point, and found his team there, it having been driven from Dover by one Josiah Burley. Mr. Pinkham immediately set out to hunt up Josiah, and when he found that individual proceeded to "put a head on him," to serve him as a reminder that the next time he gets drunk he had best steal some other team than Pinkham's.

If a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had been around the city the past few days, he could have found plenty to do in arresting those who allow their horses to be hitched all day on the streets without any covering on them. In many of those instances men were too lazy to take a blanket out of their sleighs, while the poor dumb brute was suffering intensely from the cold. We wish some of our Portsmouth members of the S. P. C. A. would step up here some cold day and teach those abusers of dumb animals that there is a God in Israel.—Foster's Democrat.

It would be better still if some of the humane people of Dover would organize a branch society to look after such instances of cruel carelessness, and all other kinds of cruelty to dumb beasts. The Portsmouth society has done and is doing a good work, but there is room in the vineyard for many more laborers.

PORTSMOUTH SHOE CO.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Shoe Co., was held in the common council room on Monday evening. Dr. F. E. Potter, the president, occupied the chair. The reports of the directors and the treasurer were presented, and were satisfactory to the stockholders. The time for holding the annual meetings was fixed for the second Thursday of May, by an amendment of the by-laws. An ineffectual attempt was made to reduce the number of directors from nine to five. The following named gentlemen were chosen directors: Frank Jones, Ezra H. Winchester, Charles H. Mendum, Henry M. Clark, Wm. Ward, Frederick E. Potter, William H. Preston and William H. Hackett; James F. Jenness was unanimously re-elected clerk. The treasurer paid a deserved tribute to the efficiency of the agent, Mr. J. G. Knights, and also spoke of the satisfactory manner in which the accounts at the factory were kept by Mr. Preston. The directors will meet for organization at the office of the president on Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

MADAME RENTZ'S MINSTRELS.

The Donaldi star combination, advertised to appear at Franklin theatre next Friday evening, gave a concert in Portland city hall on Monday evening. Levy, the great cornetist, played Sullivan's "Lost chord" and his own "Concert waltz," and for encores "Thou rests in this bosom," "Yankee Doodle" and "Robin Adair." Madame Donaldi sang "Waiting," Abt's "Embarrassments," and a serenade with violin obligato. Mr. Lichtenberg, the violinist of the company, being ill, his place was supplied by a Miss Shepardson of Boston, a graceful player who gave good satisfaction to the audience, though of course not assuming to be the equal of Theodore Thomas' soloist. Miss Violante, the pianist, played several brilliant selections, and the concert was received with much favor, all the artistes being encored.

Sale of tickets for Friday evening commences to-day, at the store of Stavers, Marston & Co.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The barque Horace Scudder arrived at Boston on Monday, from the west coast of Africa Sept. 15th. Her captain, S. B. Gilpatrick of Biddeford, died Sept. 30th, and was buried at sea. The vessel had a very tempestuous passage, and was on the coast a month before getting into port, having several times been blown off.

A correspondent at York, writing under date of Dec. 29th, says "Vennor's snow-storm, all but ten feet and eight inches of it, arrived to-day." At York corner, at six o'clock in the morning on the 31st ult., the thermometer indicated a temperature of nine degrees below zero; at sunrise on New Year's morning it was at ten below, and at zero on the 2d inst. at the same hour.

Sunday evening about eight o'clock a fire was discovered in the boiler room of the sash and blind factory of Samuel P. Horne, Sullivan square, Berwick, opposite Great Falls. The flames spread very quickly, and before the arrival of the fire department the interior of the building was completely on fire. The entire stock of blinds, shutters and lumber was totally destroyed, and the machinery was much damaged. The loss is estimated at $1,500; insurance $1000—$500 on stock, and a like amount on the machinery.

Mr. William Furbish, of York, whose name has become a household word by reason of his raising that immense pumpkin, as stated by "Nathaniel of Texas," desires to inform his patrons and friends that he can no longer answer demands for "Garfield Pumpkin seeds." He says he has been receiving from one to five hundred letters per day from farmers in all parts of the country, and several wholesale seed dealers have tried to negotiate for his whole stock, which is now exhausted. He has, however, about nineteen bushels of that five-foot-and-four-inches carrot seed yet unsold, and is ready for orders for them, or will sell the whole lot. Y. C.

Some One Always Wins.

A correspondent invites attention to the fact that it has been everywhere remarked by the readers of the leading journals in all parts of the country that the drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, which occur without ever any interruption in their regularity on the second Tuesday of each month at New Orleans, La., and any assertions made over the name of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York City, are invariably justified by the subsequent action of the company so that $20,000 for $2 seems to be a certain happiness in store for some happy mortal somewhere.

PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.

Dr. L. J. Kahn, 51 East 10th St., N. Y., and Proprietor, Dr. Kahn's Museum of Anatomy, 683 Broadway, N. Y., begs to inform his patients and those desirous of consulting him, that he has opened an office at 61 Hancock St., Boston; where he may be consulted EVERY THURSDAY from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. and 4 to 8 P. M.

Dr. Khan having devoted 30 years to the treatment of the nervous system arising from indiscretion, to which may be traced many of the obscure ailments which effect youth and manhood, is enabled to insure those placing themselves under his treatment a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Kahn's medical work Nervous Exhaustion, which treats on these cures; forwarded to any address on receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps. The Height of Happiness is the restoration of a woman after years of sickness to perfect health. Imagine then the joy of the family of Mrs.—— of Kingston, who had suffered untold misery for over five years, consequent upon the Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to Females. She was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." After using only two bottles all her ailments disappeared, and she says that she feels and considers herself in perfect health.

—A little fellow lately asked his parents to take him to church with them. They said he must wait until he was older. "Well," was the shrewd suggestion in response, "you'd better take me now, for when I get bigger I may not want to go."

Write to Mrs. Lydia A. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for names of ladies that have been restored to perfect health by the use of her vegetable compound. It is a positive cure for the most stubborn cases of female weakness.

—A service was recently announced at St. Matthew's, Sydenham, England, "for children of the upper classes," whereupon the following amendment to the well known saying was promptly offered by a newspaper commentator: "Suffer little children of the upper classes to come unto me."

Your D. R. V. G. has cured me of chronic diarrhœa, urinal difficulties and chronic dispepsia of 15 years standing. JAMES COARLEY, Hellisle, N. Y. Guaranteed by all Druggists.

—A Laporte City, Iowa, man recently found a good-sized lizard in a plug of tobacco. The animal was all there except the head, which had been bitten off by the discoverer.

J. S. R. SCOVILLE, Morris, Ills., says:—When your "Only Lung Pad" came to hand, my son could not raise his head. He is now up and gaining every day.—See Adv.

Wrecks Last Year.

The New York Tribune has an article showing that last year was remarkable for the destruction of steamships. The need of extensive reforms in the transient grain carrying trade is pointed out, and it is shown that the many losses of grain vessels are due to improper construction, careless work, bad stowage of cargo, inadequate steam power and insufficient crews. A great many of the English steamships engaged in the grain trade are emphatically of the "cheap and nasty" kind, as the English themselves say. The dangers resulting from carrying coal without proper precautions are also shown.

The record of marine disasters during 1880, especially of steamships, is startling. No less than 147 steamships, of a total tonnage of 171,362 tons, were lost. A very small percentage of them have been raised again, repaired and put back into ocean service, but most of them were a total loss. Of the whole number, 107 were British, with a total tonnage of 146,994 tons; ten French, 18,318 tons; nine American, 11,886 tons; eight German, 12,438 tons; three Spanish, 3021 tons; two Danish, 1369 tons; two Norwegian, 1401 tons; two Russian, 2200 tons; one Italian, 906 tons; one Swedish, 1000 tons; one Greek, 1329 tons; one Austrian, 1000 tons. Seven of them were built of wood and 140 of iron; fifty-six were stranded; thirty-two sunk by collision; thirty-one foundered at sea; twelve are missing, with no clue to the manner of their destruction; six were burned; three sunk by icebergs; three abandoned at sea; and one was capsized.

Of the American vessels lost, the record will recall to mind the horror which spread over the community when the news was received of the disaster to the Narragansett, sunk by collision with the Stonington, during a dense fog in the Sound; of the burning of the Seawanhaka in the East river, New York, and the foundering of the City of Vera Cruz, off the Florida coast, during a hurricane. Each of these calamities involved great loss of life, as well as of property. The wreck of the Rhode Island, in the Sound, while it caused no loss of life, aroused much excitement. The burning of the City of New York, in the East river at New York, was also only a loss of property, because she was at the pier when she caught fire, and the few people on board had ample time to escape.

Winter Weather.

Snow was falling in various parts of Texas, Monday, and the weather is reported to be more severe than was ever before known there.

Raritan bay is frozen solid from South Amboy to Perth Amboy, and as far out as Staten Island sound. Several vessels are fast in the ice.

Snow has been on the ground at Augusta, Ga., one week, something unprecedented in the history of the city. There has been fine sleighing for the first time in twenty-five years.

On Monday John A. Stringer, a citizen of Chesterfield, Va., was found frozen to death on Hickory road, near Wood's Church, that county. Stringer drove to Petersburg in his team, Saturday, and while returning home in the evening was frozen to death.

—A Baltimore wedding reporter has the honor of making two new words for the American market. When Mr. Richard Grant White sees "blondine" and "brunetine" in print he will long for somebody's scalp.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it nurses the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other compound is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'

BLOOD-PURIFYING

SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dio Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, an I think it is most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dinsmor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the Shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Gulbeatte, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—Wm. E. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilbur, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. ASK FOR CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

AN OLD STORY.

Fisherman John is brave and strong,
None more brave on the coast than he;
He owns a cottage and fishing smack
As snug as ever need be,
And, what is truer than I could wish,
Fisherman John loves me.

Often and often, when day is done,
With smiling lips and eager eyes
He comes to woo me; in every way
That a man may try he tries
To win me; but that he can never do,
Though he woo me till he dies.

Fisherman Jack is a poorer man;
He owns nor cottage nor fishing smack,
But a winning voice and smile are his,
And a manly grace. Alack!
It will not break my heart to tell
That I love Fisherman Jack.

He loves not me; but every night
He sets at the foot of Kate Mahon;
Never a heart has she for him—
For she loves Fisherman John,
Who cares no more for love of hers
Than the sea he sails upon.

Often we wonder, do Kate and I,
That fate should cross us so cruelly;
We think of the lovers we do not love,
And dream of what life would be
If only Fisherman John loved her,
And Fisherman Jack loved me.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3d.

On Wednesday, on the re-assembling of Congress, it is not believed there will be a quorum of representatives present. Very few have arrived so far. Whenever a quorum can be had, the committee on appropriations will assert its command of the floor, and push the army bill already reported, and the others made ready for report during the recess. Just when Mr. Wood can secure action on his funding bill is uncertain. Mr. Reagan will fight hard for early consideration of his inter-state commerce bill. Observation in the House makes me confident that five-sixths of the members agree that some measure asserting the authority which Reagan's bill recognizes in the federal government, should be passed. But this is legislation upon a new line, and both House and Senate will act with deliberation. Meanwhile at least one of the railroad companies doing business between this city and the east shows, by wilfully delaying the traffic of a rival company, to the great damage of the public, that it has no fear of early final action on any bill like that of the Texas representative.

It is said here that Senator Conkling will during the week call the attention of the Senate to the much-written-about campaign speech of Senator Bayard, but nothing is said as to the form of his reference to it.

Senator Blaine is credited with the intention of making, and the authority to make, at an early day, a speech which will indicate in some respects the policy of the next administration. The prominence lately given the senator as prospective secretary of state makes the story plausible.

President Hayes is credited, now that he cannot keep on re-assigning one cabinet officer every ten days to the navy department, with the intention of assigning first one and then another to the position. A careful calculation shows that the supply of officers will not quite hold out, even although "February has twenty-eight" days only this year. There will be a time, perhaps from the second to the fourth of March, when only the six or seven bureau officers of the department will be present for duty. It is to be hoped that nothing serious will happen during those two or three days. KNOX.

Reward.—We will pay a reward of one thousand dollars for any certificate published by us regarding Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup not found genuine. — Vogeler, Meyer & Co., Baltimore, October 1, 1877.

—"Herbert Spencer says," remarked a Boston girl to her Chicago admirer, the other evening, as they were holding down one end of the sofa, "that life is the definite combination of heterogeneous changes, both simultaneous and successive, in correspondence with external coexistence and sequences." He said that it was probably so, but hastily changed the subject and afterward told his mother that those Boston girls could scull out words a little too quick for him.

—Sentimental people say there is something sad about the close of the year, and so there is, but it is not so much the mourning over lost opportunities and vanished joys as the trying to make a limited salary pay more bills than it is adapted to cover.—Hartford Post.

The National Finances.

Ten years ago the national debt was 2,618 millions, and the interest upon it 126 millions annually. Now the principal has been reduced to 2,085 millions and the interest to seventy-seven millions. On the first of January, 1870, the premium on gold was eleven per cent; now it is nothing. The greenbacks were then worth ninety cents on a dollar; now they are worth their face in gold. The government five per cent bonds were worth 114; now four per cents are worth 113. As a nation we begin the new year under the most favorable financial circumstances and prospects.

The Latest New York Horror.

The tenement-house fire in New York, on the 4th inst., was a shocking affair. The fire started at the bottom of a stairway that furnished the only mode of exit for the tenants in the fifth story, and in less than five minutes it swept through the stairway to the roof, cutting off the escape of a score of persons by the stairway. The tenants made a rush for the roof, but the scuttle was firmly hooked and would not yield. The ascending flames drove them to their rooms, and the men and women threw their children from the windows, and jumped after them through the flames that swept across the yard and caught their clothing. Besides the nine dead bodies that were found as soon as the firemen had mastered the flames, a tenth corpse, that of an infant, was found some hours later; and a number of the tenants were so badly hurt in making their escape that they had to be sent to the hospital.

One of the children in the house at the time it took fire, a boy thirteen years old, named Charley McKinna, remained by his little brothers and sisters, and wrapping them in blankets dropped them from the second-story window into the arms of the firemen below. Then finding his retreat through the hall-way cut off, he grasped a clothes line suspended between the house and a building in the rear, and going hand-over-hand until he reached the middle of the yard, dropped safely into the arms of the firemen.

The disaster was caused by the upsetting of a gasoline lamp with which a plumber was thawing out water pipes.

News and Notes.

The British barque Happy Home struck Trinity ledge, off Yarmouth, N. S., on the night of Jan. 3d, and capsized. The captain's wife and daughter, and one man, perished; the rest of the crew were taken off the wreck next day by boats, all being frozen more or less, the captain and mate very badly.

By a railroad accident at Sioux City, Iowa, on the 4th inst., six men who were engaged in shovelling snow from a cut were killed, and another had a leg cut off.

On New Year's day, when General Sherman and the officers of the army were passing in to pay their respects to the President, they suddenly found themselves marching to the chorus from the "Pirates of Penzance." "A policeman's lot is not a happy one." It was the marine band; the choice of tunes was quite characteristic of the proverbial simplicity of the marines. It is said Sherman looked black, when he heard it.

The proposed visit of Moody and Sankey to New Orleans will be postponed for some time on account of work which they are doing in San Francisco.

The notorious Abe Rothschild, who four years ago, in the most cold-blooded way, murdered the woman who had lived with him as a wife, has lately been acquitted at Jefferson, Texas. It seems to be regarded as no crime to kill a woman.

Mrs. James Blaney, of Jersey City, N. J., was found dead in her room lately. It is supposed she died from want and exposure, as her husband was drunken and thriftless.

A wreck that has been under water in Manila bay for several years has been brought to the surface by the shift of bottom caused by the recent earthquakes. Some wreckers bought it for $70, and it proves now to be worth $300,000.

The British steamship Brazilian, from Boston for Liverpool, grounded on a bank at the entrance to the river Mersey on the 4th inst., and broke in two when the tide fell. No life was lost.

An engagement between the troops under Major Ilger and a hostile faction of Sitting Bull's band, occurred January 3d in Montana, and resulted in the surrender and disarming of the Indians.

The Des Moines Register says that the census returns show that Iowa has 50,000 more men than women; and that the state offers splendid inducements for good-looking and good women in the east to immigrate. It promises them the best homes in the world, and in time, and not a very long time either, the best of husbands.

Mrs. Harriet N. Cooper, (colored,) died at Cheltenham, a suburb of St. Louis, New Year's day, aged 115 years. She weighed 400 pounds. Mrs. Cooper was the mother of twenty-five children, the youngest of whom is sixty-two years old. Her husband is 101 year old, and is still living.

Eight Philadelphians died during the past year, who each left property valued at over half a million dollars.

Political Notes.

The Massachusetts legislature organized on the 5th inst., by the re-election of Robert R. Bishop as president of the Senate, and Charles J. Noyes as speaker of the House.

The republican caucus of the California legislature nominated Gen. John F. Miller for United States senator, on the first ballot. There were but five opposing votes.

The legislature of Maine organized Jan. 4th. Joseph A. Locke was chosen president of the Senate, and L. H. Hutchinson speaker of the House. Camp Meeting John Allen was chosen chaplain.

The first biennial session of the Pennsylvania legislature convened Jan. 4th. In the Senate a sensation was caused by E. B. Coxe, a democratic senator from Luzerne, declining to take the "ironclad" oath. He made a lengthy statement, showing that he used money in securing his own election, and, therefore, could not conscientiously allow himself to be sworn in.

According to a New York despatch to the Boston Journal, dated Jan. 4th, Stilson Hutchins of the Washington Post was mixed up in the Morey-letter-forgery mess.

At Enterprise, Miss., on the morning of the November election, a gang of white democrats assaulted the negroes, who had assembled to vote, with a volley of brick-bats. The colored men did not wait to see whether a volley of pistol-shots would come next, but hastily decamped and made no further attempt to vote. A few of the ringleaders of the democratic mob have been arrested on process from the United States district court, and the Meridian Mercury gives this advice in relation to the matter: "If it shall be found that any of the bulldozed negroes have caused this prosecution, we merely suggest to the boys to take them out and talk to them—with the bark on. If it was a white man he has entitled himself to a ride on a railroad—with the road left out."

Grangers' Ten Commandments.

Commandments for the Grangers, Engraved on a Piece of Soapstone, found on the Farm of Jotham Winrow.

1.—Thou shalt have no other goddesses but Ceres, Flora and Pomona. Thou shalt not worship any graven images of them, but when thou worshippest them, thou shalt bow down thyself to them in their living person. Thou shalt not worship their apparel, neither their bonnets, nor their neckties, nor their tiebacks, nor their greenbacks, nor their jewelry, nor their banged hair, but shalt worship only the spirit and the understanding. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to Mars, to Bacchus, nor to Mammon, for the Grangers' goddesses are jealous goddesses, and love not war, intemperance nor tight purse-strings.

2.—Thou shalt honor thy brother and sister Grangers, that thy life may be social, happy and long in the land that floweth with wheat, hogs and hominy.

3.—Remember thy Grange day, to attend it punctually. Five or five and a half days shalt thou labor, and finish up all thy work; but the sixth day is the meeting of the Grange; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou nor thy wife, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy mother-in-law or in equity, nor thy hired man, nor thy hired girl, nor thy horses, nor thy hens, nor thy ducks, nor thy geese, if they all be Grangers; for five days are enough, when everything booms, to make both ends lap, therefore they should rest on the sixth day to attend the Grange.

4.—Thou shalt not take the name of thy Worthy Master in vain, for he will not hold him sensible who calleth his name and then talketh nonsense.

5.—Thou shalt not steal, neither thy neighbor's sheep, nor his chickens, nor his apples, nor his watermelons.

6.—Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's new house, nor his new corn crib, nor his new buggy, nor his two-year-old colt, nor his new hat, nor his new boots, nor his wheat drill, nor his sausage grinder.

7.—Thou shalt not lie, neither at home nor abroad, nor in the Grange; neither when thou buyest nor when thou sellest. Thou shalt write or advertise no lies in thy Grange paper; nevertheless, when thou swappest horses or makest a political stump speech, thou mayest lie without sin, because then no one expecteth truth, so no harm is done.

8.—Thou shalt keep not more than three dogs, one to bark, another to bite, and a third to kill sheep; nevertheless, if thou art very poor, and have many small children, and knoweth not how to read or write, thou mayest keep a fourth to help bark.

9.—Thou shalt not get angry, neither at thy neighbor, nor at thy hired man when he breaketh the pitchfork handle, nor at thy hired girl when she wasteth the bread, nor at thy old sow when she rooteth up the garden, nor at the cow when she kicketh over the milk-pail, nor at thy soap-kettle when it boileth over, nor at the fly when it crawleth over thy face, nor when thy neighbor getteth thy first premium at a fair, for anger resteth only in the bosom of fools and outsiders. Neither be thou angry at the express company, when they mash thy fruit and charge thee double price, for it availeth thee nothing.

10.—Finally, thou shalt purchase thy sugar and thy coffee and thy molasses, and thy rice, through the established Grange channels, and follow not after the baits and devices of those who would work confusion within thy borders.—J. WINROW, in Grange Bulletin.

A Story of Madame MacMahon.

The following incident in the life of Madame MacMahon is related: In the middle of the winter of 1858 a fire broke out in the female seminary at Limoges, France, and spread with such rapidity that it was feared all the inmates would perish. Suddenly there was a cry that one little girl had been left in her room. As the excited spectators were beginning to pray for the unfortunate child, a tall girl, with disheveled blonde hair and flowing nightgown, cut through the crowd, and, with a shriek of "I'll save her!" that rose above the sound of crackling timbers and falling masonry, dashed into the doorway. A loud hurrah that was prolonged to the echo only to be repeated again attracted the attention of the devotees, and the pale-faced girl was seen skipping through the flames with the terrified child. A few days thereafter King Louis Phillippe sent the heroine a gold medal for her bravery, and a captain of the French army, who had witnessed the girl's pluck, begged an introduction. The captain is now Ex-President of France, and the brave girl Madame MacMahon.

—There are none so deaf as those who won't hear. "Father," said a young reprobate, pitching his voice so the old gentleman would be sure to hear, "let me have one hundred dollars?" "Eh?" said the parent, inclining his ear. "Let me have two hundred dollars?" "I heard you quite distinctly the first time, my son, quite distinctly."—New Haven Register.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Eastern railroad, acting in concert with the Boston & Maine, has ceased to issue free passes over the road to large shippers of freight, as has been the custom in years past.

The whistle at Eldredge's brewery is now sounded at 6:30 o'clock every morning, to compensate the workingmen of the western part of the city for the loss of the Kearsage mills bell, on the ringing of which they depended for notice to go to work during so many years.

The tickets for Mme. Emma Donaldi's star concert in Franklin theatre to-morrow evening went off very rapidly on Wednesday, the first day of the sale, indicating that a large audience will attend. That the audience will be a select one is guaranted by the standard of the entertainment to be offered.

Don't fail to see the nice easy chair now on exhibition in Goodrich's window, which some foreman of a fire company will get at the Good Templars' fair, now being held in Grange hall; a nice supper each evening at the low price of fifteen cents. Admission only ten cents, including a chance in one cut of cloth.

A despatch from Hyannis, Mass., of the 5th inst., says: "Schooner Washington Freeman, of Thomaston, Maine, loaded with coal, sunk at seven o'clock last evening on Bishop & Clarke's ledge; steamer Mary B. Curtis went to her assistance, but could not render any. Parties are saving what they can from the wreck." The Washington Freeman was built at this port about twenty-five years ago, by the late Arad Tibbetts, and was owned here for many years; her Portsmouth owners finally put her into the whaling business, and she made several trips from Provincetown, Mass., but with indifferent success, and ten or twelve years ago they sold her.

The flow of water into the drilled well of the Eastern railroad was tested on Tuesday night and Wednesday of this week, the steam pump working many hours without getting any promise of a "suck," though it threw water at the rate of about 2500 barrels a day, and it is evident that the three-hundred-foot hole tapped a very considerable supply of the required fluid somewhere. The hole is tubed for one hundred feet of its depth. Mr. Buzzell, who has charge of this department of the Eastern railroad's work, was in this city on Wednesday to decide as to the advisability of putting the bore further down, but we have not heard what his decision was.

At the regular communication of Saint John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., of this city, on Wednesday night of this week, the following officers were installed by District Deputy Grand Master John Pender: William H. Lovell, Worshipful Master; Howe Call, Senior Warden; William R. Foster, Junior Warden; Oliver G. Fernald, Treasurer; John H. Cheever, Secretary; William S. Hazel, Senior Deacon; George W. Berry, Junior Deacon; M. Crowley, Senior Steward; Geo. A. Blaisdell, Junior Steward; Rob't King, Chaplain; Alfred T. Hill, Marshal; William B. Randall, Tyler. Dr. William A. Junkins, of Greenland, was also installed District Deputy Grand Lecturer, by a dispensation.

As the time draws near for the appointment of a postmaster to fill the position for the next four years, naturally some interest is felt to know who will draw the prize. We have heard of several candidates mentioned who are striving for the place, among whom are the present incumbent, Postmaster Pierce, Wm. O. Sides, Simon L. Marston, and P. D. Norton. Postmaster Pierce has held the position for three terms, or twelve years, and has, as far as we know, performed his duties to the satisfaction of all, and has paid strict attention to the wants of the public. It is to be expected that the friends of the aspirants will do all possible to advance the interest of the man of their choice. Petitions are in circulation, one of which we have seen, and we observed it was largely signed by the leading business men of the city, of both parties; and if we can judge anything by that, the majority of the people of this city are in favor of the present incument.—Times.

The New York Criterion Comedy Co., said to be a first-class organization, will appear at Franklin theatre in "Freaks" on Thursday evening, Jan. 13th. Elder A. A. Waite will out-juggle all the spritual mediums combined, in the same theatre on the evenings of Jan. 21st, 22d and 23d.

Instead of lying up for the winter at Stover's wharf in Kittery, as it was reported she would do, the schooner B. Frank Nealley was towed from there on the 3d inst. by the tug Clara Batemen, and brought to one of the wharves on this side of the river, to load apples for Baltimore or a southern port.

This evening, at Music hall, Madame Rentz's minstrels will appear. A dramatic critic, in referring to the entertainment, says: "It deserves a better title than 'minstrels,' as every scene is either vocal or musical of a high order, with an occasional bit of refined merriment thrown in to enliven the performance, and a far more appropriate name would be 'Grand concert of refined musical novelties.' Its peculiar nature and title may have led some to suppose that Mme. Rentz's minstrels was hardly the proper thing for a lady to visit, but the impression is erroneous, as a more refined entertainment could not possibly be placed upon the stage. From beginning to end it was replete with novel specialtics and charming vocalism. There were ladies who executed admirable solos upon such difficult instruments as the flute, clarionet, cornet and harp, and each with a perfection rarely equalled." See advertisement.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The tug Ann, of Dover, was taken on the Kittery railway on the 3d inst., for a general overhaul.

Capt. Oliver Brown, of Kennebunk, died very suddenly in that town on the 4th inst. He was eighty-three years old, and one of the surviving Dartmoor prisoners.

Dr. Willis, of Eliot, was recently presented by his friends with a testimonial of their esteem in the shape of an elegant sleigh, made by Ranlet of Dover, and costing $75.

The January term of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county met in Saco, Jan. 4th, Judge Symonds presiding. The old docket is small, and the new entries are not large. Several criminal matters of importance will come before the grand jury, including the case of John L. Goodwin, upon which a coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from accidental causes. In the jury list as published we find the names of Alexander Junkins of Eliot, foreman, and Masterson Young of York, member, of the the grand jury; C. W. Junkins of York, A. E. Parsons and Burlington Paul of Kittery, traverse jurors; J. H. Staples of Eliot, supernumerary.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Yantic left Portsmouth, Va., for sea, on the 4th inst.

The Vandalia, at New York, was reported ready for sea on the 5th inst. She will go to the West Indies, Aspinwall and Key West.

The Alliance arrived at the Washington navy yard on the 3d inst.

Naval Constructor Samuel M. Pook on the 4th inst. turned over his department at the Charlestown navy yard to Assistant Constructor John F. Hanscom.

New Hampshire Items.

Nelson Bartlett, a fireman on the Cheshire railroad, and recently run over at Keene, has died of his injuries, leaving a widow and two children.

A clerk in the Concord post-office stamped a letter containing percussion caps, which exploded, and nearly put out his eyes.

The new town hall at Tilton, a gift from Charles E. Tilton, was dedicated on the 4th inst. with appropriate exercises. Gov. Head and wife, Secretary of State A. B. Thompson, and other distinguished guests, were present.

The heaviest personal verdict ever obtained in this country against a railroad is undoubtedly that of Charles H. Worthen of Lebanon, against the Grand Trunk railroad. The Free Press says that on the 31st ult. the Grand Trunk drew its check for $47,740.40 in favor of Mr. Worthen, to satisfy his judgment against that road, including the verdict, $45,000, and costs. The road stood out to the last possible moment, and only paid to the sheriff when the execution was in his hands and he was about to levy on the company's safes. The company could have settled it at one time for considerably less than half the amount of the check now drawn.

A day or two ago the locomotive "N. G. Upham," which is used as a shifter, ran away from the Concord station, on the Acton railroad, with a box car, and did not stop until it reached the territory of Dunstable. It appears that the throttle lever of the machine was loose, and the engineer caught his coat upon it, when leaving the cab, thus pulling it out and giving the machine motion. Before the engineer could gather himself the locomotive was off. It so happened that the pumps were working and the fire was low, and therefore it filled with water, and stopped, when three or four miles out. It is said that the speed was a mile in the first minute.

A New Epidemic.

London Truth vouches for the fact that the love of strong drink is increasing among the educated women of England, and says:

During the season just past, instances of this were so frequent as to lead to the conjecture that a kind of epidemic of drink was pervading those classes in which culture, position and the possession of every comfort of life would appear to be a sufficient guarantee against so degrading a vice. "Society" ladies, in fact, live too much on excitement not to suffer from the inevitable reaction. For a few months in the year they endure continued fatigue in treading the social mill, and for the remainder they are a prey to ennui. They try the first dose of chloral as an experiment. But from being an experiment it becomes a practice and develops into a necessity. It is no longer servant, but master.

—Maltese lace is coming in fashion once more, which is good news to those who bought it in the days when the dry-goods men almost paid one for taking it away.

Burnett's Cocoaine

Kills Dandruff, Allays Irritation, and promotes the Growth of the Hair.

Gentlemen:—For over two years I have suffered terribly with "scald head" in its worst form. A few weeks ago I tried a bottle of your COCOAINE. The first application gave me relief, and now the disease is effectually cured.

Yours respectfully,

N. C. STEVENS, Deputy Sheriff, Ottawa, Ill.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are perfectly pure.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts. a box everywhere. tu,th & s 6tJan82

False Reasoning.

Suppose a machine should fail to perform its work, and the owner, instead of trying to ascertain the cause of failure and remedy it, should conclude to run right along, and argue that as the machine had heretofore come around all right it would soon be so again. If a general and permanent break-down ensued could anybody be blamed but himself? Now, precisely this way do people act and argue when the "human machine" is out of order. When the liver is "torpid" and bowels constipated every one knows that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets afford prompt and permanent relief. Yet some guess the "machine" will come around all right, and do nothing. Could any system of false reasoning be more pernicious? Suppose the blood be out of order and there be pimples, ulcers or running sores with scrofulous tumors, swellings and general debility, and those thus affected should refuse to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, guessing that the blood would purify itself, could anybody be blamed but themselves, if a general and permanent break-down of health ensued? No remedy yet known equals the Discovery in curing all scrofulous, throat, bronchial and lung diseases. Sold by all druggists.

High Priced Hay in Colorado.

Hay is now selling in San Juan county, Col., for $300 per ton. That is pretty well up, but it is still far behind what was seen on the Comstock in early days. All old timers will remember when hay sold at twenty-five cents per pound. Green grass was then retailed at ten cents per pound. In the summer of 1860 an old Frenchman made a snug little raise at packing grass up from Flowery District on an old horse. This grew in bunches, about a rod apart, was about the thickness of a riding whip, and about six to eight feet long. Having no scales, the old man used to count his hay out, giving from three to five stalks for a pound. When this kind of hay was criticised by his customers, the good old man, who did his mowing with a hatchet, was wont to say: "Ah, sare, I agree wis you! Ze hay is a little coarse, but he is very succulent. Besides, I give zee good weight. I nevaire cut one hay in two—nevaire, sare, nevaire."—Virginia (Nevada) Enterprise.

Where "Banging" Originated.

It has often been a subject of wonderment to us where our pretty girls got the notion from of combing their front hair down over their foreheads, and cutting off the ends so as to make the inch and a half of hair which they keep hanging down nearly to their eyebrows, and which is irresistibly associated in our mind with an imperfectly sheared mule's tail. The mystery was solved to our satisfaction last night as we dropped into Dr. Jackson's. The doctor received from New Zealand, yesterday, among quite a variety of forms and mosses, and other curiosities from that semi-barbarous land, the pictures of two Maoris—natives of that country—a boy and a girl—and the latter had her back hair looped upon the top of her head, and stuck through with white-tipped turkey feathers, and the front hair was hauled down in front, the ends mingling with the eyebrows. So it is from the New Zealand savages, and not from the North American Indian squaws, ladies, that we copy the fashion.—Columbia (S. C.) Register.

A Critique.

A man, a desk, a room.
The man was in the room and his feet were on the desk.
Nothing was wasted.
The man was an editor.
Somebody rapped at the door.
"Come in," said the editor.
It was a boy.
He laid a book on the editor's table and went out again.
The editor looked at it awhile, and then took it into another room, where there was another man with his feet on the desk. He was writing busily, but ceased his work as the editor came in.
He was a literary person.
"Give this a good notice," said the editor.
"All right," said the literary person. Then the editor went out.
A clock in one corner of the room kept up an incessant ticking. The literary person disliked this clock, but the man who wrote the financial articles owned the clock and would not allow it to be removed. He said its ticking reminded him of the way bankers did business.
After a while the literary person finished his review of a book on the ethics of protoplasm and stopped writing. Presently he looked at the book which the editor had left. He had never seen anything like it before, but he did not weaken. Again his pen travelled rapidly over the paper. This is what he wrote:
"We have received from the publishers a dainty little work entitled 'Records of Trotting and Pacing in the United States and Canadas for 1880,' and can warmly recommend it to our readers. While the plot is one replete with sensational incidents and situations, it is yet of a character that can offend none, teaching as it does, the lesson that true progress is attained only by earnest effort. The almost idyllic story of Maud S. and St. Julien, who seem to be the principal characters in the story, is told in a simple yet finished manner, and one lays down the book with a restful feeling at the heart that should always be produced by a properly constructed novel."
The next day the editor saw this in his paper. He read it carefully and said: "— — — —."—"Tales for the Nursery," by Murat Halstead.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'

BLOOD-PURIFYING

SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Elias Cowles, M. D. I have long prescribed it, and I think it is a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Berry, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Disanor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the Shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Guilmette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—Wm. R. Fry ton, Druggist, Fremont, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilber, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SARSAPARILLA ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

"A JOY FOREVER."

We passed from out the dazzling light,
We left the rustling throng of dancers;
Miss Smith had said to me, "We might,
I almost think, sit out the lancers."
And, wandering on, we lost our way—
A country house is most perplexing—
Miss Smith was filled with sweet dismay,
And closer clung—'twas very vexing.

We rested at a window seat,
My hand detained a hand half willing;
We murmured of the floor, the heat,
And other things as wildly chilling.
Some mistletoe, o'erhead intwined,
Gave rise to arch but tempting banter,
I kissed her—lost my peace of mind—
And got a piece of hers instanter.

She stamped her foot, her bosom rose
And fell with maidenly vexation;
She said—but what she said, Lord knows!
For I was lost in admiration.
But there she stood, a dear at bay,
A picture for a master's sketching;
I soothed her, as a mortal may,
And though she never looked so fetching.

My deeds were rash, my words insane—
At length we could no longer tarry—
And when we joined the dance again
Miss Smith was "Kate" and I was "Harry."
Ten years' possession has not tired
My love, but I'm in this position;
The tantrums which I once admired
Have palled from frequent repetition.

Starting a Canal "Boom."

The story of the devices by which the Panama Canal scheme has been floated upon the Paris market, is almost as good reading as the testimony before the Emma mine committee in Washington, concerning a certain famous enterprise in London. Every effort has been made to utilize even the French love of the picturesque in winning friends and subscribers for the scheme. The very handbills have been covered with designs, and the wrapping-paper of the great fancy shops has been pressed into service to advertise M. de Lesseps' great project, which though it can have no income for twelve years at least, is to pay five per cent interest from the beginning, to say nothing of a silver medal, worth five francs, to be presented to every owner of five shares. By such means as these, which a Paris correspondent describes, the French people were beguiled into taking the whole amount of stock offered, or at least into pledging the first payment upon it. This is the very quackery of enterprise, and it seems strange that it should have had such complete success. There is likely to be a shadow on the bright picture which the skilled hand of De Lesseps has presented to his stockholders, perhaps before they have completed their payments.—N. Y. Tribune.

—A good story is told of the late Chief Justice Cockburn. He was once counsel for the plaintiff in a certain case, and a Mr. B—— was for the defendant. Cockburn called a witness, and proceeded to examine him. "I understand," he said, "that you called on the plaintiff, Mr. Jones, is that so?" "Yes," replied the man. "What did he say?" demanded Cockburn. Mr. B—— promptly rose and objected. The conversation could not be admitted as evidence. But Cockburn persisted, and Mr. B—— thereupon appealed to the judges, who after a time retired to further consider the point. They were absent for nearly an hour, and when they returned they announced that Mr. Cockburn might put the question. "Well, what did he say?" asked the counsel. "Please, sir, he wasn't at home," replied the witness, without moving a muscle.

Dr. Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., would have you remember that you will avoid mistakes by bearing in mind the name of his new medicine is "Favorite Remedy," and the price one dollar. For the cure of urinary difficulties, kidney complaints, constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females, there is positively no medicine offered to the public at all equal to it. For sale by all druggists. The doctor's address is Rondout, N. Y.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1881.

Congress.

A bill has been introduced in the Senate by Mr. Kernan, to regulate the coinage of standard silver dollars; it proposes to repeal so much of the coinage act of 1878 as requires the secretary of the treasury to purchase silver bullion and to coin not less than two nor more than four million dollars per month. The bill next provides that the secretary of the treasury shall hereafter coin only such an amount of standard silver dollars as he may find necessary to meet the demand for them.

In the House, Jan. 5th, Mr. Springer introduced a bill for the apportionment of representatives in Congress among the several states, keeping the number of representatives the same as now, 293, and allowing one congressman for each 168,498 of population. By this bill the number of members appointed to each state is fixed as follows: Alabama seven, Arkansas five, California five, Colorado one, Connecticut four, Delaware one, Florida one, Georgia nine, Illinois eighteen, Indiana twelve, Iowa ten, Kansas six, Kentucky ten, Louisiana five, Maine four, Maryland five, Massachusetts ten, Michigan ten, Minnesota five, Mississippi seven, Missouri thirteen, Nebraska three, Nevada one, New Hampshire two, New Jersey seven, New York thirty, North Carolina eight, Ohio nineteen, Oregon one, Pennsylvania twenty-five, Rhode Island two, South Carolina six, Tennessee nine, Texas nine, Vermont two, West Virginia four, Virginia nine, Wisconsin eight; total two hundred and ninety-three. The following states would lose one member each: Alabama, Florida, Indiana, Illinois, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Hampshire, Ohio, Vermont and Tennessee; Pennsylvania would lose two, and New York three members; Arkansas, California, Iowa, Michigan, Mississippi, South Carolina and West Virginia would gain one member each, Minnesota and Nebraska twe each, and Kansas and Texas three each. The bill was referred to the committee on the census.

News and Notes.

The Maverick National Bank of Boston issues an "Annual" for the benefit of its depositors and correspondents, which is also of the greatest interest to all investors in or disposers of government securities, of whatever issues or denominations. The work is an epitome of the whole system of transactions in United States bonds, by individuals, banks, or holders of trust funds,—their exchange, withdrawal or transfer,—concisely stated and easily understood. Their facilities for foreign exchange, telegraphic transfers of money, and domestic letters of credit are briefly touched upon; while the book contains much that is interesting relating to railroads, national banks, coins, imports and exports, and other matters pertaining to the financial welfare of the country. The "Annual" is now ready for delivery, and will be sent free to any address on application.

In New Haven, Conn., on the 3d inst., Charles M. Harland was arrested for robbing Elihu Sperry's safe of $42,000 in securities; confessed on the 5th that he perpetrated the deed, and implicated August A. Bodenschatz, gardener for Edward Malley, a dry goods merchant. Bodenschatz was arrested, and detectives found the bonds and other valuables in his hothouse.

A pastor at Grundy Centre, Iowa, was recently very sick, and, believing that he was near death, confessed that he had not long before been on a most deplorable spree in Chicago. He did not die, however, and his wife not only deserted him, but reported him to the church. His people are more charitable, and will probably let him off with a reprimand, as his penitance seems genuine.

Elliot Stock, a London publisher, lately issued an edition of the New Testament for two cents. He had sold 400,000 copies at last accounts.

J. A. Webb, a railroad ticket scalper at Chicago, has been arrested for stealing fifty tickets to the east, issued by the Michigan Southern railroad, and valued at $1,100.

Mrs. Bartley's little girl of three years was burned to death at St. Louis, while the mother had left her squalid home to pawn her shawl for whisky.

The New York Times has lost its "funny man." Mr. William L. Alden, the professional humorist of that paper, who received $75 a week for writing a humorous editorial nearly every day, has entered the service of Harper & Brothers., who have been looking for a "funny man" for their different publications.

The barque Europa, of New Haven, Conn., sailed from New York for Barbadoes on the 16th of September; she was spoken when thirteen days out, and has not since been heard of; and it is supposed that she went down with all hands during a hurricane which prevailed soon after she was spoken. She was commanded by William Dodge of Orrington, Me., and the mate was a Mr. Redmond of Islesboro', Me.; the wives of the two men are sisters.

Canada has a baron of her own, Queen Victoria having recognized the claim of Charles Colmore Grant to the title of Baron de Longueuil of Longueuil in the province of Quebec. This title was conferred upon his ancestor, Charles de Moyne, by letters patent signed by Louis XIV in 1700.

Carl Wiggenhouser, a tailor fifty years old, was found about two miles from the compact part of Newport, R. I., on the 4th inst., frozen to death. His clothes were hanging on a stone wall, against which the lifeless remains were standing erect. He left his home New Year's eve. He had been suffering from a slight aberration of mind.

It is supposed that the British steamer Farnley, Captain Appleton, which sailed from Savannah for Revel on the 8th of December with a large and valuable cargo of cotton, has been wrecked on the coast of Jutland. Bales of cotton have drifted ashore, and two boats marked "Farnley of Newcastle" have been found off Bjerregaard, in the Skagarack. In one of the boats were two dead bodies, presumed to have been the officers of a large steamer. The Farnley was last reported at Dartmouth, Eng., December 27th.

Governor-elect Albert C. Porter of Indiana was married to Miss Cornelia Stone of New York, in that city, on the 5th inst. Rev. Dr. John Freeman of Lockport, N. Y., officiated, and but few friends were present. The happy pair left for Indianapolis immediately.

The steam launch belonging to the revenue cutter at Charleston, S. C., picked up, on the 4th inst., the bodies of eight men on a flat-boat between Port Royal and St. Helena. The bodies were covered with ice, the men having frozen to death while drunk, during the prevalence of a terrible hail storm. The boat was laden with cotton and ether produce.

It is expected that work on the superstructure of the Brooklyn bridge will be begun in January, and that by Christmas, 1881, the structure will be open for public travel.

On Saturday, Jan. 1st, a Hindoo infant was born in New York city, the mother being but twelve years of age, a "nautch" dancer, and wife of the principal man of the Hindoo troupe now in that city. The child died on the 5th inst.

A fire took place early in the morning on the 5th inst., in St. Mary's block, Chicago. The only occupants of the building were T. E. Lincoln, a manufacturer of boots and shoes, his wife, and their dog, "Jack." The dog discovered the fire, broke his chain, and, running to the door where Mr. Lincoln and his wife were sleeping, howled furiously, finally forcing the door open. Mr. Lincoln was awakened by the animal licking his hand. The room was full of smoke, and their escape by the stairway was cut off. Opening the window, Mr. Lincoln saw a fireman below, and throwing him his pocket-book containing money, papers and insurance policies, he placed his wife outside on a ledge, and climbed out himself, hanging on a swinging sign. It was fully twenty minutes before the firemen could get a ladder to rescue them. During the interval a window sash fell on the man, cutting his hands and face. Both persons were badly scorched by the flames which darted out of the window. The dog was saved, but badly burned. Mr. Lincoln's loss is $10,000. Total loss, $25,000.

Aids to Longevity.

Some years ago the French ministry addressed a circular to all the prefects, desiring them to institute inquiries as to the conditions which appear peculiarly to favor longevity in their several districts, and the replies are said to have almost unanimously indicated as the leading elements or influences great sobriety, regular labor and usually in the open air, daily exercise short of fatigue, early hours, a comparatively well to-do life, calmness of mind in meeting trouble, moderate intellectual powers, and a family life. The beneficial influence of marriage on the duration of life is universally admitted, and re-marriage does not seem to be unfavorable. The prefects also indicate heredity as a frequent cause, and the influence of climate is likewise admitted; this latter, however, is separable with difficulty from other causes which may be operating simultaneously; but if all things were otherwise equal, it would seem that southern are less favorable to longevity than northern climates.

A Good Word for Romping Girls.

Most women have a dread of these. Mothers would their little daughters were called anything else than romps. They say to them, "be very quiet now, my dears; don't run or jump; try and be little ladies." As if a healthy child could be still; as if it could take time to walk, or step over what came in its way; as if it could fold its hands in its lap when its heart is brimful of tickle. It is absurd and wrong, because it is unnatural. Children, girls as well as boys, need exercise; indeed, they must have it to be kept in a healthy condition. They need it to expand their chests, strengthen their muscles, tone their nerves, and develop themselves generally.

And this exercise must be out of doors, too. It is not enough to have calisthenics in the nursery or parlor. They need to be out in the sunshine, out in the wind, out in the grass, out in the woods, out of doors somewhere, if it be no bigger place than the common or park. Suppose they do tan their pretty faces. Better be brown as a berry, and have the pulse quick and strong, than white as a lily, and complain of cold feet and headache. Suppose they do tear their clothes; it don't try a mother's patience and strength half so much to patch and mend as it does to watch night after night a querulous sick child, and it don't drain a father's pocket-book half as quick to buy shoes as it does to pay doctor's bills.

No, mothers, don't nurse up your little girls like house plants. The daughters of this generation are to be the mothers of the next, and if you would have them healthy in body, and gentle in temper, free from nervous affections, fidgets and blues; if you would fit them for life—its joys, its cares, and its trials—let them have a good romp every day while they are growing. It is nature's own specific, and, if taken in season, is warranted to cure the ails of the girls, and the women.

—The richest mine in New Mexico is said to be in the White Oaks district. It was originally sold for $5 in silver, a little dust, and an old revolver, and is now said to be worth $3,000,000. In the east the reverse of this instance is the custom. Mines are bought for $3,000,000 which are not worth $3 and a little dust, saying nothing of the revolver.—Springfield Republican.

—The plan adopted by dealers in dry goods, toys, etc., of advertising their wares by elaborately decorated windows, filled with elegantly dressed dolls, etc., has been borrowed by a New York undertaker and utilized in a cheerful way. This enterprising individual displays in his window a miniature hearse, drawn by four prancing horses, and a little coffin with a doll inside, the turn-out being surrounded by a group of dolls in mourning garments. It is noticed that even the recently bereaved are betrayed into a smile by this absurd exhibition.

SEABROOK, Jan. 6th.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 28th, the teacher (Miss Chase of Kingston) and scholars of the Boyd school, had a Christmas tree in their schoolhouse. The building was filled with parents and scholars. The first part of the evening was devoted to declamations, readings and tableaux, by the school, showing careful training by the teacher. Remarks were made by Rev. W. A. Rand and E. Y. Turner, Esq. A well filled tree was then unloaded, Robert Collins, Esq., acting as Santa Claus. Each of the school children received a present from the teacher, who received from the children a work-basket, writing case, and motto picture. Shadow pantomimes closed the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Cate, until recently station agent at the Eastern depot, has gone to Dunkirk, New York, hoping to receive benefit to his health by the change.

Abbot A. Locke is running the shoe express line to Lynn, that was conducted by the late Calvin Buswell. The line was originally in the hands of Mr. Locke, and the shoes have always come out in his name.

Wednesday afternoon, David Boyd and his sons cut a large elm tree standing beside the road leading from the depot to the marsh. As the tree was falling, at least a dozen flying squirrels left it, flying in different directions, some reaching trees at least thirty feet distant. Several young ones were captured. Their nest was discovered in a hole in a fork of the tree. Squirrels have had nests there for at least forty years.

Austin Weare is closing up his sawmill business, and is going into farming; he has disposed of the mill carriages and saws, to Mr. Dearborn of Hampton.

Owners of ice-houses are getting ice from Wm. Noyes' mill-pond.

Coal business is rushing; Frank E. Locke is busy filling orders. There is almost a wood famine in town, dry hard wood being very scarce. ENO.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the direction and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

U. S. SIGNAL OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
Jan. 7, 1:30 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—

Light snow in the northern part and partly cloudy weather in the southern portions, southwest to northwest winds, rising barometer and by Saturday morning lower temperature.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, registerd 34 degrees above zero.

Sky clearer.

AROUND HOME.

William S. Willey and Gates Wentworth have been drawn to serve as petit jurors at the supreme court at Exeter on the 19th inst.

A young man from Rochester, whose name we did not learn, had two fingers crushed in the machinery at the Shoe factory on Thursday.

The time for giving out books at the free public library is between the hours of seven and nine o'clock in the evening, every evening in the week. It is not open in the daytime.

The Good Templars' fair in Grange hall continues this evening, when prizes will be awarded, and a three-act drama entitled "Guilty or not guilty" will be played by the Rockingham Lodge Entertainment Club.

Mr. M. Ryan, corner of Court and Water streets, has added to his former business a barber shop and pool room, and is meeting with good success. There are now three barber shops on Water street, all doing a fair business.

We were pleased on Thursday at being informed that Mr. John Dixon, who has been seriously ill, and it was feared dangerously, is better. Mr. Dixon is an enterprising business man, and we cannot afford to part with any such.

Mr. George Herbert commences business as a fish-buyer on Monday, at Commercial wharf, purchasing for the country and Canadian markets. It is reported that Mr. Sargent Lane, of Rockport, Mass., also intends engaging in the fish business here.

Mme. Donaldi's Star Combination at Franklin theatre this evening, when Levy, the first cornet-player of the world, Madame Emma Donaldi, soprano soloist, Mr. Lichtenberg, formerly solo violinist of Theodore Thomas' orchestra, and Miss Violante, pianist, will appear. See adv't.

The arrivals of fish on Thursday were as follows: Schooner Northern Eagle, 16,000 lbs; Alabama, 12,000; Helen F. Tredick, 3000; Annabel, 5500; Mary E. Caswell, 2000; Josie Johnson, 9000; Cosmos, 8000; Emma S. Osier, 4000; Iris, 6000; Ella M. Johnson, 2500; Addie and Hattie, 4000; Flying Eagle, 3000. The Northern Eagle is the vessel that fishes with cod-seines; her captain and crew prefer this method to fishing with trawls, and the crews of other vessels are talking of adopting it.

Our old friend B. P. Shillaber has been confined at his home in Chelsea, Mass., for some time, with his old trouble, rheumatism; but not even that temper-trying malady, nor the notices in the papers, first that he is "quite ill," and then—just as he is beginning to get around—that he is "very dangerously sick," can wear out Mrs. Partington's good-nature and genial humor. Mr. Shillaber even treated with courtesy a delegation of young men who called at his house to enquire if the rumor that he had "gone up higher" was true, assuring them that he had not as yet done so; and he writes us that his foot is too lame for him to kick the bucket!

At the regular meeting of the Portsmouth Reform Club, held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 5th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, James W. Marden; vice presidents, Geo. W. Randall, B. S. Laskey, Charles Humphries, Morris Tobin, Frank Hidden; secretary, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike; treasurer, James Janvrin; chaplain, James Janvrin; organist, John Hague; ticket-takers, Benjamin Powell, Reuben Rand; ticket-seller, Albert L. Stringer; finance committee, B. F. Thorndike, Charles T. Wiggin, Daniel L. Randall; trustees, Stephen W. Clarke, Charles S. Dodge, George W. Randall.

For several days the Portsmouth & Dover railroad has been bringing ice from Dover for Hon. Frank Jones, Capt. Abbott of that city having contracted to supply Mr. Jones with two hundred tons of that article.

The annual meeting of the Mutual Relief Association of the Knights of Pythias was held in Pythian hall, Dover, Jan. 4th; George W. Varney of Dover was elected president, and William A. Frye of Newmarket treasurer.

The millinery stock of E. O. Goodwin, on Market street, was sold at auction on Monday of this week by Sheriff Kent, at forty-two per cent upon the appraisal. It was purchased by George B. French. The bidding started at twenty-five per cent. The appraised value of the stock was $1552.65.

Rev. W. W. Smith will deliver a lecture entitled, "Ivy-crowned Bacchus, or Woe to the Crown of Pride," on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Methodist church. This lecture is on an original design, and is illustrated on the blackboard. It is hoped that all friends of temperance, and the public generally, will attend. Free to all.

Charles G. Conner, Esq., of Exeter, sat as referee in the case of Quinn against the city of Portsmouth, last week. The plaintiff sought to recover damages for injuries received in consequence of a fall upon an icy sidewalk. On Tuesday and Wednesday, Mr. Conner as referee heard the case of Albert Pickering vs. Elias Frink of Newington, action to recover notes and an account.

The workmen who have been engaged on the well at the Eastern depot for some weeks past, were on Thursday preparing to remove the steam drilling apparatus to Somerville, Mass., as no more boring is to be done here at present. We are informed that the flow of water into the well is not as copious as was hoped for, or as was indicated by the quantity discharged during the test by the steam pump.

The Board of Trade of Dover met on the evening of the 4th inst.: C. H. Sawyer was elected president, and Everett O. Foss secretary. C. W. Woodman, John Bracewell and C. H. Trickey were appointed a committee to confer with the citizens of Newmarket, South Newmarket and Exeter with regard to the wharfage at the Portsmouth bridge. The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the piers at the draw of the Portsmouth bridge are inadequate for the easy and safe passage of such vessels as are now engaged in the trade of this city, and that a committee of three be appointed to confer with the proprietors of said bridge and the Eastern railroad, to ascertain if proper alterations can be made; and if such negotiation shall fail, be it further

Resolved, That the committee apply to the next legislature for redress, giving due notice thereof to all parties interested.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Jan. 6; Batchelder, J.

Margaret Quimby and John Sullivan, for drunkenness, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs.

Andrew Amee was brought up on a charge of being a vagrant. He had a little money, and said he could get work in Boston, and would leave this city at once if permitted. He was allowed to go.

DOVER MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

The new city government of Dover was inaugurated on the 5th inst. The retiring councils held a final session on the previous evening, at which various official reports were submitted. From the treasurer's report it appears that the total receipts of the city during the year 1879, including balance on hand at the opening of the year, were $168,167.80; expenditures, $137,279.76; cash balance, Jan. 1st, 1880, $30,888.04. The total cost to the city of the new Eliot road and bridge (including the bridge over Fresh creek) was $5673.23. The total number of arrests during the year was 414,—360 males and fifty-four females; amount of fines and costs collected, $1747.98. Two hundred and nine arrests were for drunkenness, fifty-nine for violation of the liquor law, and fifty-two for assault. In the board of aldermen, a resolution passed Sept. 2d, 1880, censuring Mr. Guppey, then mayor, was expunged from the record by unanimous vote.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 3d inst., in Dover, some boys were at play with a heavily loaded gun in the house of Mr. Hilliard, on or near Garrison hill, when the gun was accidentally discharged, and the big load of buckshot plowed a hole clear through the outer walls of the house, tearing off plastering, boards and clapboards. It was a lucky chance that none of those boys happened to stand within range of that gun.

The frame spinners of the Webster mill at Suncook struck on the 4th inst., and on the 5th the weavers of the Webster and Pembroke mills, numbering two hundred, did likewise. Cause, a cut-down of ten per cent on the 1st of January.

Mr. Alonzo Roberts, of Dover, on the evening of the 4th inst. entered his residence, sat in a chair and instantly expired. He was over seventy years old, and his sudden death is attributed to heart disease. He leaves behind him a wife and family. One of his daughters is the wife of Mayor Murphy of Dover.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Stories of the Sea." When Mr. Edw. E. Hale gave the boys his "Stories of the War," he promised if they liked them he would follow the book with "Stories of the Sea, told by Sailors." This volume is now published, and contains "Columbus' voyages, Paul Jones and Richard Pearson, Nelson and Trafalgar, the English navy, naval battles, etc." Mr. Hale's plan of showing intelligent young people how they may seek for themselves for the best original narratives, instead of having them written "in the crisp style" of the Boston book writer, is unfolded, and it commends itself to all young people who seek to obtain information and enjoyments from books, and to be able to discover many things for themselves,—although Mr. Hale should charitably remember that but few cities can afford the extensive opportunities for the research allowed by the Boston public library, to which the young folks at Col. Ingham's seem to have had full access. The book will interest readers young or old. It has the "matchless style" of Mr. Hale abundantly bestowed. Young people will enjoy its pages, while older heads will review the narratives of events read in younger days with renewed interest. Published by Roberts Brothers of Boston. Price $1.00: sold by all dealers.

"Leavitt's Farmer's Almanac" for 1881 will be sent to any address by mail, postage paid, on the receipt of ten cents by the publisher, Edson C. Eastman of Concord.

The English publisher of "Scribner's Monthly" telegraphs for 17,000 copies of the coming midwinter (February) number, an advance of 6000 upon his orders for the same issue last year. The "Midwinter Scribner" will be, as usual with this issue, a number of special interest and pictorial beauty.

The Height of Happiness

Is the restoration of a woman after years of sickness to perfect health. Imagine then the joy of the family of Mrs.—— of Kingston, who had suffered untold misery for over five years, consequent upon the Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to Females. She was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." After using only two bottles all her ailments disappeared, and she says that she feels and considers herself in perfect health.

—One evening, at a Paris cafe, a group of idlers were discussing politics and people who change their opinions. "Well," said one, "I've never cried 'Long live anybody.'" "Quite so," remarked one; "but then you are a doctor."

J. S. R. SCOVILLE, Morris, Ills., says:—When your "Only Lung Pad" came to hand, my son could not raise his head. He is now up and gaining every day.—See Adv.

—An exuberant youth hails a supposed acquaintance on the street with "Hello, Joe," but finding his mistake, adds, "O, excuse me, I thought you were another man!" Laconic stranger answered, "I am."

Write to Mrs. Lydia A. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for names of ladies that have been restored to perfect health by the use of her vegetable compound. It is a positive cure for the most stubborn cases of female weakness.

—A professor asked his class, "What is the aurora?" A student, hesitating, replied, "Professor, I did know, but I have forgotten." "That is sad, very sad," rejoined the professor; "the only man in the world that ever knew has forgotten it!"

Your D. R. V. G. has cured me of chronic diarrhœa, urinal difficulties and chronic dispepsia of 15 years standing.

A Touching Story.

One rarely meets a bit of more touching romance than is found in the following story that comes from Wales:

Years ago some Welsh miners, in exploring an old pit that had long been closed, found the body of a young man dressed in a fashion long out of date. The peculiar action of the air of the mine had been such as to preserve the body so perfectly that it appeared asleep rather than dead. The miners were puzzled at their discovery, as no one answering the description of the dead man had been lost within their remembrance, and at last it was resolved to bring the oldest inhabitant—an old lady long past her eightieth year, who had lived single in the village the whole of her life. On being brought into the presence of the body a strange scene occurred; the old lady fell on the corpse, kissed it, and addressed it by every term of loving endearment, couched in the language of a bygone generation. He was her only love, who had disappeared on the day set for their wedding; she waited for him during her long life; she knew that he had not forsaken her. The old woman and the young man had been betrothed sixty years before. The lover had disappeared very mysteriously, and she had kept faithful during that long interval. Time had stood still with the dead man, but had left its mark on the living woman. The miners who were present were a rough set, but very gently and with tearful eyes they removed the old lady to her house, and the same night her faithful spirit rejoined that of her long-lost lover.

An Ingenious Clock.

A remarkable clock is on exhibition in New York. In its multitudinous crooks and recesses may be seen a running locomotive, a mechanical walking man, a representation of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the figures being carved out of wood and working in the most lifelike manner, a procession composed of all the Presidents, and Lincoln emancipating the slave. In the latter representation a door slowly opens and a slave is seen bound to a block; Lincoln approaches, and removes the fetters from his limbs. A group also represents infancy and old age; a babe crawls forth upon its knees, shakes its rattlebox, and retires; old age steps forth, bows sadly, and disappears. The arts and sciences are represented by a minature of the famous Strasburg clock. The apostles appear, bowing to the Lord; Peter turns his back, Satan appears, the cock crows; Death stalks forth, and the Roman sentinel advances. The days of the week are given, the day of the month, phases of the moon, and other celestial phenomena.

More Talk than Work.

A silly young woman says in a newspaper: "The man for me to love must be vastly my superior; a man who will compel my spirit to bend to his; who will command my soul to stand still and shine on him, as Joshua commanded the sun; who can trample my will to the dust," etc. The Norristown Herald thinks she will have no difficulty in finding such a one—"one who will not only command her soul to stand still, but who will also command its owner to get up first in the morning to build the fire, split kindling and carry up the coal, and whose language will make her fair stand on end when he comes home and finds a dinner fifteen minutes late. There are lots of men who will bend her spirit for her, and also make her back bend over a washtub while they go down to a saloon and spend what she earns." But the women who talk like this, talk so because they think men like them the better for it. And such women don't bear "commanding" or "compelling" worth a cent, and are the very wives who always send their husband to the tailor to replace a lost button.

—Young Irish bachelors pledge themselves not to marry the daughters of the "land grabbers." As though they could, anyway.

—It is said that "in England there exists a want of permanent homes for poor gentlewomen where, with a roof overheads, they may be set free from the harassing care of how to meet the weekly rent." Unfortunately this state of things is not confined to England.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster; county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering had locked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power each morsel enjoys his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5th,

There is apparent to-day much less easiness than in the early session. In a late letter I spoke of the increasing probability of an extra session. Mr. Atkins of the House appropriations committee last night said he believed there was no need of an extra session. He said the appropriation bills would be reported without any of those clauses which had heretofore caused debate—meaning the clauses restricting the use of the army, and forbidding the payment of the election marshals. He said also that the democrats had no desire to debate the electoral count resolution, but merely to vote on it. But Mr. Atkins is only one democrat, and all are not like him; and further, he has not a particle of right to speak for the republican side of the House. I anticipate long discussions on various measures, and believe an extra session very probable. The first few days will probably decide.

Hon. S. S. Cox will be deprived of an honor which he coveted,—that of presenting the new apportionment bill. All the necessary figures are now at hand, but Mr. Cox is absent, ill, and Senator Pendleton will prepare and present the measure. Sentiment in the House is decidedly against increasing its membership to more than 300, the present number being 293. On this subject, of course, the Senate will not interfere. If presented promptly the bill will probably be passed at this session.

All the State republican associations in this city are discussing the question whether or persons are not identified with the republican party shall be permitted to hold office in the departments. The associations from two states—New York and Massachusetts—have already voted against the continuance in office of such persons. President Hayes has done much less than is generally supposed in the way of appointing non-party men. Nine-tenth of the anti-republicans who have places here are in the interior department, and most of them in the census office. The rule under Secretary Schurz has been to appoint new appointees (after competive examination, and that, of course, excludes the idea of preference for political reasons. In the cases in which the rule has been departed from, appointments being made without competitive examination, the secretary has still held that political opinion should have nothing to do with his choice of a clerical force.

The number of people who are still applying for accommodations during the inauguration season, and who will come if they can secure quarters and food, is astonishing. The committee of citizens are loaded down with correspondence.

—General Grant perpetrated another alleged joke at Mr. Barbour's residence, in Patterson, N. J., recently. He had just seen the elegant stables Mr. Barbour keeps for his fine blooded cows, and said to him, "I now see how it is that you treated your guests with champagne instead of milk." "How's that?" asked Mr. Barbour. "Why," replied the general, glancing at the cattle, "your milk costs too much."

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1881.

Terrible Calamity.

The Strafford county almshouse, situated about four miles north from Dover, was destroyed by fire Friday morning. There were about 190 inmates in the institution at the time, and as the fire broke out about four o'clock there was great consternation among them when aroused from their slumbers. Nine persons were burned to death, and four others are missing. The building, which was completely destroyed, was a large brick edifice, three stories and an attic above the basement, and comparatively new. The sleeping rooms were in the top of the house. The fire originated in the furnace, and spread with much rapidity, there being no means on the premises of extinguishing it. The insane asylum, a large wooden building standing near the burnt establishment, was saved, although the inmates were all dressed and prepared for escape. The names of the missing are, Frank Jones, Asa Hall, Peter Sargent, Burnham Nute, Jeff Holland, Thomas McDermott, Ivory Hanscom, Joseph Cook, Chas. Riley, Sadie Abbott, Martha Jewell, Lizzie Wilson, Clara Scates. The building burned was built fourteen years ago at a cost of $40,000. Several additions have since been made, which with the contents will make the loss 70,000; insurance on all property $25,000. If the weather had not been mild the loss of life must have been heavier, as the inmates escaped with only their night clothes on. The safe containing all the records bursted, and the contents were burned.

A New Sailor-Man.

President Hayes has treated the country to a surprise in his choice of a man to take the place of that retired old salt, Ex-Secretary Thompson of the navy department. He sent to the Senate on the 6th inst. the nomination of Nathan Goff of West Virginia to be secretary of the navy; and the Senate in executive session took up the nomination, and confirmed it without the usual reference to a committee.

Gen. Goff is about forty years old, a native of West Virginia, and is said to be a particular friend of both Garfield and Blaine. He has been United States district attorney for the district of West Virginia during eight years past, and probably has assurances that he will be retained in President Garfield's cabinet, as it is not likely he would resign the position of district attorney merely to be secretary of the navy for two months. Four years ago he was the republican candidate for governor of West Virginia, and polled a very large vote. Mr. Blaine is reported to have been very active in securing his confirmation by the Senate, and his appointment is construed to mean that the senator from Maine is to have large influence with the incoming administration.

Congress.

Congressman Springer has proposed the following for submission to the House: "Resolved, That the secretary of state be requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to communicate to this House all information in the state department, not heretofore transmitted to Congress, in reference to the Halifax fishery award of $5,500,000 paid by the government to Great Britain, and especially relating to the alleged fictitious statistics and perjured testimony imposed upon the arbitrators, and upon which evidence the award was made; and whether this government has taken any steps to procure a verification of the recently published statement by Prof. Henry Youle Hind." This resolution was on the 7th inst. referred to the House committe on foreign affairs.

It is said that the grand steal called the river and harbor bill will be larger this year than ever before.

The Eads Ship Railway.

It is announced that Capt. Eads has returned from Vera Cruz to New Orleans, having secured concessions from the Mexican government for his projected Tehauntepec ship transportation company. He is granted the right to build a ship railway, is to have one million acres of land on the Pacific shore to build a terminus and establish a harbor, is empowered to tax $5 per ton for freight, and Eads is to carry on the railroad all ships and munitions of war free. The road must be begun in two years, and completed in ten years from May, 1881. Mexico will allow Eads to secure the aid of foreign governments to guarantee dividends. Eads is satisfied the United States government will endorse the plan to $50,000,000. Ex-President Diaz is a hearty supporter of the scheme. Eads left New Orleans for Washington on the 5th inst.

Trouble at Suncook.

At Suncook, on the morning of the 6th inst., the striking mill-operatives were early at the gates of the Webster, Pembroke and China mills, forbidding others to go to work; many were persuaded not to go in, and in half an hour there were hundreds, principally French Canadians, parading the streets with clubs, and railing vigorously; the police were called to quell an incipient riot, and were obliged to draw their revolvers, though they did not have to use them. At 6:30 o'clock in the evening, when the bell rang, most of the strikers were at the gates of the Webster and Pembroke mills. Their leader, Joseph Kaye, a French Canadian, acting in a riotous manner, was arrested by special officers, numbering twenty, and taken to the station, being followed the entire distance by hundreds, throwing sticks and with drawn knives. The officers were obliged to draw their revolvers and use their billies many times before reaching the station house, where a strong guard was placed, the strikers threatening a rescue.

News and Notes.

A fisherman named Seabloom, of Gloucester, Mass., was recently fishing at Pigeon Cove when he hauled up the dead body of a man; he was so horrified at the sight that he let the body drop back into the sea again.

By the explosion of a boiler in the Allentown (Pa.) rolling mill, on the 6th inst., one man was killed, ten fatally and five others seriously wounded, and $20,000 damage done.

A Mrs. Davis, of Fort Scott, Kansas, and her daughter, were burned to death on the 5th inst. by their clothes taking fire.

James Curtis was shot dead at Henrietta, Texas, by Nan. Rice in a quarrel. Rice was wounded, and while being cared for be a physician, was shot by a friend of Curtis.

Joseph Egoff, secretary of Mayor Murphy of Troy, N. Y., aided by a policeman, savagely assaulted Police Commissioner Hydorn in front of city hall, in that city, on the 6th inst., in the presence of Mayor Murphy and others. Hydorn's nose was broken and his face badly battered. No arrests were made.

At Murfreesboro, Tenn., on the night of the 3d inst., four men, masked and armed, went to the house of Henry Miller, colored, and after being refused admittance broke open the door. Miller open fire on the crowd, which they returned. He escaped by a back door, and the next day upon returning, found the dead body of Daniel Newman. It was proved at the inquest that Newman was shot by his own party, and Miller was released. Newman was well connected. The party wished to punish Miller for the alleged burning of a barn.

On Thursday forenoon, in New York, an explosion of varnish occurred in Peter Doelger's brewery at 1106 First avenue, by which four men were so badly injured that they will die.

Frank N. Brown, twenty-one years old, was fatally shot by his father, Special Officer Charles A. Brown, at Williamsburg, N. Y., on the 6th inst., while protecting his mother from the latter's violence. The father surrendered himself to the authorities.

Mrs. Meierhoffer and Frank Lammens, convicted of the murder of the woman's husband, were hung in the jail at Newark, N. J., on the 6th inst. Two men named Sullivan and Hayes were hanged the same day in the Moyamensing prison at Philadelphia, Hayes for the murder of his wife, and Sullivan for the murder of his paramour.

Postmaster James, of New York, has received the thanks of the Australian government for his enterprise in forwarding mails from that country to England by which several weeks of delay were avoided.

The British Parliament met on the 6th inst. in special session, and the Queen's speech was read. She asked for special legislation and means with which to reduce to subjection her rebellious subjects in Ireland.

An astonishing beast spread terror in Healdsburg, Cal., by running through the streets, for he was not recognized as Professor Gamble's handsome snow white pony, with his name and tail sheared off, and his sides striped like a rainbow zebra. The professor had offended some students of the Litton Springs academy.

Life on the Ocean.

A large steamship, name unknown, was seen to go on the Goodwin sands at the mouth of the Thames river on the 6th inst., and afterward sink with all hands.

The barque J. G. Zittlosen, of New York, was run down and sunk at Folkestone, Eng., on the 6th inst. The pilot and five seamen were drowned.

The ship Indian Chief, of Liverpool, from Middlesborough, Eng., bound to Yokohama, has been wrecked near the entrance to the Thames river. Eighteen persons were drowned, and eleven saved.

The English steamer Harelda, from Palermo bound to London, has been in collision with the Spanish steamer Leon, from Liverpool for Manila, twelve miles from Cape Roca. Both vessels sank. Nine Englishmen and fourteen Spaniards have been landed at Lisbon. A Lisbon despatch of the 6th inst. says that forty-five of the passengers and crews of the steamers Harelda and Leon are missing.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are perfectly pure.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough sirups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles, which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Office of Clerk of U. S. Circuit Court, District of New Hampshire, William H. Hackett, Clerk.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 28, 1880.

Prof. Brown: I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use spectacles to read should have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even by the most limited exposure. Yours truly,

WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

AROUND HOME.

Cedric Laighton, of Appledore, was in Boston on Thursday, having returned from a trip to the south.

Prof. Brown, optician, is in town, ready to fit glasses to those in need of helps to their sight. See advertisement.

The schooner C. H. Trickey, of Dover, Kelly master, sailed from this port for Baltimore on Friday, with 2600 barrels of apples.

Most of the fishing schooners which went out Friday morning returned without doing any fishing, owing to the weather.

The next entertainment of the Star course will be on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, at Music hall, by Mme. Hernandred Ricard, in impersonations.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will be held at the office of Dr. James R. May, on Monday evening, Jan. 10th, at half-past seven o'clock.

The ice for use at the Wentworth, at Newcastle, is being teamed to the icehouse of the hotel, and is of excellent quality, suggestive of all kinds of good things for the next season.

Our neighbor of the Journal has issued a neat illustrated almanac for 1881, which has advertisements of our leading local dealers, and combines much of the useful and practical within its covers.

The Dover board of trade at their recent annual meeting appointed a committee to endeavor to get something more done for the improvement of the Cocheco river, at the point where the schooner B. Frank Nealley got into trouble.

The illustrated lecture at Music hall on Sunday evening, by Prof. Fred A. Ober of the Smithsonian Institute, on "The Tropics," illustrated by views thrown on canvas the full size of the stage, will probably attract a large audience, as the professor is said to be a fine speaker, and the views of tropical scenery are of a nature similar to those of Mr. French, who was here a few days ago with the Hindoos, and which gave such good satisfaction.

At the regular meeting of the St. Mary's Benevolent Association, held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 5th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Daniel J. Hurley; vice president, David W. Walsh; recording secretary, Wm. McEvoy; corresponding secretary, James Boyle; book-keeper, D. J. Carroll; asst. book-keeper, D. W. Carroll; treasurer, Wm. H. Canty; trustees, Sylvester Wright, John Phelan, Timothy Sullivan, Dennis O'Leary, John W. Holland, George T. Manning and Jeremiah O'Keefe.

A goodly audience, so far as numbers are concerned, greeted Madame Rentz's minstrels at Music hall on Thursday evening last. The almost total absence of ladies in the audience shew that most of those attending expected an entertainment of the "blonde" variety, whose attractions would consist almost wholly of the brevity of the actresses dresses at both ends, and the indelicacy of the language used by them; but such patrons of the show were greviously disappointed, for there was nothing immodest either in the appearance or actions of the members of the company, not even a single low-necked dress appearing on the stage. The performance was amusing and interesting, some of the musical portions being especially good; and there is no reason why anybody who wishes to take his wife or daughter, or any other man's daughter who will go with him, to see Mme. Rentz's minstrels, should not do so, in so far as the entertainment itself is concerned.

The lowest that the thermometer has been at the Isles of Shoals this winter was five degrees above zero.

The arrivals of fish on Friday were as follows: Schooner George H. Smart, 8000 lbs.; Can't Come It, 1500; Norma, 2000; Mary E. Caswell, 2000. The few fish which arrived on Friday were all taken on the "under-run." Buyers from outside of the city are doing a light business.

Several cases of scarlet fever having appeared among the children attending the Centre school in Rye, the school was closed on the 6th inst. No deaths had occurred from the disease up to that date. At Alton and towns in its vicinity the scarlet fever is very prevalent, seven deaths having occurred from it in Alton alone previous to the 6th, and a number in neighboring towns.

Several farmers in Rockingham county, and a still larger number in York county, Me., have a vivid remembrance of certain very brisk and gentlemanly appearing agents of a "lightning mowing-machine grinder" who were around a year or two ago, and induced not a few farmers to give orders for grinders, which orders finally came back in the shape of promissory notes held by third parties. It will interest such persons to know that "Messrs. Hunter, Son & Co.," of Boston, have just escaped a third endeavor to bring them to trial before the criminal court at Northampton, Mass., on a charge of swindling Hampshire county farmers by the same mowing-machine grinder dodge.

James Hickey, a weaver in one of the cotton mills at Salmon Falls, attempted to cross the track at Newmarket junction in front of the train from Boston over the Boston & Maine railroad, on the afternoon of the 5th inst., but was struck by the engine and terribly hurt, his left leg being badly crushed and the right leg torn and gashed, a severe wound made on his head, and his body much bruised. He was taken to Silver's hotel at Newmarket, and cared for by the town authorities; his left leg was amputated, and his injuries were thought likely to prove fatal. Hickey's age is about forty-five years, and he has two children living in Suncook; he served in the army during the rebellion, and is a member of the Suncook post of the grand army of the republic.

The Donaldi concert company gave at Franklin theatre on Friday evening the choicest musical entertainment offered in this city for a long time. Of Levy, the wonderful cornet player, we need only say that he was heartily received and persistently encored. Madame Emma Donaldi sang finely, having a voice at once sweet and powerful, and carefully trained. Mlle. Violante, the pianist, is a skilled performer and gave the hearers much pleasure by her playing. Miss Abbie Shepardson, of Boston, a promising young violinist, played a Legende by Wieniawski and Schumann's Traumerei very smoothly and gracefully, repeating the latter in response to an encore; it is not to be expected that this young lady can fill the place of Mr. Lichtenberg, who is temporarily disabled by a lame hand, but she is a very creditable performer and an acceptable substitute. Mr. Bourne, a tenor, sang with the combination on Friday evening for the first time, and was favorably received. As a whole the bill presented was a very attractive one, and it was evidently greatly enjoyed by a highly cultivated audience.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Alderman, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Jan. 6th:

A request from the company attached to Col. Sise steam fire engine, No. 2, that a new floor be laid in their hall, was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings, with power to act.

The report of the city solicitor was received, placed on file, and ordered to be printed.

The committee on finance reported on the application of the Rockingham bank that the discount paid by them be refunded, that the petitioners have leave to withdraw. Report accepted and adopted.

An application of the trustees of the public library, requesting the city to furnish a suitable room for the library, was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings.

The subject of supplying the Haven school with additional desks was referred to the committee on school-houses.

GOOD RACE--TIME NOT TAKEN.

Since the snow came there has been a good deal of sleighing on Islington street, and some of the owners of speedy horses have occasionally given the law against fast driving a pretty hard scrape. This having been reported to the city marshal, that efficient and popular official sallied forth in his own team on Wednesday of this week, to make himself a terror to evil doers in that line. As he drove up Congress street he saw one of our most respected and law-abiding young citizens drive out from Locke's stable, seated behind one of his fastest steppers, and go toward the Creek at a lively rate of speed. Touching up his horse, Tom was rapidly closing the gap between his team and the law-abiding citizen's, when the latter happened to glance behind, and seeing the official turnout coming at such a speed at once concluded it meant a challenge for a race, and "let out" his own animal; and from that point up nearly to the Creek, the people on the street were treated to the spectacle of a magnificent horse-race, with the city marshal and the law-abiding citizen as drivers. On reaching the end of the course the latter drew up, and as the marshal came near remarked: "It's no use, Mr. Entwistle; your horse can't trot with this one"—which was approvingly concluded in by the amused bystanders, who had been interested spectators of the race. The marshal was so dumbfounded at being thus made particeps criminis that he drove back into town without giving half the admonition and good advice he had intended to bestow.

Political Notes.

The senatorial contest in Maine was virtually ended at eleven o'clock on the night of the 6th inst., when a committee of Mr. Frye's friends waited upon Hon. Eugene Hale, notified him of Mr. Frye's withdrawal from the canvass, and tended him their support in the caucus to be held on the 7th, thus rendering Mr. Hale's election to the United States Senate a certainty.

In the republican caucus of the Michigan legislature, on the evening of the 6th inst., Hon. O. D. Conger was nominated for United States senator on the seventh ballot, the nomination being then made unanimous.

It is now announced as a certainty that Hon. James G. Blaine will be Garfield's secretary of state.

Railroad Building.

The Railway Age, in the forthcoming number, presents a summary showing the mileage of track actually laid down in the United States during the year 1880. The footings are astonishing, showing as they do, that not less than 7,027 miles of new track were laid during the past twelve months, on at least 234 different lines. These figures are greater than for any year since 1871, and the mileage is greater by fifty-four per cent. than that of 1879. The Age anticipates that the final figures will increase the grand total to 7,500 miles, a mileage greater than has been constructed in the United States or any other country in any previous year. The only state in which no work has been done in this direction during the past year is Mississippi, and the only territories are Idaho, Wyoming and the Indian, (from which railways are kept, although eager to enter,) and Alaska. Another year will see large additions in these territories. Dakota leads the country with 680 miles of new track; Texas next with 659; Ohio, 525; New Mexico, 510; Iowa, 445; Colorado, 401; Nebraska, 385; Illinois and Kansas, 340 each. The total mileage in the United States is 93,904, against 60,283 in 1871, and 73,096 in 1875.

Cliff Dwellers.

Colonel Stephenson, of the United States geological survey, has turned another page in the long-sealed volume of American antiquities. A large village of cliff dwellers has been discovered between the Jemez mountains and the Rio Grande river, in Mexico. The cliffs rise to a height of from fifty to five hundred feet. Some of them contain two, some three and others as many as five lines of dwellings, rising line above line, and, back toward the mountain, tier above tier. The houses on the top of the cliff in the abandoned city are rectangular in form, but the caves are circular, being ten or fifteen feet in diameter, with arched roofs. Within the excavations are numerous small rooms. Before each line of dwellings there appears to have been pavements sometimes four or five feet in width, on the broadest of which Colonel Stephenson found imprints of feet. Many pictures and hieroglyphics adorn the face of the rock.

—Hope is the dream of those who are awake.

—A well-known veteran in the grocery business in Boston, who died some three months ago, leaving a handsome property as the result of his life of labor, bequeathed $70 annually to be expended in caring for his faithful dog. The canine beneficiary now eats sirloin steak thrice a day, and sleeps in a luxurious bed.

—"Any letter for me?" asked a young lady of the female postmaster, in a country town. "No," was the reply. "Strange," said the young lady aloud to herself as she turned away. "Nothing strange about it," cried the female postmaster, through the delivery window; "you hain't answered the last letter he sent you!"

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics,

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to sustain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

False Reasoning.

Suppose a machine should fail to perform its work, and the owner, instead of trying to ascertain the cause of failure and remedy it, should conclude to run right along, and argue that as the machine had heretofore come around all right it would soon be so again. If a general and permanent break-down ensued could anybody be blamed but himself? Now, precisely this way do people act and argue when the "human machine" is out of order. When the liver is "torpid" and bowels constipated every one knows that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets afford prompt and permanent relief. Yet some guess the "machine" will come around all right, and do nothing. Could any system of false reasoning be more pernicious? Suppose the blood be out of order and there be pimples, ulcers or running sores with scrofulous tumors, swellings and general debility, and those thus affected should refuse to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, guessing that the blood would purify itself, could anybody be blamed but themselves, if a general and permanent break-down of health ensued? No remedy yet known equals the Discovery in curing all scrofulous, throat, bronchial and lung diseases. Sold by all druggists.

—It is thought a matter for congratulation that fac-simile letters were not invented when Horace Greeley ran for the presidency.

Whooping cough is successfully treated by separating the patients beyond hearing distance of each other, and by the employment of Fellows' Hypophosphites. The above named treatment has been found singularly effective.

—The man who is sure he will go to heaven is sometimes so doubtful about the rest of the world going that he fears he may be the only one there.

Your Dr. R. V. G. has cured me of chronic diarrhea, urinal difficulties and chronic dispepsia of 15 years standing.

New Hampshire Items.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 6th inst., between two and three o'clock, a little daughter of Mr. Charles B. French of Manchester, aged about five years, was terribly burned, and serious doubts are entertained of her recovery. The little girl was near the stove when her clothing took fire, and before her garments could be torn off her body and limbs were shockingly burned.

Mrs. Cushing, widow of Hon. Edmund M. Cushing, formerly chief justice of New Hampshire, died at her home in Charlestown on the 3d inst., after a long illness.

Albert Clark, conductor, and John B. Peabody, brakeman, of the Boston & Lowell freight train, were swept from a train at a bridge in North Woburn, Mass., on the 5th inst. Peabody suffered a dad injury to the spine, and one side of his head was painfully cut and bruised. Clark was badly injured between his shoulders, and his right ankle was fractured. They were taken to their homes in Nashua. Their injuries are of a very serious character, but they will recover.

The night express north over the Central Vermont road was delayed at North Charlestown station by a broken rail, on the night of the 5th inst. The engine passed over safely, but the rest of the train, consisting of baggage, passengers and Pullman cars went off and turned partly over. No one was injured, and as the accident happened near a station the other trains passed on the side track.

—The trouble with the members of the bar is that they don't get down low enough. They shoot over the heads of the twelve numskulls before them. I have seen Ewing, Stanberry and Hunter, leading luminaries as they are, dumbfounded at being beaten by some stump-tailed, penny-royal bull of a county court, with no more law in his head than a snake in dog days. I never make a speech of a jury trial that I don't feel humiliated. Even if my side had the right, I know I have used means to win that ought to shame a down-cast stock peddler.—Tom Corwin.

PERRY DAVIS'

VEGETABLE

A PURELY VEGETABLE REMEDY

For Internal and External Use,

It is a SURE CURE for all the Diseases for which it is recommended, and is ALWAYS PERFECTLY SAFE in the hands of even the most inexperienced persons.

It is a sure and quick remedy for COUGHS, SORE THROAT, CHILLS, and similar troubles; affords instant relief in the most malignant forms of DIPHTHERIA, and is the best known remedy for RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA.

THE OLDEST, BEST, AND MOST WIDELY KNOWN FAMILY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

It has been used with such wonderful success in all parts of the world for CRAMPS, CHOLERA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, and all BOWEL COMPLAINTS, that it is considered a safeguard to health in lieu of other medicine.

HAS STOOD THE TEST OF 40 YEARS' CONSTANT USE IN ALL COUNTRIES AND CLIMATES.

It is RECOMMENDED by Physicians, Missionaries, Ministers, Managers of Plantations, Work-Shops, and Factories, Nurses, Hospitals—in short, by Everybody everywhere who has ever given it a trial.

IT IS WITHOUT A RIVAL AS A LINIMENT.

It should always be used for Pain in the Back and Side, and brings speedy and permanent relief in all cases of Bruises, Cuts, Sprains, Severe Burns, Scalds, etc.

NO FAMILY CAN SAFELY BE WITHOUT IT. It will annually save many times its cost in doctors' bills, and its price brings it within the reach of all. It is sold at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 a bottle, and can be obtained from all druggists.

PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumb ague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weaknesses; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; sea sickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McHenn (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be. Dan'l Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, as I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlos A. Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dinsmor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Gullmette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and purifying properties.—Wm. K. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilder, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

The Guileless Agriculturist.

It seems a paradox, but the tightest-fisted men are most easily swindled. New England farmers have gained an unflattering notoriety by their gullibility, and it seems that middle state agriculturists are not a bit wiser. Maryland ploughdrivers have often suffered from the tricks of swindlers, who by one dodge or another succeed in inducing them to attach their names to innocent-looking papers which afterward turn out to be notes payable a few months afterwards. A number of cases of this kind have recently come to light in counties in New York, one of which will serve to illustrate all the rest. There is in the town of Marlborough a farmer and fruit-grower named Baxter. In September last a gentlemanly-appearing stranger went to Baxter's house. He said he was enjoying himself in the country for a few days, and complimented Baxter upon the fine appearance of his farm. This is the vulnerable point with a farmer. Flatter him a little about his farm, and you can do anything with him. During the conversation, the stranger incidentally mentioned that his name was C. L. Orr, of the firm of Orr & Co., of Syracuse. The Orr Manufacturing company were the makers of a mowing-machine knife-sharpener, which had just been patented. Finally, Baxter was induced to accept the agency for the patent knife-sharpener. He signed two sets of papers, one small and the other large. The larger set the stranger retained. Baxter agreed to sell the knife-sharpener on commission. He was to receive $1 on every sale he effected. One of the papers which Orr signed, and which Baxter now has in his possession, purports to be a contract to the effect stated. Baxter never received a knife-sharpener, and the circumstance was forgotten. But lately a supreme court summons, issued at Buffalo, was served on him. The complaint sets forth that Baxter in September last signed a note for $350, made payable at the American Express company's office at New Hamburg. The note was for three months. The holder is a Buffalo lawyer, to whom it purports to have been assigned. Baxter and other farmers who have thus been swindled propose to fight the question in the courts. But it is doubtful if the experience teaches them anything.

—The life of an apparently moribund lady is said to have been saved by playing to her on the banjo. Mr. Paroquet recalled this incident when his aunt was on her death bed, and he got his banjo and played several airs. Remember Me.

Dr. Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., would have you remember that you will avoid mistakes by bearing in mind the name of his new medicine is "Favorite Remedy," and the price one dollar. For the cure of urinary difficulties, kidney complaints, constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females, there is positively no medicine offered to the public at all equal to it. For sale by all druggists. The doctor's address is Rondout, N. Y.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1881.

The Life-Saving Service.

Senator Ferry of Michigan last week introduced in the United States Senate a bill to promote the efficiency of the life-saving service, and to encourage the saving of life from wrecks. The bill proposes to authorize the establishment of thirty-five additional life saving stations and houses of refuge on the lake and Atlantic coasts, as follows: seven on Lakes Superior and Michigan; eleven on the coast between Maine and Massachusetts; three along the coast of New Jersey and Delaware; seven on the North Carolina coast; six on the Florida coast; and one on the Texas coast. The bill fixes salaries of superintendents of life saving stations, in different districts, at amounts varying from $1800 to $2500 per annum; authorizes the payment of a month's extra pay to members of life-saving crews for extraordinary and gallant services hereafter rendered, and also provides for pensioning the widows of keepers and members of crews who may lose their lives in the performance of duty, or who may die by reason of injuries received, or of disease contracted in the line of their duty, in the service. The bill also provides that all appointments of officers and crews shall be made without reference to political services or party affiliation.

Congress.

In the House, on the 7th inst., several California members presented protests against the proposed removal of the stamp tax on matches. The protestants, American match manufacturers, make the points that "the stamp tax is the only protection afforded to the American manufacturers against the cheap matches of Germany and Sweden, from the fact that importers are unwilling to break original packages in consequence of danger of fire to the stamp of each separate box; second, that the tariff duty affords no protection, as foreign-made matches are only invoiced at manufacturers' first cost, amounting to but a trifling sum; and third, that, if the stamp tax is removed, the entire business on the Pacific coast will fall into the hands of the Chinese, who will manufacture on mere nominal capital."

News and Notes.

The grand jury at Pittsburg, Pa., has ignored the bills against Conductor Routh and other Pennsylvania railroad employes, who were found guilty by the coroner's jury of the gross negligence which caused the dreadful accident at Twenty-eighth street, by which thirty-four persons lost their lives. Judge Bailey returned the ignored bill to the jury for further consideration.

At New London, Conn., last week, two men named Langshaw and Loomis, and a Mrs. Clark, were found guilty on charges of robbing the dead bodies of victims of the Narragansett disaster; Loomis was sent to prison for three years, Langshaw for two years, and the Clark woman for four months.

A London despatch of the 8th inst. says the ships Cape Sable and Wild Rose have foundered at sea, with their crews numbering eighty-five men. No particulars are given.

Fred C. Edwards of Brattleboro, Vt., for more than a score of years a local stationer and book-binder, committed suicide in his store last Friday by hanging. He was about sixty years old, of a quiet and unassuming nature. He was last seen about 10:30 o'clock A. M., looking over his books, and in good spirit. When found his sleeves were rolled up, and everything about the bench at which he was at work indicated that the act had not been long contemplated, though a bank draft had been paid before it was due, on the opening of the bank in the morning, while his life insurance renewal was conspicuously pinned to his shop bench. No cause is assigned for the deed.

Mrs. Benajah Baker of Lebanon, Conn., recently pricked her thumb with a pair of scissors while taking the cork from a bottle. The wound became painful, the arm swelled, and three days after she fell dead.

A young son of Dr. J. B. Chagnon, who was employed as clerk in his father's store at Fall River, Mass., it is alleged drew $147 from the bank last Thursday, and left for parts unknown.

James Donley, wife and three children of South Framingham, Mass., were found Friday in their sleeping apartment nearly suffocated by coal gas. Medical aid was summoned, and they will probably recover.

Some time ago Mrs. George Vaughan of Newark, N. J., aged twenty-two years, ran away with Jonathan Holmes, twice her age, taking with her her two-years-old child. Last Friday the deserted husband had the runaways arrested at Lowell, Mass. After much persuasion the woman consented to return home, and Holmes was locked up.

Joseph H. Howard, clerk of Henry A. Atkins, a grocer at Providence, R. I., who was arrested a few days ago for embezzlement from his employer, which crime he confessed, is now accused of theft, forgery and malicious prosecution. He was one of the pillars of the St. Thomas mission at Eagle Park, but it is said that his piety did not influence his business transactions.

In 1871 Chauncey F. Bailey was married in Winchester, Mass., and in 1872 paid a lawyer to obtain a divorce for him, the lawyer soon after telling him that the divorce had been granted; in 1873 Bailey was married to Ella E. Clemens of Salisbury, with whom he has lived in Winchester ever since, and by whom he has had two children. He now finds that a divorce was not granted, that he is a bigamist, and that his children are illegitimate. He will petition the general assembly for special legislation to arrange matters generally.

A private letter from Paris states that the De Lesseps Panama canal scheme is a wretched swindle, and intended to cheat and defraud people by inducing them to invest in the shares of the company; also that De Lesseps does not expect to build any canal.

Bertha Morey, aged twelve years, living in Gloucester, Mass., while pouring kerosene into a stove, Friday, had her clothes take fire; she ran out on the street where her clothing was torn off, and she was taken back into the house. Her injuries are of a very dangerous character, with small prospect of recovery.

A wedding party was assembled at Cleveland, and everything was ready for the ceremony, except that the bridegroom had not arrived. After waiting an hour beyond the appointed time, the bride fainted and the guests were about to disperse. Then a policeman came in, and said that he had driven from the door a drunken man, who wanted to enter. A search in the neighborhood resulted in finding this man, who was the missing bridegroom. He was not intoxicated, but had gone insane.

At the smelting works near Newark, N. J., Friday morning, two eight-horse boilers exploded, instantly killing the engineer and three workmen, and seriously injuring two others. The buildings and about $7,000 worth of machinery were destroyed. The total loss is $20,000.

In one of the prospectuses of M. De Lesseps, just received in New York, he estimates that 150,000,000 francs will be spent in France for the purchase of machinery, etc., to be used in cutting the Panama canal. This is contrary to the statements heretofore made, which were to the effect that the machinery, supplies, etc., would be bought in this county. But this prospectus was probably not intended for the American market.

The superintendent of the census asks for an additional appropriation of $500,000 for the completion of the census work, and the publication of the results.

A train ran off the track near Coventry, Vt., Friday, and of the thirty passengers nearly all were injured, and some of them seriously if not fatally. Only one was killed outright.

Anton Kloefel and wife, of New York city, spent the holidays at the residence of the former's parents, at Big Creek, Carbon county, Pa., about twenty miles from Mauch Chunk. One evening they were singing, and he told his wife to sing "Pull for the shore." She declined. He seized a shot-gun, took aim at his wife, and deliberately fired. The shot entered the left eye, and caused almost instant death. She was nineteen years old, and had been three months married.

Alex Killian, a constable of Stanford, Ky., was shot three times on Thursday by a young desperado named J. W. Goock, while attempting to stop an affray at King's Mountain. Killian is supposed to be mortally wounded. Goock escaped.

William and Miami Marshall, Indians, on the reservation twelve miles from Marion, Ind., quarrelled during a drunken spree. By some means the woman's clothing caught fire, and set fire to the house. She was burned to death, and her husband was badly burned also.

Stilson Hutchins, editor of the Washington Post, has sent the following letter to the Tribune: "Will you do me the favor to allow me to say that any man who intimates that I had anything to do with the Morey letter, its inception, manufacture or publication, is an intentional slanderer as well as a liar."

Warren Longmore, aged nine years, has been indicted by the grand jury for the murder at Pembroke, Me., in October last, of Freeman Wright, aged eight years.

A board of examination as to the ability of John P. Nicholson, recently appointed foreman of shipwrights at the Charlestown navy yard, to perform the duties of that position, was in session at that navy yard on Friday. The board consisted of Commander Carpenter, Assistant Naval Constructor Hanscom and Dr. Knights.

New Hampshire Items.

There are two hundred cases of measles at Hillsboro'.

The shoe business at Farmington is at present rushing. Shops are re-opened that have been silent for four years, and the good times are now considered at hand.

In the supreme court at Manchester, the grand jury on the 5th inst. reported thirty indictments, the smallest number reported at any one term of court in that county for years. Most of them are for minor offences. Pierce Edward Powers, who killed a man last summer with a broken bottle, was indicted for manslaughter; James Burns, indicted for breaking and entering, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three years in state prison; James Morgan, for obtaining money under false pretences, three years in the state prison; Michael Sullivan, assault on an officer, six months in jail and $1 fine, with costs; Edward Fitzgerald, for larceny, six months in jail.

The Universalists of Hinsdale have invited Miss E. E. Burlew of Swansey to preach for them.

The Hillsborough Messenger gives an interesting item about a horse owned by Mr. Hatch Burnham, the veteran stage driver between Hillsborough and Keene. During the last thirteen years, Mr. Burnham has driven this horse over 70,000 miles, or nearly three times the distance around the earth. Deducting the probable expense of keeping the horse and allowing him ten cents a mile for the labor he has performed, he would have earned the sum of $5,327 during this time.

Lydia Goodhue, widow of James S. Goodhue, died on Thursday in Seabrook, at about ninety years of age. Her husband was a veteran of 1812, and her numerous family of sons, with the exception of one now living, have all been lost at sea. One of them was a member of Sir John Franklin's crew.

A Lawyer on Lawyers.

A Connecticut lawyer has not practiced twenty years without learning something. He gives the following advice to his less experienced brethren: "When you go into the country to try a case before a justice, it's always a good plan to take along a whole raft of law books. It makes no difference whether they contain anything pertaining to the case or not; they make a show that impresses the justice, and if you want to make a stubborn fight over a point, you can read as a rule with perfect safety a lot of decisions that apply to the issue as much as they do to the theory of evolution. The average justice gets dazed in trying to comprehend what it all means, and is just as likely to decide in your favor as not."

THE Philadelphia TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thrift in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity and patriotism in our statesmanship and to the freedom and manliness of the land. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party men and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the reputation praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a caucus or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquillity and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already excellent and strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both North and South. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

Terms: Daily—delivered by carriers, for twelve cents a week; mail subscription, six dollars a year, or fifty cents a month, postage free. Sunday Edition—Double sheet, two dollars a year, postage free; single copies, four cents. Weekly—Published every Saturday morning, two dollars a year; five copies, $8; ten copies, $15; twenty copies, $25. An extra copy sent free to the getter-up of a club. Address THE TIMES, TIMES BUILDING, Philadelphia.

AROUND HOME.

Hartz, the magician, is coming here shortly.

The wife of Mr. Richard Fitzgerald broke one of her legs by a fall down stairs on Friday evening.

The schooner Empress, Lord master, arrived at Newcastle on Friday last with a cargo of coal for Howard M. Curtis.

The directors of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. met on Saturday evening, and organized by re-electing Dr. F. E. Potter as president.

The fire department received three thousand feet of new hose last week, fifteen hundred feet of it being of leather, and the rest linen jacket hose.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will occur on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, instead of Monday, as announced in Saturday morning's paper.

The New Hampshire Historical Society will soon issue in pamphlet form Mr. Tuttle's historical address in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the first established royal government over the province of New Hampshire, recently delivered in this city.

Miss Cora Cardigan, one of the solo instrumentalists of Madame Rentz's minstrels, was unable to leave this city with the company last week on account of illness, and remains at the Gibson house. She appeared on the stage at Music hall, Thursday evening, but was not able to fill the part assigned her on the programme.

The Rockingham Masonic Mutual Relief Association held its annual meeting last Friday evening, and adopted a new system of admitting members. The following officers were elected: President, William P. Walker; vice president, John H. Cheever; treasurer, William H. Sise: collector and secretary, Amos S. Foster; medical examiner, Dr. S. C. Whittier.

At the brokers' board in Boston, Saturday, 118 shares of Eastern railroad stock sold at $88 per share; Eastern railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds brought 103 1-4; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad stock, $22 per share; Eastern railroad in New Hampshire, $98; Northern railroad, $98.50; Great Falls Manufacturing Co., at auction, brought 114 3-4.

Ex-Mayor Guppey, of Dover, in his valedictory address to the city councils on the 5th inst. said: "Of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad stock, the city owns 2580 shares. At the beginning of our term, this stock was worth from sixty to seventy dollars per share. To-day it sells for $105. This gain for the city is the result of a successful suit that gives to this property a permanent value. I am of the opinion that this stock should be used for redeeming our bonded debt, and for no other purpose."

The New York Criterion Comedy Co. will appear on the Music hall stage in "Freaks," Thursday evening, Jan. 13th. Of this play the Boston Journal says: "It is a running stream of fun, and contains more witty dialogue, no less than comic situations, than any play written for many years. And it was correspondingly enjoyed. It is something cheerful and exhilarating to hear an audience on the continuous roar, and especially at and with what is decent in sentiment and incident. The company is an excellent organization. [All the leading parts were given with cleverness, clearness and accuracy." The Montreal Press says the piece "is full of absurd situations and ludicrous climaxes, which are rendered in a running fire of laughter in the audience from the opening of the first act until the curtain drops on the last scene."

The next entertainment of the Star course will be on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, at Music hall, by Mme. Hernandred Ricard, in impersonations.

A man who was arrested in Salem last week for horse stealing was believed by the officers of that place to be the thief that stole the valuable horse from Mr. Winchester some weeks ago.

The Boston Herald's "society" correspondent at Washington, in a letter dated the 7th inst. says: "Miss Cutter, daughter of the paymaster-general of the navy, has as her guests the Misses Jones of Portsmouth, N. H., to whom she gave a handsome party Thursday evening."

A person in this city has recently bought a lot of timber in Newmarket or its vicinity, which when sawed will yield six hundred thousand feet of boards. It will be brought to this city in the spring, and from here shipped to Boston.

Mr. Charles F. Stevens, who was so terribly burned on Christmas night while at work on the steam drill at the Eastern depot, died at an early hour Saturday morning. He was a young man of excellent character, and the main support of a widowed mother. His funeral took place on Sunday, and was attended by Newichewannock Tribe of Red Men, of which organization he was a member.

The schooner Light Wing, with 2000 lbs., and the Comet, with 2500 lbs., of cod fish, were the only arrivals on Saturday. There was a large fleet of vessels in the bay, but owing to the heavy blow they were unable to accomplish more than an under-run. A number of vessels came into the lower harbor during the afternoon, while others "kept jogging" in the bay, and waited for the lull of the wind in the evening, to draw their trawls by moonlight. It is said that the fish are now biting the best at night.

The arrivals of fishing schooners on Sunday evening to up about seven o'clock were the Celia, Grace Choate, Hattie N. Reed, Bonita, Comet, Mary E. Smith, Ella M. Johnson, Nettie Adams, Lucy, Christie Campbell, Good Templar, Young Selim, and the Can't Come It, with a total of over one hundred thousand lbs. of fish. A large fleet of vessels arrived in the lower harbor, but having their trawls set, stopped down to haul on Monday before coming up to the wharves. The fish are changing their grounds, moving eastward.

The schooner Golden Eagle arrived in the lower harbor on Sunday evening, with twenty thousand pounds of fish. This is the result of fishing with nets, against the average catch of nine thousand, of vessels fishing with trawls.

THE JONES FUND.

The Treasurer of the Trustees of the Public Library Fund of Portsmouth, N. H., acknowledges the receipt from Mrs. Thomas H. Odion of the sum of $617.53, which has been placed to the credit of the fund. JOHN SISE, Treasurer.

Jan. 8th, 1881.

The above sum we understand has been in process of collection for some little time by ladies in this city who desired to aid in the completion of the $5,000 which was proposed tb be raised when the first donation was made by Mr. Jones. The fund, with this amount added to former collections, has reached the sum of $3980.05; and when a legacy of $1,000, recently announced, is paid over, the $5,000 will have been reached, and the foundation for a free public library in this city will have become a settled thing. The trustees of this fund, who have held this position for many years, and still hope to see the movement a success, are Albert R. Hatch, John Sise, Thomas H. Odion, Marcellus Bufford and Calvin Page.

THE TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.

The Woman's Temperance League have elected the following officers for the ensuing term:

President, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike;
1st Vice President, Mrs. James Sanborn;
2d Vice President, Mrs. Annie Adams;
Recording Secretary, Miss Hannah Candage;
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Samuel Taylor;
Treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Pettigrew;
Asst. Treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Brook;
Chaplain, Miss C. L. Martin;
Trustees for one year, Mrs. A. S. Holbrook, Mrs. S. W. Webber, Mrs. D. H. Spinney.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Augustus Brooks, of Eliot, was kicked by his horse one day last week, and had his jaw badly fractured.

The first grand ball of the Curriers' social club of South Berwick, Me., will be given at Newichawanack hall in that town on Tuesday evening, Jan. 25th. Music will be furnished by the Portsmouth quadrille band, Joseph S. Turner prompter.

Gen. Samuel J. Anderson, the defeated fusion candidate for Congress in the first district of Maine at the late election, has it is said served notice on Hon. Thomas B. Reed, the republican candidate, who was elected, that he will contest the latter's right to a seat in the Forty-seventh Congress. Anderson claims that in several towns, among them Buxton and North Berwick, the election was illegally held and conducted; that there were no legal warrants or notices of the election, and that no proper warning was given to the inhabitants. Mr. Reed's majority in Buxton was twenty-eight, and in South Berwick eight. Anderson also charges that in Portland, Biddeford, Sanford and other places improper means were employed to induce men not to vote for him, and to induce them to vote for Mr. Reed. The greatest obstacle to Gen. Anderson's scheme to get Reed's seat in Congress is the fact that the next House will not have a majority of members who consider a defeated democratic candidate's wish a sufficient reason for unseating his successful republican competitor.

The Tariff on Barley.

The consumption of malt liquors has increased enormously in this country during the last decade. The Germans, who were in 1860 the only people who drank lager beer, have popularized their favorite beverage until its manufacture forms a leading industry in many cities, and it is sold in large quantities in nearly every town in the north.

The use of ale and beer has also increased every season. All malt liquors, which include ale, lager beer and porter, are made from barley malt, or sprouted barley, of which it takes about two bushels to produce a barrel of liquor, and nearly all the barley raised or brought here is used for this purpose. In 1872 we imported 233,000 bushels of malt and 5,-500,000 bushels of barley, and raised 26,-800,000 bushels of barley, making the consumption for that year about 32,-500,000 bushels. In 1880, we imported 1,023,000 bushels of malt, 7,135,000 bushels of barley, and raised about 50,000,000 bushels of barley, making the consumption last year 57,158,000 bushels, an increase of nearly seventy-five per cent in eight years.

With these facts in view, it is easy to see why the bill now before Congress to increase the duty on malt from twenty per cent ad valorem to twenty-five cents per bushel is one which excites a good deal of interest among farmers and brewers. The bill was introduced in the House by Congressman Morton last session, and for some reason passed that body without any serious opposition. But when it got into the Senate the brewers brought all their power to bear to defeat it, and have thus far succeeded in postponing the final vote upon it. They argue that its passage will compel them to raise the price of beer so that retailers must charge one or two cents a glass more for it, and that all the government gains will ultimately come out of the people. This is the old free-trade argument, and it has as little weight in this connection as in any other. The object of the increase in the duty is, or should be, to stimulate barley growing in this country. There is no decent reason why we, with more fertile land than we know what to do with, should import from Canada 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 bushels of barley every year, and, if a higher tariff will tend to shut it out while our farmers get established in the business, let us have the high tariff. The American farmer has the same right to protection against the Canadian competitor that the manufacturer has against his rival in England, France, or Germany.—Mirror.

is the restoration of a woman after years of sickness to perfect health. Imagine then the joy of the family of Mrs.—— of Kingston, who had suffered untold misery for over five years, consequent upon the Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to Females. She was induced to try Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." After using only two bottles all her ailments disappeared, and she says that she feels and considers herself in perfect health.

—It is said that Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the Washington banker and philanthropist, has given away in all $8,000,000 in public benefactions and $1,000,000 in private charities, and that this was about three-quarters of his fortune.

J. S. R. SCOVILLE, Morris, Ills., says:—When your "Only Lung Pad" came to hand, my son could not raise his head. He is now up and gaining every day.—See Adv.

—A family never becomes extinct in Japan. If there are no male descendants, a young son of another family is adopted, and takes the family name.

Write to Mrs. Lydia A. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for names of ladies that have been restored to perfect health by the use of her vegetable compound. It is a positive cure for the most stubborn cases of female weakness.

—We are told that the Chinaman cannot whistle. All remarks of ours about moon-eyed lepers, or in any way derogatory to the elevated plateau of civilization occupied so ably by the estimable gentlemen of the Flowery Kingdom, are here and now declared off, and are henceforth and forever to be considered as never writ or spoken.—Boston Transcript.

What Horses to Breed.

The memory of man, says the Nashville American, extends to the day when the boys on the farm were proud to ride a young horse to church or to see the girls. They took pride in the colts, and taught them to move freely under the saddle; and above all, when a colt was broken he was taught to walk. Now the boys must have a fine buggy and harness, and the colt must show his style and action at all times. The boy is in too great a hurry to allow the colt to walk. The consequence is that the colt, buggy and harness are soon used up fast driving. The whole business of buggy-riding by farmers' boys is very expensive, extravagant and demoralizing. Not one farmer in ten can afford such a turnout for the lad. Many of them buy a buggy, and if it is allowed to stand in the sun and rain, instead of being under shelter. But, say they, we are too poor to have houses for our vehicles. Then, say we, you are too poor to keep a buggy.

If we returned to the fashion of riding on horseback we would save millions to the farmers, and the boys and girls would develop better forms and better health. Any lazy lout can ride in a buggy, but to be a graceful rider on horseback one must have some energy and make-up in his nature. There is life and health in riding often on horseback. The whole system feels the invigorating effect of it. The rider and horse catch the fire of sympathy and excitement in the run or the fast pace, and every nerve and muscle of the body is brought into healthful and invigorating play.

The mania for fast trotting horses has been felt on every farm in the land. The country is full of roadsters that some man or boy loves to pull the string on. They are usually poor saddle horses, slow walkers and rough. We need a reform. The place to begin is in breeding a class of horses of good size, style and action, and that can move freely in more than one gait. The well knit horse, of style and action, suitable for the hunter, or carriage, will bring better prices than our average horse. The farmer will find it to his interest to raise a class of horses that the boys will like to ride. He can raise three or four such horses for what a buggy and harness will cost, and a fair saddle horse will bring more money than the average roadster.—Baltimore Sun.

A Brutal Employer.

Henri Rochefort, the French communist, brought with his family from exile in Switzerland, a young servant girl of sixteen years, named Louise Gaillard, who, though exceedingly honest and amiable, was simple-minded and inexperienced. During the frequent fits of vexation that her blunders caused, Rochefort would exclaim, half in earnest and half in jest, "I'll kill you! I'll have you placed on the next list of executions!" The girl thought he was in earnest, and was greatly frightened. A fortnight ago he sent her to the office of the Intransigeant, the paper of which he is the editor, with a note to his associate, Mr. Reinach, requesting one hundred francs by the bearer. Rochefort told the girl she was to bring him the money, and said: "Now, if you lose it I'll kill you." The girl lost Reinach's note containing the funds. Greatly distressed, she purchased some poison, which she took on reaching her bedroom. After several hours she was found on the floor near the door, which she had attempted in her agony to reach. Restoratives were administered, but she died shortly after. Rochefort, who blamed himself for the girl's act, was profoundly distressed and temporarily delirious. Her gentleness and beauty of character had won greatly on his sympathy, and he was much attached to her. The note which she had lost was subsequently found, and brought to him.

—Men are geese, women are ducks, and birds of a feather flock together.

—Prof. Tyndall has a theory regarding hay fever. He thinks it is brought on by drinking liquor out of a jug kept in the barn.

—An aged negro, the other day, was showing the scars of the wounds inflicted by the lash when he was a slave. "What a picture!" exclaimed a sympathizing looker-on. "Yes," responded the colored brother, "dat's de work ob de old masters."

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be administered at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'
BLOOD-PURIFYING
SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Did Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, and I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dinsmor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. J. Goldsmith, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—W. R. Prescott, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilder, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, App tizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sar-saparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

SHAKER VILLAGE, N. H., Jan. 1, 1880.

BABY'S PROGRESS.

Baby new to earth and sky,
Soon as born begins to cry,
Day and night does baby yell,
And makes its daddy mad as—Well,
Mad as anything.

—Huntsville Democrat.

Baby soon begins to talk;
Soon afterwards begins to walk;
To school he goes and learns to spell,
And makes his teacher mad as—Well,

—American.

Baby soon to manhood grows
And has a girl he calls his own,
With this young chap she cuts a swell
Which makes her lover mad as—Well,
Mad as anything.

—Grocer.

Baby soon will be a "Pa,"
Married and have a mother-in-law,
And then his anguish none can tell,
Except those in the depth of—Well,
Down pretty deep.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

STYLES FOR JANUARY.

Fashions which prevail in January, hold their own during the remainder of the winter; and the New Year's costume is important, therefore, not only as indicative of what is stylish as the present time, but of what is to come. By far the greater number of dressy toilettes are made with trimmed skirts and basques; and the use of magnificent brocades having proved unfavorable to short dresses for evening wear, most of the handsomest costumes are devised with trains. They are not of unusual length, and are a compromise between the square and round train, partaking of the nature of both, since they would be square but that the corners are rounded off. Sleeves are usually to the elbow, and the corsage is cut high around the throat, square or heart shaped; the latter style being sometimes allowed to come close about the neck, and opened below. These leading ideas are of course so variously combined and modified by the skillful modiste that there is no sameness, but continual variety, for among a number of New Year costumes gathered up for leaders of society by Lord & Taylor, it was only on a close examination that certain prevailing features were to be remarked. A superb costume was of black velvet, on which at intervals were placed, in applique style, bouquets and sprigs of silk-embroidered flowers in gay natural colors; the effect was lovely. Another exquisite costume was of heliotrope brocade combined with satin; a third, gold and crimson; a fourth, pale pink brocade with satin and crystal passementerie; a fifth, pure white. All the brocades were very large in pattern, for you must remember that small figured brocades are not now used, at least for very dressy wear. Opera cloaks were never so gorgeous, and are really resplendent creations of rich brocade wrought in very large, wide-open flowers. The long dolman or visite is the fashionable shape for these elegant garments.

PLUSH COLLARS

Are decided novelties, and give a stylish finish to dresses, being all the more becoming, perhaps, because there is a wide range as to the choice in the way of color. Cuffs of plush can be added at the wrists. Of course there should be a white collar or ruffle within the collar of plush, and a cuff of linen or lace below the plush at the end of the sleeve. Street costumes are often added to by large collars or even capes of plush, and here too the plush cuff may give warmth about the wrist. The severe winter has also brought fur capes into much demand, and fur cuffs to match are now sometimes worn. The conventional fur muff ought of course to be used, where fur is on other parts of the costume; but charmingly coquettish fancies are now seen as substitutes. They are made of plush or heavy cloth cut into some pretty shape, wadded, bound on the edges, tied with ribbon, and sometimes edged with wide white lace. Others are finished with gold braid, artificial flowers or embroidery. If ingenious, you can devise one for yourself, but the pattern houses bring out models, and of these the prettiest I have noticed is the Olga. Sara Bernhardt has left behind her a rage for ruffings about the neck. They never were in such demand nor carried to such extremes. Crepe lisse is much used, probably because so becoming, yet lace comes in for a full share of popularity. It is impossible to give special descriptions, but in all kinds the Sidenburg favorite brands are most sought after, because most fashionable and the best made.

INDEPENDENT BASQUES

by additions of gilt braid and embroidery. Three rows of braid around the edges, and embroidery on the collar, cuffs and pockets. One sees at a glance how pretty these must be, and they afford a change from basques of brocade. Another new and pleasing ornamentation for a corsage is to have collar and cuffs of colored satin, red, blue, gold, garnet, etc., finished with gilt embroidery. This of course is more suitable for a costume than an independent, and the collar and cuffs of satin take the place of any other trimming on the corsage. A touch of gilt embroidery, or of satin and embroidery can be added on the skirt, but is not essential. This season, indeed, it is hard to misplace gilt trimmings. In all sorts of forms they intrude themselves everywhere, and much as they are liked for costumes are more prominent in millinery. But gilt or silver braids should never be put on brocades where a variety of colors are blended, although we do see tinsel threads running through brocades. Metal trimmings are better adapted to plain goods, and in general are so employed. Enormous bows of satin ribbon are now attached on the left side of the corsage, just above the waist line, instead of the mammoth bouquets of flowers which were lately in vogue, and the fact that all symmetry is destroyed by their use does not seem to interfere with their popularity.

Congress.

Hon. Ossian Ray, elected to succeed the late Evarts W. Farr as congressman from the third New Hampshire district, appeared in the House on the 8th inst., and was sworn in. This makes the representation of all the states complete in the House.

The speaker laid before the House a letter from the secretary of war, transmitting the report of Gen. Thom upon the breakwater in the St. Croix river, below Calais, Me., in response to the resolution of inquiry respecting it offered in the House some weeks since by Mr. Frye. Gen. Thom says the breakwater, which is upon a ledge on the Maine side of the channel, five miles below the bridge at Calais, was built many years ago to keep vessels from striking on the dangerous ledge before which it stands. The rapid currents of the river turned toward it, and in its absence, navigation would be perilous. It is now a dilapidated concern, and in imminent danger of being carried away by ice and freshets, and should be rebuilt at once. Repairs would be useless. Gen. Thom estimates that $4,000 will be enough to build a breakwater more substantial than the present one ever was. This amount will probably be incorporated in the river and harbor bill.

Fernando Wood and the supporters of his funding bill tried to get the House to vote upon the bill in committee of the whole, but were defeated by Weaver, the greenbacker.

Gen. Logan on the 10th inst. introduced a bill in the senate providing for the restoration of Gen. Grant to the army, and his retirement with the rank of General; also providing that in an emergency the President may order him on active duty. The bill was referred to the military committee.

State of New Hampshire.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Whereas, on the nineteenth day of July, 1879, was approved the following act:—

AN ACT to provide for Minority Representation in Corporations. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:—

SECT. 1. In all elections for directors or managers of a corporation, each member or shareholder may cast the whole number of his votes for one candidate, or distribute them upon two or more candidates as he may prefer.

SECT. 2. At the biennial election to be holden in November, 1880, the sense of the voters of this State shall be taken upon section one of this act, by ballot, those in favor thereof voting "yes," and those opposed voting "no;" and it is hereby made the duty of the selectmen in the several towns and wards in the State to insert in their warrants, for the meetings then to be holden, an article for this purpose.

SECT. 3. Said ballots shall be assorted, counted, and declared in open meeting, and the clerks of the several towns and wards shall make a true record thereof, showing the number of ballots upon each side of the question, and shall, on or before the fifteenth day of December, 1880, return to the secretary of state a true copy of said record.

SECT. 4. The secretary of state shall make a record of the returns so made to him and lay the same before the governor on or before the first day of January, 1881; and the governor shall, on or before the fifteenth day of January, 1881, make proclamation of the result of said vote; and if it shall appear that a majority of the voters voting upon said proposition voted in favor thereof, then section one of this act shall go into effect and become a law from and after said fifteenth day of January, 1881; and otherwise shall be of no effect.

SECT. 5. This act, excepting section one, shall take effect upon its passage, and section one as aforesaid.

Approved July 19, 1879.

Now, therefore, Be it Known: That I, Natt Head, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, in obedience to the requirements of said section four, do hereby make proclamation of the result of said vote upon the question of the adoption of section one of said Act, as returned to and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, as follows:—

The whole number of tickets given in was 32,935, upon which there were 22,560 affirmative votes, and 10,375 negative votes; and, it appearing that a majority of the voters voting upon said proposition, voted in favor thereof, the said section one will go into effect and become a law on and after the fifteenth day of January, instant.

Given under my hand and the seal of the State, at Concord, this eighth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and of the adoption of the Constitution the ninety-seventh.

NATT HEAD, Governor.

By the Governor,
A. B. THOMPSON, Secretary of State.

The Lowell & Nashua Railroad Lease.

On this subject the Boston Journal's railroad article of Saturday says:

We do not understand that the refusal of the governor or the railroad commissioners of New Hampshire to ratify the recent lease of the Nashua & Lowell to the Boston & Lowell railroad has in any way changed the status of that lease. There has been no doubt upon the part of the railroad officials that the sanction of the legislature of New Hampshire was necessary to perfect it, and the presentation of their case to the New Hampshire authorities recently was only preliminary to submitting the lease to the legislature for its consent to its terms. That the legislature will undoubtedly ratify the lease, if it acts up to the best requirements of the interests of its people, there can be little doubt. The present strife between its railroads and the Central Vermont would have been almost an impossible one if the policy of the state of New Hampshire had been different from what it has been. Consolidation of railroads appears to be a matter which the legislators of New Hampshire are afraid to grapple with. The whole question of a large movement of traffic between the east and west, and vice versa, with the consequent employment of large numbers of men, will depend more and more upon the terminal accommodations a seaport or railroad can offer for the accommodation of an extensive traffic. A short line cannot with wisdom furnish this accommodation alone. The Lowell road has done more in this direction than should have been required of it. Future improvements by that road at this point should be participated in by its connections, either by a consolidation extending through the state of New Hampshire, or be making agreements and investment of capital that will practically amount to the same thing; and the legislators of New Hampshire will stand in the way of the best interests of their state if they oppose such measures.

News and Notes.

Mrs. C. G. Galley and Mrs. E. O. Ellis, wives of prominent men at Havana, near Norwalk, Ohio, were instantly killed on the 9th inst., by the sleigh in which they were riding being struck by a railroad train.

At Bull River, S. C., Jan. 9th, a boarding-house keeper named William J. Sweeney was fired upon by the captain of the British barque Sunbeam as he was leaving the vessel in a boat with three sailors. One of the sailors was killed, and another sailor and Sweeney seriously wounded.

The Cincinnati street railway company has decided upon introducing the wire cable system in use in San Francisco, doing away with horses. The cable runs underground, on the endless chain system, and is operated by stationary engines. It is claimed that the plan will be cheaper and more satisfactory than either horses or dummy engines.

Phillip Macon, a farm hand, on Friday stabbed and killed his employer, George L. Kelley, a prominent farmer, residing three miles from Bloomington, Ill. Macon had used violent language to Kelley's daughter, which Kelley resented, whereupon Macon murdered him. Macon has been arrested.

Mrs. Sarah Sawyer, eighty-two years old, living at Worcester, Mass., was found dead in bed, Saturday morning, probably from apoplexy.

William H. Rice, aged twenty-three years, was found in the highway, one mile below Springfield, Vt., Sunday, frozen to death, with a bottle of liquor in his pocket. He leaves no family. The thermometer was fifteen degrees below zero.

Joseph Quinlay, employed by the South Wareham, Mass., Nail company, on Friday, while walking on the lower railroad bridge at Tremont village, was struck by the train to Boston and instantly killed. He was seventy years old.

The iron ore recently found at St. Albans, Vt., proves to be red hematite, and finds a ready sale to the manufacturers of Bessemer steel, as it is quite rare in this country.

The low state of the water in the Merrimac river is beginning to attract serious attention. Much of the work in portions of the mills at Manchester has to had be stopped.

The governor of Utah has issued a certificate of election to Allan S. Campbell as delegate to Congress, on the ground that the Mormon apostle, George Q. Cannon, who received a majority of the votes cast, is not a citizen of the United States, and being a polygamist, in defiance of the national laws, cannot become a citizen. The fact that he is an unnaturalized alien was clearly proved.

THE Philadelphia TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the year will contribute still more largely to the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thrift in all directions, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity and patriotism in an atmosphere balmy and to the freedom and sanctity of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party measures and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the regulation praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly exposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political domination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquillity and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with weekly interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 so far approximate those of the war, and will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

Terms: Daily—delivered by carriers, for twelve cents a week; mail subscription, six dollars a year, or fifty cents a month, postage free. Sunday Edition—Double sheet, two dollars a year, postage free; single copies, four cents. Weekly—Published every Saturday morning, two dollars a year; five copies, $8; ten copies, $15; twenty copies, $25. An extra copy sent free to the getter up of a club. Address, THE TIMES, TIMES BUILDING, Philadelphia.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. H. F. Wendell will at ten o'clock this forenoon commence the sale by auction of a large and varied assortment of goods, the accumulation of many years, at his old stand, No. 58 State street. See advertisement.

Newmarket has been excited over a mad heifer, the property of Henry W. Norton, a farmer. The animal became furious, tore down its pen, and escaped to the woods. After being captured, a physician was summoned, and pronouncing the trouble hydrophobia, drew his revolver and shot the beast. Several persons narrowly escaped injury.

The parade of Newichewannock Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, on Sunday last, at the funeral of Mr. Charles F. Stevens, was the first public turnout of the lodge in this city, and only six members were absent. The order is very similar to the Odd Fellows, paying a weekly benefit to and furnishing watchers for sick members, paying a specified sum in case of death, etc.

A very small audience attended at Music hall on Sunday evening, to listen to the illustrated lecture on "The Tropics" by Prof. Fred A. Ober; but the entertainment was the best one of the kind yet given here, the lecturer being an easy and pleasing speaker, and the views presented very beautiful. We are informed that some eight or ten years ago Prof. Ober was ticket agent at the Eastern depot in this city.

The fishing schooners which anchored in the lower harbor on Sunday afternoon, on account of having out trawls which they intended drawing Monday morning before coming up to town, did not draw the aforesaid trawls as purposed, the driving snow-storm which set in early Sunday evening and continued through the day Monday, changing to rain about noon, preventing any attempt in that direction.

The arrival of fishing schooners on Monday, were as follows: Mary S. Hontvet, Northern Eagle, Mary E. Caswell, Daniel C. Baker, Helen F. Tredick, Ida May, Emma S. Osier, Annie W. Hodgdon, Ev Nichols, Flying Eagle, Northern Star, and Defiant. There were over two hundred thousand pounds of fish afloat around the wharves on Monday morning, but seventy-five thousand lbs. only were landed, many of the vessels holding on for an increase of price. Twenty-five fishing vessels were reported in the lower harbor. There seems to be a growing tendency in favor of fishing with nets; this method saves an immense amount of labor, causes no delay (as is generally the case in the spring) in waiting for bait, and catches a size of fish which average about thirty-five pounds each.

MEDICAL ITEM.

It is not often that a person has the small-pox without knowing of it at the time, but a well-known citizen of Portsmouth has recently enjoyed this experience. Some months ago he was ill for several days, in consequence as he supposed of a spider bite, five or six small pustules, somewhat similar to what he had before experienced from spider bites, appearing on one of his temples at the time; he did not take to his bed nor call medical advice, but was beautifully crossgrained in temper for two or three days, and burned tobacco until everybody else in the house was made as sick as himself. Some weeks after this, the "spider bites" having long been healed, leaving only some deep pits, the gentleman happened to meet our old friend "Capt. Bob." Shillaber, who has probably had as much experience with small-pox as any person in the city. The veteran health-officer looked curiously at the scars on his companion's temple, and then remarked, half enquiringly, half affirmatively—

"You've had a pustule there lately, ha'int ye?"

"Yes," was the answer; "confounded spider bite. Made me sick for two or three days."

"Spider bite be four informant is not certain just what word the captain used here;] that ain't any spider bite; that's a small-pox mark, if ever I saw one! How d'ye feel at the time you had that 'spider bite?'"

A detailed account of the symptoms of the case only confirmed Capt. Shillaber in his previous opinion, and he ended the conference by remarking:

"Well, I've seen a good many cases o' small-pox, but I never knew anybody to have it before without their knowing it!"

Being perfectly aware of the great experience Capt. Shillaber has had with this disease, the gentleman was strongly inclined to accept his theory as correct; and one day last week, meeting a medical friend whose professional reputation is of the highest, he called the latter's attention to the scars. The doctor looked at them carefully, asked a few questions as to how the patient felt at the time the "spider bites" appeared, and ended by saying there was no doubt the case was one of varioloid. The patient had not been out of the city for a long time, and had not in any way, so far as he is aware, been exposed to contagion; so this case, which it seems was certainly one of small-pox or varioloid, must have been purely sporadic.

A CONTEMPTIBLE PRACTICE.

A performance was given at Music hall one evening last week by a female minstrel troupe, and though it was the most amusing and the least objectionable entertainment of the kind we ever attended, there was one feature of it which we regard as highly reprehensible, and insulting in the extreme to every decent person in the audience. We refer to the introduction of what we believe are called in stage parlance "local gags," meaning the use of the names of well-known and respectable citizens, or allusions to their possible personal peculiarities, in such a manner as to raise a laugh from the rabble at the expence of the citizens thus alluded to.

On the occasion of which we are now speaking the names of two well known gentlemen of Portsmouth were introduced, both reputable men, and one of them long prominent in business and politics, having been repeatedly elevated to high positions by the suffrages of his fellow-citizens. These gentlemen were referred to in a manner which must have been extremely irritating to them if they were in the house, and which, while possibly not intended to be insulting, was insulting not only to them but to every respectable person present.

For a long time it was imposible to attend a minstrel or variety show in this city without hearing a member of the city police force "given away" on the stage. He is a faithful and efficient officer, so far as we ever saw or heard, and a good citizen, with no marked personal peculiarities,—and if he had such it would be nobody's business, that we can see, if they did not cause him to trench upon the rights of other persons; yet no variety entertainment was considered complete without an allusion to "Joe Ben!" That was all there was of it; and though we were never able to see where the wondrous wit of it all came in, it was always sufficient to raise a laugh in the back seats of the gallery. But for some months past we have not heard of this feeble silliness being inflicted upon a Portsmouth audience, and hope we shall not again.

This practice of "giving away" personages of local note is as contemptible as it is low; and as we go to shows to be amused, and not to gratify a petty jealousy or cowardly malice, we hereby place on record a promise that the next time we visit a place of entertainment and are insulted by the taking of such unwarrantable liberties with the names of any of our fellow-citizens, there will be one person in the audience to hiss, and that with a hearty good will.

A CIGAR CASE.

Our Boston correspondent writes us that "They tell a pretty good story at the expense of a prominent personage in your vicinity,—I will not say whether of the army, navy or marine corps. It seems that the hero had lunched at Parker's a short time since, and was sauntering down School street when his eye encountered a cigar store, and his ear was saluted by the rapid enunciation of a man standing behind the counter, rapidly uttering 'n'alf, narf, narf.' Entering, he discovered a sale of a bankrupt lot of cigars going on, of course at ruinous prices. A bystander was blowing a cloud from a fragrant Key West weed, which sent an aroma of high cost tobacco through the shop, and as the customer asked him how he liked the cigar the 'customer' allowed it had a fine flavor. Our hero saw his chance to replenish his winter stock at prices which defy all the local dealers in Portsmouth, and he purchased half a thousand at a most reasonable rate, as he supposed, considering the quality. On reaching home, however, he was pained to discover that the cigars were a very poor lot. They even 'canked' the celebrated western-built weeds that Ex-Secretary Thompson liked to impose upon his friends who visited him at the navy department, the smell of which would make even the old salts sick, as the Canal President smoked them upon the deck of the Tallapoosa on a summer trip. The fact was, the purchaser had been sold at a mock auction, and had been made the victim of a clover fraud by the deception of the outside man, who had made use of a good cigar to help his confederate sell the poor lot to his unsuspecting victim. But we must all purchase our experience."

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

A very interesting service was held at the hall, Saturday evening. For several weeks the meeting through various causes had been interrupted, and the friends were really glad to have the opportunity of enjoying a gospel temperance meeting. By request Mr. Loyne conducted the meeting, and after the opening exercises gave an account of a recent visit to Newport, N. H., and the condition of affairs, viewed from a temperance standpoint, at that place and throughout the county, as far he could learn. Mr. Loyne stated that he was glad to find the people alive and ready for work; in Newport, a town with about three thousand inhabitants, they have almost unanimously voted down the sale of beer; and in the county jail, located in the village, only one prisoner is confined, and he is convicted of a petty crime. During the evening remarks were made by quite a number of the friends of the cause; and Mrs. Hooper in behalf of a few friends of the mission, presented the directors of the bethel work with a handsome time-piece, as she said that they "had learned that somebody had stolen the old one from the wall." The dialogue mentioned previously will be given next Saturday evening.

Mr. Stacy Hall conducted the bethel service Sunday afternoon; remarks were made by Mr. Hall, Mrs. Hooper, and Brothers Janvrin, Randall, Rand and others. The meeting was a good one; one of the best we have had for sometime. It was announced that quite likely there would be a new departure in the service next Sabbath.

The reform club held a crowded and very interesting meeting Sunday evening. The new officers were in their places, and made remarks for the good of the cause. Brother Marden, the new and old president, appeared very much encouraged. The club now enters upon its sixth year, with a renewed determination to rescue the perishing, and leave other issues to others. The club, with all its failings, may well be proud of its record, for many have been saved from the curse of strong drink, and are now shining lights in the cause and honored citizens; and we trust that in the years to come the boys may be successful in the noble work of temperance reform, for God and humanity. —Genius consists of a capacity for being different from other people.

—The origin of the word "Turkey" as applied to the barnyard fowl, is thus discussed in a note to the London Globe: "I remember to have heard that the first bird of this species was brought from Mexico in a ship which sailed to Turkey first on its homeward voyage, and then came to England, and that thus the bird was supposed to be a native of Turkey."

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are perfectly pure.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. False Reasoning.

Suppose a machine should fail to perform its work, and the owner, instead of trying to ascertain the cause of failure and remedy it, should conclude to run right along, and argue that as the machine had heretofore come around all right it would soon be so again. If a general and permanent break-down ensued could anybody be blamed but himself? Now, precisely this way do people act and argue when the "human machine" is out of order. When the liver is "torpid" and bowels constipated every one knows that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets afford prompt and permanent relief. Yet some guess the "machine" will come around all right, and do nothing. Could any system of false reasoning be more pernicious? Suppose the blood be out of order and there be pimples, ulcers or running sores with scrofulous tumors, swellings and general debility, and those thus affected should refuse to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, guessing that the blood would purify itself, could anybody be blamed but themselves, if a general and permanent break-down of health ensued? No remedy yet known equals the Discovery in curing all scrofulous, throat, bronchial and lung diseases. Sold by all druggists.

Swindling the Porter.

The legislature had just convened at the capital of Iowa. Gov. Grimes had arrived the night before, and taken rooms at a certain hotel. A young aspirant for office from a distant portion of the state also drove up and alighted from his carriage at the steps of the same hotel. The hostler threw off his trunk, and the landlord conducted him to his room, leaving the trunk in the bar-room. Wishing his trunk the young man demanded to have it brought up; seeing a man passing through the lower hall, whom he took to be the porter, he gave his commands in an imperious and lofty tone. The order was obeyed, the man charging a quarter of a dollar for his services. A marked quarter, that was good for only twenty cents, was slipped slyly into his hand, and was put into his pocket by the man, with a smile.

"And now, sirrah!" cried the new arrival, "you know Gov. Grimes?"

"O yes, sir."

"Well, take my card to him, and tell him I wish an interview with him at his earliest convenience."

A peculiar look flashed from the man's blue eyes, and with a smile he said:

"I am Gov. Grimes, at your service, sir."

You—I—that is, my dear sir, I beg—a—a thousand pardons."

"None needed at all, sir," replied Gov. Grimes; "I was rather favorably impressed with your letter, and had thought you well suited for the office specified. But, sir, any man who would swindle a working man out of a paltry five cents would defraud the public treasury had he an opportunity! Good evening, sir."

A Pleasant Girl.

A traveller in Norway last summer came to a village early one morning, and was struck by the air of gloom which pervaded the street. Unable to speak a word of the language, he could not ask the cause, and concluded that some sickness or financial trouble had fallen upon the community. As the day wore towards noon, however, the houses were closed, show windows were covered, all trade and business ceased. It was death, then? Presently he saw the people gathering for the funeral. There went the village officials, the noblemen from the neighboring chateaus, and apparently every man, woman and child in the village. It must be some dignitary of the church who was dead, or some country official. As he stood watching the crowd passing down a little rocky street, he caught sight of a German known to him.

"The town has lost some great magistrate, apparently!" he said.

"Ah, no. It is only a young maiden who is dead. No; she was not rich, but, ah, such a pleasant girl. All the world seems dark now she is dead."

Power of Beauty.

Ines de Castro, whose sad fate has been the subject of many poems and tragedies, was the daughter of Pedro Fernandez de Castro, and who came from a branch of the royal family of Castile. Having been appointed a lady-in-waiting to the wife of Dom Pedro, son of Alfonso IV of Portugal, her beauty captivated Dom Pedro, who, after the death of his wife, in 1345, secretly married Ines. His father, not knowing that they were married, consented to her being assassinated in 1355. On succeeding to the crown Dom Pedro declared that he had been lawfully married to Ines by Papal sanction, and in the presence of the archbishop of Guarda. This statement having been duly confirmed, the king gave orders that the corpse of Ines should be taken from its grave, clothed in royal attire, and, seated on the throne, should receive homage as queen. The singular ceremony was carried out, the nobles bowing before the enthroned dead, and kissing the hem of the royal robe. The body was afterwards removed to Alcobaca, and a magnificent monument was erected over the grave, surmounted by a statue of Ines wearing the royal crown.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS'

Compound

SYRUP OF

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics,

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

For sale by A. P. Preston.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a knave or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.

DISCOVERER OF
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
The Positive Cure
For all Female Complaints.
THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, DIRECTS THE VITAL POWER AMPLY STRENGTHENING THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, SO THAT THE CURE IS radical and entire. It strengthens the back and pelvic region; it gives tone to the whole nervous system; it restores displaced organs to their natural position. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.
It will, at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.
For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory, No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.
Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'
BLOOD-PURIFYING
SARSAPARILLA.
Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.
THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dixi Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, and I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is as much as unalloyed.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dinsmor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the Shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Guilmette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—Wm. B. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilder, Druggist, Boston.
Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

Daily Chronicle.

George Elliott's Romola.

A timely interest is given, by the death of the author, to the new edition of her masterpiece, "Romola," just issued by the American Book Exchange, New York. It shows her work at its best and strongest, and at the same time gives the reader the opportunity to acquire a lasting familiarity with the scenes and society of mediæval Italy. It is one of the few really great historical novels of the world. It is issued in handy and beautiful form, extra cloth binding, simple but rare elegance and taste in design, and like the other issues of the "Literary Revolution" its cost is almost nominal, viz., thirty-five cents. It is one of a series intended to form a library of classic fiction, which will include one representative and characteristic work of each of the great authors who have won lasting fame in the realm of fiction. Life is too full of work to permit the reading of all that is beautiful and valuable in these creations of imagination, but even very busy the people can find time to read one book by each of authors who have won immortal fame and place in the affections of the people. Not to be acquainted with them is to be ignorant of much that is most important and in the interesting history of nations and of men, and to be deprived of most fruitful and profitable sources of enjoyment. Among those issued or nearly ready are Scott's "Ivanhoe," Bulwer's "Pompeii," Irving's "Knickerbocker," Cooper's "Mohicans," "Tom Brown at Rugby," "Adventures of Don Quixote," and Uarda, a "Romance of Ancient Egypt." Full catalogue of standard publications will be sent on request, by the American Book Exchange, Tribune building, New York.

"Angel of Night" is what Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has been termed by parents, whose worrying and coughing children have been soothed and cured, and have secured sweet slumber by using this excellent remedy. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

—A standing nuisance—The fellow on the curbstone.

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, for pamphlets.

Why it is So.

The reason way Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" cures complaints of the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, is that it is compounded of the very remedies which nature herself has provided for this purpose. Being at first scattered through the woods and fields, Dr. K. has collected them, and after long and careful experiment has condensed their virtues in the form which he now confidently offers to the sick and suffering. One dollar expended for a bottle will convince you and make you grateful that you read this item. The doctor's office practice is in Rondout, N. Y. Write him a statement of your case.

—A recent bride in English high life had seven bracelets on one arm.

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and billiousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.
H. P. Smith, Editor Sunday Times, Syracuse, N. Y.

—Lord Dufferin relates with great gusto that when he came from India to be married, he found no carriage waiting for him at the little Irish railway station, and he had to hire a common jaunting car. Going along he asked the driver if there were any news. "Nothing," said he, "except that pretty Kate Hamilton is going to marry that one-eyed Dufferin."

CHAS. C. FRABY, of Adrian, Mich., says:—To my complete surprise, I obtained a good night's rest, the first night I wore an "Only Lung Pad." I have suffered from Asthma for years.—See Ads.

—A girl in Dublin struck her croquet partner on the head with the mallet; brain fever set in, and the young man nearly died. The girl was kept under arrest until his recovery, and when he got well she married him, and now he's sorry he didn't die.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1881.

The Navy.

Commodore Nicholson, at the dinner of the New York press club last week, in responding for the navy, said: "As a matter of fact we have no navy, and today there is not a power on the globe that could not come here and lay New York under tribute, for all we could do to prevent them. I know the press can build up a navy, and I hope that will be the next achievement of that great power which is so capable of accomplishing great feats."

This state of things is due to two causes: The short-sightedness of a democratic Congress, and the inability of the late secretary of the navy to appreciate any greater result than keeping his expenditures below the meagre congressional appropriations. Mr. Thompson's ideas were limited. He was forever going back to the time when an ancestor built a flat-boat to float upon one of the western rivers, and comparing the cost of that craft with the estimates for a proper specimen of naval architecture.

We may perhaps thank M. de Lesseps that he has relieved the country by causing the resignation of the late conservative secretary, and affording the President the opportunity of appointing Gen. Goff to the bureau. The new head of the navy is described as being but a little over forty years old, and his smooth, boyish face and cheery manners make him look at least ten years younger; yet his experience has been quite eventful. Entering the army on the Union side early in the war as colonel of the third Virginia regiment, he soon became a brigadier-general, and was captured. While at Libby prison a report reached Richmond that a certain number of Confederate prisoners were to be shot at a Union prison, and in retaliation an equal number of Union prisoners at Libby were selected to be shot. General Goff was among them. A denial of the original report was the means of saving his life. For several years past he has been one of the leading republicans of his state. He ran for Congress in 1874 against Colonel Ben Wilson, and was nearly elected in a strong democratic district. Although a republican from principle, he was never offensively partisan, and was quite as popular among democrats as among republicans. In 1876 he ran for governor, of course with no hope of election, and again polled many more votes than any one else on his ticket.

It is generally believed, and with good reason, that the nomination was either suggested by or made with the approval of General Garfield, and that he will continue General Goff as his secretary of the navy. The chief reason for this belief is that General Goff has resigned the United States district-attorneyship of West Virginia, a position which, if not quite as prominent, is much more remunerative than that to which he has been appointed, and it can hardly be supposed he would do so for a place in the cabinet for two months only.

Gen. Goff lives at Clarksburg, Harrison county, West Virginia, a town situated on the line of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad; and though he does not come from a salt-water region yet he will be found young enough to adopt progressive ideas, instead of proving, like his predecessor, incapable of appreciating them.

Ex-Secretary Thompson was honest and faithful, but was without the power to build up the navy. Secretary Goff will have a better opportunity, and we trust that for the credit of the country our navy will be permitted to attain the position before the civilized world which the importance of our nation demands, either under the new secretary, or whoever Gen. Garfield may determine to select for the position of secretary of the navy.

DENTAL CARD.

NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

AT the close of twenty years' successful practice of Dentistry in Portsmouth, (at the old stand on Congress Street, and since May last at his residence, 36 Islington Street) Dr. Goodall sends "A happy New Year" to all his patients in this city and in the towns and counties adjoining, and cheerfully informs them that his usual health and strength is fully restored, and his facilities for operating in all branches of his profession are greatly increased by the removal of his office to his residence, where he is able to receive patients at all hours during the day and evening, from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Teeth extracted and insensible gas taken in the evening as well as day time. His successful and extensive experience with nitrous oxide gas, enable him to recommend it with renewed confidence, as a perfectly safe and reliable anæsthetic. Dr. Goodall's large and artistic stock of Artificial Teeth cannot be excelled for beauty and durability. During the months of January, February and March will be offered to those needing artificial dentures whose mouths are now ready. Dr. Goodall has invested an improvement in fitting sets of artificial teeth, by which those difficulties which usually occur in fitting lower dentures are largely overcome. He also offers a very desirable treatment to prepare sensitive teeth for filling, thereby mitigating the pain.

Also, filling with Goodall's Amalgam (prepared by Dr. Goodall) at reasonable charges, from 75 cents to $2, according to size of cavity. Fine tooth gold fillings, bright and durable for common cavities, only $1. Cavities filled with pure gold from $1.50 to $2 according to size. Dr. Goodall gives his personal attention to all departments of his profession. Those employing him are not only sure of his great skill in extraction and administering anæsthetics, but also in the entire manufacture of all artificial dentures. Repairs promptly and skillfully attended to. Patients visited at their homes when desired. Teeth extracted on Sunday when necessary.

THE Philadelphia TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must continue progress and thrift in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity, economy, and the principle of citizenship and to the freedom and sanctity of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party ends and party measures, to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the republican praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction, or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquillity and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the day.

Terms: Daily—delivered by carriers, for twelve cents a week; mail subscription, six dollars a year, or fifty cents a month, postage free. Sunday Edition—Double sheet, two dollars a year, postage free; single copies, four cents. Weekly—Published every Saturday morning, two dollars a year; five copies, $8; ten copies, $15; twenty copies, $25. An extra copy sent free to the getter-up of a club. Address THE TIMES,

Rev. Grindall Reynolds of Concord, Mass., preached a very able discourse upon temperance at the stone church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Josiah H. Morrison fell on the ice near the Jones brewery, Tuesday noon, striking his head heavily, and receiving severe but not dangerous cuts.

The auction sale of miscellaneous articles at Mr. H. F. Wendell's old stand on State street will be continued to-day. The sale was lively on Tuesday, and there was a good deal of fun.

The fishing fleet sailed Tuesday morning, many of them having their last trip's fare on board. The market for fish is improving.

The schooner Josie Johnson is going to engage in net fishing.

The lecture on "The lands of the Spaniard and the Moor," given in the Universalist church on Tuesday evening by Rev. Dr. G. T. Flanders of Lowell, Mass., was not only interesting but amusing, and gave great pleasure to a cultivated and refined audience.

Tuesday forenoon, as the steamer Mystic was towing an engine-scow from Newcastle to the Concord railroad wharf, two men in a dory attempted to cross the scow's bow, but were struck by it and upset. The men clung to the scow and were taken on board, their boat being afterward picked up.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's Mammoth Minstrel company, forty members, are billed for an appearance here on Monday evening next. Their entertainment is said to be a fine one, everything being first-class, and that they are greeted with crowded houses everywhere. Their agent reports them as having netted over seventy thousand dollars so far this season.

Barque Harvard, of Boston, commanded by Capt. Samuel Pray of this city, which arrived at New York this week from Cebu, passed through the straits of Sunda on the 22d of September, and had good southeast trades across the Indian ocean as far as Madagascar; there had a heavy gale, and lost foresail and foretopsail. Had moderate weather off the Cape of Good Hope, and light trades and moderate winds to latitude twenty-six north; since then a succession of heavy gales and very bad weather. She was four days north of Hatteras.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Jan. 11; Batchelder, J.

A man whose name we omit at special request, was before the court on two charges—one for violation of the Sunday ordinance, and the other for selling liquor contrary to the statutes of the state. On the first charge he was fined $10, costs $6.53, which he paid; on the second charge he was held for the grand jury, in $200 bonds.

FREAKS.

On Thursday evening, the 13th inst., at the Franklin theatre, the farcical comedy "Freaks" (a four-act comedy adapted from the German of R. Benedix) will be presented by the Criterion Comedy Co. This organization does not consist of one or two "stars" and a lot of "sticks," the managers' aim having been to secure a company which should render every character in the play well; and the New York Herald says "they exhibit in their work a unity, cohesiveness and smoothness of action that is not often seen beyond the boards of a metropolitan theatre." The World says: "As one of the announced objects of the Criterion Comedy company is to make all the characters in the play equal, doing away with the star system, it may be well to say at first that every part is filled well, and that the company is evenly balanced." All the other papers which mention the company also endorse the general excellence of the members.

The comedy itself is spoken of as being amusing in the extreme. The Detroit Free Press speaks of it as causing "irresistible mirth; the laughter was almost incessant, and the audience unmistakably delighted." The Cleveland Leader says it is "the greatest hit of this prolific season of legitimate comedy," and "so fairly bristles with absurdities, both in dialogue and situation, that an audience is perpetually kept in convulsions of laughter;" and all the other newspaper comments are in the same line.

Tickets now on sale at Stavers' furnishing goods store.

CHILDREN'S PROTECTIVE SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was held in Dr. May's office on Tuesday evening. The following report was read, showing what has been done by the society during the past year:

We are glad to be able to record fewer cases of Cruelty to Children in the year just closed, than during the year 1879, although we greatly fear that some instances of abuse have escaped our notice through the lack of the essential requisites for ferreting them out and bringing them to light. The first report of cruelty to a child during this year, came to us on the 18th of January concerning a babe whose mother lived at the South End, and whose step-father was said to brutally ill treat it. We investigated the matter, and found that while the statements of our informant were somewhat highly colored, the parties implicated admitted that they had been guilty of conduct amounting to abuse. We tried to show them that there was a better way to deal with a refractory child than by their method, and they expressed a willingness to try it. We heard no more complaints, and learn that they have ever since treated the child humanely.

A poor, unfortunate shoemaker in South Seabrook whose wife had recently died and left him with the care of two children, was reported to us on the 22d of January, as being drunk a great portion of the time, and shamefully neglecting his little boy and girl. We wrote to him at once, informing him of the existence and the office of our Society, and warning him that unless he gave proper attention to his offspring, we should be compelled to take them from him. The note had the effect to restore him to his senses sufficiently to cause him, for a while at least, to exercise a proper guardianship of his children. His appetite, however, after a time got the better of his good intentions and sent him again to wallowing in the mire of drunkenness. He was again reported to us March 3d, and we immediately made him a call. We found him just recovering from a long debauch during which the neighbors had kindly cared for the helpless children. His house presented a scene within of utter destitution and extreme wretchedness. We talked with him kindly, and he seemed not only penitent, but fully appreciated the situation and expressed himself as being willing to try to do better. We left him on this promise, and so far as we know he has been a sober and industrious man ever since. How soon he may again fall, we know not. We trust never. But should he once more yield to the temptation of an inherited love of liquor, we shall feel grateful for these many months of sobriety and thrift.

In the early part of May, we were called to a case of destitution and neglect in a family where there were six children, the oldest about ten years old and the youngest perhaps two. They lived near Brewery Lane on Islington street. The usual wretchedness and poverty that follows liquor drinking was painfully conspicuous in this household. At the time of our visit the mother was badly intoxicated and the father was just recovering from a protracted spree. From appearances it was evident that for some days they had entirely abandoned themselves to their besotted habits and had left their offspring to the charities of kind neighbors. The father seemed to regret the condition of things, and attributed the cause of it to the mother, whose drunken habits, he said, were so discouraging to him that he sought liquor as a solace for his woes! The six little children were huddled together in one corner of the room, half naked, unwashed, hungry and cold. They were cared for temporarily, and afterward the parents, through the threatenings of the City Marshal, were brought to a sober condition, left off beer-drinking and for a while did better. They have once or twice since been found drunk, and once, at least, during their debauches, the six children were driven out of doors at sundown and through fear of their inhuman parents preferred for a night's rest the shelter of a bunch of hay in a field adjoining, to the wretched hovel that they called their home. In our present circumstances, this Society is powerless in such cases, as it is plain that the only remedy lies in providing a home for such children away from the pernicious influences and bad treatment of their parents. We have a law that gives us the power, through proper legal proceedings, to assume the custody of such unfortunates, but without funds wherewith to care for them, we are unable to avail ourselves to such a statute. And even if we had the means, it would be a questionable disposition of them to adopt such children and thereby relieve the parents of their care of them, and likewise leave them to further burden us with additional fruit of their depraved passions. It is very clear that we need some wise legislation in reference to such cases, that will go behind the results and seek to remove the cause of these burdens for which every large community is so severely taxed.

During the early part of June we were in receipt of circulars from both the New York and Boston Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, concerning what is known as the "padrone system," whereby a cruel condition of child servitude is maintained by padrones or Italian organ grinders. Sometimes they buy a child, (generally a girl,) for a dollar or so, from some conscienceless person who may have the care of it; and sometimes they kidnap it, just as opportunities may chance to serve them. Having obtained possession of the little one, they teach it to dance or sing, or both, and perhaps some other accomplishment, such as tambourine or violin playing. This done, they make a tour of the country, representing themselves as father and daughter, relying upon the sympathies of the public toward the latter for their gains. During the past year, however, through the combined efforts of the leading societies this business has been almost entirely broken up. Indeed, it is only in the back towns of this and other states, that they dare venture to practice this nefarious business. On the 25th of June last, we apprehended one of these cases on Market square, although the proprietor declared himself to be the real father of the bright little girl that was singing and dancing to the tunes of his hand organs, we at once took him to the police station, and telegraphed a description of the man to the agent of the Children's Society in Boston, and requested him to make inquiries concerning him. In an hour or so we received a despatch saying that he was well known there, and had just finished serving a sentence at Deer Island for a similar misdemeanor as that we complained of. We asked the organ grinder if he would return to Boston if we would pay his fare, and he replied that he would. We accordingly placed him and the little girl in charge of the city marshal, who sent them on the next train. Upon their arrival in Boston, in obedience to a telegram from us an officer was in waiting who arrested the padrone, had him tried and again sent to Deer Island. The child was provided with a home in the Asylum for Destitute children, where she probably is at the present time. A few days after, we found a similar case and treated it in a similar manner, with this exception; it having been ascertained that this was the padrone's first offence, he was dismissed upon probation. The child was properly cared for, in the House of Refuge. We deem it hardly probable that any more cases of the kind will visit our city or the towns immediately adjacent. But in the event of such an occurrence, we earnestly request all friends of humanity to interest themselves to report such criminals to the president or secretary, or any other officer of this society, in order the more effectually to suppress this brutal system of slavery of both body and mind. And in this connection, we cannot refrain from expressing our thanks to the agent of the Boston society for prompt and efficient co-operation in the cases alluded to, without which timely aid, our efforts to bring the offenders to justice would have proved abortive.

An Irish woman living near the foot of State street was accused of child beating. We inquired into the matter, and the mother stoutly denied it. The evidence of the general appearance of child and mother was against her. But she called in her friends and neighbors, who testified to the kind treatment that the child had always received, and were of the unanimous opinion that the statements concerning her cruelty were thoroughly false. There were many suspicious features in the case, but we could get no one who knew about the habits of the woman to come forward and sustain the charge by proper evidence. And so that complaint was dismissed. A similar report was given us concerning an Irish woman living on Hancock street. We visited the house, and after making personal inquiries of the inmates in reference to the truth or falsity of the charges we came to the conclusion of the Dutch jury—"guilty, but not proved."

A man living at the South End, was complained of to this society for cruelly punishing his step-daughter, six or seven years of age. We admonished him, and he at first denied and then admitted the truth of the charge, and promised that he would not repeat the offence. Shortly after this interview, the child found a more peaceful and comfortable home with its grand-parents, with whom it yet remains.

The last case that has come to our notice this year, was that of a man and his wife in Seabrook who were said to treat with habitual cruelty a boy of eight years, and to shamefully neglect a babe of not quite two years. We at once called upon them, and listened to their side of the story. It appeared that the father of the children had twice married; that the present wife was not their mother, and that they had since the death of the first wife and until within a few months ago, been cared for by the grandmother. When the new wife assumed control of affairs, a jealousy appears to have arisen between the former and the present housekeeper. The quarrel became serious and the children suffered in consequence of the strife. The features of the case were such that we declined to act in the matter, and after leaving a copy of the statute law recently passed concerning cruelty to children, we left them. We have since received a number of letters from both parties, but under the circumstances we concluded that an interference on the part of this society would aggravate rather than alleviate, and so have refused to listen to any further complaints.

Thus it will be seen that our report is so much like those of former years that it seems but a repetition. And so it is; it is the same old story of wrong and sin, consequent upon ignorance and the perversion of the passions. When the latter are harmonized and made right there will be no occasion for our efforts. It is sometimes urged that there can be no need of a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, for the reason that it is natural for the parent to care for its offspring, at least to the extent of protecting it from bodily injury and harm. Even animals, say they, do this. As a theory, this will do very well but as a fact it is not true. Human beings are lower than animals, if they chance to be uncontrolled by the higher statements. And so long as there are those among us who give a loose rein to what is termed the "animal nature," neglect and cruelty will be found. St. Paul puts it very tersely when he says: "Now the works of the flesh are these, adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law."

A two-story double house, barn, and out-buildings, belonging to Moses Furbish of North Berwick, were totally destroyed by fire last Thursday night about nine o'clock. The buildings were occupied by Ed. Goodwin, and insured to the amount of $2,500.

Nancy Cousins, wife of Rev. O. M. Cousins, a Methodist minister, was on Friday last, in the supreme court at Saco, decreed a divorce from him, and the custody of the children given to the mother. The charges that Mrs. Cousins brought against her husband were extreme cruelty, and refusal to provide even the necessaries of life. The evidence in the case clearly showed that defendant was very cruel toward his wife, at times beating, choking and otherwise brutally ill-treating her.

Henry Ward Beecher on the Press.

At the recent press dinner in New York, Mr. Beecher in responding said he was a farmer, a lecturer, a preacher and an editor. There were, he said, two classes of newspapers, like rivers; some are great rivers with some salt, but carry on commerce and give health as they flow, and others are sluggish streams, giving out miasma. He liked the papers of Chicago, they were so newsy, while the leading newspapers of Boston and of Philadelphia did not come up to the promise of those cities, and did not really represent the people of those cities. "I think," said Mr. Beecher, "that if the city of New York were built of glass, so that everybody could see what everybody else was doing, the morality of the city would rise fifty per cent. in one year. A man of substantial character cannot be injured by the newspapers. If he knows he is right, he has only to stand still and the newspapers will in the end vindicate him."

Naval Gazette.

Commander Byron Wilson has reported his return home, having been detached from command of the Wachusett, and placed on waiting orders.

Surgeon H. M. Wells is ordered to the naval laboratory at New York.

Assistant Engineer John D. Sloan is ordered to the Portsmouth navy yard.

Passed Assistant Engineer John A. Tobin is ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea duty.

Huffy People.

One of the oddest things to witness, if not one of the most disagreeable to encounter, is the faculty some people have of taking offense when no offense is meant—taking "huff," as the phrase goes, with reason or without—making themselves and every one else uncomfortable, for nothing deeper than a mood or more than a fancy. Huffy people are to be met with of all ages and in every station, neither sex nor condition bringing necessary y e a r n i n g for the auspiciousness; but we are bound to say that the larger proportion will be generally found among women, and chiefly among those of an uncertain social position, or who are unhappy in their circumstances, not to speak of their tempers. Huffiness, which seems to be self-assertion in what may be called the negative form, and which the possessors thereof classify as a high spirit of sensitiveness, according as they are passionate or sullen, is in reality the product of self-distrust. The person who has self-respect and nothing to fear, who is of an assured social status, and happy private condition, is never apt to take offense. Many and great are the dangers of action with huffy people, and sure you are to flounder into the bog with them, while you are innocently thinking you are walking on the solidest esplanade. The dangers of speech are just as manifold. The dangers of jesting are, above all, great. It may be laid down as an absolute rule, which has no exception anywhere, that no huffy person can bear a joke good-humoredly, or take it as it is meant. If you attempt the very simplest form of chaffing, you will soon be made to find out your mistake, and not unfrequently the whole harmony of an evening has been set wrong, because a thin-skinned, huffy person has taken a pleasant jest as a personal affront, and either blazed out or glowered sullenly, according to his or her individual disposition and the direction of the wind at the time.—Household.

The dwelling-house and barn of Horace Rogers, at Bennington, were burned Monday morning, the occupants barely escaping with their lives. Loss $5000; insured $2000.

Many deaths from diphtheria are reported from Carleton, Madawaska and Victoria counties in New Brunswick. It is said that over 200 children have died within a year from diphtheria in and around Grand Falls, Little Falls and that section of the country.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nervous and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither constipates nor purges; injures the system under prolonged use, and may be continued in any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to sustain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

A Horse Story.

We have a pair of carriage horses which are much attached to one another. They are very sagacious animals, and their capacities have probably been brought out by the kindness and attention with which the coachman has invariably treated them; at any rate the following anecdote indicates considerable development. One morning a great noise in the stable attracted the attention of a maid servant, who was in the yard outside, and thinking something wrong might be going on, she looked in at the door and saw that one of the horses had made his way out of his own loose box, the door of which was unfastened, and had found out a bucket of mash, which was standing in the entrance of the stable, and taking the opportunity while the coachman was in the loft overhead, he was helping himself freely to its tempting contents. The other horse, who was fastened into his own loose box, caught sight of his friend's proceedings, and, neighing loudly, evidently demanded a share for himself, and the servant was astonished to see the horse who was enjoying himself fill his mouth with the mash, and poke his nose through the bars of the loose box for his friend to take it from his mouth. This was done several times. The horse that was fed by his friend had been known on former occasions to push over the remainder of his hay into his companion's rack, when that had been emptied before his own.—Land and Water.

She Washed on Sunday.

He only whispered it to a lady friend who sat beside him in church, but it caused considerable trouble.

"There comes Mr. Proud's wife. Do you know she washes on Sunday? I've seen her do it," is what he said.

"Heavens! Can it be possible?" ejaculated the lady.

"Yes; but please don't say anything about it."

She didn't.

In exactly seven days by the clock everybody in church knew it. It came to the ears of Mr. Proud, and he set about tracing the story to its origin. Mrs. Proud was being snubbed by nearly everybody in the congregation. Even the minister forgot to take off his hat when he passed her in the street.

The was some talk of dropping Mrs. Proud's name from the roll of the church membership.

Mr. Proud became furious. He went around town with a pistol in his pocket. He finally found the lady who had started the report, and asked her who her informant was. She referred to the gentleman who had told her in church. Mr. Proud jammed his hat over his eyes, and sought the miscreant.

"Did you say that my wife washed on Sunday?" asked Mr. Proud, with murder in his eye.

"Certainly," said he, without budging a muscle.

"I want you to take it back."

"I can't. It's a fact, and I don't see anything to get mad about. I wouldn't let a wife of mine go to church without washing. Would you?"

Ten minutes later they were unloading glasses.

—When the society young lady was told of a tir-tree, she exclaimed: "Oh, Theodore! now do you really mean that my sacque grew on a tree? How ridiculous!" Theodore thought it was ridiculous, too, but he didn't say so.

—A scientific journal explains, in a long article, "How thunder storms come up." We haven't read the article, but we know how they come up. They wait until the Sunday school picnic reaches the grove, and gets fairly to business at lemonade, swinging, flirtation, croquet, and other innocent games, and then they come up like thunder and lightning. It takes the average thunder storm not more then ten minutes to come up, in the neighborhood of a picnic.—Norristown Herald.

—There is an attempt being made to introduce laced shoes for ladies, but so far it has not been very successful. The new styles lace up the front, and are not so becoming to the foot as buttoned boots.

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and billiousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.

—Philadelphia has what is known as a Gas Trust Association. The gas company, however, will turn off a man's meter, all the same, as if he does not pay up for gas.

Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic.

Professor E. M. Hale, M. D., author of Materia Medica of new remedies, Professor at the Chicago Medical college, recommends Coca for hoarseness, weak voice, tickling in the throat, cough, asthma, palpitation of the heart, difficult and oppressed breathing, fainting fits from nervous weakness, debility during convalescence from typhus, hysterical complaints, nervousness and nightly restlessness of children during dentition.

—A West Alexander, Pa., magistrate is reported to have married 1800 couples, within two years, and to have built a fine house with his fees. The reason for his popularity is that his house is located two miles from West Virginia, and twelve miles from Ohio, so bridal couples can easily come over the line and be married by him without a license, according to the laws of Pennsylvania.

The Fishery-Award Swindle.

Concerning the disclosures of Prof. Hind regarding the "cooked" statistics presented to the treaty commissioners, the London News says:

The total effect of the statements of Henry Youle Hind is to vitiate the fisheries award by vitiating the statistics accepted by both governments, on which it rests. If Hind's figures are correct, falsification "has been committed, and the whole question must be reopened. We hope the government will refuse, in the name of English honor, to profit by a misstated case, and insist on a complete investigation.

On the other hand, the Globe of Toronto, an official organ of the present Dominion government, says the public have heard all they want to of Prof. Hind and his charges, and that they are not worth noticing.

If they are not noticed, it is safe to say that no other nation will ever hereafter attempt by arbitration to settle a dispute with the British government.

Dartmouth College.

The general catalogue of Dartmouth college, an 8mo volume of 208 pages, has just been issued from the Dartmouth Press. Rev. A. H. Quint, D. D., of New Bedford, Mass., Rev. H. E. Parker, D. D., of Hanover, and Prof. J. H. Wright of Hanover constituted the committee to take charge of the work. The compilation, which has involved an immense amount of labor, has been done almost wholly by John M. Comstock, A. M., of Chelsea, Vt. The book contains the names of all officers of government and instruction, ever connected with the institution, with date of termination of offices; also the name of every graduate from the first class, 1771, to the class of 1880 inclusive, together with their residences and occupation, if living; otherwise, date of death and age. The degree of Bachelor of Arts has been conferred by this institution upon 4,275 persons, of whom 2,140 are now living. Bachelor of Arts by Chandler Scientific department, 279; living, 245; Doctor of Medicine, 1,389; living, 770; Bachelors of Science, Agricultural College, 50; living, 49; honorary degrees, 685; living, 249.

News and Notes.

The report of the treasurer of Illinois shows the state entirely free from debt, with $100,000 in the treasury, and a fund of over a million upon which it can draw when necessary. No other state can say as much.

A Texan jury having just acquitted another murderer, in the face of the clearest evidence, the Galveston News is led to remark that the acquittal will direct the attention of murderers to Texas as a safe place where they can put their victims out of the way. The observation derives special point from the fact that in this particular case the murderer actually did bring his victim into the state, apparently for the express purpose of killing her.

The gamblers of St. Louis are to find security in the spring in a keno boat which is to be started upon the river. The boat will have a large main cabin for keno, and smaller rooms forward for faro, roulette, and hazard. Each passenger is to pay one dollar fare, and three-fourths of the fares are to constitute three "pots" for the game, the bank deducting the usual commission. Once fairly out in the river, state laws against gambling will not avail, and the United States statutes do not recognize such an offence.

A Chicago paper has published an article written by Gen. Grant in favor of the scheme for building a canal across the isthmus by the Nicaragua route. He says the cost of the Nicaragua has never been estimated above $100,000,000, and the surveys developed extraordinary facilities for the work of construction; also that materials are abundant throughout the entire line.

Cephas Meece has been arrested at Somerset, Ky., for a murder committed in that county eighteen years ago. At that time a man named Millis disappeared. Last summer a skeleton was found in a sink hole, and a negro named Sam Woods said it was Millis', and that he had seen the murder committed. Upon the arrest of Meece, Mrs. Meece made a statement that a peddler named Phillips was the victim.

Telegrams report a fight in Bethany Baptist church, Pulaski county, Ky., on Sunday, in which knives are reported to have been used. One man was cut fatally. The row was started by the deacons attempting to sit in the same pew with ladies whom they had brought there, which is contrary to the rules.

Information has been received at Memphis, Tenn., of the lynching on the night of the 9th inst., at Lake Providence, La., of one James Brown. Taking advantage of the absence of Sheriff Powell, who is in New Orleans to answer to a charge of murdering Dr. Jones, editor of the Republican, a mob broke into the jail, took out James Brown and hanged him to a lamp post. Brown murdered McGuire, the city marshal, a year ago, and McGuire's friends were tired of the tardiness of justice. No arrests have been made.

The most costly building in the country, when completed, will be the Mormon temple at Salt Lake City, the cost of which is estimated at $27,000,000.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln brought sixty-four trunks of clothing to this country with her. Bernhardt brought the same number, but she paid no duty on her trunks. Mrs. Lincoln did.

Mr. Edmond Morris, a venerable and respected citizen of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., now in his ninety-fifth year, celebrated on New Year's Day the seventy-third anniversary of his wedding.

Capt. Alexander M. Harrison, formerly of the United States coast survey, died in Plymouth, Mass., Jan. 11th. Capt. Harrison was a native of Philadelphia.

Charles M. Phelps, ex-treasurer of New York, died in the penitentiary at Albany, Tuesday morning, Jan. 11th, where he was serving a term as a defaulter. He would have been pardoned in a few days.

The total population of Colorado, according to schedules returned to the census office by the numerators, is 194,649. Of this number, 129,171 are males and 65,478 females; 154,869 are native, and 39,780 foreign born; 191,452 white, and 3,197 colored. Indians not taxed that, is, Indians in tribal relations under the care of the government, are not included in the above.

A farmer of Marshall, Mich., crossing the river on the ice the other day got into a glade. His wet clothes were so heavy that he could not lift himself out, but he followed the novel plan of wetting his mitten and putting it on the ice. Soon it froze firm there. Then he reached it and pulled himself out by it, having then something to hold on by.

Henry Minnecker, a German, twenty-four years old, drank ten "schooners" of beer in a St. Louis saloon in five minutes, on a bet of ten cents, and died an hour after.

A Swede wisely replied to an Englishman, when he asked if it was not costly to take children off the streets and highways and place them in schools, as is done in that land where illiteracy is almost unknown: "Yes, it is costly but not dear. The Swedes are not rich enough to let a child grow up in ignorance, misery and crime, to become a scourge to society, as well as a disgrace to himself."

The following is the population for Georgia; Males, 761,152; females, 771,831; natives, 538,773; foreign, 10,310; white, 814,218; colored, 724,765; total, 1,538,983.

The trial of Mrs. Mary O'Connor for the murder of her three children in Jersey City in July last, was concluded Jan. 11th. The jury five minutes later returned a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of insanity.

The store and stock of groceries, etc., of J. P. Andrews & Co., at Climax, Kalamazoo county, Michigan, were blown to pieces on the evening of the 10th inst., by the explosion of 100 pounds of powder, stored in the store. Twelve persons were injured, nine very badly. Loss, $8,000. A clerk was weighing out powder for a customer, when the powder ignited and an explosion followed. Charles Gould, the clerk, John Shafer, a farmer, the customer who had bought the powder, and William Van Valkenburg, a laborer, were so badly injured that they will probably die.

Four of the eight aldermen of Somerville, Mass., are natives of Maine, one having been born in Limerick, one in Limington, one in Harrison, and one in East Corinth. Not one of the eight is a native of Somerville, and only three were born in Massachusetts. Of the entire number composing the city council only one, Councilman Shed, is a native of Somerville. The only lawyer in either branch of the city government is Clarence P. Weston, a native of Skowhegan, Maine.

At Reading, Pa., Jan. 11th, the residence of Wellington Moser was burned through the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The explosion occurred in the dining room. The clothing of three children was ignited, from the burning oil, and two of them, a babe six months old, and Sallie Rothenberger, aged fourteen years, who had just called, were burned to death. The third, Mary Moser, aged eight years, was rescued but will probably die. David Maurer, a boarder, was badly burned while trying to save the children.

A conspiracy was discovered among the Hindoos and Mussulmans of Kolapore, India, to massacre the Europeans at church November 7th, to slay the native officers, and get the soldiers to join them, to loot the town and raise a rebellion. A series of robberies for the purpose of raising funds led to the discovery of the plot. Twenty-seven of the conspirators are now being tried at Kolapore. Three thousand natives were engaged in the plot.

Burnett's Cocoaine

Kills Dandruff, Allays Irritation, and promotes the Growth of the Hair.

Gentlemen:—For over two years I have suffered terribly with "scald head" in its worst form. A few weeks ago I tried a bottle of your COCOAINE. The first application gave me relief, and now the disease is effectually cured.

Yours respectfully,
N. C. STEVENS, Deputy Sheriff, Ottawa, Ill.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are perfectly pure.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles to which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts. a box everywhere. th,lh & eOjan22

PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.

Dr. L. J. Kahn, 51 East 10th St., N. Y., and Proprietor Dr. Kahn's Museum of Anatomy, 683 Broadway, N. Y., begs to inform his patients and those desirous of consulting him, that he has opened an office: 151 Hancock St., Boston; where he may be consulted EVERY THURSDAY from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. and 4 to 8 P. M.

Dr. Khan having devoted 30 years to the treatment of the nervous system arising from indiscretion, to which may be traced many of the obscure ailments which effect youth and manhood, is enabled to insure those placing themselves under his treatment a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Kahn's medical work Nervous Exhaustion, which treats on those cures; is warded to any address on receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps. Attend office every Thursday at 151 Hancock St., Boston, and as usual at 51 East 10th St. New York. dimy28

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

A medical essay, comprising a series of lectures delivered at Kahn's Museum of Anatomy on the cause and cure of premature decline, showing indisputably how lost health may be regained, affording a clear synopsis of impediment to marriage and treatment of nervous and physical debility, being the results of 23 years' experience. By mail, 25 cents, currency or postage stamps.

Address Secretary Kahn's Museum, 683 Broadway, N. Y. dimy28

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Wm. J. Frazier, superintendent of the Direct Cable at Rye beach, left on the 10th inst. for New York, to sail on the 15th for England, on a vacation trip.

The Rockingham county commissioners, at a session held in Newmarket on the 11th inst., decided adversely to the petitioners in regard to the asked-for Bayside high-way.

D. F. Borthwick will offer to-day a lot of standard prints at 6 1-4 cents; also a lot of prints in spring styles, extra bargain in linen towels and damasks, and bleached and brown cottons.

Any person having a picture of the late Charles F. Stevens, who will loan it to the bereaved family for a few days, that they may have some copies made, will greatly oblige the family, at No. 6 Dover street.

On Wednesday evening a party of ladies and gentlemen, in Stoddard's four horse barge, by invitation visited Mr. Jefferson Lewis of Kittery. A fine moonlight ride, and an enjoyable time to all, was the result.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal says: "Hon. W. C. Harriman of Portsmouth, solicitor of Rockingham county, and son of Ex-Gov. Harriman of this city, will, on account of impaired health, soon start for San Antonio, Texas, accompanied by his wife, where they expect to remain several months."

The Criterion Comedy Company will play "Freaks" at Franklin theatre this evening. We have never seen either the company or the piece, but from the complimentary comments of the press in other cities we are led to believe that the entertainment offered will be as good as anything produced here for a long while —full of fun, well presented in all its parts, and perfectly clean and wholesome.

The arrivals of fishing vessels with their fares on Wednesday, were as follows: Flying Eagle, 7000 lbs.; Bonita, 5000; Comet, 4000; Water Lily 10,000; Flying Cloud, 4000; J. W. Smart, 3500; Grace Choate, 5000; Mary E. Caswell, 3000; General Grant, 4000. The light fares for Tuesday and Wednesday's fishing was owing to the heavy swell which kept the fish in deep water, outside of the present fishing grounds.

Mr. Editor: If the authorities have had the courage to leave their warm places on the Sabbath, and prosecute a single violation of the Sunday law in a prominent street surrounded by neighbors who have long endured the annoyance, why is the credit due the efficient servants who administer the laws withheld? Rather let them have the benefit of their great result, and let the public know who attempts to violate the Sunday law, that if a second violation is essayed witnesses whose attention may have been called to the facts may not be wanting when a trial occurs. Let there be no shielding of this kind of Sabbath-breakers.

Cocheco National Bank, Dover: James E. Lothrop, George W. Tash, Leonard S. Rand, Frank Freeman, Buel C. Carter, Rufus Haley, Ralph Hough, Owen J. Lewis, Oliver Dore, directors. James E. Lothrop, president; George W. Tash, vice president.

Every one familiar with Washington knows the Metropolitan church. It was here that President Grant and Salmon P. Chase, and many other distinguished men, have worshipped. On Sunday, Jan. 9th, the debt of this society was $40,000; and it was stated by Bishop Simpson that if the church in Washington would reduce their debt to $25,000, the other would be met outside the congregation. During the morning and evening service a subscription was started, and $14,000 raised. Mathew G. Emery gave $1000, and our former fellow-townsman, Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, with characteristic liberality cast his bread upon the waters by a subscription of $525. The prospect for removing the entire indebtedness is now bright and cheering.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

It is said that a Mr. Emory of Boston has purchased the Dover Point Cottage, and will at once commence to enlarge it to three times its present capacity.

The Times says that Rev. O. M. Cousins, whose wife was recently divorced from him at Saco on charges of extreme cruelty and not providing for his family, once presided over the Methodist church in Eliot, and afterward became grand lecturer for the order of Good Templars in Maine.

YORK CORNER, Me., Jan. 7th.

The week of prayer is being "indulged in" to a great extent at the village.

It was Herbert Trafton, not Alfred, who cut his foot Dec. 29th. Your typo made the error.

Capt. Joseph Weare, postmaster at Cape Neddick, has recently sold a twelve-acre wood-lot to Chas. L. & Willard A. Grant; price about $650. They are now stripping it, and it is said they will make a big profit, as they will get wood enough to pay for the lot, and have seventy to eighty thousand feet of good lumber as a profit. Charles L. Grant, the stage driver, has temporarily surrendered the stage route to Capt. Albert Kimball, who now drives the "four-in-hand," while Charles is working like a beaver on the lot. P.

Political Notes.

The republican legislative caucus of Connecticut was held Jan. 11th, and Gen. Joseph R. Hawley was unanimously nominated for United States senator.

Hon. John Sherman was unanimously nominated for United States Senator from Ohio by the republican legislative caucus, Jan. 11th.

The republican caucus of the Indiana legislature on the 11th inst. unanimously nominated Gen. Ben. Harrison for the United States senate.

Gen. Miller, republican, was elected United States senator by the California legislature, Jan. 11th.

The United States senatorship purchased by Fair, the bonanza king, was on the 11th inst. delivered to him by the legislature of Nevada. He is a democrat; but as a senator he cannot be any more contemptible and worthless than Sharon, the republican bonanza king, has proved during his term as senator from Nevada.

Retirement of Naval Officers.

In the House of Representatives, Jan. 10th, Mr. Morse of Massachusetts introduced a bill relative to the retirement of naval officers. It provides that any officer of the navy above the grade of commander, who has been promoted for faithful and efficient war services and has served faithfully thirty-five years, and who may be ordered to examination for promotion to the next grade and be found physically disabled, shall be promoted to the next grade and then be placed upon the retired list; and any officer of the navy who has been promoted for faithful and efficient war service and has served forty years or upwards, and who may be within two numbers of promotion to the next higher grade, shall, if he elects to be retired, be promoted to the next grade and then placed upon the retired list.

On the same day Representative Briggs of New Hampshire introduced a bill to prevent the retirement on pension of incompetent officers of the navy. It provides that whenever, on inquiry had pursuant to law concerning the fitness of an officer of the navy for promotion, it shall appear that such officer is unfit to perform at sea the duties of the place to which it is proposed to promote him, by reason of drunkenness or any cause arising from misconduct or want of capacity not caused by or in consequence of the performance of his duty, he shall not be placed on the retired list, and shall be discharged from the service; and in that case may by order of the President be allowed and paid the pay of his grade for one year next after such discharge, and no longer.

The December number of the "Granite Monthly" contains a sketch of Dexter Richards, of Newport, with a steel engraving; also a sketch of Rev. Leander S. Coan, by the editor; a sonnet by Ex-Judge E. D. Rand; an uneventful diary of Rev. Timothy Walker, of Concord; some reminiscences of slavery in Portsmouth in 1779, by Isaac W. Hammond; a brief biographical sketch of that most estimable woman, Mrs. Miranda Tullock, whose devotion to our wounded soldiers during the war of the rebellion is remembered throughout our state; some interesting sketches of Daniel Webster, by his friend Ex-Judge Nesmith, whose articles always have an interest; with other articles of less inviting character. The "Granite Monthly" is published by J. N. McClintock of Concord, at $1.50 per year, and may be found at W. G. Myers' book-store.

Hardscrabble.

In the town of West Alexander, Pa., twelve miles from Ohio and two miles from the West Virginia line, lives a magistrate who is reputed to have married 1,800 couples within two years, and to have built a fine house with the wedding fees. His popularity arises from the fact that the laws of Pennsylvania do not require a marriage license, while those of the two neighboring states do. He will marry a couple without their leaving their carriage, or he will allow them to remain all night and take breakfast with him, charging judiciously for board and lodging. His regular charge for marrying a couple is $3. He sometimes has from three to five couples at a time waiting to be made one, and all in a hurry from fear lest those who pursue will catch up in time to forbid the banns. Sometimes an outraged father or terrible big brother of the bride arrives after the ceremony is over, and proceeds to vent his rage on the winds, and make dire threatenings, and even offer violence. In an emergency such as this the magistrate's son, who is his father's constable, lays the serious charge of disorderly conduct against them. At one time a relative in pursuit of a bride was so violent that it became impossible for the constable to arrest him, when the whole town rose en masse and put the offender in jail. The place is properly known as "Hardscrabble," and when John Norris, a detective of Springfield, O., from whom the Cincinnati Gazette got the facts, inquired the reason, he was told by an inhabitant it was "because it was such a hard scrabble for runaway couples to get there before the parents caught up."

—When a man offers to read your fortune, out of the grounds of a coffee cup, set the man down for a cup and sorcerer.

—A new verb has appeared in Bloomington, Ill. A party there speaks of a convivial citizen who was "shuttered" home.

—One of the civilizing agencies employed among the Indians by the present administration, is the organization of an Indian police force numbering over 700 men, distributed among forty agencies. These untutored savages have taken to police duty so naturally that a full-grown Indian can bestride a salt barrel and sleep through a thunder storm, five in the next block, and a burglar alarm. The interior department is greatly encouraged.—Hawkeye.

—The high art mania is cutting high jinks in Boston, and the house-painters have become confirmed impressionists. A Highland District man who wanted his house painted called upon one of the craft. "Well," said the painter, "what's your taste? I can give you a harmony in green and white, or a symphony in lavender and brown, or a nocturne in yellow and blue." And the house-holder, whose life had been given up like that of the late Charlds Sumner to the amelioration of the condition of the races of mankind, was terribly embarrassed and obliged to say he didn't know.

THE

TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the growth of commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thought in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity and patriotism in our statesmanship and to the freedom and sanctity of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party men and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the regulation praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquillity and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributions for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed, by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

Terms: Daily—delivered by carriers, for twelve cents a week; mail subscription, six dollars a year, or fifty cents a month, postage free. Sunday Edition—Double sheet, two dollars a year, postage free; single copies, four cents. Weekly—Published every Saturday morning, two dollars a year; five copies, $8; ten copies, $15; twenty copies, $25. An extra copy sent free to the getter-up of a club. Address THE TIMES,
TIMES BUILDING, Philadelphia.

"Now Well and Strong."

SHIPMAN, Illinois.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I wish to state that my daughter, aged 18, was pronounced incurable and was fast failing, as the doctors thought, with consumption. I obtained a half dozen bottles of your Discovery for her and she commenced improving at once, and is now well and strong. She took the Discovery last fall.

Very truly yours,
REV. ISAAC N. AUGUSTIN.

—"I try to preach the milk of the word," replied a city clergyman to a parishioner who remonstrated that his sermons were too long. "Yes," remarked the other, "but around here what we want is condensed milk."

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, for pamphlets.

—A bug has turned up in Asia Minor which feeds upon the eggs of the locust. Where a cluster of locust eggs is examined the destroying insect appears in the midst of them. Locusts from time immemorial have made themselves disliked in Asia, and the new bug, which is believed to deposit its eggs in the live locust's body, has general sympathy and encouragement.

D. R. V. G. has cleared my face and neck from yellow patches of over 20 years standing. I can recomend D. R. V. G. to ladies whose complexion is not clear.

—The automatic brakes on the fornicular railroad leading up to the top of Mount Vesuvius work admirably. They were invented by a Neapolitan engineer. The train can be stopped instantly by means of these brakes on an inclined plane of fifty degrees.

Disease prevented and medical bills lessened by a timely use of Malt Bitters.

—According to the Oil City Derrick, Sarah Bernhardt hung up her stocking on Christmas eve, and the only thing Santa Claus could put in it was a lightning rod.

The Chicago Maiden.

"But papa—"

"Not another word. I'm a wild cat when my back's up, and don't you forget it."

The speaker was a hard-visaged man, dressed with an elegance that ill-accorded with his evident want of culture. She who had addressed him as "papa" was a fair-haired girl of eighteen summers. Reared on the knees of luxury, she had never known what it was to have her slightest wish thwarted. Her father, a plumber, was, from the nature of his business, a man of iron will, but he was not devoid of pity, or generosity, as many a debtor whose house and lot he had taken in part payment for fixing the water pipes, letting the balance of the account run along for two months, could testify. He had surrounded Cecil, his only child, with all that wealth could purchase, looking forward to the time when she would marry the eldest son of a Niagara Falls hackman, or some person of fortune commensurate with her own. But she allowed her heart to be ensnared by the wiles of Cupid, and that morning had asked her sire's consent to her marriage with a poor but proud young man whose agricultural operations on the board of trade had not been attended with success. It was this request that produced the answer given above.

Again Cecil pleaded with her parent not to crush the love that blossomed in her heart. The old man's mind went back to the happy days when he had told her mother of his love, and how they commenced life with nothing but strong arms and willing hearts. Placing his fat-like hand on Cecil's shoulder, the old man looked at her tenderly and said: "Look ye, my lass. You say you love this man and cannot live without him. Mebbe not. I have promised you a seal-skin sacque this winter. Let us test your love. If you become this man's bride I shall not buy the sacque. In my hand is a check for $500. In the wheat pit over on the board of trade is your lover. Which do you choose?"

Without raising her head she reached convulsively for the check.

—Did you ever notice the fact that if a girl has a seal-skin sack to wear to an entertainment, she'll keep it on until she becomes animated oleomargarine, whereas, if she has a new dress, handsomely trimmed, and no seal-skin, she'll dust out of her sack with the rapidity of a kerosene conflagration.—Lockport Union.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.
Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?
If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS'
Compound
SYRUP OF
HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.
Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.
It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.
In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.
Its effects are usual yet visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be all continued at any time without inconvenience.
In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.
☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

Amputation of the Leg.
The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.
Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' BLOOD-PURIFYING SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dio Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, and think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dickson, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. J. Goldsmith, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—W. R. Fox ton, Druggist, Plymouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilder, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SPRING ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

Will it Pay?

Young man, as you lift the gleaming wine-glass to your lips in the jollity of the night's spree, will it pay? It is a gross insult to call a man a fool. Every man would resent it; but in the suffering of the next morning, with disturbed conscience, aching head, throbbing temples, racking brain, hot, fevered tongue, and all the horrible reaction that might come, does not the victim of aches clasp his burning hands and bitterly call himself "Fool! fool!" It does not pay to begin. First you tolerate it, then you touch and taste it, then you jest and laugh at it; and then revel in it. When it becomes your master, then what? What numbers have been swept down by the hurricane of temptation! In the mad power of this passion they have burst the bonds of a mother's love, trampled a father's counsels in the dust, mocked at reproofs and tears and prayers; and now, with tattered sails, leaking hull, and splintered masts, are drifting on amid howling winds and wintry skies to utter ruin, when they might have reached the haven of peace and security, laden with honor and happiness. Truly, it does not pay.—John B. Gough.

Some of Prentice's Sayings.

A writer reproduces from the Louisville Journal some of George D. Prentice's witticisms, which were not dependent upon time and circumstances, as most of them naturally were, for their point and force. Following are a few of them:

"To keep your friends, treat them kindly; to kill them, treat them often."

"He who reels and staggers most in the journey of life takes the straightest cut to the devil."

"Men should not think too much of themselves, and yet a man should be careful not to forget himself."

"A dinner to which a man is not invited generally sits hardest on his stomach."

"There are many men whose tongues might govern multitudes if they could govern their tongues."

"The doctors ought to escape calumny. No man living has a right to speak ill of them."

"The working of a corkscrew is about the only thing best achieved by indiscretion."

"A few days ago the freedom of New York city was presented to Mr. Van Buren in a gold snuff-box. There was plenty of room in the box for all the freedom New York has enjoyed for many years."

"There are two periods when Congress does no business. One is before the holidays and the other after."

"Were it not ungenerous to remind a man of his unnatural deformities, we should inform the editor of the —— Advertiser that he is a natural fool."

"An opposition editor offers to bet his ears on something to our discredit. He shouldn't carry gambling to such extreme lengths."

"If the editor of the —— isn't a rogue, he ought to bring a libel suit against his own face."

—No lady with any refinement will use her husband's meerschaum pipe to drive nails in the wall.

—A white enamel candle with a diamond flame set in a gold candlestick is worn as a scarf pin.

I found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to be a most effectual remedy, and feel sure that the most stubborn cough and cold will yield to its healing influence.—Frank S. Price, New Orleans, Aug. 6, 1875.

—The girl who was courted by a spruce young lawyer, said she liked to be protected by the strong arm of the law.

Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"

stimulates and helps nature in her effort to throw off disease. It does not fight nature. It does not send the unhappy sufferer into deeper pits of pain under the pretense of doing him good. It acts tenderly and sympathetically like a mother lulling her child into sleep and health. Do you have trouble with your digestion, your kidneys, your liver? Is your head thick and heavy? "Favorite Remedy" will drive out the poison and make you well again. Hand your druggist one dollar for a bottle, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—"Where are you going so fast, Mr. Johnson?" "Home, sir, home; don't detain me; I have just got a new bonnet for my wife, and must deliver it before the fashion changes."

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and biliousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.

H. P. Smith, Editor Sunday Times, Syracuse, N. Y.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

—The White House was so named after it was burned by the British, in 1815, when the smoke so blackened the freestone walls that it was painted white. It has been the home of all the successive Presidents except Washington, and around it cluster many pleasant domestic associations.

J. S. R. SCOVILLE, Morris, Ills., says:—When your "Only Lung Pad" came to hand, my son could not raise his head. He is now up and gaining every day.—See Adv.

—"Etiquette" writes to us to inquire if in our opinion it would be proper for him to support a young lady if she was taken with a faint—even if he hadn't been introduced. Proper, young man, certainly—prop her by all means.—Cleveland Sun.

Needless Apprehension.

Several of the democratic journals profess to be alarmed at the prospect of barenness of republican talent for leadership in the House of Representatives, if Messrs. Frye and Conger are transferred to the Senate, while so many able democrats, like Randall, Cox, Wood, etc., remain in the house. If the record of inability to accomplish anything with a working majority is any test of the power of the democracy when reduced to a minority, the republicans will probably be able to pull through; and New Hampshire has recently sent a man to the House of Representatives who may be heard from if necessary.

Governor Plaisted.

On Wednesday, Jan. 12th, the legislature of Maine adopted the majority report of the joint committee appointed to canvass the vote for governor, which declared Harris M. Plaisted, the fusion candidate, elected. A minority report, recommending that the opinion of the supreme court be asked as to whether the plurality clause could legally apply to the last September election, was voted down in the Senate, twenty-seven to three. In the House, only seven members voted for the minority report. The president of the Senate and speaker of the House were requested to notify Gen. Plaisted by telegraph of his election, and did so, receiving in reply his notice that he would be on hand at the morning session of the legislature on the 13th, to be sworn in.

This action of the republican legislature of Maine is what was expected, notwithstanding the partisan twaddle of some democratic papers about a possible counting-out of Plaisted by the republicans. It was simply just and proper, and as such should not call for any special remark—nor would it, were it not in such gloaring contrast to the "brute scoundrelism" of Garcelon and the gang of scamps that made up his infamous council.

A New Hampshire Man in New York.

The New York World says:

Mr. Daniel G. Rollins, who was temporarily commissioned last week by the court of general sessions as acting district-attorney upon the death of Mr. Phelps, has received from Governor Cornell his full commission to December 31st of this current year, and was immediately sworn into office. If the question what republican lawyer should be appointed to the vacancy could have been submitted not only to judges and members of the bar, but to jurors, complainants and witnesses who during the past eight years have observed the performance by Mr. Rollins of his duties as first associate district-attorney, it is not to be doubted that they would without a dissenting voice have done what Governor Cornell in obedience to public sentiment has done. If the flattering vote which Mr. Rollins received at the recent election for recorder may be accepted as an indication of the vote he will receive if a candidate next autumn for his present position, the democrats are warned in advance to make an unimpeachable selection.

Mr. Rollins is a son of the late Daniel G. Rollins of Somersworth, N. H., and is a brother of Edward Ashton Rollins, president of the Centennial National bank of Philadelphia, and formerly commissioner of internal revenue. He is an able lawyer, and in the prosecution of criminals in the recorder's court has shown a vast degree of shrewdness and tact, with a power of despatching the business which so largely accumulates in that office.

What the World says in regard to Mr. Rollins being a candidate for the office of recorder is pregnant with truth. When the average Rollins makes up his mind to run for an office, it takes more than an "unimpeachable selection" by his opponents to head him off.

Telegraph Consolidation.

One of the biggest stock speculations ever heard of was consummated on the 12th inst., by the consolidation of the rival telegraph companies, the Western Union, the Atlantic & Pacific and the American Union. The jobbing scheme has been one of the most remarkable on record. The profits are shared principally by Vanderbilt and Jay Gould, and hundreds of the "small fry" are badly hurt. One Boston speculator lost $263,000, and other dealers are reported as out of pocket all the way from $200,000 to $700,000. The consolidated company will be called the Western Union, and will have a capital of $80,000,000.

Another Explosion in Newburyport.

It is not many days since the disastrous boiler explosion at Dodge's factory in Newburyport, and now they have had another fatal blow-up in that city. At four o'clock in the afternoon on the 12th inst., an explosion occurred in the celluloid works, by which one man was instantly killed, another mortally injured, and a third very badly hurt. The dangerous explosive, gun-cotton, is the basis of celluloid; and the factory, which was removed from New Jersey to Newburyport only about three months ago, was once blown up in its former location. The explosion on the 12th was caused by a bit of iron dropping into a trough in which the three men hurt were engaged in mixing some chemicals, using an iron pestle.

When the explosion occurred, Charles B. Schofield, of Paterson, N. J., and unmarried man about thirty years old, was instantly killed; his charred remains were found in the ruins of the building, which was destroyed. Charles B. Hayes, of Newburyport, twenty-three years of age, married and with one child, escaped immediate death, but was so badly burned that he died before midnight. Walter Van Duzer, of Newark, N. J., who went to work in the factory the previous day, was burned about the head, neck and shoulders, but it was hoped he would recover. Van Duzer had twice before suffered by similar explosions, and Hayes once.

The building and contents were insured to the amount of $9,500.

News and Notes.

In Penobscot county, Me., eighty divorces were granted in 1880, and there are a large number of applications on file, awaiting action. In 1878 sixty divorces were granted in that county.

In an altercation at Bath, Me., Jan. 7th, Charles Purington stabbed Joseph Farrell, inflicting a bad cut. Purington was arrested. The affray was the result of a quarrel about the management of the ship Marcia Greenleaf.

A Vermont man varies agreeably the nature of domestic notices, advertising that whereas his wife "has returned to our home," he retracts his former notice, and will "give her as good care and support as his means will allow."

A man named McMahan, aged eighty-two years, while walking on the track at Waterbury, Vt., on the 11th inst., was struck by the engine of a train from Boston, and killed.

Capt. Barnes and his wife, of Watertown, Mass., recently celebrated the seventieth anniversary of their marriage. He is ninety-three years old, and a veteran of the war of 1812; Mrs. Barnes is eighty-seven years old.

At Marianna, Ark., on the 11th inst, a negro who was in jail on a charge of criminally assaulting a young white girl was taken out by a mob, and riddled with bullets.

Mrs. Hand of Jersey City, while trying to light a fire with kerosene, Jan. 12th, was burned so badly that she died.

On Saturday evening, Jan. 8th, two young men of Milltown, N. J., brothers, named Franklin and Oliver Sanders, were drowned while skating.

Michael Malloy of New Orleans, La., aged twenty-eight years, died Jan. 12th from the effects of a wound inflicted by Deputy Sheriff Owen Roper, who punched Malloy in the face with an umbrella. The coroner's inquest shows that death resulted from a compound fracture of the orbital portion of the frontal bone, causing compression of the brain. Roper has been arrested on a charge of murder.

The residence of Timothy Cavan, at Rockerville, Md., took fire Jan. 11th, and his two boys and a deaf man named John Falby, with whom they slept, were burned to death. The remainder of the family had a narrow escape.

Senator McDonald of Indiana was married in Washington, Jan. 12th, to Mrs. Bernard of Indianapolis, who has been a clerk in one of the departments. The senator has been married twice before, his last wife dying about one year after her marriage, and he has grown-up sons and daughters. Mrs. Bernard was some years since divorced from her husband, who is now living in Kansas. She has a son who is a clerk in the treasury department, and who married a niece of General Sherman and Secretary Sherman.

The boiler of the Union flouring mills in Detroit exploded Jan. 12th, tearing out one side of the building, completely wrecking the structure. The engineer, a young man named Whittier, and a fireman and oiler, were instantly killed, and buried under the debris. Three horses were killed.

Capt. Skeene, a respectable citizen who lived about eight miles north of Gallatin, Texas, while in his yard Sunday night, Jan. 9th, attending to domestic duties, was fired upon by unknown parties, and fatally wounded. Seventeen buckshot were taken from his body. It is thought the deed was perpetrated by moonshiners.

Secretary Evarts states that Prof. Hind's charges concerning forged statistics relative to the fishery matter have been thoroughly investigated by Spencer F. Baird, and found to be unfounded. Prof. Hind, on the other hand, says that Mr. Baird's investigation was made on the basis of forged statistics. A resolution will soon be introduced in the House calling on the President for all documents in the possession of the government relative to the Hind charges.

Hon. T. M. Allyn of Hartford, Conn., has contracted for the erection of a spacious and beautiful chapel at a cost of $40,000 at Spring Grove cemetery, as a memorial of the Allyn family. Its principal object, aside from being a memorial, is to furnish accommodations for holding funeral services at the cemetery in stormy weather, or when a body is brought from a distant place.

A woman in West Cornwall, Conn., having unsuccessfully attempted to induce her husband to move from a house which she disliked, deliberately moved everything of value belonging to herself and husband out of the house, placing them in a wood-shed adjoining; went up stairs, piled a feather-bed and quilts belonging to her mother-in-law on top of a straw bed, and set fire to the latter. Then, taking her child, very leisurely she walked to the neighbors' and told them what she had done.

The population of New Jersey, according to the schedule returned to the census office, is as follows: Males, 559,803; females, 571,089; natives, 909,309; foreign, 221,583; white, 1,091,856; colored, 39,086; total, 1,130,892.

The population of Iowa is as follows: Males, 848,235; females, 876,226; native, 1,363,015; foreign, 261,448; white, 1,614,510; colored, 9,953; total, 1,624,463.

AROUND HOME.

The first really fine sleighing of the winter was to be enjoyed on Thursday.

Fire escapes are now being made by Messrs. Critchley & Whalley, to be placed on the ends of the Portsmouth Shoe Factory.

The church of the Second Advent has been raised three feet, to allow the putting in of a furnace for heating the house. Other improvements are in contemplation.

Harper's Magazine for February is now ready for delivery to suscribers, or for sale by the single number, at Moses Brothers' newsrooms and W. G. Myers' bookstore.

Mr. Sargent Lane, who recently moved from Newcastle to this city, bought his first lot of fish here on Thursday morning. He is occupying one of the stores on Commercial wharf.

A number of the carriage manufacturers of Amesbury and Salisbury had a sleigh ride to Hampton on Wednesday of this week, Whittier of the Union house furnishing the supper.

The postmaster's private office has been touched up by Michael J. Vaughan, who with an assistant put a coat of varnish upon the wood work in the vestibule of the post-office on Thursday.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. on Wednesday of this week finished housing the second crop from their ice-pond. Their icehouse is full, and a considerable quantity has been put in the vault; it is of excellent quality, and another cutting will be made before the advent of spring, unless the weather should be very different during the rest of the winter from what it has been so far.

The Workingmen's Institute reading room, on McDonough street, is still in prosperous circumstances, notwithstanding the loss of many of its members, who owing to the burning of the Kearsarge mills have been obliged to move to other places for work. A similar institution on Water street, for the benefit of the fishermen during the winter months, would result in much good.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's Minstrels, who are to appear here on Monday next, are drawing large crowds in other places. Some of our citizens who have seen them lately in New York state, say they are "immense," and it is hard work to get seats in the halls where they play. Their entertainment is claimed to be one of refined minstrelsy, and attended by the best people wherever they give a performance.

On Thursday forenoon last, some of the workmen engaged in clearing away the debris of the Kearsarge mill found in the western end of the weaving room, on the lower floor, within thirty feet of the entrance, a quantity of bones, supposed to be the remains of Mr. James Greenwood. As the last that was seen of him during the fire was in the fifth story, it is supposed that he met his death there, either by suffocation or by injuries received in his attempt to escape.

A lady living near the Eastern depot slipped on the ice in the back yard of her residence on Tuesday of this week, and was quite badly hurt by the fall, though no permanent serious consequences will result. On Thursday morning a marine had a severe fall on the sidewalk near the Vaughan street railroad crossing; he was rendered insensible by the fall, and was taken in an express sleigh to the police station, where he was kindly attended to.

Mr. Josiah H. Morrison, who was so severely cut on the head some days ago by a fall on the ice near the Jones brewery, is rapidly recovering.

Miss Norah Bartlett is to appear in "My Son" at the Boston Museum on Saturday evening, when Mr. Warren has a benefit.

Schooner Hattie N. Reed, with five thousand pounds of fish, and the Helen F. Tredick, with nine thousand pounds, were the only fishing arrivals on Thursday.

Of the $278,000 internal revenue tax collected in New Hampshire during the past fiscal year, upwards of $200,000 was collected from parties doing business in this city.

Between the hours of six o'clock A. M. and six P. M., on Thursday, eight hundred and thirty-six teams crossed the Eastern railroad track at the Vaughan street crossing, in this city.

Our friend and neighbor, the editor and proprietor of the Times, probably since his return to Portsmouth has not risen to a higher sense of duty than during the recent thaw, when he mounted the roof of his printing establishment to give directions to remove therefrom the rain-saturated snow, from the effects of which his upper rooms were suffering. The Times man prefers the laundry in the basement to the sprinkling overhead.

The Criterion Comedy Company had a fair audience in Franklin theatre, Thursday evening, and amused them mightily with "Freaks" of various kinds. The company is not composed of one "star" for an audience of admire, with a lot of bunglers to cause the star to shine brighter by contrast; all the performers are good, and every part is well rendered. The piece is well calculated to excite mirth, and the company makes the most of it. The Criterion Comedy Co., in "Freaks," are well worth the patronage of everybody who can enjoy an amusing farce well played.

Fishermen have brought into Newburyport since Saturday forty tons of codfish, which sold at $1.75 per hundred pounds. —Boston Journal.

The above item shows the fishing business of Newburyport to be in a very prosperous condition, and the few men employed to be getting rich. What detracts from its value as a news item, however, is the fact that it is incorrect. The quantity of fish brought in during that time is a little less than four tons.—Newburyport Herald.

THE TOURISTS.

"The Tourists in a Pullman Palace Car," which have everywhere gained the reputation of being the jolliest party now on the road, will give a performance for the first time in this city next Wednesday evening at Music hall. The entertainment is one incessant flow of fun, and the audience has hardly time to catch its breath after one prolonged laugh before it is precipitated into another, and the many comicalities of the piece hold even the idlest attention until the curtain falls. It is full of surprises, and is a humorous compendium of almost the entire stage, presenting comedy, singing, dancing, selections from opera, and burlesque and instrumental performances. A reference to the advertising columns will attest to the great success attained by this company in all of the principal cities of the Union; and the crowded houses now witnessing its performance at the Gaiety in Boston, proves that, instead of the people of that city growing satiated with eighty performances of this admirable entertainment, it might be produced for many nights longer without growing tiresome. This is "an event" in our theatrical world, and there is hardly a doubt that a large audience will be present on this occasion.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Mr. Walter R. Brown, a broker, who died last week in Boston from falling down a flight of marble steps leading to his office, was a resident of Kittery Point, and owner of the well known Sparhawk mansion.—Biddeford Times.

The school in Eliot recently kept by Mr. Patten, who resigned in consequence of the feeling against him caused by the death of one of the pupils, reopens on Monday, with Mr. Orrin Staples of Eliot as teacher.

Wealth of the United States.

Speaking of the wealth of nations, Harper's Magazine says the United States stands near the head of the list—third on the list of all the western nations. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland heads the list with a capital valuation of $44,400,000,000; then comes France with $36,700,000,000; the United States with $32,000,000,000; Germany with $22,000,000,000; Russia with $15,000,000,000; and the Low Countries with $11,150,000,000 of capital collectively. These are the valuations made by those countries of their entire resources. What is the average annual income per inhabitant in various countries? We come to the front in this comparison. The average annual income in the United Kingdom is $165; in the United States, $165 also; in the Low Countries $130; in France, $125; in the British colonies, $90; in Germany, and also in Scandinavia, $85. In this reckoning Russia, with her ninety millions of people, is out of sight as yet; she will not be very long. On the score of annual accumulation our case is even better, relatively far better. The annual accumulation of wealth in Germany is $200,000,000; it is $325,000,000 in the United Kingdom; $375,000,000 in France; in the United States it is $825,000,000! Our increase in national wealth since 1850, says a good English authority, would be enough to purchase "the whole German empire, with its farms, cities, banks, shipping, manufactures, etc. The annual accumulation has been $825,000,000, and therefore each decade adds more to the wealth of the United States than the capital value of Italy or Spain. Every day that the sun rises upon the American people it sees an addition of $2,300,000 to the wealth of the republic."

Congress.

In the Senate, Jan. 12th, arguments were made in favor of the restoration of the franking privilege.

There is a prospect that the Geneva award bill will be again brought up in the Senate this session. Mr. Hoar addressed an inquiry to Senator Edmunds of Vermont in regard to the probability of action by the judiciary committee. Mr. Edmunds replied that the committee was at work, and he believed a bill would be reported in season for action at this session.

The House on the 12th, in committee of the whole on the Wood funding bill, voted in favor of fixing the interest on the bonds at three per cent, the vote being 132 to ninety-two. The time the bonds shall run was not agreed upon. An amendment was tacked to the bill requiring the payment of outstanding bonds in silver dollars now in the treasury, and in gold dollars held for redemption purposes.

Journalistic "Enterprise."

Many readers will remember the pulseless anxiety of the public in the early days of October, 1854, when hope for the safety of the steamship Arctic faded gradually out. On the night of October 10th, George M. Burns, a survivor from the lost ship, reached New York, and went to the Herald, knowing that paper paid well for news. His narrative was taken and put in type at a late hour—after three o'clock. The Herald's plan was to withhold their city circulation until an hour at which no other sheet could reprint the story from its columns. A rumor of the arrival of a survivor reached the city editor of the Times, but his most trusty reporters worked until after two A. M., and found nothing reliable. The forms of the Times were closed, and the city editor started for home, disheartened and every nerve strained to painful tension over defeat. A few blocks were passed, when a man jumped on the street car. He was sufficiently intoxicated to attempt familiarity with the conductor. The quick ears of the city editor caught the words "Arctic—Herald." It was enough; he left the car, ran at the top of his speed to the Times office, and shouted, out of breath; "Stop the press!" A young man named South was called from the press-room, and promised fifty dollars if he could get the first copy of the Herald that came off the press. "Buy it, beg it, steal it—anything, so long as you get it!" exclaimed the city editor. All the Times compositors were routed out of their beds by messengers, and stood at their cases, sticks in hand, like an army sure of a speedy and glorious victory. Forty minutes after the press was stopped South came into the composing room, waving the wet sheet of the next morning's Herald overhead. A mighty shout arose. The story was given out in four-line "takes." In an hour it was all up, and the presses again set to work. They ran without intermission until two o'clock in the afternoon to supply the demand. The Herald not discovering the theft of the paper, adhered to the plan of withholding the city papers until seven o'clock, and then found the heavy edition dead on their hands. South got his fifty dollars, and the salary of the city editor was increased. —Printer's Circular.

Friendship Between Women.

Some unkind things have been said about friendship between women. Mary Clemmer Ames says of Alice Cary: "I want all who knew her to know what a friend this woman could be to another, and she was no truer to me than she was to any soul who entered into her life. She found me with habits of thought and of action unformed, and with all the life of womanhood before me. She taught me self-help, courage and faith. She showed me how I might help myself and help others. Wherever I went, I carried with me her love as a treasure and staff. How many times I leaned upon it and grew strong! It never fell from me. It never failed me. No matter how life might serve me, I believed without a doubt that her friendship would never fail me; and it never did. If I faltered, she would believe in me no less. If I fell, her hand would be the first outstretched to lift me up. All the world might forsake me, yet would not she. I might become an outcast, yet no less would I find in her a shelter and a friend; yet, saying this, I have not said, and have no power to say, what as a soul I owe to her."

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 20, 1880.

Prof. Brown: I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use "helps to read" should have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even to the most limited extent. Yours truly,

THE Philadelphia TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political issues; the great commercial and material prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thought in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity and patriotism in our statesmanship and to the freedom and security of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party men and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the regulation praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquility and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

Why It is So.

The reason way Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" cures complaints of the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, is that it is compounded of the very remedies which nature herself has provided for this purpose. Being at first scattered through the woods and fields, Dr. K. has collected them, and after long and careful experiment has condensed their virtues in the form which he now confidently offers to the sick and suffering. One dollar expended for a bottle will convince you and make you grateful that you read this item. The doctor's office practice is in Rondout, N. Y. Write him a statement of your case.

—Wishing to pay his friend a compliment, a gentleman remarked: "I hear you have a very industrious wife." "Yes," replied the friend, with a melancholy smile, "she is never idle. She always finds something for me to do."

CHAS. C. FRARY, of Adrian, Mich., says:—To my complete surprise, I obtained a good night's rest, the first night I wore an "Only Lung Pad." I have suffered from Asthma for years.—See Adv.

—"Henry," said his wife with chilling severity, "I saw you coming out of a saloon this afternoon." "Well, my darling," replied the heartless man, "you wouldn't have your husband staying in a saloon all day, would you?"

D. R. V. G. has cleared my face and neck from yellow patches of over 20 years standing. I can recomend D. R. V. G. to ladies whose complexion is not clear.

New Hampshire Items.

At Peterborough, on the 12th inst., shortly before six o'clock in the evening, Hatch Walsh, aged forty years, and his wife, who lived in the rear of the Baptist church, were found outside, upon the snow, she dead, with her throat cut; he was near her, with his own throat cut from ear to ear, and just alive. A razor was found in the house. It is supposed that Walsh murdered his wife, and then committed suicide. They leave a family of four children. Cause of the crime not stated.

The Northern and Concord railroads, which have had all their through freight cut off by the Vermont Central, say they are rather glad of it than otherwise, as the pay for carriage was so small that they made scarcely anything, and often lost. The Northern railroad is said to be contemplating building a branch to Rutland, Vt., where they would strike the Saratoga division of the Delaware & Hudson Canal company, and would thus be enabled to get a good amount of western freight.

He Hadn't Eaten Much.

It was Sunday afternoon, and young Mr. Staylaight had stopped until they were forced to ask him to take supper. The best China and the extra silver graced the table, and one of the best napkins was placed before Mr. Staylaight's plate, for the family desired to create all the impression possible upon the susceptible mind. His young lady was conducting herself with great credit, and the young man was more than ever in love with her, when the mother said, passing the cake for the second time:—

"Won't you have another piece, Mr. Staylaight?"

"No thank you," said the young man in his politest tone, "not any more."

"Oh, do have just one more," urged the mother, smiling sweetly; "you haven't eaten hardly anything."

The young brother, who sat opposite, and had been instructed not to ask twice for anything, much to his disgust, saw his opportunity, and snorted out with great malevolence:—

"Huh! I shouldn't think he had! He's eaten four hunks of tongue, three biscuits, two plates of sauce, two of them tarts, and both kinds of cake, and—mother, she keeps kickin' me under the table. Make her stop."

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS'
Compound
SYRUP OF
HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.
Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.
It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.
In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.
Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it vones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action on the secretions; neither disorders the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be all continued in any time without inconvenience.
In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,
JAMES I. FELLOWS.
☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.
For sale by A. P. Preston.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH
BITTERS
Sleep, Appetite and Strength
Return when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is systematically used by billious dyspeptic sufferer. Moreover, since the brain sympathizes closely with the stomach and its associate organs, the liver and the bowels, as their derangement is rectified by the action of the Bitters, mental despondency produced by that derangement disappears.
For sale by all Druggists and Dealers, generally.

TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, October 10, 1870.
R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You prepared for me, in 1860, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dixi Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, as I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Hidden, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Denmor, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Give me the shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Gullmette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and invigorating properties.—Wm. R. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilbur, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

SHAKER VILLAGE, N. H., Jan. 1, 1880.

A CONTRAST.

He took a sudden seat, he did,
And o'er his face a sickening
Expression of disgust overspread—
A cloud each instant thickening;
She too, sweet girl, went down with him,
And though it hurt her vanity,
She never frowned, but smiled, and smiled,
With a radiant urbanity.
And on they walked,—he, mad as fire,
And every feature showing it;
But she sailed on, ser ne and calm,
Mad, too—but no one knowing it.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CENTREVILLE, TENN., Jan. 8th.

Dear Editor: The Christmas holidays having passed, I wish to give my northern friends a little idea how the southern people spend them. First, this is the only real holiday season that the people here enjoy. It is Washington's Birthday, Thanksgiving, Fourth of July, and Christmas, all together. Washington's birthday is never mentioned. On the 4th of July there is no observance of the day. Thanksgiving is beginning to be observed by some of the northern families of the towns, but not in the country. What lack of observance there is of the other holidays is fully made up on Christmas. During the war times it was customary at Christmas for the masters to make their slaves gifts, and allow them a week of liberty and frolic. If any man had any hired slaves or negroes they rendered an account of their tools and work done to their employer. At the close of their week's play the slave returned to his work, the employee to his employer, and the hum-drum of daily labor continued.

Following this custom as far as possible, the darkies now give themselves up to unrestrained gayety during Christmas week. Darkies now make their contracts for a year's labor from the end of Christmas to the next Christmas. Very little work is done by a darkey during Christmas week, and if he is obliged to work he puts very little energy into his labor. Accordingly, as a general rule, the whites favor their servants all that is possible, so that they may enjoy themselves. To do this, people just before Christmas have a huge pile of wood prepared for use during the season. Only two regular meals are eaten during the day by the whites, thus saving time and labor for the blacks. On the morning of Christmas the custom in the north is to get the start in wishing one and another "A Merry Christmas." Here in the south the salutation is "Christmas Gift." The one having "Christmas Gift" called on him by white or black has to bestow a gift or treat upon the one calling it. The custom of giving gifts on Christmas eve or day is universal here. It is rarely that a person misses the Christmas gift here, be he rich or poor, white or black. Especially is this the case with the blacks. If perquisites are given at no other time in the year to the negroes, they are given at this time. By the whites as a general thing they are given not grudgingly, and by thus doing, it cements the good feeling between whites and blacks here.

Liquors and wines are used here during these holidays extensively, and by persons who at no other time of the year use them. It is a kind of a privileged custom. Christmas morning all darkies in town, and those from the country, have a glorious drunk. They shout, yell, sing, and quarrel all day. While the whites have but two meals each day, they have many lunches. During the daytime it is a sort of New Year's reception. People make calls and visits upon each other. Young ladies all day long receive calls and visits from young gentlemen. The young gentlemen take their vacations at this time of year to enjoy the holidays. Refreshments are always served on these occasions. The favorite refreshment or lunch is boiled custards and cake. Cocoanut, pound and chocolate cakes are the favorites. The boiled custards have liquor of some sort in them.

On Christmas and New Year's days there are family dinners which correspond to Thanksgiving dinners in New England. In style they are fully equal to a Thanksgiving dinner, and in variety more so. I think the southern people are fully more anxious to have their children about them at these Christmas dinners than the New England people are. Nights, during these holidays, are passed by both whites and blacks at parties and dances, principally at the latter. Among the whites the custom is to begin the dances soon after dark, and go home about eleven o'clock. By so doing many of the objectional features of dancing are avoided. In round dances the ladies dance together, and the gentlemen with gentlemen. No gentleman ever clasps a lady about the waist in a dance, and thus dancing is not so disliked in this country or considered so immoral.

It would do the heart of the small boy of the north good to see the fireworks here on Christmas. Torpedoes, cap-pistols, fire-crackers, Roman candles, and sky-rockets delight the youth of the south, giving him powder in abundance. The night before Christmas the square was a blaze of sky-rockets and Roman candles, while now and then a bunch of fire-crackers served to increase the racket. A boy will start a Roman candle and fire it at his neighbor, and to get even his neighbor must return the compliment, and thus are seen many a pitched battle with fireworks, all in good fun. A. B.

Be on time; for prevention is better than cure. All coughs and colds are such affections of the throat and lungs as tend to consumption are cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

—A writer on physiognomy would like to know—"If large ears denote a miserly disposition, why is a mule so apt to squander his hind legs?"

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and billiousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.

Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic.

Professor E. M. Hale, M. D., author of Materia Medica of new remedies, Professor at the Chicago Medical college, recommends Coca for hoarseness, weak voice, tickling in the throat, cough, asthma, palpitation of the heart, difficult and oppressed breathing, fainting fits from nervous weakness, debility during convalescence from typhus, hysterical complaints, nervousness and nightly restlessness of children during dentition.

—According to Kate Field there is but one portrait of the late George Eliot in existence, and that one a crayon, which is in possession of the Blackwoods in Edinburg. Miss Field believes George Eliot is the only woman in the civilized world who has never been photographed.

A Fine Whiskey,—mellowed by age and guaranteed pure—is the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon." See that it has the signature of Chester H. Graves & Sons over the cork. Buy it of your druggist or grocer.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 1881.

Congress.

On the 13th inst. the two new treaties lately negotiated between the United States and China were delivered to the Senate. Most of the day was devoted to discussing the question of paying the claims of land grant railroads.

The house decided upon the following details of the funding bill. Four hundred millions three per cent bonds, redeemable in five years, payable in ten years; also three hundred millions three per cent certificates, redeemable in one years payable in ten years.

Congress.

In the New York legislative republican caucus, Jan. 13th, Thomas C. Platt was nominated for United States senator.

Gen. Harris M. Plaisted was inaugurated governor of Maine, Jan. 23th, and delivered his address to the legislature.

Naval Affairs.

The United States steamer Wachusett arrived off Guayaquil, Ecuador, Dec. 25th, on her way to Panama. The Lackawanna was at Arica, Peru, Oct. 16th; and the Kearsarge was at Curacoa, West Indies, Jan. 3d.

News and Notes.

A fire in the woollen mills in Dracut, Mass., Jan. 13th, caused a loss of $20,000, and over 400 persons are thrown out of employment.

A freshet in the Potomac river is feared, and in the Merrimack and Nashua one is desired.

The salary of Manager Hosford of the Boston & Lowell railroad has been increased from $5,000 to $9,000.

The farm buildings of a wealthy farmer named Viskow, living about four miles from Oshkosh, Wis., were burned on the night of Jan. 12th. Viskow's daughter was found outside the buildings by the neighbors who first arrived, in a dying condition from wounds on the head, and with her clothes partly burned. The remains of Viskow and his wife were found in the ruins of the barn, the woman's throat having evidently been cut. Their family relations were unhappy, and it is thought that Viskow killed his wife and daughter and then fired the premises, meeting his death in the flames.

Walden, the ex-deputy sheriff and ex-chief of the fire department of North Adams, Mass., has been indicted for arson. He was not in court to answer to the indictment, and his bonds of $4000 were defaulted.

At Machias, Me., Jan. 13th, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter against Warren Longmore, aged nine years, for killing a playmate named Freeman Wright, aged eight. The evidence shew that Longmore first shot his victim, then crushed his skull in two places by blows with a spade, and then dragged the body some distance to a manure heap, where he was digging a hole to bury it when discovered.

A blinding snow-storm, with much wind and intense cold, broke over Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota and Wisconsin on the morning of the 13th inst., the thermometer in some places dropping fifty degrees in ten hours. The storm and cold wave was moving rapidly toward the Atlantic coast.

The New York World's Fair drags heavily. The New York Central railroad, which was expected to subscribe half a million, only puts down half that amount, conditional that four millions should be raised.

The Cincinnati Commercial cannot discover any justifiable reason for exempting $18,000,000 worth of church property in Ohio, and advances the theory that all property, not belonging to the state, should be made to bear its equitable portion of the burden of government.

The New Orleans custom house is the largest in the world. It was begun in 1848, has cost $4,180,000, and is still unfinished.

MASONIC.

District Deputy Grand Master John Pender, of this city, District Deputy Grand Lecturer W. O. Junkins, of Greenland, and others, paid an official visit to Strafford Lodge, No. 29, of Dover, on the evening of the 12th inst. The third degree was exemplified, and a banquet concluded the affair.

The district deputy grand master and grand lecturer, and other officers of the Grand Lodge, will pay an official visit to St. John's Lodge, No. 1, of this city, on Wednesday, the 19th inst., when a large number of visiting brethren are expected to be present, as Strafford Lodge has accepted an invitation, and members of the lodges at Exeter and Greenland have signified their intention to be here.

MARRIED.

Littlefield—Smith, In Great Falls, Jan. 8th, Haven D. Littlefield and Ida E. Smith, both of Wells, Me.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. George E. Smart, who died on the 13th inst., was one of the crew of the sloop-of-war Kearsarge at the time she destroyed the rebel cruiser Alabama.

A number of the friends of Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman, pastor of the Freewill Baptist church, gave him a surprise visit at his residence on Lincoln avenue, Thursday evening, and left presents to the amount of $37.

The second anniversary of the New Hampshire National Guard Association, at Concord on the 13th inst., was a brilliant affair, closing with a grand ball in the evening. Capt. Shirley B. Cunningham of this city was elected president for the ensuing year.

Rev. John A. Goss, pastor of the Christian church, was called upon by a large number of his parishoners last Thursday evening, and presented with a purse of money and other serviceable gifts. The evening was pleasantly passed in singing, conversation, etc.

The taking of the testimony in the suit of Hayden against the Great Falls Manufacturing Co., to recover damages for an alleged infringement of Hayden's patent, was resumed before Wallace Hackett, special examiner, in the United States court house on Friday.

Mr. Daniel Dull, proprietor of the steam drilling gear used in boring the well at the Eastern depot, has given $50 to aid Mrs. Stevens, mother of the young man who was fatally burned on Christmas night, while working with the drill gang. It is stated that a contract has been made with the proprietors of the Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, to put a bore down three hundred feet there, and deeper if necessary.

The annual meeting of the Eliot Bridge Co. was held in Dover on the 11th inst. A board of seven directors was chosen, including Sylvester Bartlett of Eliot and John E. Staples of York; John Bracewell of Dover was chosen president of the board. The report to the stockholders places the entire amount paid out by the treasurer on construction account at $8,467.95. In the six months that the bridge was open for travel previous to Dec. 31st, the total amount of tolls received was $388.03, leaving a balance, after paying the toll-taker, of $291.03. A dividend of three per cent was declared.

When a train from Wolfeboro' came into the Eastern depot on Friday it was discovered that a brakeman was missing, and upon inquiry it was learned that he was last seen a short distance beyond Kittery. The train was accordingly run back, and the derailed brakeman met on Portsmouth bridge, making good time towards this city. In putting on the brakes beyond Kittery, his watch chain was caught in the wheel, and his time piece was whisked from his pocket in a jiffy and flung far out in the snow; not caring to lose his watch, the brakeman followed suit, the momentum of the train sending him ricochetting along the snow in fine style, but without doing him any injury. The watch was recovered.

Dr. Potter on the 13th inst. successfully removed the remaining tumors from the windpipe of Mrs. Clough, of Pickering street, also taking out the silver tube, an account of the insertion of which was given by us at the time the operation was performed. The patient is now able to be about the house. Dr. Potter is confident that close inspection will show that many cases of what is called diphtheria, and treated as such, will be found to be tumors in the windpipe, causing strangulation, and ending in death by suffocation.

"No, not this year. Tell Prof. Brown the spectacles he fitted for me some four years ago are all right; I can see as well as I want to."

James Hickey of Salmon Falls, who was struck by a locomotive at Newmarket junction some time ago, on the 13th inst. died from his injuries.

On Thursday a survey was held on the tug Ann, relative to her fitness for towing purposes. It was decided to repair her, putting in new beams, and giving her a new top and house, and new suit of copper.

The pool tournament at M. Garrity's, on Daniel street, has been participated in by many of the amateur pool players, and proved very interesting. The sport will end on Saturday evening, when the award of prizes will be made.

An entirely new and costly feature in Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's Minstrels is a gorgeous first-part set, claimed to eclipse everything ever seen on the minstrel stage. This work is from the pencil of the noted scenic artist, Professor Hughes, who was engaged by Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West to produce this scene at a cost of $2,000.

Mr. Editor: I have a word of fault to find with our present Board of Instruction, as it is called. An agent of Appleton's School Readers was in town the other day, and offered (as I learn) to make an even exchange of their readers, book for book, in whatever condition it might be found, with the Hillard Series now in use, and which has been in the schools of Portsmouth for the last decade, and for aught I know, for two decades. If I am correctly informed, I think our committee were remiss in their duty towards the children in our public schools in failing to grasp at this unusual offer. CITIZEN.

NOT MUCH OF A SHOWER.

The Times of Jan. 13th copies an item which appeared in the CHRONICLE a week or two previously, regarding an extremely low tide in the Piscataqua, and commenting upon it says:

We have waited some time to have this statement verified, but we have not yet found any one who will say that at any time of tide were there less than five feet of water in the channel between the stone beacon and Peirce's island. Evidently the same glasses were used on this occasion as at the time when the great shower of meteors were seen in this city a short time ago.

A natural inference, on reading the foregoing, would be that the CHRONICLE "a short time ago" reported a meteoric shower which did not occur. The inference, however, would be incorrect; for though all the other papers in this vicinity, we believe, and many in other sections of the country, did report such a shower, the CHRONICLE has never until now made any allusion to it. But the Times of Dec. 3d, under the heading of "The Meteoric Shower," did contain the following:

On Saturday night, Nov. 27th, the earth is supposed to have passed through a train of meteoric bodies, which were once—only about twenty years ago—a comet known as Biela's comet. That comet, first split in two; and finally it became "lost"—dissolved into meteoric matter. This immense mass of meteors has its own orbit around the sun, corresponding almost exactly with its orbit when it was a comet. Professor Newton, of Yale college, sat up watching for meteors all night, but failed to see many. But in Portsmouth, and in some other towns hereabouts, the star-gazers report a brilliantly beautiful spectacle. About one o'clock in the night there was a stream of hundreds of brilliant red and golden lights—celestial sky-rockets, blazing all athwart the sky. About 400 fell in eight minutes. It is very suggestive that the paths of all the great meteor streams are so near those of some of the comets, and that the two things—comets and meteors—should so nearly merge into each other. What are comets.

The large amount of talk caused by the first brief press report concerning a meteoric shower on the night of Nov. 27th, leads to the suggestion that papers and reporters should endeavor to be as exact as possible in their announcements of facts of interest to scientists, who are often caused great vexation by false reports of what would be important facts if they only were facts. The scientists depend very largely upon the press for the announcement and popularization of interesting and valuable discoveries, and every care should be taken to make its statements reliable. The following letter from the editor of the Science Observer, of Boston, has a direct bearing upon all this:

Editor of Chronicle: The announcement in a Boston daily paper of the observation at Portsmouth, on the night of Nov. 27th, of an extordinarily brilliant meteor shower, in which hundreds of meteors were seen in a few minutes, and the subsequent statement in some of the local papers (probably in Portsmouth) that similar displays were seen in adjacent towns, made the investigation of these reports a matter of some scientific interest, and I am pleased to send you some of the final conclusions as stated in a quite complete discussion of the matter at a late meeting of our local scientific society.

In Portsmouth, all reports seem to have come from one gentleman, who quite willingly sent me a statement of what he claimed to have himself observed, answering such questions as I sent to him, with considerable minuteness of detail. From his description it is evident that his shower could not have been the Biela, for although a proper radiant point was indicated, the characteristics of the meteors seen were not those of the Bielas. The statement of the observation of a display of such opposite character occurring at about the place and so near the time of a shower so well investigated as the Biela has been, would tend ordinarily to throw a shade of doubt on the accuracy of the statement of the observer. Careful investigation shows that no display was seen at Rye, at Greenland, or (save one or two meteors seen by Mr. E. Batchelder) at Hampton, the places indicated in the reports above alluded to, although the men of the coast guard patrolled Rye beach from midnight until morning, and their negative evidence in the matter must have some weight.

The most conclusive disproval of the occurrence of any shower at that time, has been communicated to me by Admiral Rodgers of the United States Naval Observatory, through whose courtesy I have received a full report of all meteors seen by the guard at the Portsmouth navy yard during the latter part of November and the first week of December. This report is quite minute and authoritative, and is, in effect, that eight men on duty and covering the time from eleven o'clock P. M. until four A. M., during two weeks, saw in all not more than fifty meteors,—and this number supposes that no two men noticed the same meteor, which was not the case.

Although the fact was known by us that there would be no display, still a watch was kept by me at Boston from six to eight P. M., on Nov. 27th, by Prof. H. A. Newton at New Haven from six to nine P. M., and by Mr. E. F. Sawyer, also in Boston, from nine o'clock to midnight; and the fact that none of these observers saw any evidences of the approach of the Portsmouth shower, together with the fact that men in that immediate vicinity who were of necessity in the open air during the entire asserted time of its occurrence, failed to see it, tends to show that the notable shower could have been at the utmost but the appearance of a few meteors such as almost any evening in August or November may furnish. J. RITCHIE, JR.

"THE YANKEE."

On Monday evening the third entertainment of the course will be given in the Universalist church, when "The Rhyme of the Yankee" will be read by Rev. C. F. Lee, a gentleman who is said to possess a fine voice, and rare grace as a speaker. The poet takes the Yankee from his birth in the days of the Pilgrim Fathers,

Who would not kiss from Saturday to Monday,
And hanged a cat for catching mice on Sunday,

And follows him through the old New England farm-house and school-house, and the corn-husking, to the time when, verging on manhood, he begins to look about for a wife. He has by this time developed into a sturdy and ingenious youth, with a clear head and a skillful hand.

And with the jack-knife—all the tool he needed—
Few could carve out the wooden hams that he did.

He falls in love with Miss Columbia, a daughter of old Farmer Freedom, but having a rival in the person of Cousin Johnnie Bull, he has to win the fair lady by the force of his fists. Of course, this episode unchains the national bird, who spreads his majestic wings in the approved patriotic style.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The trustees of the free public library respectfully call the attention of the people of Portsmouth to the present condition of the enterprise entrusted to us. At the close of the year 1869 the Honorable Frank Jones gave to us his salary as mayor for that year, being $500, upon certain trusts and conditions exactly expressed in writing. These were, substantially, that we should carefully invest the money at interest, and invite other donations until the fund shall amount to $5000, when we are required to apply the money to the establishment of a free public library, for the use of the people of Portsmouth. Provision was made for filling vacancies in the board of trustees, and we were expressly required not to transfer or assign our trust, except to the city of Portsmouth, in case the city should itself undertake the establishment of a library. Mr. Jones promised also to give another sum of $500 if we should raise the $5000 within a limited time; but the trustees have been unable to comply with that condition.

Immediately after the donation by Mr Jones, we made both public and personal appeals to citizens of Portsmouth, here and elsewhere, for contributions to this useful enterprise, and have from time to time collected considerable sums, which with the accumulations, now amount to $3980.05. The most recent accession to our fund is the sum of $617.53, received from a society of ladies, the receipt of which has recently been acknowledged by our treasurer. It is understood that a legacy of $1000, from a lady recently deceased, is due, and may soon be paid to us. This, if received, will nearly complete the sum of $5000, originally named, and will make it our duty to take active measures for the establishment of a library.

But the trustees respectfully suggest that even this sum will be insufficient to establish a Public Library upon such a basis that it will be certain to be permanent, and to be creditable to the city. Rooms, or, if possible, a building, should be provided, convenient of access to the people, and arranged for permanence. A librarian, learned and courteous, must be secured, who can be constantly in attendance and give the benefit of his whole care and learning to the library. And books must be selected with great discrimination, so that money may be really and lastingly useful. The purpose of a Public Library being, in our estimation, very different from the amusement which an ordinary circulating library is intended principally to furnish. In the establishment, therefore, of a Public Library, worthy of the town, and which will be a really valuable aid to the education of the people, there will be abundant opportunity, we may say necessity, for the use of very considerable sums of money. And we confidently appeal to the public spirit of our citizens now to add to the fund, already existing, such liberal gifts as will make this enterprise permanently successful. We need not repeat what we said in our address to the public, ten years ago, concerning the advantages of such an institution, or of the beneficent effects it will have upon both the persons and property of our citizens. These things are fully understood. The enterprise is entirely within the means of our people, acting collectively; or the private liberality some of our citizens most able and most disposed to be liberal, will be quite sufficient to accomplish it.

We address you because we believe that careful attention to the subject is all that is needed to secure very generous action on the part of the citizens of Portsmouth at home and abroad.

THE

TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period in its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thought in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to honest and patriotic statesmanship and to the freedom and sanctity of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babble about party needs and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the regulation praise of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands public tranquility and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

"Now Well and Strong."

SHERMAN, Illinois.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I wish to state that my daughter, aged 18, was pronounced incurable and was fast failing, as the doctors thought, with consumption. I obtained a half dozen bottles of your Discovery for her and she commenced improving at once, and is now well and strong. She took the Discovery last fall.

Very truly yours,

REV. ISAAC N. AUGUSTIN.

At Union village, on the 12th inst., the farm buildings of John H. Cloutman were burned, with most of their contents, including two horses, fourteen horned cattle and fifteen sheep.

There will be a convention of the Spiritualists of New Hampshire at Manchester, commencing Saturday, Jan. 22d, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and continuing over Sunday. The object of this convention is to form a permanent state organization.

Relative to the Peterborough tragedy the following particulars are given: Patrick Walsh, the murderer, is known to have repeatedly abused his wife in a most disgraceful manner, and the doctors disagreed as to whether his case was one of insanity or ugliness. He was released from jail for some unaccountable reason two weeks ago, being there to serve out a six months' term of imprisonment, and since his release has been eagerly but unsuccessfully trying to obtain work. After being refused any further aid by his wife, and not being able to obtain a loan of $50 by giving a second mortgage on his farm, he returned home acting very strangely, and when his wife attempted to leave the house he seized her, cut her throat and his own with a razor, and afterwards both Walsh and wife fell, but in some way got as far as the entry and fell again into the snow outside of the house. The groundwork of all the trouble was Walsh's intemperance.

The New Hampshire delegation in Congress on the 15th inst. decided to recommend the appointment of Hon. Charles H. Burns of Milton as United States district attorney for New Hampshire. This is equivalent to an appointment.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of Hypo-Phos-Phites

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster, county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease had involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weaknesses; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitations and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; sea sickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12th.

Congress, which has exclusive jurisdiction of the District of Columbia, is discussing in several matters provisions for a kind of tyranny over the people that would hardly be tolerated in any other portion of the world. One proposition is that policemen may, at any time of the night or day, without warrant or notice, enter any room in any house for the purpose of ascertaining if the supply of water from the pipes is shut off. Another authorizes the arrest and confinement, without trial, of any person soliciting alms. The existing provisions of law on these subjects are the same as in other cities. The proposed laws, sought to be passed without any local demand for them, show how far some generally reasonable and just men will go when legislating for others than the people of their own state or locality. Happily there is not much chance that these bills will pass without modification.

It is the opinion of Vice President Wheeley, than whom no cooler or better informed man is in the city, that the republicans will organize the Senate. He expressly disclaims any knowledge of the course to be taken by Senator Mahone, and it puzzles the democratic senators to find where their presiding officer gets his figures.

The Bayard-Conkling controversy is assuming such shape that it will probably make its appearance in the Senate soon. Both the distinguished senators now talk freely on the subject with their friends, though at first they were rather reserved than communicative. A great deal of ill-feeling is growing up among the friends of the parties.

Senator Blaine denies that he is about to build a house in this city. The story was started on its travels by George Alfred Townsend, who writes Washington letters from any place he happens to be in, and interviews public men when thousands of miles away from them. Senator Blaine does not deny that he has been offered and has signified his acceptance of the position of secretary of state under President Garfield. If, as is likely, the original announcement of the offer was made public in order to test the popularity of the selection, the senator has every reason to be satisfied with the result. The expressions of satisfaction are not confined to any section or to any party. It may be that some of the heartiness of democratic congratulation is due to the fact that acceptance of a cabinet office will remove the senator measurably from active politics, but no doubt much of it is due to genuine regard and respect for the coming premier.

The Post of this city, upon what authority I do not know, announces that all the Missouri greenback congressmen will vote with the republicans on the organization of the House, in the 47th Congress. This is not the general understanding here.

Capt. Eads, now in this city, will probably not press at this session his request for a government guarantee of the interest of his marine railway bonds. He was present yesterday before the House foreign affairs committee during the discussion of Representative Crapo's resolution that the construction of a canal across the isthmus of Darien under charter from a European government is hostile to the established policy of the United States, etc. He will remain here several days before going to New York. KNOX.

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and billiousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.

Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"

stimulates and helps nature in her effort to throw off disease. It does not fight nature. It does not send the unhappy sufferer into deeper pits of pain under the pretense of doing him good. It acts tenderly and sympathetically like a mother lulling her child into sleep and health. Do you have trouble with your digestion, your kidneys, your liver? Is your head thick and heavy? "Favorite Remedy" will drive out the poison and make you well again. Hand your druggist one dollar for a bottle, or write to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, JANUARY 17, 1881.

A Yellow Fever Rumor.

Information from private sources from the West India squadron has been received by officers of the Brooklyn navy yard, to the effect that yellow fever made its appearance on board the United States corvette Kearsarge, Commander Henry L. Pickens commanding, during her cruise in the neighborhood of St. Thomas. The Kearsarge sailed from Fortress Monroe at the conclusion of the naval review, in November last, for the West Indies, with orders to join the flagship Tennessee, bearing the flag of Rear Admiral Robert Wyman, on her cruise to Barbadoes and the islands in the West Indies, and to accompany her to the prominent ports of visit. It is suggested that as the Kearsarge has not reported her arrival in any northern port, where she would certainly have been sent had the infection been of a dangerous nature, to fumigate and "freeze out," the disease could not have gained a foothold on board, and that perhaps only a mild sporadic case presented itself. At all events, as the ship was bound to the windward islands, where she has probably gone, the wholesome air pervading that quarter of the station would undoubtedly cleanse the ship of all contagious disease, and place the crew upon a first class sanitary basis. Therefore no apprehension of any serious visitation of Yellow Jack need be felt by any one. The next steamer from Rio Janeiro touching at St. Thomas, will probably bring more detailed intelligence.

The secretary of the navy has received a communication from Comdr. Picking, dated at Curacoa Jan. 3d, reporting the arrival there of the Kearsarge on Dec. 29th from Barbadoes; but no report of any yellow fever on board is made in this communication, so far as is made public.

News and Notes.

The "Commercial traders" of Boston had a dinner at Young's hotel last week. They doubtless marched from the barroom to the dining-hall at the tap of the drum.

Senator Conkling gave his fellow senators last week a lecture upon the subject of etiquette in the matter of confirming nominations.

In Ashland county, N. C., recently, trouble occurred between two young men, named James Gentry and Dory Dixon, about a young lady at a party, during which Gentry was stabbed and killed by Dixon. Both were highly connected.

Two elephants belonging to the menageries wintering at Bridgeport, Conn., were recently employed to push a derailed engine back on the track, and accomplished the work in a very short time and without being deterred by the steam and sparks that poured from the engine.

The grand jury in the case of Fred Neuner, a special policeman of Meriden, Conn., accused of outraging Mariana Klots, a Polish immigrant who was in his care, has found a true bill. The state authorities are confident of securing a conviction, and sending Neuner to state prison for life.

The shaft of the Foord pit at Stellarton, N. S., in which a disastrous explosion occurred some months ago, has been cleared out down to the water, and is found to be very little injured. The water in the pit is still quite hot.

The increase in the net freight business at the Bangor station of the Maine Central railway for 1880 over 1879 amounted to $35,817.22. There were received there 77,000 barrels of flour, an increase of 20,000 barrels over 1879; 129,600 bushels of corn, and 1,440 tons of feed.

Hon. Walbridge A. Field has accepted the proffered place on the supreme bench of Massachusetts made vacant by the resignation of Judge Ames.

The second span, from the Groveland side, of the iron bridge at Haverhill, Mass., fell last Thursday as a loaded lumber team belonging to D. D. Chase & Son of Haverhill was passing over it. The horses and driver escaped without injury. The horse car had just passed over the bridge.

Contrary to a general impression the loss by fire in this country last year was eight millions less than in 1879, and twenty-one millions less than in 1877. The losses for 1880 aggregated $76,513,000; but that is a great amount of property to be snuffed out like a candle.

Notwithstanding nearly one thousand petitions asking the enactment of a national bankrupt law have been filed in the Senate and House since the commencement of the present session, there is no probability of favorable action this year.

When Congress passed the last pension arrears bill it certainly "went it blind." It was calculated to take possibly one hundred millions from the treasury. Pension Commissioner Bentley now estimates that the act will take four hundred millions, and that for six years to come the pension disbursements will reach $50,000,000 annually. It is estimated that twenty-five per cent of the arrears are fraudulent. Having egregiously blundered in forecasting the effects of the pension arrears bill, Congress should now see to it that rigid legislation is applied to stop all fraudulent payments. Millions for real soldiers, but not one cent for frauds, is the line to which the country asks Congress to hew, if it takes all winter.

The skeletons of three children, seemingly about a year old, were recently found in a bale of foreign rags at the new paper mill at Claremont.

London is to be wholly lighted with the electric light.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Yantic was on the 13th inst. ordered to Norfolk from Charleston, S. C. It is reported that she is to go from Norfolk in search of a vessel reported to be waterlogged in a very dangerous position, in the track of steamers between this country and Europe.

Lieut. Comdr. W. H. Whiting is ordered to the New York navy yard.

Leave for fourteen days has been granted Boatswain J. S. Sinclair, on duty at Washington.

The committee on naval affairs of the national House of Representatives, on 14th inst. agreed to make a favorable report to the House upon Representative Phelps' bill to amend the revised statutes so as to authorize the secretary of the navy to appoint cadet midshipmen from districts where vacancies may occur. The committee agreed to an adverse report upon the bill providing for the promotion of mates to the rank of ensigns not in line of promotion. On the same day the committee having in charge the petition of the sailors of Admiral Farragut's fleet, asking a distribution of the unpaid prize money due them, agreed to favorably report upon it.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Among the "independent" journals of the country one of the very best, most ably conducted and really independent is the Philadelphia Times. As a family paper it is simply excellent—elevated in tone, reliable and complete as to news, and containing a large amount of choice miscellaneous reading matter, fashion notes, etc., for the ladies. The prospectus of this valuable paper can be found in another column.

"The American Journal of the Medical Sciences" (quarterly, $5 per year) for January is received from the publishers, Henry C. Lea's Son & Co., Philadelphia. It contains 300 pages of reading matter—reports of important medical and surgical cases, papers on important subjects, the latest discoveries in medicine, reviews of lately issued medical books, and other matter of value to all members of the profession who aim to keep up with the progress of medical science.

The February number of "Harper's Magazine" opens with an important paper, entitled "The Gospel History in Italian Painting," by Rev. Henry Van Dyer, Jr. The progress of Italian art is, in this connection, traced through its symbolic, realistic, and idealistic periods—as illustrated in the wall-paintings of the Catacombs, mosiacs of the Middle Ages, the art of the Byzantine type, and finally in the great works of Giotta, Masaccio, Botticelli, Perugino, Leonardo, Paul Veronese, and Raphael. Mr. Conway's series of papers on the English lakes is concluded; the illustrations of this part cover a large range of picturesque subjects. Mr. G. W. Sheldon contributes a second paper on the Old New York Volunteer Fire Department, illustrated with some very interesting pictures. One of the most interesting of the illustrated papers of this number is that on "Literary and Social Boston," by Geo. P. Lathrop; not only is the article full of the most entertaining gossip, but the illustrations also are exceedingly interesting. Portraits are given of T. B. Aldrich, James T. Fields, E. E. Hale, John Boyle O'Reilly and others, and there are pictures of some charming interiors—Aldrich's study, a cosy corner in Mr. Howells' house, James T. Fields' study, etc. Miss F. E. Fryatt contributes a timely article on the Pottery industry—devoting the greater portion to the Trenton potteries, which are very fully illustrated. "Puss Tanner's Defense," by Richard Malcolm Johnston, is a Georgia sketch, very strong, and full of humor. Mrs. Margaret S. McLean contributes a romantic short story entitled "The Fire-Fly." Apropos of the recent publication of Trevelyan's "Early History of Charles James Fox," Mr. John Bigelow, under the same title, contributes an admirable review of the career of that distinguished statesman. The editorial departments are full of fresh and interesting matter. The Easy Chair discusses Beaconsfield's latest novel, and gives a charming discription of the first production, at the Academy of Music, of Boito's opera "Mefistofele."

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 26, 1880.

Prof. Brown: I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the Spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use "helps to read" a could have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even to the most limited extent. Yours truly,

WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Charles W. Carter fell on the ice near his residence on Lincoln avenue, on Saturday evening, and broke one of his arms.

Surgeon Chas. H. Burbank, U. S. N., recently detached from the navy yard, has rented the dwelling house of Capt. Chas. C. Carpenter, U. S. N., on Middle street.

This evening, at the Universalist church, Rev. C. F. Lee will give "The Rhyme of the Yankee," which abounds in quaint sketches, genuine humor, and occasional pathos.

On Friday afternoon a steam pump was set to work throwing water from the Eastern railroad well at the depot, to test the value of the supply. The pump discharges about 3000 gallons of water an hour, but up to Sunday evening had not succeeded in getting a "suck," though kept constantly running from the start.

In Boston on Saturday Eastern railroad stock sold at 38 1-4 and 38 1-2; Eastern railroad in New Hampshire, 90; Concord railroad, 97 1-2; Northern, 100 1-4; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, 24 3-4; Eastern railroad 4 1-2s, 105; New Hampshire sixes of 1903, 123 1-2; Great Falls Manufacturing Co., 112 3-4; York Manufacturing Co., 1285.

The supply of tickets left at Preston's for Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's Minstrels, who are to appear at Music hall this evening, was exhausted Saturday morning, the agent not leaving enough to supply the demand for them. Those persons who wish to secure seats in advance can select the seats this morning, and they will be held for them, and the tickets delivered after the arrival of the ticket agent at eleven o'clock.

A Newmarket correspondent writes: "Mr. Clarence D. Dolloff of this town, the popular and well known clerk at Dr. J. H. Twombly's drug store, was married New Year's day at Portsmouth, to Miss Lizzie A. Edny, of that place. Mr. Dolloff returned here last week with his bride, and we understand intends to make this a permanent place of residence. A host of friends here wish the happy couple many years of continued happiness."

One of our local contemporaries, in noticing last week the probable appointment of Mr. Orren Staples of Eliot as teacher of the school in that town recently in charge of Mr. T. M. Patten, says Mr. Staples is a "graduate of the Portsmouth high school." This we are informed is not correct. Mr. Staples was for some time a student in Smith's academy, and was one of the best pupils the experienced conductor of that institution ever had, but he did not graduate from the high school, if indeed he ever attended it.

Fishing schooner Clyde, of Gloucester, Mass., with a cargo of frozen herring, arrived in the lower harbor on Friday. She will remain here to dispose of her cargo of bait to the winter fishermen.

The fishing arrivals on Saturday consisted of the schooner Celia, with 2000 lbs. of fish; the Cosmos, with 6000 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 4000; Norma, 4000; Can't Come It, 1500; Flora Temple, 10,000; Ev Nichols, 7000; Flying Cloud, 6000; small boats, etc., about 3000 lbs.

Mr. George Herbert commenced buying fish on Saturday, occupying one of the stores on Commercial wharf. Mr. Herbert is assisted by Mr. Elvin Newton, and as both are experts in the buying and selling of fish there seems to be no reason why they should not be successful.

On Sunday the Flying Cloud brought in 3000 lbs. of fish, and the Christie Campbell 10,000. The latter vessel on this trip took on one of her trawls a live seal.

The fish in Ipswich bay are reported as being about all caught up, and they are anxiously awaiting the striking in of fresh schools.

Don't forget; it is only once a year that Prof. Brown is in Portsmouth.

He was a young man from the Divinity School, who while officiating at one of the country churches on Sunday, where a collection was to be taken, remarked, "The financial portion of the service will now be performed."

The supreme court meets at Exeter today. The petit jury comes in Wednesday. Hon. L. W. Clark, who has held several recent terms of the court in this and Strafford counties, is to preside at this term of the court.

A number of Dover's prominent citizens met in that city on Friday afternoon of last week, to organize a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Remarks in favor were made by George S. Frost, Esq., Hon. Zimri S. Wallingford, Col. John Bracewell and others. A committee to select a board of officers was appointed, to report at an adjourned meeting on the 19th inst.

An evening can scarcely be spent more agreeably than by taking in the Tourists, wherever the performance may be given. The company are exceedingly clever, not a "stick" obtruding his or her unwelcome presence during the entire performance. As the stage goes, or tries to, nowadays, this is asserting not a little. Of all the plays of its school, the "Tourists" stands among the best.—Boston Express.

The Tourists will appear at Music hall next Wednesday evening. See advertisement.

Col. Frank W. Hilton, of the "Rockingham and Wentworth," left this city on Saturday for New York to attend the annual meeting of the "Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association of the United States," in that city on Tuesday the, 18th inst. The president of the association is Mr. Charles C. Hilton, of the Sherman house, Chicago, a brother of Col. Hilton. The Daily Hotel Reporter of Chicago, in speaking of certain New England members to be present at this annual meeting, refers to Col. Hilton in complimentary terms, and adds that his "presence at the meeting will add much to the pleasure and success of the occasion." Among the leading hotel men of the country, men who have made the business a success, and given it a character and position in a mercantile sense, Col. Hilton stands high, as a competent and able manager in a calling requiring perhaps a greater variety of knowledge and discriminating tact than any other business of like magnitude.

HORSE-THIEF CAUGHT.

On Friday afternoon, in Somerville, Mass., a notorious horse thief named Dennis Lyons, alias George Wilton, alias half a dozen other names, was arrested, charged with stealing a horse from Hon. E. H. Winceester of this city on the 11th of December last. Sheriff Kent brought the man to this city, Saturday evening, and lodged him in jail; when arrested he had a loaded revolver in his pocket.

People have queried if a smart Massachusetts thief could come within the borders of a county whose sheriff was noted for his experience and ability as a detective, take a horse easily recognizable, and remain unapprehended. Impatient persons thought the failure to discover the perpetrator of this crime was a bad symptom, but the delay it seems was caused by the very means taken to discover the thief. The thorough manner in which the officers worked served to keep the culprit upon his guard, and caused the absenteeism which prevented an earlier arrest. Property holders in the country towns will feel easier since it has been demonstrated that discovery sooner or later will follow the perpetration of the kind of crime within the limits of Rockingham county.

PORTSMOUTH PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Last Friday evening completed the first two weeks, during which the Portsmouth Public Library has been open for the delivery of books. During that time 751 volumes have been taken out. The largest number on any one evening was on Saturday, Jan. 8th, when 142 books were delivered. The number of applicants, every evening, requires the constant attention of Mr. Rich, the efficient and courteous librarian, and at least one lady assistant. Of the number (143) taken out New Year's day, and which, therefore, by the rules of the library now become liable to the fine of one cent per day, only fifteen remained unreturned Friday evening; showing that, at present, no disposition exists to be negligent in reading and returning the books taken.

It is an interesting study to watch the crowd of applicants, and would teach many lessons to those who do not believe in the hunger for books felt by hundreds who cannot easily obtain them from other than free sources. The distances they will walk on the cold evenings and over the rough and slippery walking of the last two weeks, the indifference with which they climb the fatiguing flights of stairs, and the look of satisfaction with which they depart, tell a story which has a moral worth attending to. Not that we would imply that it is only the poor who patronize a free library. By no means. A public library is no more a charitable institution than a public school; and like that, the more it is patronized by all classes, the better for all.

Through the gratuitous and unremitting services of Mr. Rich, who has devoted almost every minute of his spare time to the library ever since the project was first started, the books are nearly all catalogued, and the catalogue will be in the printer's hands in a very few days. When these are ready for delivery, a system of tickets will be adopted similar to that in use in all other public libraries, by which borrowers will be able to indicate exactly what books they want. In this way the constant handling of the books is avoided, and greater order and promptness of delivery obtained.

The continual donation of books received at the library has, of course, delayed the work of cataloguing—but very agreeably. It is hoped that such donations will continue to flow in. For one item we will mention that good books for young people—not trash, but such as interesting histories of travel and adventure,—are very much needed.

In conclusion, we congratulate those whose faith and patience have been sufficient to carry them through the labor and difficulties attending the commencement of every benevolent or useful enterprise. They have good reason to feel satisfied with the first fruits of their work.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The subscription list of the Saco Republican has been sold to the Biddeford Times.

The annual supper of the 1st Christian church of York will take place at the Sea Cottage on the 18th inst.

Large quantities of sea weed were thrown on the beach at York by the heavy gales during the early part of this month.

Lieut. L. E. Fagan, U. S. N., who has been absent in Philadelphia upon leave, has again returned to duty at the marine barracks at this navy yard.

The Sunday school class of Mrs. Kimball, wife of the pastor of the South Eliot church, on the 8th inst. presented her with a beautiful autograph album.

W. W. Larrabee of Saco, twenty-five years old, was found dead in his office with a bottle of chloroform beside him, Saturday morning. It is thought he took an overdose of the chloroform by accident.

The measles are reported to be very prevalent in the Spruce creek district at Kittery; more than forty cases have occurred, in some instances whole families having taken the complaint. Measles and canker rash are also reported as flourishing greatly at Cape Neddick.

"Never within the memory of the oldest inhabitant" of York village has water been so scarce as now. We are informed that from York corner to the village none of the wells are giving water suitable for drinking or culinary purposes, though there are several springs which still hold out.

The Biddeford Times says: "We are informed that Mr. John Wentworth of Kittery is to build a fine two-story house in the spring, with all the modern improvements. Mr. Wentworth has a fine farm, and with a new house will set many an anxious mother a match-making." Look out, John!

On the morniug of Jan. 5th, at South Berwick junction, an old gentleman named John B. Foss, familiarly known as Elder Foss, was found dead on the floor of his house. He has been accustomed to stop alone at his own house at night, and to take his meals at the house of his son, who lives but a short distance away; as he did not come at the usual time, search was made, and he was found dead as stated.

THE Philadelphia TIMES.

The Times for 1881.

The Times enters the New Year with a larger circle of regular readers than it had at any previous period of its history, and the important events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thrift in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are diverted from the stern criticism of minority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the future as it has been in the past, absolutely independent of political parties, but earnestly and fearlessly devoted to integrity and patriotism in our statesmanship and to the freedom and sanctity of the ballot. Independent party organs will continue to babble about party men and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and the demagogue; to suppress, pervert or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to lavish the regulation praise of the servant to the master, but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newspaper, and the journals which best reflect the rapidly increasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the future.

The Times aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It fearlessly opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in city, state or nation. It opposes every form of imperial political denomination, whether represented by an individual, by a faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as a demon of the Republic, and it demands stable tranquility and the supremacy of liberty and law for every citizen of the Union.

The Times will begin the New Year strengthened in all of its already exceptionally strong departments. Its Annals of the war will be continued in the Weekly Edition, with specially interesting extracts therefrom in the other editions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the distinguished soldiers and civilians of both north and south. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its reliable news correspondence is unsurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and family circle are constantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won solely on its merits, as one of the most reliable and complete newspapers of the world.

Terms: Daily—delivered by carriers, for twelve cents a week; mail subscription, six dollars a year, or fifty cents a month, postage free. Sunday Edition—Double sheet, two dollars a year, postage free; single copies, four cents. Weekly—Published every Saturday morning, two dollars a year; five copies, $8; ten copies, $15; twenty copies, $25. An extra copy sent free to the getter-up of a club. Address THE TIMES, TIMES BUILDING, Philadelphia.

We can safely assert that nothing equals Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for all cases of Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, etc. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Why It Is So.

The reason way Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" cures complaints of the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, is that it is compounded of the very remedies which nature herself has provided for this purpose. Being at first scattered through the woods and fields, Dr. K. has collected them, and after long and careful experiment has condensed their virtues in the form which he now confidently offers to the sick and suffering. One dollar expended for a bottle will convince you and make you grateful that you read this item. The doctor's office practice is in Rondout, N. Y. Write him a statement of your case.

How to Sweep and Dust.

To sweep and dust a room properly is an art, and like all fine arts has a right method. Well done, it renovates the entire room, and the occupant takes possession feeling that "all things have become new."

It is not merely a performance to be done by the hand, but a work into which taste and judgment—in other words, brains—must enter. Are there closets opening into the room to be swept? Arrange the shelves, drawers or clothing, preparatory to sweeping day; then let this be the first to be swept. Cover the bed with soiled sheets, as also all heavy articles that cannot be removed; first, however, having carefully dusted and brushed them. Remove all the furniture that can be easily set in the hall or adjoining room, having first dusted it; then take a step-ladder, begin to sweep or brush, or wipe, the cornice, and picture cords and pictures. Draw the shades to the top of the window, or if there are inside blinds, dust them carefully. Open the windows. All the dust left in the room is on the carpet or air, and the windows will soon settle it.

Now begin to sweep, not toward a door or corner, but from the outer edge of the room toward the center, where the dust will be taken up with a small brush and dust-pan. Go over the room once more, this time with a dampened broom; that removes the last bit of dust, and gives the carpet a new, bright appearance. Replace the articles of furniture as soon as the air is entirely free from dust, uncover the rest, and the room is new and clean. All this seems an easy thing to do, but there is not one in a hundred who will follow out the detail. Some will sweep the dust into the hall or from one room to another, and then wonder why their house is so dusty again. Others forget cornice and pictures, and thus leave a seed of future annoyance; while a third class will do all but u ing the damp broom, which is as the finishing touches to a picture.—Farm and Garden.

Soap as an Antiseptic.

A scrap has been going the rounds of our medical contemporaries recently, specially commending the virtues of "Thymoline Soap" for cleaning surgical instruments. In view of the possible transmission of disease by means of surgical instruments, it is certainly well that they should, in all cases after use, be thoroughly cleaned; and in this probably consists their general freedom from danger, surgeons being habitually careful in this regard. But "Thymoline Soap" is a chimera.

According to the Paris Pharmaceutical Society, in their formulæ for new remedies, 1877, when the essential oil of thyme is shaken with an aqueous solution of potash or soda, it is decomposed; the thymene does not combine with the alkali—is not saponifiable—and separates, the thymol (the antiseptic) readily dissolves, and by treating the solution with an acid, it is thrown down and crystallizes. The mol is, according to Buchloz, a powerful antiseptic, "ten times the power of carbolic acid." But, although it is soluble in the alkaline hydrates of potash and soda, it cannot be made to enter into combination with them; and being volatile, the heat necessary in the process of making soap dissipates it. It is clear, therefore, that the virtues ascribed to "Thymoline Soap" are simply due to the detergent qualities of soap; cleanliness, in this case, being the true antiseptic; and to effect this, the purer the soap from all extraneous substances the better. Thymol is unquestionably a powerful antiseptic, but this is not the way to apply it; moreover, it is unfortunately expensive, and its use, therefore, limited. Soap, on the contrary, is abundant and cheap, and with due precautions in obtaining that which is pure it may be safely relied upon for all purposes of mere cleanliness, without the addition of any extraneous substances whatever.—THE SANITARIAN for January.

—The philosophic Billings graphically illustrates the difference between a blunder and a mistake. "When a man puts down a bad umbrella and takes up a good one," saith Josh, "he makes a mistake; but when he puts down a good one and takes up a bad one he makes a blunder."

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The honor then attributed freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

FELLOWS'

Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, original by me, and is Cannot be made under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has always been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the act mal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the sections; neither disorders the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The Sanitarian" for January is the first number of volume ninth, and begins the publication of the proceedings at the recent meeting of the American Health association in New Orleans. The leading papers are: Progressive Sanitation; What the State Owes the People, by Erastus Brooks; and a startling report by Medical Director A. L. Gihon, U. S. N., on the extensive prevalence of diseases of a private nature. Address "The Sanitarian," New York city; $3 per year.

"The Moral Lesson of Gen. Garfield's life: an address delivered by Hon. Frank Fuller, (Ex-Gov. of Utah,) to the young men of New York on the 3d Oct. last at Cooper institute," has been published in neat pamphlet form by Fowler & Wells of New York. The address was also given at the Park street church in Boston, and highly appreciated by the Boston audience. Gov. Fuller is both an easy speaker and a graceful writer, and his address will be enjoyed by numerous readers in its present attractive shape.

The Society for Political Education has just issued its first economic tract, of the series of 1880-81, entitled, "What is a Bank? What Services does it Perform?" by Edward Atkinson. It reviews in a brief way the functions of money, the difference between money and currency; it shows the relation which the banks bear to the exchange of commodities, and, in simple language, sets forth the functions of a bank. It is not technical in its treatment, and many persons, unfamiliar with the subject but accustomed to think of it as a hidden mystery, will be surprised to find how simple are the operations of that wonderful modern financial agent—a bank. Mr. Atkinson as a writer and speaker is well known in New England. The tract upon banks will be followed by other publications of similar character.

"Appleton's Journal" for February has a rich and varied table of contents, including criticism, romance and essay. The second installment of Erckmann-Chatrian's novelette, "The Veterans of Yesterday," and a very effective sketch by Rudolph Lindau, entitled "A Deadly Feud," give to the department of romance unusual interest. Miss Bird's "Wanderings in Japan;" Ebers' Egyptian Romances, and Jenning's "Parliamentary Anecdotes," are the books selected for lengthy discussion. Then, in the department of essay, we have "Rambles among Books"—presumably from the pen of Leslie Stephen; "Decorative Decorations," by Grant Allen; "Shakespeare's Traducers;" and "Music," by Rev. H. R. Haweis. A paper on "The Irish Land Question;" one on "Buddhists and Buddhism in Burmah;" and one on "The Photophone," come under the classification of articles of information. "Notes for Readers," the new editorial department, is interesting, and "The Editor's Table" is, as usual, suggestive and valuable, the topics being "Alleged Decline in the Handicrafts," "Recent Art in Bookbinding," "American Wood-Engraving," and "The American Physical Type." D. Appleton & Co., New York; $3.00 per annum.

"The International Review" for February contains John Quincy Adams' diary, by John T. Morse, Jr.; Froude's defence of Henry the 8th, by R. H. Parkenson; Tariff question, by H. A. Hill; M. Zola as a critic, by Thos. Sergeant Perry; Hans Christian Anderson, by L. Katscher; Fiction and public libraries, by James M. Hubbard; Tennyson's new volume, by Geo. Barrett Smith; and Our mercantile marine, by John Codman. Mr. Hubbard maintains that no novel or story-book should be bought or allowed to go into circulation until it had received the approval of one or more persons specially appointed for this purpose, who shall have read them and pronounced them fit to be put in the hands of any child—rather a severe task to impose upon the persons, who ought to be well paid for such kind of drudgery. The articles in this number are full of interest, and well worth reading. Published by A. S. Barnes & Co., of New York, at $5.00 per year; single numbers, fifty cents each.

Married, and yet unhappy. How many a home has been robbed of sunshine and happiness and rendered sad and desolate by the loss of some dear and petted child. This is a dangerous season for children, and parents should keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup handy. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The colored people of Kentucky are signing a petition to Congress pointing out their poverty and ignorance, and asking that the proceeds of public land sales be devoted to education, instead of merely the interest on the proceeds of such sales.

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, for pamphlets.

—The average Yankee gives a faint chuckle of satisfaction as he reads of Birmingham supplying Ireland with arms. The boot is on the other leg this time.

Every one that knows me, knows that I have for 15 years swallowed thousands of different nostrums for dyspepsia and biliousness, all to no good. D. R. V. G. has cured me.

—In Bradford, Pennsylvania, Jessie Hill, aged eight years, and Carrie Beers, aged six, were fatally burned at the home of the former while they were playing together. Carrie was taken to her home two blocks away. In an hour Jessie died, calling for Carrie to come, and half an hour later Carrie died, and the last words she uttered were, "Wait for me, Jessie, I am coming." This singular coincidence in two dying children some distance away from each other is verified by the most indisputable evidence.

I strongly recommend the use of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility.

J. H. Scott, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

—The man who invented the gas meter never thought he had found perpetual motion. But he did, though. Just you leave home a couple of months and you will find that meanwhile it goes on, just like the salary of a clergyman who has gone to Europe for his health.

The use of Malt Bitters increases the flesh and prevents pulmonary or wasting diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18. 1881.

Quite a Country.

Gen. Walker on Monday sent to the House the complete census returns of the whole country. The census of the states shows the population to be 49,369,595, and of the territories 783,271, making a grand total of 50,152,866.

News and Notes.

Frank, alias "Buck" Walsh, a notorious burglar, sentenced to twenty years in Sing Sing prison from Brooklyn, made a break on the ice, Saturday, and was shot dead by Guard Edward Nolan.

At Cumberland Centre, Me., Friday, a mad dog ran through the village, bit two dogs, and then rushed toward the school house. A little girl outside tried to escape, but was bitten severely on one leg. The dog then sprang into the school house, and seized a little boy sitting in front, biting nearly through his arm. The dog was finally killed, as well as the other dogs which were bitten.

James F. Hart, aged sixteen years, messenger boy of the American Union telegraph company, jumped off a Grand Trunk train, at Portland, Me., Saturday. He slipped under the cars and was cut in two, dying instantly.

Jean Baptiste Narbonne, who has confessed the murder of his brother Dan, and his father and stepmother, at whose instigation he committed the deed, have been sentenced at Montreal to be hanged February 25th. The father and mother are eighty-five and eighty years old respectively.

Cal. Huey was hanged Friday afternoon at Osceola, Arkansas, for the murder of John Broadway in Crittendon county, in the fall of 1879. Huey, with three others, entered Broadway's house masked, and killed him because he refused to give up money they thought he had in his possession. Of the four concerned in the murder, Jeffres, and Potter are still at large; the other, L. L. Ford, was hanged last June.

Fred. Drake, belonging in Stoughton, Mass., fell dead in the saloon of Patrick Daly, at East Plymouth, Saturday. He was about twenty-five years of age. The probable cause of death was heart disease.

Joseph Clifton, of Fall River, Mass., two daughters and a son, were seriously poisoned a few days ago by eating poisoned rabbit, which was purchased of a pedlar, and which they supposed to have been shot. For several days their condition was critical, but they are all right now.

James Callam, Jr., a young boot and shoe dealer of Fall River, Mass., has it is stated left for parts unknown within a few days, much to the surprise of his creditors, who have been trying to find his whereabouts. It is thought his assets left behind will meet his liabilities, and that he is in some kind of a scrape, the nature of which has not yet been made public.

Reports from all parts of South Carolina show that the cotton and rice crops have been greatly damaged by protracted wet weather. It is estimated of the cotton unpicked in December fully one-half has been lost, while the rest has been much damaged in quality. On the Sea Islands the crop is rotting in the fields. The rice harvest, owing mainly to the rainy weather, is one of the most unfortunate on record.

A middle-aged couple visited Kansas City on their honeymoon journey, and stayed at the house of the bride's brother. There the bridegroom fell in love with his wife's niece, won her consent to an elopement, and continued his journey with her.

The Permanent Exhibition at Philadelphia is to be abandoned and the centennial buildings sold.

Miss Mary Hart of Pittsfield, Mass., recently bitten on the arm by a poisonous spider, will suffer amputation of that member. It is doubtful if her life can be saved.

A young man teaching school in Manchester, Maine, was recently brought up in a police court for striking one of his pupils, a girl, on the hand with a chair-round, for disobeying him by whispering. The magistrate decided that he was justified in it, and discharged him.

An appalling disaster is reported from the Rocky mountain country near Salt Lake. Avalanches came rolling down the mountains surrounding the mining town of Alta, and a great part of the village was buried. A portion of the inhabitants escaped, leaving their homes with nothing but their clothes on their backs, the women wallowing through the snow as best they could, the men carrying the children. A number of lives were lost, and it is expected that many more will perish.

MATTERS IN RYE.

Rye, Jan. 17th.

The concert at the Congregational church on Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., by a double quartette from Portsmouth, under the auspices of the Martha Washington Society, was a success in all respects, and netted the "Marthas" quite a sum. Everything about the concert was strictly first-class, from the combined melody of the pieces rendered by the eight ladies and gentlemen composing the double quartette, to the solos of Miss Edith Wendell, and the violin playing of Mr. Harlow. The gem of the evening was the singing of "Waiting" by Miss Wendell, with Mr. Harlow's accompaniment on the violin; it received, as it deserved, an encore. Miss Wendell also sang the "Kerry Dance," which also was applauded to the echo. It is also safe say that the Congregational church never before in its history had such exquisite sounds within its walls from a violin, as Mr. Harlow produced on this occasion. Before the concert commenced, Mrs. C. O. Philbrick, the organist of the church, played several voluntaries on the really fine organ, put into the church a few years since. The piano, which was kindly loaned for the occasion by Rev. J. W. Kingsbury, the pastor of the church, was most ably presided over by Miss Hanscom, the organist of the Universalist church at Portsmouth. After the concert, the performers were invited to partake of a little lunch which some thoughtful "Martha" had prepared in the vestry for them.

At the Christian church, on Thursday, there was commenced a series of meetings which will terminate this week. Rev. Ira S. Jones, the pastor, has had the assistance of several of the ministry of that denomination from the neighboring towns during these meetings; and Saturday evening, and on Sunday, Elder D. P. Pike, the veteran of the denomination, from Newburyport, conducted the services in his usual efficient and vigorous manner.

The cases of scarlet fever which have been reported in the Centre school district, are all in a fair way to recover, and it is probable that the school will soon be re-opened. Mr. John O. Foss' family appear to have been more under its influence than any other, as all except one of its members have been more or less on the invalid list for a week past.

Water in some wells is still a very scarce article, and cattle in some instances have to be driven quite a distance to get their wants supplied, while families in different localities have to haul their water for family purposes from springs and brooks. Such a dry time, as regards wells, was hardly ever experienced in this town before.

Mr. Horace Sawyer and wife, and Miss Alice Jenness, started for a trip south on Wednesday, the 12th inst., and expect to be absent several weeks. They are accompanied by Mr. Albert Batchelder and wife of Little Boar's Head.

Mr. John E. Leavitt at last accounts was at Cedar Keys, Fla., and Mr. Albert Johnson at Jacksonville. Mr. George H. Lang, who also went to Florida some weeks since, has returned north, and is now in Boston.

The members of the Rye Musical Association met recently and voted to re-organize, after which they elected the old officers, and also chose Mr. David Jenness conductor, which position he has held since the first organization of the association, some seven or more years since. The members of the association are all more or less proficient in the musical and vocal art, and no doubt but what in their rehearsals, which are to take place once a week through the winter, they will be interested enough to make it pleasant and instructive to all concerned. New music books are to be provided, and measures have been taken to form an orchestra.

Henry S. Bickford and Erving J. Seavey have been drawn as jurors to attend the supreme court at Exeter. Nat.

An order for 144 locomotives has been given to the Baldwin locomotive works at Philadelphia by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, for the equipment of its extension. The total cost will be over $1,000,000.

AROUND HOME.

Rev. Arthur A. Waite will give three performances at the Franklin theatre, Jan. 21st, 22d and 23d.

Neil Burgess is to appear again in this city shortly as the Widow Bedott—one of the best pieces of humorous character acting ever presented.

Mr. W. P. Benedict has been chosen clerk of the Trust & Guarantee Co., to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Charles T. Shillaber, who has taken a position with Hon. E. H. Winchester.

Mr. Willis H. Edson, who has for some time been with Mr. C. E. Boynton, the extensive bottler of lager and manufacturer of soda water, ginger ale, etc., is going to Clinton, Mass., to engage in the same business at that place.

The Eastern railroad company will build eight new passenger cars in the shops of the company at Salem this winter. They are to be of the same style in general as the two last placed upon the line, during the past summer.

The Dover Republican announces that "Mrs. Pickering of Portsmouth is to be invited to address the citizens of Dover in general, and the members of the S. P. C. A. in particular, on matters pertaining to the permanent organization in Dover of this much-needed society."

A party of over forty of Dover's prominent ladies and gentlemen had a sleighride to Dover point last Thursday evening, and a supper at the Dover Point hotel, winding up with a dance. The party returned to Dover before sunrise Friday morning—which the Republican says was easy for them to do, as the sun did not show himself all day.

A few weeks ago we stated that the new Dover vessels paid twenty per cent, which sounds very finely; but we have the schooner Margie, of this port, that beats them. The Margie has had laid out on her hull and for top gear over $1300, and has paid the owners forty-one per cent besides. She is commanded by Capt. J. C. Hoyt of Kittery, and Mr. Geo. T. Vaughan of this city is her agent.

The arrivals fish on Monday were as follows: Schooner Harrie M. Young, 1500 lbs.; Bonita, 3000; Rover's Bride, 2500; Comet, 3000; Iris, 2500; Water Lily, 6000; Fleur De Lis, 3000; Ann S. Smith, 1500; Mary E. Caswell, 2500; Grace Choate, 1500 lbs. The fishermen advance different theories in regard to the absence of fish since the last storm, but no one knows the real cause why the vessels do not get better fares. The price of fish is advancing.

The return of the "Tourists" to this city last night was the occasion of one of the largest gatherings, if not the largest, that ever assembled under Mr. Wentworth's management here. The vocalization of the piece was excellently done, Miss Carrie Swain, Miss Louise Leighton, Miss Jeannette Reifferth, Mr. Mestayer, Mr. Eckert, Mr. Long, and Mr. Bray singing in their several roles very effectively, while the concerted music was finely rendered. The large and varied audience were greatly delighted with the performance—in fact too delighted. They insisted upon recall after recall in many of the numbers, to the end, so that the play was lengthened far beyond its proper representation.—Boston Traveller.

This entertainment will be presented at Music hall to-morrow evening. See notice in another column.

THE TELEPHONE.

It is stated that there is a telephone in operation in this city, but with what places it connects or whether open for public business we are not informed. Possibly the managers or owners are not ready to do business, and possibly one of these days we shall know all about it. But there is one telephone line connecting a brewery or some kind of an establishment, no matter what, with the office of the proprietor, and the other day an inexperienced man attempted to talk over the wires. The proprietor enquired of the works, "How do you get on there?" The reply came in a foreign accent, "First-rate; the barrels are all loaded." Proprietor, (having a knowledge of a slight failing in his man:) "What have you got to drink there?" The new man, (in amazement, turning to a companion:) "Well now, see that! He smells me breath with me voice."

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Jan. 17; Bat'helder, J.

John Lyons, with several aliases, was brought up on a charge of horse stealing; he was arraigned on four counts, to each of which he pleaded not guilty. Harriman and Mack appeared for the prosecution; Wm. R. Foster for the defence.

Hon. E. H. Winchester and Mr. Chas. E. Foss testified as to the disappearance of a horse from Mr. Winchester's stable on the night of Saturday, Dec. 10th, giving descriptions of the horse, and of other articles stolen at the same time.

Mr. John N. Cole of Andover, Mass., testified to having seen a horse answering to the description of the one stolen from Mr. Winchester, pass through Andover at about one o'clock on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11th, with a man on his back; and Mr. Cole identified the prisoner as the man he saw on the horse.

Mr. Charles O. Tweed of Reading, Mass., testified that he kept a livery stable, and that on Sunday afternoon about four o'clock, a horse answering to the description was lead into his stable by a man who came from Andover way. He stated that the horse seemed very tired, and would not eat the feed given him. He identified the prisoner as the man who brought the horse to his stable.

Officer Cavanaugh, of Somerville, Mass., who arrested the prisoner, and Sheriff Kent, also gave testimony; and the prisoner was held in $1000 for his appearance at the April term of the supreme court. We are informed that other important evidence against him is in the hands of the officers, but is withheld from the public for obvious reasons, the prosecution only putting in enough to justify his being held.

Immediately after the horse was stolen, Mr. Winchester urged the officers to aim their efforts at the detection of the thief, and make the recovery of the valuble animal a minor consideration.

"THE YANKEE."

It is seldom, in these days, that one dares to mount the lecture platform and deliver a poem. Once this was a popular and pleasing portion of the lecture course, but for many years it has fallen into disuse.

Those who were fortunate enough to listen to Rev. C. F. Lee's "Rhyme of the Yankee," given before the patrons of the course of lectures at the Universalist church, on Monday evening, enjoyed it much, and left with the impression that a poem is not so bad to listen to after all. The church is not, in some respects, a fortunate place to deliver lecture or poem, if the orator or poet expects any substantial manifestation of either appreciation or approbation. Applause does not come naturally from pews. It seems a trifle indecrous and out of place. The feeling of respect for the usual sacredness of the place restrains the natural inclination to either laugh or applaud.

One of our resident clergyman some time since gave a lecture in a country town. It was delivered in the church of solemn style, and in which the audience han been accustomed each one from the earliest years to listen in reverential silence at what was said or sung. Our friend made occasionally an excellent hit, with here and there a stray joke, such as some clergymen have so frequent desire and few opportunities to let off. But the lecture was listened to only in respectful silence, and without demonstration of any sort. After the close, one of the local listeners appreciatingly remarked to him in a half-apologetic tone, "I liked to have snickered right out in the meeting at one thing in your lecture." Our prophet would liked to have been compensated even to that extent for his effort, but he was convinced by this intimation that though in solemn silence all

Sat round that dark, ill lighted hall,

he had kindled a flame of appreciation if it had only been proper to have given it vent.

The poem of Mr. Lee abounded in good hits, witty sayings and keen touches. If undemonstrative the audience were by no means unappreciative, and the close attention paid the poet best shew that his efforts were enjoyed in that true sense which silently drank in all the good things, though no demonstrative smack of the lips followed the taste.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The meetings last week were more than usually interesting and well attended. Mrs. Silas Philbrick conducted the gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening; remarks were made by several friends, including Mr Hodgdon, a reformed man from Lynn, Mass. Four young misses spoke a dialogue, entitled "Curing a Drunkard," and Misses Annie Horn and Alice Fletcher each gave a recitation, which were deservedly well received by the audience. Mr. Janvrin, in behalf of the friends of the mission and reform club, presented Mr. John Hague, the organist, with a purse containing $22, as a token of respect for his services during the past three years. At the close of the meeting it was announced that another dialgone would be presented next Saturday evening, by twenty-four girls and boys

Nearly every seat was occupied at the bethel service at 4:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The service was especially devoted to the interests of seamen, and was participated in by a number of the friends of seamen, including Mrs. Philbrick, one of the directors of the Seamen's Aid society. The choir from the Pearl street Free Baptist church were present, and sang several appropriate pieces, including "Where is my wandering boy tonight." We are glad to announce that they have consented to sing at the bethel service each sabbath afternoon. We ask all interested in the welfare of women to remember this branch of mission work, especially as ours is the only meeting held in the special religious interest of the sailor in our state on the Sabbath. The bethel is supported entirely by voluntary contribution, and a good work has been and is being done in our midst for "men of the sea."

The mission hall was crowded at the reform club meeting, Sunday evening, and many had to go away, unable to get seats. Interesting remarks were made by Mr. Hodgdon, and also by Dr. Jones and several members of the club. A larger hall is talked about for the meetings; probably the Franklin theatre. L.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The Second Christian church of Kittery has invited the pastor, Mr. Beck, to remain another year, and he has accepted the invitation.

Mr. William Furbish, of Beech ridge, York, it is said is to stock the pond in front of his barn with trout. He has recently been the recipient of a valuable full-blooded Scotch terrier, from which he expects to raise some choice dogs.

In the Kennebunk district, in 1880, ten vessels were built, having a total tonnage of 1746.47 tons. The largest of the ten was the barque Saranac, of 1080.63 tons; the smallest was the schooner Pinafore, of 10.65 tons. The list comprises the steamers Montauk, J. W. Hawkins, Nat Strong and George Hudson; barque Saranac; schooners Pinafore, Gracie Smith, Actae, Oakwoods and Walter Smith. The Oakwoods was built at Kennebunkport, and all the others at Kennebunk.

At the navy yard, Saturday morning, Charles E. Currier, a smith's apprentice, undertook to lower a piece of iron weighing about a ton and a half which was hanging from a crane, and in doing so lifted the pawl, when the winch-handle flew back and struck him in the face, knocking out two of his teeth and making a gash which required three stitches to close; had not the winch pawled itself just as the handle struck him, he would probably have been killed. His wounds were dressed by Medical Inspector Leach, at the yard hospital.

The will case of Aaron McKenney of Saco, who was over 102 years old when he died, came up for trial in the supreme court at Saco last week, and attracted great interest. The will was made when the old gentleman was 100 years old, and a codicil was executed at a later date. He gave his property to a housekeeper who lived with him thirty years; the legal heirs, consisting of nephews and neices, about forty in number, have joined together to contest the will; the judge of probate last summer allowed both will and codicil, and the present trial is on an appeal from his decision.

A man named Tilly was arrested in New York a day or two ago on complaint of William Pierson, an engineer, of North Berwick. On Saturday morning, the 8th inst., he arrived in New York by one of the Fall River boats on his way to Savannah, Ga. His mother was living in Savannah, and he had money with which to bring her back with him to Maine. On the boat he had fallen in with a man to whom he had foolishly told all his plans. He bought a ticket Saturday morning for Savannah, and had $110 left. While waiting for the vessel to sail he was accosted by a man who called him by name, and asked him if he was not from North Berwick. He was surprised that the man knew his name and history, and thought he must have met him before. The stranger said he was going to Savannah, where he owned a large planing and saw mill. He wanted to employ a good engineer, and offered to give Pierson the job. He then borrowed Pierson's $110, and disappeared.

A cabin in the mountains near Georgetown, Col., occupied by William and Knox Pinkard of New Orleans and a colored servant, was swept away last week by a snow-slide. There is no trace of the occupants.

SHIPMAN, Illinois.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I wish to state that my daughter, aged 18, was pronounced incurable and was fast failing, as the doctors thought, with consumption. I obtained a half dozen bottles of your Discovery for her and she commenced improving at once, and is now well and strong. She took the Discovery last fall.

Very truly yours,

Political Notes.

Not long ago, Senator Hamlin of Maine and Postmaster General Maynard were talking of the unsatisfactory life a public man leads. Mr. Maynard complained that he had been a quarter of a century in public life, and was poorer than when he entered. "Well," replied Hamlin, "I am not. I had nothing when I commenced, and I have it now."

A Hernando (Miss) dispatch says that the testimony of five hundred witnesses in the contest in the second congressional district shows that fifteen hundred republican majority in that county was changed to eight hundred democratic majority.

All the machinery in the new Ocean mill, at Newburyport, came from England, where it was purchased at twenty-five per cent less than it could be bought for in this country.

A meeting of the members of the New York Cotton Exchange was held Saturday afternoon to protest against the consolidation of the Western Union, Atlantic & Pacific and American Union telegraph companies. A committee of eleven was appointed to confer with the cotton, produce and other exchanges throughout the country, as well as with bankers, merchants and others opposed to any monopoly of the telegraphic business of the United States, with a view to having telegraphic service performed by a company so organized as to prevent its being absorbed by or consolidated with any other company.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Jan. 12.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3[illegible]; sheep and lambs 1694; swine 15,860; Veals 50; number western cattle 2100; eastern cattle 430; milch cows and northern cattle 280.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $6 60 @ 6 75; first quality $5 50 @ 5 [illegible]; second quality $4 50 @ 5 12½; third quality $4 @ 4 25; poorest grades of oxen, bulls, etc., $3 25 @ 3 75.

Brighton hides 8c per lb.

Brighton tallow 7c per lb.

Country hides 7½ @ 8c per lb.

Country tallow 4½ @ 5c per lb.

Calf skins 10 @ 12c per lb.

Sheep and lambs skins $1 25 @ 1 50 each.

Trade for beef cattle has been dull at a decline of ½c per lb from prices of Thursday one week ago. There has been a light demand for shipping cattle and a few of the best drovers have been sold at 6 @ 6½c per lb live weight, but the larger portion of western cattle sold to butchers have been selling at 5 @ 5½c per lb live weight. There were some very nice beef cattle brought in from Maine, which were sold at 6c per lb dressed weight. The quality of the western cattle was full as good as those brought in the week ago.

Working Oxen—Not much call for them; a few pairs each week at the present time is all the market requires. We did not notice any sales this week, the trains from Maine being detained by the snow. There were no sales effected on Tuesday.

Milch Cows—Extra $55 @ 65; ordinary $30 @ 45; springers $18 @ 30 per head. There is a fair demand for good cows, but common grades have sold dull for several weeks past.

Store Cattle—Not much call for them. Most of the small cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were all owned by butchers and taken direct to the Abattoir to be slaughtered, cooled, loaded at Brighton, from 6 @ 7c per lb, live weight.

Swine—Fat Hogs, owned by butchers, costing landed at the slaughter house, from 5[illegible] @ 5[illegible]c per lb, live weight.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation, it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—

Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster, county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration of their Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 16, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' BLOOD-PURIFYING SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dixi Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, as I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Blake, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hovey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Dennison, M. D., Frankfort, N. H. Give me the Shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Gallnette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in its healing and renovating properties.—Wm. R. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilber, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared from selected SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SHAKER SISTERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

Much Corn.

A. S. Gardener of Ypsilanti, Mich., in response to a challenge to produce an ear of corn with 900 kernels, produced a basketful of ears averaging a foot in length, and none having less than 900 kernels to the ear. One specimen had 1269 kernels. The variety is yellow-dented red cob, and was planted in hills four feet apart each way, and yielded 120 bushels to the acre.

So said the blind man after the Saviour had healed him. Actual blindness is not easy to cure, although it is sometimes done. But remember that disease of the eyes often result from impure blood. If you have any reason to think your bad eyes may have come from this cause, lose not an hour of time in buying a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy;" which will cost you only one dollar, and take it to cleanse your blood. You can implicitly trust it to this. Or drop a line to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. State your case fully and get the doctor's opinion free.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m,w & f ag jan8

Another Apportionment Bill.

On Monday, in the national House of Representatives, Hon. S. S. Cox of New York introduced a bill to fix the number of representatives at three hundred and one, apportioning them among the states as follows:

Alabama	8
Arkansas	5
California	5
Colorado	1
Connecticut	4
Delaware	1
Florida	1
Georgia	9
Illinois	19
Indiana	12
Iowa	10
Kansas	6
Kentucky	10
Louisiana	6
Maine	4
Maryland	6
Massachusetts	11
Michigan	10
Minnesota	5
Mississippi	7
Missouri	13
Nebraska	2
Nevada	1
New Hampshire	2
New Jersey	7
New York	31
North Carolina	8
Ohio	19
Oregon	1
Pennsylvania	28
Rhode Island	2
South Carolina	6
Tennessee	10
Texas	10
Virginia	9
Vermont	3
West Virginia	4
Wisconsin	8

Compared with the present number of members, this bill causes the following losses and gains: Arkansas, California, Iowa, Michigan, Mississippi, South Carolina and West Virginia gain one each; Kansas gains three; Texas, four; Minnesota and Nebraska gain two each; Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Hampshire, Maine, Indiana, Tennessee, Florida and Vermont, lose one each; and New York loses two.

Congress.

The Senate, on the 17th inst., refused to lay on the table the bill for the relief of Ben Halliday, so that the Kellogg case might be taken up. This is considered as settling the fact that Kellogg is not to be unseated.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Williams to establish an ocean mail service, proposing to appropriate $500,000 for this purpose. It authorizes the postmaster-general to make contracts for transportation of United States mails to such West Indian, South American, Central-American, Mexican, Asiatic and European ports as in his judgment will best subserve and promote the postal and commercial interests of the United States; propositions for the performance of this service to be advertised for and the service to be let to the lowest bidder, to begin as soon as practicable after the execution of the contracts. The bill also provides that vessels employed in this service must be steamships, built in American ship yards, and owned and officered by American citizens, the annual rate of compensation for the service not to exceed $30 per mile one way per annum.

In the House, on the 17th, Mr. Springer offered a resolution directing the committee on post offices to enquire into the expediency of establishing a telegraphic postal system by the government of the United States, and also as to the cost of reproducing facilities for transmitting telegraph messages equal to those now possessed by existing corporations, and as to the expediency of operating the same, granting that committee power to send for persons and papers and authorizing it to report at any time by bill or otherwise.

—"Girls," remarks the Danbury News, "are very fond of military titles, excepting, perhaps, that of general housework."

News and Notes.

George Lawrence and wife, living nine miles from Springfield, Ill., have died in horrible agonies from trichinae, and their two children are suffering greatly. Lawrence was a farm hand, and the pig from which the fatal disease came was given him by his employer. Portions of the meat have been analyzed, and found to be alive with trichinae.

Geo. Hines, aged fifty-five years, residing near Grayson, Stanislaus county, Cal., on Sunday last put a revolver in his pocket, and saying to his partner: "I am going to have that girl, or I will kill her," proceeded to the residence of Lizzie Keene, a girl of eighteen, living with her widowed mother. There he renewed a former proposal of marriage, but meeting with a firm though kind refusal, said "I will kill you," and drew his pistol. Miss Keene anticipated him with a shotgun, which was conveniently at hand, and lodged the charge in his head killing him.

Marcus Richardson, the North Bangor centenarian, died Thursday, Jan. 13th, at the advanced age of 100 years, two months and fourteen days. He was the oldest Free Mason in the state of Maine, if not in the United States.

At Lapeer, ten miles from Detroit, Mich., Sunday night, a Mrs. Barnard, forty years old, went to the house of Rev. E. Curtis, a Baptist minister, attacked Mrs. Curtis, an old lady, who was alone, knocked her down, poured gasoline over her, and set her on fire, burning her to death. It is supposed the murderer is insane from religious excitement.

George Zeigler, a saloon keeper of Clinton, Mass, attempted to commit suicide Friday evening by shooting himself. The ball went into his left side. His mother, living near by, hearing the report, hurried to the house and was met at the door by Zeigler's wife, who exclaimed "George has shot himself," and asked her to run for assistance. During her absence Zeigler ran down stairs, shot his mastiff dog, then crossed the street, a distance of ten rods, and jumped into the river. His body has been recovered. Deceased was thirty years old. Probable cause of the act, family troubles. The body of Julia Zeigler, wife of George Zeigler, was found Saturday afternoon in the water about twenty feet from where the body of her husband was recovered.

Dawson habitually whipped his wife at Paducah, Ky. Wyatt, his neighbor, said to him, "If you don't stop the practice I'll kill you." The next time Mrs. Dawson screamed, Wyatt went in and kept his promise by shooting her husband through the body, though the wound did not prove fatal until a week later.

Australian rabbits, whose abundance is one of the pests of farmers there, are now cooked and canned on a great scale. The Colas Preserving company near Melbourne had on an average 7,000 of these agile rodents brought in every night at the beginning of the past season, and the supply increasing, orders were given to limit the daily quantity to 2,700 pairs. Durin the season, which lasted twenty-five weeks, 675,000 rabbits were canned by this establishment alone.

In a country like the United States, where so much attention is given to dress, gentlemen residing at a distance from the recognized fashionable centre, need to consult established authority in order to appear in good form. Mr. Samuel Budd, whose card appears in another column, is consulted by the wealthiest and best-dressed gentlemen in New York society. Mr. Budd is an importer and manufacturer who has studied the peculiarities of dress for over twenty years, and his experience is therefore valuable. His goods for men's wear are of the best, while his dress shirts and collars are pronounced by customers a perfect luxury. Goods to measure, of Europe or American manufacturers, receive Mr. Budd's personal attention.

The business in boys' sleds this year has been most remarkable. They are nearly all made in New England, chiefly in Maine, but New York state produces nearly all sold south of New York city. One firm in San Francisco ordered eight thousand sleds, which went around Cape Horn. Eastern sleds do not go west, where they come into competition with cheap lumber, nor to Canada, where there is a duty of twenty-five per cent against them. American sleds are sent to Sweden. They sell at from at $7.50 a dozen to $8.50 apiece, manufacturer's prices.

—There are Americans enough to take hold of hands and make a girdle round about the earth.

—A boy can pull four times more weight in boys on a sled than he can coal from the back yard.

—The æsthetic exaltation of Boston reaches a climax in the performances of the tragedian, Salvini. The Boston critics went into ecstacies over the Bernhardt, danced with delight at the achievements of the Mapleson opera troupe, and are now thrown into violent hysterics at the grand, majestic, terrible acting of the gentleman from Italy, who declaims in his native tongue, while all the other actors on the stage are talking English. The audience weep so copiously that the fiddlers in the orchestra all have damp feet, with resultant influenza. We submit that this mental dissipation is dangerous for Boston. The strain on its nerves and sympathies is too great.—Worcester Gazette.

SOME FACTS!

NO FANCY FAR-OFF EVIDENCE,

BUT HOME TRUTHS!

It DOES its work WELL, pleasantly and speedily. Good citizens testify to what they see. Nature's law is harmonious. Grapes don't grow on thorns, nor can health be attained by the use of poison in any form, and sophistication in medicine or science, (which only impair nutrition and impoverish the blood.) DR. SMITH'S is no misnomer, but is just what it purports to be. It cures and that is why it sells. Some dealers have sold $ 60.00 worth in a day. No listening, amazing medication. No opium, camphor, alcohol, caps cum nor water, Not a drop! Pleasant and even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

Electric Oil!

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Mumps in Dwight. It has cured Tetter, Scurvey, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.

PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,

A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, at the doctors failed to cure, I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and the man gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.

J. STREAMER, Druggist 23 years.

It is the only safe cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.

Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of Dr. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for each headache, and 20 drops is the largest dose. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and all painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.

Wm. H. Morse, Janitor of Ferson School, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.

DR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more humanitarian act could be done. Advice free. Come and be cured. Bring on the worst cases as you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

A sleighing party from this city went to the Point Cottage at Dover on Monday evening, and were entertained by Landlord Wiggin in good style. Harlow furnished the music. A party from Newington went to the same place on Tuesday evening.

The steamer Mystic, on her half-past nine o'clock trip from this city to Kittery, Tuesday forenoon, ran on the ways of the Franklin ship house and bent her shoe, preventing the use of her propeller. She came off in a few minutes after striking, without other injury. Capt. Trefethen was not in charge of the boat that trip.

The steam pump at the Eastern railroad well ceased work on Tuesday morning, having been constantly running since the Friday afternoon previous. Preparations were begun on Tuesday for removing the drilling gear to the Wentworth at Newcastle, which indicates that the railroad people consider their well deep enough for their purpose.

At the Sheafe place on Middle road, near the Plains, there will be an auction sale to-day, commencing at ten o'clock, when all the personal property of the late Sally Leavitt will be disposed of to the highest bidders. Among the articles to be offered are a cow, wagon, furniture, crockery (some sets quite ancient, and perfect,) beds and bedding, wearing apparel, etc. See advertisement.

Mr. Nathan Brown, of whose recent death in Elizabeth, N. J., there is a notice in this paper, was a son of the late Deacon Isiah Brown of Stratham, and a brother of Mr. Edward M. Brown of this city. He was the oldest of eleven children, nine of whom lived to mature years, and five of whom survive him. He was born at Stratham, June 22d, 1793, and passed his early life in his native town. He was a subaltern officer in Capt. Wingate's company, enlisted in 1814 for the defence of Portsmouth, and drew a pension for that service. In the course of his long life he was in business of various kinds in Newburyport, in New York city, and finally at Elizabeth, where he passed his last years. He was highly respected.

THE TOURISTS.

This evening at Music hall, "The Tourists" will appear. The Boston Post says "this company was the first to inaugurate a certain class of entertainments which have become known among theatrical people as 'Shows of the Tourist class,' and although there have been many imitators, the 'Tourists' stand at the head." "The Globe says they "have many cheap imitators, but no equals." The Advertiser says the "Tourists" are "quite clever in acting, and have splendid voices. The concerted singing is excellent. The fun, the frolic, the jollity, the absurdity, the pleasant music are all there, and the seeker for a series of hearty laughs will not find himself on a fool's errand" in going to see this company.

THOSE "READERS."

An intelligent correspondent at Exeter writes, regarding a recent communication in our paper concerning the rejection of the offer of the publisher of "Appleton's Readers," that "the reading books referred to contain not a single patriotic sentiment. They were designed for the southern market, with especial deference to the prevailing sentiment of that region. For example, that patriotic address of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg, originally inserted in the edition, had to be eliminated before it was permitted to be sold. Patriotic and loyal sentiments are not permitted in these books; and are we ready to exchange books of acknowledged fitness, and which are acceptable to persons of all political views in this part of the country, for books compiled with a toadyish regard for disloyal sentiments? The law of the city, or the school regulations, prohibits more than a single change in a certain specified time, and the change recently asked could not have been made, I am informed, because one other change had been allowed within the limit; but if new reading books are required, let some other than 'Appleton's' be the kind selected."

TEMPLARS' INSTALLATION.

The following officers of DeWitt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar were installed on Monday evening by Sir A. R. Hatch, Post Commander:

Sir Chas. W. Gardner, E. C.;
Sir Chas. W. Norton, Gen.;
Sir Calvin Page, Capt. Gen.;
Sir John Christie, Prelate;
Sir Ben. F. Webster, S. W.;
Sir T. E. O. Marvin, J. W.;
Sir W. N. Ilsley, Treasurer;
Sir James L. Parker, Recorder;
Sir J. Horace Kent, Standard Bearer;
Sir Harry G. Tanton, Sword Bearer;
Sir Andrew P. Preston, Warder;
Sir Stephen W. Clarke, Capt. 1st Guard;
Sir Chas. A. Sinclair, Capt. 2d Guard;
Sir John S. Treat, Capt. 3d Guard;
Sir John Nutter, Sentinel.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The court came in at Exeter on Tuesday. Prayer was offered by Rev. Noah Hooper, of the Baptist church.

Upon call of the civil docket, the following numbers were marked for trial: 24, 25, 70, 82, 83, 105, 106, 112, 137, 154, 171, 174, 184, 185, 187, 193, 206, 207, 213, 220.

The docket, from the number of cases which had been referred, and the vigorous attention given to it in previous terms by Judge Clark, seems to have but few cases which are now in order for trial.

Hon. Wm. W. Stickney, the president of the bar, was absent at the commencement of the term, being confined to his home by sickness. Attorney General Tappan was present, as was James W. Emery of Portsmouth, who has returned to the practice of the profession of law in this county, after an absence of several years.

Case Rowell against Boston & Maine railroad was continued. Other cases which were expected to be in order for an early trial were continued, so that there seemed not much prospect for work this week.

Petit jurors for the first and second weeks: John C. Dutch, Albert Rankin, Exeter; Nathan B. Prescott, Charles H. Clement, Derry; Isaac R. Shepard, Caleb M. Watts, Londonderry; John L. Bennett, Frank Pettigrew, Newmarket; Albert L. Payne, William A. Meloon, Robt. Roberts, John Durgin, Wm. S. Willey, Portsmouth; Isaac Woodbury, Eben B. Wells, Salem; Edmund Pearson, John W. Garland, Hampstead; David J. Garland, John Brown, Hampton; Isaiah E. Brown, Samuel Batchelder, Hampton Falls; Ferdinard L. Blake, John L. Eaton, Kensington; John W. Collins, Stephen F. Nichols, Kingston; Nathaniel W. Yeaton, John V. Campbell, Newcastle; James B. Pickering, Nicholas P. Furber, Newington.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Chase's mills at York were burned late Monday night, with all the stock and machinery; loss $20,000; insurance reported at $12,000. The mill was owned by Capt. Josiah Chase, and the stock by a Mr. Bottomly of Athol, Mass., who was running the mill under a lease. About twenty-five hands were employed in the establishment.

The business men of Kennebunkport held a meeting recently to consider measures for increasing the business of their place. It has a good harbor, and is a place of considerable summer resort. Among the proposed measures is the construction of a branch railroad to the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth road at Kennebunk, six miles, so as to facilitate summer travel and the transportation of coal, and encourage manufactures.

Naval Affairs.

Medical Director F. M. Gunnell is detached from the Richmond and as fleet surgeon of the Asiatic station, and ordered to return home and report his arrival.

Medical Inspector Charles H. Burbank is ordered to the Richmond and as fleet surgeon of the Asiatic station, per steamer of Feb. 8th from San Francisco.

A washington despatch says: "Naval people are a good deal interested in the action of the new secretary of the navy in telegraphing to China permission to Medical Director F. M. Gunnell to return home. Dr. Gunnell had the temerity to oppose the confirmation of the present surgeon general of the navy, Dr. P. S. Wales, who was a favorite with Secretary Thompson. The latter then promeptorily ordered Gunnel to duty in China, although he was not properly subject to this detail. His friends have presented his case to the new secretary in such a way as to secure permission to him to return at once."

New Hampshire Items.

Sunday morning, as Mrs. Michael Hartwell of Hopkinton was on her way to church, she fell on the ice and broke her hip.

New Hampshire has 16,657 persons employed in the manufacture of cotton. There are in the state 25,487 looms, 1,068,521 spindles, and the manufacture requires 171,746 bales of cotton annually.

Political Notes.

Gov. Alvin Hawkins of Tennessee was inaugurated Monday, before a large assembly, at Nashville. He is the first republican governor inaugurated in Tennessee for ten years.

The caucus of democratic members of the Massachusetts legislature on Monday nominated Benjamin F. Butler as their candidate for United States senator. He will not probably be elected.

The republicans of the Massachusetts legislature have nominated Senator Henry L. Dawes for re-election.

—Talmage says: "When I hear that four angels are doing all the singing for heaven I'll permit four people to do the singing for my congregation."

—The Tennessee legislature has chosen a woman as engrossing clerk. The susceptible bald-headed members swear that she is the most engrossing clerk they ever had.—Lowell Citizen.

—A new feature in evening toilets, says the Home Journal, is the floral jabot. We do not wear a jabot ourselves, but presume that it is stuck in the usual place, on the left lapel of the dress coat. A small cabbage makes a very neat jab when there is a scarcity of other plants.

—Forney's Progress, speaking of Hancock, says, "a brave soldier has been deprived of his electoral majority." And this reminds us that we have been deprived of our fortune of $500,000. We never had a fortune of $500,000 to be deprived of, just as the brave Hancock never had an "electoral majority," but we have been deprived of it all the same.—Norristown Herald.

FROZEN FOOT.—Wm. H. Morse, of 56 Poplar St., Chelsea, Mass., had his left foot very badly frozen, while attending a fire in South Boston. The doctors in attendance said it would have to be amputated, but he used some of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil" and is entirely well. See adv.

Common sense. For all cases of coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., use Dr. Bull's cough syrup.

Gen. Grant visited Albany, N. Y., on Monday, and the turnout to greet him exceeded anything ever known there. Fully 70,000 people were in the streets, and nearly all the buildings along the line of march were decorated with flags, etc. The parade of military was large and imposing.

A Boy Again.

Pain and sickness bring on old age with fearful rapidity. They make an incessant drain on the vital forces, and the weary steps and faded cheeks of age often come, when the enjoyment of life should be at its highest. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" turns this kind of old age into youth again. Headache, pains in the limbs, troubles of the liver, bowels or kidneys vanish before it, and feeble men and women become like rollicking school boys and girls once more. One dollar a bottle, either at your druggist's or from the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

By an explosion of naphtha in a building attached to the Wheeler & Wilson shops at Bridgeport, Conn., Monday, four persons were badly burned, one fatally.

Freeing the Guilty.

The late Emperor Nicholas happened one day to be engaged in inspecting a state penitentiary in one of the provincial seats of government, and took it into his head to question some of the convicts respecting the nature of the offences for which they were suffering punishment. "What are you here for?" he asked of one. "I am innocent, Imperial Majesty," replied the prisoner, falling on his knees, "a victim of false witnesses! A church was robbed—a beadle knocked on the head—the peasants caught hold of me, and I knew nothing about it." Similar replies were given by other prisoners. The Emperor, obviously bored by these successive protestations of guiltlessness, cast a glance along the line of prisoners until his eye fell upon a ragged, wretched-looking gypsy, whom he beckoned forward with the words, "Of course you, too, are here on a false charge?" "Not a bit of it, your 'Majesty,' replied the Tsigan; "it is all fair and square as far as I am concerned. I stole a pony from a tradesman." "Stole a pony, did you?" said the Czar with a laugh; and then, addressing the governor of the prison with well-assumed sternness, "Turn that good-for-nothing rascal instantly out of doors. I cannot allow him to remain a minute longer in such honorable and virtuous company, lest he pervert all these good, innocent people!"

The Mystery of Quack Medicines.

The toothache remedy, which the lady in Westerly was nearly killed by swallowing, was for external use, but there are patent medicines for internal use, whose spinning or curative effects are expected to be of the five minute order, and which are therefore of the most powerful and it may be of the most dangerous nature in certain conditions. People will take such things, and they will continue to be furnished so long as a market can be found for them, but it is suggested as one means of lessening the risk and deleterious effect that a law be passed requiring the ingredients of patent medicines to be published and sold with the bottles, so that if a person has a mind to take opium or whiskey, he will do it with a full knowledge and not under the disguise of an anodyne or an injurator. Half the attraction of quack medicines comes from their mystery, and if this was removed some of them would be shunned, and the greater part would at least be used more cautiously. Nothing can entirely prevent the people from being preyed upon until they become wise, but the law may interfere against the grosser and more dangerous forms of deceit.—Providence Journal.

—The cheerful giver—He who gives three cheers.

—When does the wind deserve reproof? When it whistles through the house.

—Boy, to teacher—"Teacher, there's a gal over there a winkin' at me." Teacher—"Well, then, don't look at her." Boy—"But if I don't look at her, she'll wink at somebody else."

—Chicago was recently favored with a hotel clerk of more than ordinary suavity of manner in the person of a large ape, which having escaped from confinement, entered the Hotel Frankfort, drove out the clerk, and usurped his position. An attempt was made to dislodge him by the persuasive influence of a billiard cue; but the agile brute wrested it from his assailant and kept possession of the office for half an hour. Upon the arrival of a policeman the ape succumbed to his authority, and marched quietly to the station house.

—A gentleman was going home at a late hour recently when he was suddenly confronted by a footpad, who, with pistol pointed at his head, demanded his money. The gentleman assured the fellow that he had no money—that he had "been to a fair." Before he could say more the rascal dropped his pistol, put it in his pocket, and presently took out his wallet, and crushing something into the citizen's hand, said, in grief-broken accents, as he turned on his heel, "Been to a fair! Poor fellow! take that—I wish it was more." He was soon lost in the night. Upon approaching a street lamp the gentleman found that the miscreant had given him a $10 bill. Verily, one touch of nature makes the whole world kin.

Amputation of the Leg.

The Old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—saying that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood-Specific "Favorite Remedy" to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try "Favorite Remedy." Your druggist has it. One dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the preparation's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION:—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

For sale by A. P. Preston.

Hon. Thomas J. Smith of Dover has been authorized by Attorney General Tappan to hold an inquest, for the purpose of making a full investigation into the facts concerning the burning of the Strafford county almshouse, and the death of so many persons.

Russell Lyman of Colebrook, while repairing a shaft in a butter mill, got one hand in the gearing and was thrown over the shaft, and before the machinery could be stopped his arm was broken in several places. The arm was amputated at the shoulder, and he died the same afternoon.

The seat in the legislature of Benjamin H. Poor of Bath, a democrat, is to be contested.

A large "cusk" was captured in Lake Winnipesaukee a few days ago, and in its maw was found a full-length lead pencil, nicely sharpened at one end and rubber-tipped at the other.

The appraisal of loss by the burning of the Strafford county farm building foots up $18,871. On this there is insurance of $16,500, which the insurance companies will pay in full.

George Knight, of Atkison, who was injured by a fall in his barn recently, died Sunday morning, Jan. 9th, from the effects of his injuries. He leaves a wife and daughter. Several years ago his father was killed by a falling tree, and about a year ago a brother was killed by falling from a building.

Edward Powers, indicted at Manchester for killing John Blanchard with a broken bottle several months ago, pleaded guilty of manslaughter in the second degree in the supreme court, Jan. 18th, and was sentenced to the state prison for five years.

Officer Reicher, a new Manchester policeman, was assigned a beat in the extreme northeast portion of the city. The first night out he got lost, and was two hours in getting back to police headquarters. His feet were badly frozen, and several hours time was consumed in thawing them out.

FROZEN FOOT.—Wm. H. Morse, of 56 Poplar St., Chelsea, Mass., had his left foot very badly frozen, while attending a fire in South Boston. The doctors in attendance said it would have to be amputated, but he used some of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil" and is entirely well. See adv.

George Ehrebt, aged seventeen years, was on the 17th inst., accidentally shot by his brother Fred at Guilford, Ill., with a rifle which neither thought was loaded. The jury returned a verdict of accidental shooting.

He Still Lives.

Some years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, of Buffalo, N. Y., and London, was sent for to examine a terrible disease of the knee-joint, resulting in ulceration and extensive sloughing of the bone and tissues. The man's life had been despaired of by the previous attendants. Amputation at the thigh was promptly decided upon and skillfully performed by Dr. Pierce, and as after treatment to purify the blood and prevent a recurrence of the malady the doctor's Golden Medical Discovery was freely prescribed. The man's system was thoroughly purified and strengthened, he rapidly gained his health, the stump healing nicely, and he is to-day a happy man. This case was among the first in which this wonderful blood-purifier was tested. It has since manifested its wonderful power over the worst scrofulous and other blood diseases. Taken for a time it so purifies and strengthens the system as to strongly fortify it against the encroachments of diseases. Sold by druggists.

MIDDLEVILLE, Mich., Feb. 15th, 1879. Hon. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—I would say that I have sold your medicines for seven years. The Golden Medical Discovery is the best cough remedy I have ever used and in every case where I have recommended it, it has cured. I have used it in my family for my children. It cures their colds and coughs in a day or two. My wife has used it several times when down sick. It is invariably gives immediate relief. Its sale increases daily.

J. B. KESTER, Druggist.

The new cotton mill at Waterville, Me., will be larger than was first proposed. The amount of stock has been increased to $800,000, to supply the demand. Capt. A. H. Kelsey, of Lewiston, is to superintend the building of this mill.

I have been troubled with flatus in the stomach and bowels, sometimes seriously so. D. R. V. G. has cured me. I recommend it to all.

D. Candee, Alderman 6th Ward, Syracuse, N. Y.

Congress.

In the Senate, Jan. 18th, the bill for the relief of Ben Halliday was passed, the amount being reduced from $626,189 to $100,000.

In the House the naval appropriation bill was reported. It appropriates $14,-461,057, based upon estimates aggregating $15,022,321. It is an increase over last year's appropriation of $55,000. The item for pay of the navy is $125,000 in excess of last year, $100,000 of the increase being for pay of seamen, and $25,-000 for the officers.

Boston Marine Insurance Co.

The statement of the last year's business of the company, and its assets and liabilities on the 1st inst., are given in our columns to-day. Commencing business in 1874 with a capital of $300,000, which two years later was increased to $500,000, the business of the company has largely increased each year. During the past year the total amount insured by the company was over sixty-one million dollars, and the premiums received amounted to over one million dollars. The income for the past year was $1,071,-228.45, while the amount paid in losses, taxes, etc., was $822,169.79, leaving a net profit on the year's business of over $249,000. To-day, the company has assets of almost one and one-half million dollars, while the net surplus over all liabilities is over $400,000. At the annual meeting held Jan. 17th it was voted to increase the capital stock to $1,000,000, by the payment in cash of $500,000. The increased capital will give the Boston Marine assets of nearly $2,000,000, and will undoubtedly add to its already large business. With the success of the company in past years and its prospects for the future the Boston Marine may well claim to rank among the largest and best of the insurance corporations in England and America.

The Alaska Mines.

Collector Ball at Sitka, Alaska, has sent to Washington some very rich specimens of gold quartz. He says: "There are immense ledges of this ore, and the free gold runs all through, with little variation in amount from the specimens sent. There can be no doubt of its immense value and richness. It is situated near the coast, where the ice blockade begins to break up in April. A party is now on the ground building huts, etc., and several more parties are fitting out. There are large placer beds, also, and in the spring there is little doubt there will be a very great rush of miners. There ought to be a law for them by that time."

Political Notes.

Hon. Henry L. Dawes was on the 18th inst. re-elected to the United States Senate by the legislature of Massachusetts. Hon. Eugene Hale was elected senator from Maine, Hon. O. D. Conger from Michigan, Gen. Joseph R. Hawley from Connecticut, Gen. Harrison from Indiana, Thomas C. Platt from New York, John Sherman from Ohio, McMillan from Minnesota; all republicans. In the Tennessee legislature the republican candidate, Horace Maynard, led with forty-one votes, his friends having previously claimed but twenty-five on the first ballot. Bayard, democrat, was re-elected from Delaware, and Cockrell from Missouri. Pennsylvania and West Virginia also tried to elect senators, but neither managed to choose one.

News and Notes.

The ninth annual reunion of the Connecticut River Valley Masonic Union will be held at the Pavilion hotel, Montpelier, Vt., on Thursday, Jan. 27th. Business meeting at 4:30 P. M.; grand concert at 7:30 o'clock; and immediately after, an address by Rev. Daniel C. Roberts, E. G. Prelate of the Grand Commandery of New Hampshire; dancing at 9:30 o'clock. President of the association, J. Frank Webster, of Concord, N. H.

Lynn, Mass., had a $135,000 fire on the 19th inst. A. B. Martin & Co., morocco manufacturers, lost $115,000 to $125,000. C. B. Lancaster's shoe factory, Skinner & Golder's carriage factory, and several dwellings, were more or less injured. A. B. Martin & Co., were insured to the amount of $160,000.

Capt. Sanford, of the British barque Cassandra Adams, lying off the harbor of Wilmington, California, on the 12th inst. started for his vessel with twelve sailors and two other men. The boat capsized, and the captain, four sailors and one of the others were drowned.

Great excitement prevails at Gray, Me., in regard to mad dogs. It seems that a man named Frank Hall, who lives about a mile from Gray village, owned a shepherd dog that went made and bit a heifer belonging to Mr. Hall. The heifer died with hydrophobia, and Mr. Hall moved the carcass a short distance from his house, and then left it either entirely above ground or very imperfectly buried. The village dogs have eaten of the infected body. All the dogs in the village are being killed by the people on sight, as the citizens go armed with big clubs, and when they see a dog's head they go for it. It is said a man in Pownal is now sick with hydrophobia.

Several national banks have written to the Treasury Department inquiring whether the recent circular allowing them to send on notes for redemption at the expense of the government applies as well to notes fit for circulation as to notes unfit. The circular applies to all classes of notes.

Ophelia Clark, eighty years old, Julia Scott, aged sixteen, and Charles Scott, aged fourteen, were murdered by Robert Garner at Plain City, Ohio, on the night of Jan. 17th. All the parties were colored, and Garner was a rejected lover of the girl. The murderer was lodged in jail.

Three ships from China, each with 500 Chinamen on board, are expected to arrive at Victoria, British Columbia, in April, and an equal number in June. The heathen are to be set at work railway building.

A girl named Morey was severely burned on the 7th inst., in Gloucester, Mass., while kindling a fire with kerosene, and has died with lockjaw.

A man at London, Minn., buried his five children in one grave the other day. They all died of diphtheria, at about the same hour.

An Ohio paper speaking of George Eliot says "his chief works were David Denuda and Helen's Babies."

Washington territory, with a present population of about 75,000, is confidently expecting to make such advances before the close of Garfield's administration that she will be admitted to the sisterhood of states.

The trial of John G. Farr for the murder of his wife was commenced at Portland, Me., Jan 18th.

At Bodie, Cal., Jan. 16th, Joseph Darroche was arrested for killing Thomas H. Treloar in a quarrel about Treloar's wife. A preliminary examination having established the prisoner's guilt, a mob took him from jail and hung him.

Edward Johnson of Southbury, Conn., was taken to New Haven on the 17th inst., and lodged in jail, charged with recently eloping with the twelve-years-old daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Squires of Southbury, for whom he worked on a farm. Johnson says he is only twenty-one, but at Southbury he is called thirty-five years old. He shows a marriage certificate, attested by Rev. Mr. Gilbert of Pound Ridge, in New York state, and claims the girl as his wife. She left home to go to school the morning of the elopement, and is willing to stay with Johnson if allowed. He is under $1,000 bonds to appear before the court in April, and the legislature will be asked to annul the marriage.

There is something like a panic in England over the reports of movements by Fenians from the United States. Great alarm is felt at this new danger to the government, and orders have again been forwarded to the commanders of all military depots warning them of this new phase of agitation, and counselling extra precautions.

Put down in one corner of your memory for future use the fact that in the year 1900, February will have but twenty-eight days, although a leap year. This phenomenon occurs only once in 200 years, and always in the odd hundred.

In Australia a mob destroyed Trickett's property on hearing that Hanlan had defeated him.

The president has granted Private James Quinn a certificate of merit for bravery. Quinn was with Lieut. Schwatka and Scout "Captain Jack" in 1876 on the Big Horn and Yellowstone expeditions, and displayed great personal bravery under fire and while engaged in digging and building breastworks. He also took part, with twenty-five men, in the charge upon an Indian village. He has participated in six definite engagements, and is now in the service as a corporal. The request for the certificate came through official channels, and was excellently endorsed.

Democratic Honesty.

After waiting until about seven weeks only remain before the Forty-sixth Congress expires, the sub-committee which has charge of the Bisbee-Hull case, in the 2d Florida district, has voted unanimously to report in favor of Bisbee, republican, thus unseating Hull, who has been allowed to hold the seat to this time. The democratic members of this sub-committee are Manning of Mississippi, Armfield of North Carolina and Beltzhoover of Pennsylvania, all active partisans; and their action, although late in this case, is conclusive proof that Hull has been holding his seat without a shadow of right, and that the delay in giving the seat to its lawful possessor has been without excuse. As it is Hull will draw nearly $10,-000 pay, and more than that including mileage, for his fraudulent usurpation of another's seat. It is doubtful if they now give Bisbee his seat until the last day or two of the session, for they may need Hull's vote on some partisan measure. The democrats probably expected to use it in giving the vote of Florida to Hancock, had there been no choice of president by the people, or if they could have rejected the vote of some republican state and thus defeated a choice. But the people by their large majority for Gen. Garfield have brought that little scheme to nought, and having no further use for Hull they let him go. The evidence as to Bisbee's right to the seat was conclusive from the first—even before the democratic governor of Florida wrongfully gave Hull his certificate of election.

—The Robinsons of Ohio and Maryland are now figuring up how many times they will go into an English estate of $8,500,000, and how much will be left over for the lawyers who are prepared on short notice and with neatness and despatch to extract it from the vaults of the bank of England.

A Million of Dollars as a New Year Donation.

The New Year opens brightly in a business outlook (taking reports from all points into consideration,) and it gives us the reader many reasons for thanksgiving—none greater at this time than the return of general prosperity to the Southland—and well should every one be reminded that the existence of that great monument of philanthropy, The Charity Hospital of New Orleans, was due to the donation of $1,000,000, secured by the action of the authorities of Louisiana, from the bonus paid by the Louisiana State Lottery. The affairs of the Lottery will be explained by writing to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y., or same person at New Orleans, La.

SOME FACTS!

NO FANCY FAR-OFF EVIDENCE,

BUT HOME TRUTHS!

It DOES its work WELL, pleasantly and speedily. Good common-sense folks say so. Nature's laws harmonious. Grapes don't grow on thorns, nor can health be attained by the use of poison in wanton waste, nor sophistication in medicine or aliment, (which only impair nutrition and impoverish the blood.) DR. SMITH'S is no misnomer, but is just what it purports to be. It cures and that is why it sells. Some dealers have sold $ 6.00 worth in a day. No listening, smarting medication. No opium, morphine, alcohol, cups cum nor water, Not a drop! Pleasant and even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

Electric Oil!

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Mumps in Dwight. It has cured Fever, Scurvey, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.

PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,

A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, and no doctor failed to cure, I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and the man gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.

J. STREAMER, Druggist 25 years.

It is the only sure cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.

Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of Dr. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for sick headache, and 20 drops is the largest close. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and all painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.

Wm. H. Horse, Janitor of Person school, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.

HR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more humanitarian act could be done. Advice free. Come and be cured. Bring on the worst cases and you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

CHEAPEST IN THE WORLD!

AROUND HOME.

It is reported that drive-wells are being put down in Hampton, where many of the ordinary wells have entirely given out.

The Rockingham Dramatic Club of this city propose giving a series of entertainments in Rye, Newington, Greenland and other neighboring towns.

Fish were brought in on the 19th inst. as follows: By schooner Azelia, 2000 lbs.; Mary E. Smart, 8000; Can't Come It, 3000; Nettie Adams, 3000; Flying Cloud, 3000 lbs.

Mr. John Tucker, son of Capt. George Wallace Tucker of this city, has been appointed general freight agent of the Fitchburg railroad, and will enter upon his duties on Feb. 1st.

The schooner Wm. P. Hood, of Somerset, Me., Davis master, is at steamboat wharf this week, being loaded for Baltimore with apples, and potatoes in bulk; several parties are engaged in the enterprise.

A large audience gathered at Music hall, and laughed till their sides ached at the comicalities of the "Tourists," on Wednesday evening; it is very much the best entertainment of the kind that has been here.

The Eastern railroad will immediately commence the reconstruction on a new plan of the creosoting works on Noble's island, burned some time ago. The huge cylindrical tanks are to be discarded, it is said, and their places taken by pits.

A two-horse load of wood on a cart broke down close alongside of the Eastern railroad track near the depot, Wednesday forenoon of this week. The team was supposed to belong in Rye, from the wry face worn by the driver as he surveyed the wreck.

Master Harry Herman, who is to appear in conjunction with Rev. A. A. Waite at Franklin theatre, Jan. 21st, 22d and 23d, is without a rival as a magician, considering his age. He gives a magic matinee for the children at three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Among the fast-moving horses owned in this city at this time, that of Hon. Marcellus Eldredge, president of the Eldredge Brewing Co., probably makes the best time. The ex-senator's horse had a brush a few days ago with "Cæsar," formerly owned by Col. Hilton, and distanced him handsomely.

Mr. Thomas J. Goodwin recently purchased a thorough-bred English hare beagle for Mr. Russell Walden of this city. The dog is of the best imported stock, from Scotland kennels, Maryland; has a pedigree of over forty years; is very pretty, and is a valuable addition to the hunting stock of the local sportsman; his sire, Major, and Susy, his dam, have both taken prizes. His dimensions are: Height, 15 1-2 inches; stretch of ears, 14 3-4 inches; weight, twenty-three pounds. He is seven months old.

On Sunday night, the 16th inst., the schooners Daniel C. Baker and E Pluribus Unum had their trawls hauled, and fish probably to the amount of three thousand pounds taken therefrom. The Addie and Hattie had all of her trawls stolen. Suspicion rests on a fishing vessel which occasionally visits this port. For the sake of their own reputations, the honest fishermen should endeavor to put a stop to this contemptible thieving. A long term of imprisonment was given to a trawl-stealer by a judge in Massachusetts a year or so ago; and another trawl-thief, Sanford G. Parker of Gloucester, Mass., was convicted in the United States court in Boston, a few weeks since, of stealing trawls set near Thacher's island, but what his sentence was we have not learned. If a few of these pirates could be transferred to the penitentiary, the nefarious business would become very unpopular.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, real estate agents, this week sold the dwelling of County Solicitor Walter C. Harriman, on State street, to Mr. A. Coburn Hoyt, for $5500; they have also sold the dwelling of A. Coburn Hoyt, on Freeman's point, for $2500.

The brig Swiftsure arrived at Halifax, N. S., Jan. 17th, from Georgetown, Prince Edward's Island. The Swiftsure is the only one of eleven vessels which left Georgetown at the same time that has reached her destination, one sinking, another going ashore, and the rest putting back on account of ice, among the latter being the schooner Maud B. Wetherel, Hontvet master, of this port.

From a list of the towns and cities in the United States having a population of 10,000 and upward, issued from the census office, we learn that there are 245 such places, the last on the list being Columbia, S. C., with a population of 10,040. Manchester is No. 56 on the list, with 32,630 inhabitants; Concord is No. 156, population 13,838; Nashua is No. 165, population 13,397; Dover is No. 201, population 11,687. Portsmouth is not on the list, having just failed to squeeze on at the end; that is, our Portsmouth. Portsmouth, Va., is No. 208, with 11,388 inhabitants, and Portsmouth, Ohio, is No. 211, with a population numbering 11,314.

The newly-introduced cod-nets, such as are used by the fishing schooner Northern Eagle, are said to afford another great advantage over the old-style trawls, besides the saving of expense in the procuring of bait, the avoidance of delay at times when bait is scarce, the great saving of labor, and the extra size of the fish taken. In a recent storm the Ipswich bay fleet were obliged to run for this port for shelter, leaving their gear out, and many of the trawls were so much chafed as to be worthless; but the nets when hauled were found uninjured. The Northern Eagle carries three nets to a dory, each net being fifty fathoms long, and one man handling the three.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Jan. 18; Bufford, J.

Hannah Shaw, a young woman hailing from Dover, where she has been in various scrapes during the past year, was before the court for larceny of money and clothing from the Faith Home in this city. She called at the house of a lady in Dover on Saturday night, the 15th inst., at a late hour, and told a pitiful tale about being turned out of the house of a harsh relative in Strafford; the lady charitably took her in, fed her, lodged her and gave her clothing, and next day took her to church, where she was recognized by some person who told the lady who she was. The lady sent for the city marshal of Dover, who at once took the girl into custody, as she was "wanted" for theft, and on Monday evening she was brought to this city by Asst. Marshal Cole. She was sent to Brentwood for ninety days, and ordered to pay costs of prosecution.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 19; Batchelder, J.

James Miller, John Sullivan and John Conley, drunks, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs. None of them having that amount in the treasury, the whole lot went to Brentwood.

Edward Wilson, another drunk, was sent to Brentwood for sixty days; costs $6.90.

Reuben Rand, Jr., drunk, fine $10, costs $8.04; Brentwood.

John Daley, drunk, fine $10, costs $6.90; jail.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 19th.

On trial, Newmarket National Bank vs. Lamprey. Jurors not engaged on this case were excused until Monday, 24th inst.

Case will probably be concluded Thursday, when court will adjourn to Monday.

THOSE "READERS."

Mr. Editor: Why should the reading books in the schools be changed? Will "Citizen," with your consent, tell us why? The Hillard series have long been in use. Has the Board of Instruction cause for dissatisfaction with these? Or have the teachers? Or the parents? All publishers of other series of course wish to displace them, and introduce their own. So do all persons pecuniarily interested in other books—as agents, drummers, etc. Who else disapproves of the Hillard Readers, and why? It does not seem just the thing to complain, and give no reason. B.

MASONIC.

A special communication of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, was held in Masonic hall on Wednesday evening of this week. It was the occasion of the visit of District Deputy Grand Master John Pender and Grand Lecturer William O. Junkins, to witness the work of the lodge. Large delegations of invited guests were present. The brethren from Strafford Lodge, No. 29, of Dover, came by an extra train over the Portsmouth & Dover railroad. The Kittery ferry boats made special trips, and visiting brothers from Star in the East Lodge, No. 59, of Exeter, Rising Star Lodge, No. 57, of Newmarket, and Winnicut Lodge, No. 92, of Greenland, came in sleighs.

After work in the master's degree the brethren repaired to the banquet hall, where after being welcomed by W. M. William H. Lovell, of St. John's Lodge, refreshment succeeded labor. The cloth removed, timely remarks were made by several of the visiting and local members of the fraternity, and the company separated well pleased with their visit to this ancient lodge, which has been maintained as a successful organization since its erection in 1736.

A Jury of One.

You remark that a jury of one man might be better than twelve, because he could never disagree. This reminds me of the anecdote of a case of the kind in a justice's court. A jury had been demanded, but there was difficulty about getting a jury together. One juryman had appeared, and it was finally agreed by the court that they would try the case by a jury of one. Accordingly the case was tried, and the jury (of one) retired to consult of their verdict under the charge of an officer. After waiting an hour or two the jury were called into court to see if they had agreed on their verdict, and the foreman informed the court that they had not agreed and that there was no prospect of their agreeing. And the court sent the jury out again, and waited two or three hours longer for the result, when they were again called into court, and they informed His Honor that they had not agreed and there was no prospect of any agreement. The hour being late the jury was then discharged without a verdict. This may have been a farce, but if it was, it was no more so than are one-half of our jury trials.—Correspondence Albany Law Journal.

Hot Sand a Good Bed-Fellow.

The comfort which a hot water bag or even a hot brick may afford a person on retiring, chilled, is very great, and beyond this, the use of such warmth-producing appliance is useful as a health preservative and restorative. But one of the most convenient articles to be used as a bed warmer and in a sick room is a sand bag. Get some clean, fine sand, dry it thoroughly in a kettle on the stove, make a bag about eight inches square, of flannel, fill it with the dry sand, sew the opening carefully together, and cover the bag with cotton or linen cloth. This will prevent the sand from sifting out and will also enable you to heat the bag quickly by placing it in the oven, or on the top of the stove. After once using this you will never again attempt to warm the feet or hands of a sick person with a bottle of hot water or a brick. The sand holds the heat a long time, and the bag can be tucked up to the back without hurting the invalid. It is a good plan to make two or three of the bags and keep them ready for use.

—There is a strange rumbling noise audible upon the Red river, Texas, and as the locality is fifty miles from any railroad it cannot be attributed to passing trains. The inhabitants are much excited over it, believing that it presages volcanic action. It resembles the sound of a railway train roar of a distant waterfall, and at night the moaning of the wind through a pine forest. Its range, which is not changeable, is from north to northwest, and it recalls the ominous sounds described by Humboldt as preceding the great earthquake of 1759 in Mexico, when the volcanic mountain of Jorullo was upheaved. Scientific investigation will probably be ordered by the state authorities.

—A gentlemen was going home lately when he was suddenly confronted by a footpad, who, with pistol pointed at his head, demanded his money. The gentleman assured the fellow that had he no money—that he'd "been to a fair." Before he could say more the rascal dropped his pistol, put it in his pocket, and presently took out his wallet, and crushing something into the citizen's hand, said, in grief broken accents, as he turned on his heel, "Been to a fair! Poor fellow! take that—I wish it was more." He was soon lost in the night. Upon approaching a street-lamp the gentleman found that the miscreant had given him a $10 bill. Verily, one touch of nature makes the whole world kin.

—Some of the new slang is published in St. Louis: When a girl is "flick" she is knowing; when she is "lency" she is quite the reverse of knowing. If you wish to convey to your heart's idol that you adore her transcendent beauty just tell her she is "oppressive." "A Johnny boy" is a new variety of the genus homo who knows how to dance like an angel—supposing that angels would so far forget themselves as to dance—who wears good clothes, and is an idiot in every other respect. The feminine equivalent of "the Johnny boy" is generally called "Evangeline." If you disapprove of a place, person or a party you may either refer to it as a "saide," "gummy" or "toppy." Excessive admiration wrecks itself upon expressions in such glosses as "balmy," "harmonious," "gulative." "Gulative" seems to mean a great many things. It is a sort of non-committal word, which can be used to fill up a sentence or express a doubtful opinion.

Opinion of a Baltimorean.—I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for some time in my family and found it the best remedy for coughs, colds, colds, &c., I ever tried!—Louis Bruning, 26 Caroline street.

From Saturday, the 15th inst., to the 18th, the heaviest storm in twenty years raged along the coast of Europe, doing immense damage on shore, and wrecking many vessels.

A Pitiful Story.

On Friday afternoon, the 14th inst., says the Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, a well dressed man of a very good appearance entered the war department, and, ascending by the elevator to the second floor, alighted. When in front of the secretary's door he was seen to stagger and then fall helplessly on the marble tiling. He was found to be unconscious, and was carried by the messengers to an adjoining room and laid on the lounge. Dr. Lowe, from up stairs, was summoned, and, as soon as he saw the unconscious stranger, he at once said, "Why, the man is starving." He had partially regained his consciousness, but was still in a stupor. The doctor at once called for brandy, which the man at first refused to take, as it was afterward found, from temperance scruples. A glass of diluted brandy was, however, placed to his mouth, and his jaws closed upon it with such force as nearly to shatter the glass. A sandwich was then offered him, which he seized with avidity, and was about to swallow it all without mastication, when he was prevented. The sandwich was fed to him in small pieces, which he ate like a famished beast, and then a second sandwich. He was then fed with oyster soup and removed up stairs, where he at once went to sleep.

He awoke in the course of an hour feeling much better, but still weak. The doctor said he was suffering from irritation of the stomach, caused by the gastric juice working on the walls of the stomach. He was in the first stage of starvation, and his pulse had run down to forty-two. After he had recovered sufficient strength to talk, he told the circumstances by which he had been reduced to such a miserable condition. At the same time he evinced great anxiety that the matter should not be made public. His conversation showed him to be a man of education and culture, as his clothes indicated. He said that he belonged to a respectable family, residing near Boston. He had been in the army during the war, and lost an arm in the service.

Since the war he has been practicing medicine in his native town, but, becoming unpopular for the decided stand he took on the temperance question, he determined to come to this city and begin the practice of medicine here. At the same time he applied for a clerkship in the war department. His sister, an invalid, accompanied him, and they reside in Seventh street, where he opened an office. Soon after his arrival his funds began to fail, and he had no means of replenishing them. He found that he could not purchase food enough for both, and so invented an excuse for not eating with his sister; that he got his meals down town. This device worked well, and his sister was completely deceived. He brought home food for her to eat, but was slowly starving himself.

Friday he spent his last money in the purchase of a bone, from which his sister made soup, but he refused to take any. He said that the night before he attended the meeting of a Masonic lodge, but was too proud to reveal his condition and ask for help. His appearance and manner gave the impress of truth to his statement. His war record was looked up, and found to be an honorable one. His case was brought to the attention of the secretary of war, and he appointed him to a clerkship in the surgeon-general's office. The circumstance excited great interest in the department.

—An amusing story is told of a French actor who went into the country to study a new part. He was waiting at a lonely station and thinking of his part, when, quite unconsciously, he began to act it in dumb show. French actors think more of the pantomime of a play than we do, and the comedian while waiting for his train had gone through some of the principal scenes of the new piece in this way, quite ignorant that his efforts had been watched with the keenest interest by an attentive rustic sitting on a box in a dark corner. When the actor suspended his task, the rustic rushed up to him quite eagerly, asking in anxious tones: "And the lovers, Monsieur; were they united, and was the villain discovered?" "What do you mean?" inquired the actor. "Oh, Monsieur told the story beautifully!" "But, my good fellow, I have not spoken a word." "Ah! Monsieur, I could see it all by your movements, and I know Monsieur from the photographs in the shop windows."

WHAT HAPPENED TO

MR. JOSEPH BEACH.

Stone in the Kidney expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" about two weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered since October 18th, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "It will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any disorders arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" is sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

A Common Mispronunciation.

"There goes Parnell, the Irish agitator!" observed a gentleman on the seat before me, in a railroad car. "Parnell, is it?" replied his companion. "That is Mr. Parnell," whispered the lady behind me to her daughter. "Mr. Parnell. Ah!" Now here were four persons, educated people evidently, who in the course of two minutes mispronounced a plain English name. It is always annoying to hear the accent misplaced on a name, whether local or personal. We Americans seem to have taken a fancy for throwing the accent in family names on the last syllable, if possible, in defiance of all sound rules of good sense or good taste. These two qualities, by the bye, are very closely allied. You can never have good taste without good sense as the foundation. False taste is inevitably absurd. Now this common mispronunciation of names ending in ell has neither good sense nor good taste in its favor. It is opposed to the spirit of our mother tongue. Last year I had a nephew in love with a charming girl, Miss Brownell; of course she was Lily Brown*ell* to her lover. For three months I heard Tom mispronounce her name, or that of her family, a dozen times a day. A few months later, as ill luck would have it, his sister was courted by Harry Bedell, pronounced Bed*ell* of course. Now Brown*ell* and Bed*ell* are good English names, and should have a good English pronunciation. Bedell is no doubt the same as Beadle. Many English names ending in ell were originally connected with the common nouns well or wall. The governor of the State of New York to-day is Governor Corn*ell*. The university in Western New York is Corn*ell* University. We have known a Judge Hubb*ell*. Lidd*ell* and Wadd*ell* are instances of the same fancy. Littell's Magazine travels over half the country. But the propensity to throw the accent on the last syllable is not confined to names ending in ell. Barnard is frequently pronounced Barn*ard*, Tricketts becomes Trick*etts*, General Steuben is General Steub*en*, in spite of his German birth. That distinguished gentleman, the present secretary of state, is spoken of, in rustic parlance, as Mr. E-warts. Not long since we were shown a collection of the famous caricatures of Hi-ram! A year or two since we were introduced—with a flourish—"to an Assemblyman from a Western State," the Honorable Mr. Hub-bird!

O, shade of Old Mother Hubbard!—February Atlantic.

Sunset Signs.

The following paragraph (says the New Orleans Democrat) appeared in the last monthly weather review issued by the bureau at Washington:

"The characteristics of the sky at sunset, as indicative of fair or foul weather for the succeeding twenty-four hours, have been observed at all signal service stations. Reports from 144 stations show 4,441 observations to have been made, of which twenty-nine were doubtful; of the remainder, 4,412 or 98.4 per cent, were followed by the expected weather."

It attracted the attention of a reporter of the Democrat, and awakened a desire to learn the "characteristics," and in search of the information he called upon Sergeant E. Dunne, signal officer at this port, and from him obtained the following signs for foretelling the weather of the next twenty-four hours:

A deep, angry red at sunset foretells rain. Light red indicates fair weather. A yellow sky at sunset also indicates fair weather, unless there are numerous clouds of a deep yellow, when thunder storms may be expected. A green sunset indicates fair weather. Heavy banks of clouds in the west at sunset foretell rain. Rapid changes of the color of clouds at sunset indicate rain.

When the upper clouds move to a different direction from that of the lower clouds, or from that of the wind they blowing, it indicates a change of wind. When the outlines of cumulous clouds are sharp, it indicates a dry atmosphere, and therefore presages fine weather. Small, inky clouds foretell rain. A light scud driving across inky clouds indicates wind.

Remarkable clearness of the atmosphere near the horizon, and an unusual twinkling of the stars, are indications of approaching rain. Dew and fog are indications of fine weather.

—Professor Luigi Monti tells a pleasant story of Longfellow. For many years he has been in the habit of dining with the poet every Saturday. On Christmas day as he was walking briskly towards the old historic house he was accosted by a girl about twelve years old, who inquired the way to Longfellow's home. He told her that he would show her. When they reached the gate she said, "Do you think I can go into the yard?" "Oh, yes," said Signor Monti, "Do you see the room on the left? That's where Martha Washington held her receptions a hundred years ago. If you look at the window on the right you will probably see a white-haired gentleman reading a paper. Well, that will be Mr. Longfellow." She looked gratified at the unexpected pleasure of really seeing the man whose poems she said she loved. As Signor Monti drew near the house he saw Mr. Longfellow standing with his back against the window, his head, of course, out of sight. When he went in he said, "Do look out of the window and bow to that little girl, who wants to see you very much!" "A little girl wants to see me very much—where is she?" He hastened to the door and beckoning with his hand called out, "Come here, little girl; come here, if you want to see me!" She needed no second invitation, and after shaking her hand and asking her name he took her into the house, showed her the "old clock on the stairs," the chair made from the village smithy's chestnut tree, presented to him by the Cambridge children, and the beautiful pictures and souvenirs gathered in many years of foreign residence.

FROZEN FOOT.—Wm. H. Morse, of 56 Poplar St., Chelsea, Mass., had his left foot very badly frozen, while attending a fire in South Boston. The doctors in attendance said it would have to be amputated, but he used some of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil" and is entirely well. See adv.

Nineteen thousand acres of land in Lyon county, Iowa, were bought on Tuesday, the 18th inst., on which to place English colonists in the spring.

A Boy Again.

Pain and sickness bring on old age with fearful rapidity. They make an incessant drain on the vital forces, and the weary steps and faded cheeks of age often come, when the enjoyment of life should be at its highest. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" turns this kind of old age into youth again. Headache, pains in the limbs, troubles of the liver, bowels or kidneys vanish before it, and feeble men and women become like rollicking school boys and girls once more. One dollar a bottle, either at your druggist's or from the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

William Edward Currier, police judge of Newburyport, was found dead in his bed on the morning of the 19th inst., having died during the night from heart disease. He was sixty-six years old.

J. N. Beck, of Toledo, Ohio, says:—My father before wearing the "Only Lung Pad," could not sleep nights on account of his violent coughing, since wearing it he has slept soundly every night.—See Adv.

On the 28th of last month took place the thirty-fourth case of cremation at Gotha, Germany. The first occurred on the 10th of December, 1878.

I have been troubled with flatus in the stomach and bowels, sometimes seriously so. D. R. V. G. has cured me. I recommend it to all.

Interesting Tests Made by the Government Chemist.

[New York Tribune.]

Dr. Edward G. Love, the present Analytical Chemist for the Government, has recently made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders. Dr. Love's tests were made to determine what brands are the most economical to use. And as their capacity lies in their leavening power, tests were directed solely to ascertain the available gas of each powder. Dr. Love's report gives the following:

"The prices at which baking powders are sold to consumers I find to be usual y fifty cents per pound. I have therefore calculated their relative commercial values according to the volume of gas yielded on a basis of fifty cents cost per pound."

Name of the Baking Powders.	Available Gas. Cubic inches per each ounce powder.	Comparative worth per lb.
"Royal" (cream tartar powder)...	277.4	70 cts.
"Patapsco" [alum powder].....	225.2	49 "
"Rumford's" [phosphate] fresh...	122.5	46 "

Naval Affairs.

Rear Admiral Clitz, commanding the Asiatic station, informs the department that the Alert arrived at Hong Kong on the 24th of November, and would remain there some time. The Ashuelot is wintering at Tientsin. The Palos remains at Shanghai, being unable to reach Hong Kong for repairs on account of the closing of river navigation.

Big Storm in England.

London despatches of the 19th inst. report the most terrible storm known for twenty years as then raging. The Thames river overflowed, doing damage to the amount of $10,000,000, and causing a loss of many lives; several bridges were carried away, and hundreds of houses made uninhabitable. The loss of life is feared to be large. Railroad traffic was almost suspended throughout the United Kingdom, and in London the streets were blocked by snow drifts. Disasters to shipping were numerous. Several vessels were reported ashore at Yarmouth, with a loss of fifty lives; seventeen vessels were on shore near Cardiff.

Despatches of the 20th say that many persons were frozen to death in different parts of England; railroad trains in some cases had to be abandoned in snow drifts where only the funnel of the engine was visible. At Dover, Eng., the pier was damaged to the amount of $50,000, huge masses of stone and concrete being washed away. The pier at Medway, on the south side of the Thames, was destroyed, and eight persons drowned. A French vessel went down off Great Yarmouth, with twenty men. A barque was wrecked at Gorleston, with a loss of eight lives, and one on the Suffolk coast, ten men being lost.

Political Notes.

The republican legislative caucus of New Jersey on the 19th inst. nominated Gen. Sewall for United States senator. The republicans of the Wisconsin legislature on the same day unanimously nominated Philetus Sawyer for senator.

The democrats of the West Virginia legislature on the 19th nominated Johnson N. Camden for senator, on the 3d ballot.

The legislative convention of Tennessee on the 19th took its fifth ballot for senator, but failed to elect.

Gen. W. J. Sewell, nominated for United States senator on the 19th by the republican legislators of New Jersey, was born in Ireland in 1835. At the outbreak of the civil was he went into the service as a captain in the fifth New Jersey regiment. At the close of the war he was made major-general for meritorious service. He has been three terms state senator, and was president of the senate in 1876, 1879 and 1880.

Of the seventy-six United States senators only thirty-three were born in the states which they represent. The rest are carpet-baggers.

The San Francisco Alta says Kearneyism has cost that city a decrease of thirty-three million dollars in banking capital, that the improvement of property has been checked, that the number of depositors in the savings bank has fallen off, that the loans of the banks were less last year than the payment of borrowers, that there are no new railroads building in California, and that the home capitalists are transferring their business to New York.

Heretofore Gov. Plaisted, of Maine, has had the sympathy of many republicans outside of that state because of a belief that he was driven out of the party by local injustice. His message has dispelled the delusion; a man capable of writing such a document could never have been deserving of support from an intelligent and self-respecting constituency.—Dover Republican.

News and Notes.

At Girardville, Pa., a day or two ago, Miss Mary Cardiff and Miss Honora Dougherty were invited to join a coasting party. On their first trip down the hill the young man in charge lost control of the sled, and rolling off, left the young girls to their fate. The sled struck a telegraph pole, and both girls were instantly killed, their bodies being shockingly mangled. Their gallant escort escaped unhurt.

At Carlisle, Ky., on the night of the 18th inst., a body of masked men went to the house of Noah Anderson to punish him for maltreatment of his wife, and broke down the door. Anderson fired on them. They returned the fire, killing him instantly. His son Samuel came to his assistance, and he too was shot dead. No arrests have been made.

On Monday night, Jan. 17th, Miss Bessie Werts, a beautiful young woman aged twenty-two years, was outraged and murdered while on her way from her brother's house to her home, at Prosperity, S. C. Two negroes, named Spearman and Fair, were arrested, confessed the crime, and were lynched on the 18th.

On Monday night, Jan. 17th, three men attempted a grave robbery near Gann, Ohio, and when nearing the bottom of the grave which they were excavating they struck a torpedo that had been placed on the top of the coffin for its protection, when the contrivance exploded, instantly killing a man named Dipper, and breaking the leg of another man, whose name has not been ascertained.

A despatch from San Francisco says that California raised 300,000 tons more wheat in 1880 than in 1879, and was the largest exporter in the country. There are stored in the warehouses there 450,000 tons yet to ship. The increase in wine was 5,000,000 gallons. The mines of Nevada have increased their product, as have those of Arizona.

A very narrow escape from a serious fire occurred Tuesday, Jan. 18th, at the Athens school house, in North Weymouth, Mass. About 11 o'clock the teachers in the lower rooms discovered smoke issuing from the registers, and immediately cleared their rooms of pupils, and gave the alarm. The local engine soon arrived and quelled the flames. The fire was occasioned by the close proximity of wood-work to the furnaces. There were four schools in the building.

Mrs. Loughtran of Poquonock, Conn., was found frozen to death in the woods on Monday, the 17th inst. She left home on the previous Thursday to go to Hayden station, to go bail for her son, it is supposed, as she had $130 with her, but wandered off the main road and got lost.

SOME FACTS!

NO FANCY FAR-OFF EVIDENCE,

BUT HOME TRUTHS!

It DOES its work WELL, pleasantly and speedily. Good common sense tells say so. Nature's laws are harmonious. Grapes don't grow on thorns, nor can health be attained by the use of poison in whatever name, any sophistication in medicine or aliment, (which only impoverishes and impoverish the blood.) DR. SMITH'S is no misnomer, but is just what it purports to be. It cures and this is why it sells. Some dealers have tried $1 0 worth in a day. No listening, smartin medicine. No opium, camphor, alcohol, cape cum nor water, Not a drop! Pleasant and even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

Electric Oil!

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Mumps in Dwight. It has cured Tetter, Scurvey, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.
PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,
A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, all the doctors failed to cure, I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and the man gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.
J. STEARNS, Druggist 23 years.

It is the only safe cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.
Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of DR. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for sick headache, and 20 drops is the largest dose. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and all painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.
Wm. H. Morse, Janitor of Fire 20 school, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.
DR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more human misery can be done. Advice free. Come and see cured. Bring on the worst cases on you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

PISCATAQUA ASSOCIATION.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational Ministers met at North Hampton on the 18th inst., with Rev. T. V. Haines. Rev. Frank Haley of Seabrook was moderator, and read a concio on "Attitude to be taken toward brethren of a doubtful mind;" exegesis on Rom. VIII., 19, by Rev. J. Chapman of Exeter; Christian experience, by Rev. E. B. Pike of Atkinson; sermon, by Rev. Wm. A. Rand of South Seabrook; essay, by Rev. E. F. Borchers of Barrington, on "Luther;" review by Rev. A. J. Quick of Rochester, "Old faiths in a new light."

Members present, Spalding, Hibbard, Peabody, Rand, Robie, Haines, Fritz, Chapman, Haley, Borchers, Kingsbury, Kyte, Webb, Stearns, Batchelder, Quick, and Byington. Among the visitors present were Rev. E. H. Greeley, and Rev. Mr. Stowe, formerly a pastor in Portsmouth, and more than fifty years ago a member of the Association.

AMONG THE CLOUDS.

General Grant is said to smoke one hundred cigars in two weeks; he gives away as many as he smokes; he has used the same brand of imported cigars for ten years; they cost $22.50 a hundred. Colonel Bob Ingersoll pays $50 for a box, and uses from five to ten cigars a day. General Butler pays $10 and sometimes $20 for a box. Senator Matt Carpenter, who nearly killed himself by smoking, has been reduced to three cigars a day.—N. Y. World.

Senator Collins of our state indulges in a "dry smoke," as did President Buchanan. Ex-Secretary Thompson smokes a cigar more noted for its strength than for the excellence of its flavor. Frank Jones, like E. H. Winchester and others who work hard in keeping others at work, consumes many cigars; while those of us who work by the light of the midnight gas are glad to welcome a fresh idea in a cloud of cut cavendish, drawn through the bowl of an ancient briar-wood.

AROUND HOME.

Owing to lack of work, the Eastern railroad has discharged a number of men at various points along the line—about one hundred in all.

On the 20th inst. the schooner Minnehaha brought in 7000 lbs. of fish, the Celia 7000, the Norma 2000, and the small boats about 2000 lbs. between them.

Eva White, about fourteen years old, daughter of James C. White, fell on the ice near the Hanover street schoolhouse on the 19th inst., and was so much hurt that she had to be taken home.

A circular saw flew in pieces at J. Albert Walker's wood shed at the north end, Wednesday afternoon of this week, and one of the pieces whistled uncomfortably close to the head of Mr. Thomas Russell, who was tending the saw.

Mr. Nathaniel Wiggin, of Greenland, on Thursday had a fall into the hold of the schooner William P. Hood, and had his collar-bone and one or more ribs broken. He was taken to his home by Mr. C. H. Hayes, who with Mr. Wiggin and others is loading the schooner with apples and potatoes.

Seventy-seven boys and girls, of all ages from five to fifteen years, were coasting on the South meetinghouse hill, Thursday afternoon last. Many complaints have been made concerning this common custom of sliding in the streets, and it is announced that the city authorities will put a stop to it.

It is a fact long known to the profession that the ciliary muscles become so much overtaxed in trying on several pairs of spectacles that one cannot determine what their eyes require. Prof. Brown furnishes spectacles with lenses of the best materials and most approved forms, for one-half what the same thing would cost procured by consulting a responsible city oculist, and guaranteed to fit in the broadest sense of the word.

On Wednesday evening, the 19th inst., the following-named gentlemen were installed as officers of Storer Post, G. A. R., by Past Department Commander Daniel J. Vaughan; Commander, William H. Smith; Senior Vice Commander, Marcus M. Collis; Junior Vice Commander, Adolph Nelson; Adjutant, James E. Ford; Quartermaster, John H. Locke; Surgeon, John W. Parsons; Chaplain, Alfred M. Lang; Officer of the Day, Edwin A. Rand; Officer of the Guard, Samuel Taylor.

A ghost is reported as haunting the Creek district, on different occasions "appearing" to a number of persons in the vicinity of the Creek bridge, between the hours of nine o'clock and midnight, scaring them almost to death. The ghost is said to be a superior one—a lady with very long, light-colored hair, and clad in a flowing white robe confined at the waist by what appears to be a roll of black crape. The statement that the apparition of a lightly clad woman scares the chaps who hang around the Creek bridge after nine o'clock at night, requires confirmation. The ghost has been spoken to several times, when it immediately vanished. Another account is to the effect that two ghosts have been seen, one of them being a man with sea-boots on; but this is obviously an error, as no ghost ever wears sea-boots in public, so far as our observation has extended.

Rev. Arthur A. Waite, who is to appear at Franklin theatre on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings next, is well known throught the country as an exposer of so called spiritualistic "tricks." Mr. Waite gave an exhibition before an audience of 700 people in Manchester last Sunday evening, and the Manchester Union says: "Mr. Waite was assisted by his little boy, seven years of age, and we think entire satisfaction was given the audience. A committee was selected to examine the tests, and they were as much misled by the tricks as was the audience. After a long list of tests, all of which were cleverly performed, Mr. Waite explained how they were done, to the satisfaction of the audience. The entertainment, if so it may be called, was the best of the kind that we remember to have seen."

Mr. John C. Davis, who died at North Conway on the 14th inst., though but little known to the present generation hereabouts was formerly a man of considerable prominence in this section. In early life he was in business at the navy yard village in Kittery, and afterward successfully conducted the mills at Spruce creek, which he purchased. He was also interested in shipping to a considerable extent; built the schooner George in 1840, the Jerome in 1843, and we believe several others. About 1846 he removed to North Conway, purchased a farm, and opened a grocery store; became the owner of the "Willey house" at the White Mountain Notch, and built a summer resort there; and in 1848 built the Kearsarge house upon Mt. Kearsarge. As a Freemason he was quite active when a young man, and at the time of his death was the oldest member of De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar, of this city; he was also a member of St. John's Lodge.

Advices have been received from Bergen, Norway, to the effect that a Norwegian who was one of the three men that last year stole the schooner Ida R. Freeman of Wellfleet, has been sentenced to one year's hard labor. The other two are Swedes, and having been claimed by the Swedish government will be sent to Sweden to be sentenced. The schooner has been fitted for the fisheries, and will go to the Faroe islands in a few weeks.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Drew's mill at South Berwick junction, burned not long ago, has been rebuilt, and had new machinery put in.

The jury in the McKinney will case at Saco, at the close of a trial lasting more than a week, on the 20th inst. brought in a verdict sustaining the will but setting aside the codicil. The jury were out two hours.

New Hampshire Items.

At Carroll, Jan. 19th, Cephas B. Toune was killed by the bursting of a pulley in H. E. Richardson's mill.

The business portion of the town of Wilton was destroyed by fire on the 20th inst. Loss estimated at $60,000; partially insured. The post-office was burned, with all the mail matter; also the public library.

The aldermen and mayor of Manchester have ordered saloons closed at ten o'clock at night, exciting intense disgust among all who may happen to be thirsty after that hour.

Thomas Howe died in Barrington the other day, in his 102d year, smart and active, and doing his own work till the past month; and David Evans lives in Wakefield at the same age, with a son, a grandson and a great-grandson in the same house.

Leander P. Comee, formerly of Fitchburg, and now clerk of the Cheshire house at Keene, was seriously injured at Keene on Sunday, the 16th. The sleigh in which he was riding was overturned, and Mr. Comee was thrown against an iron post and had three ribs fractured.

Bob Ingersoll on Stingey Men.

I despise a stingey man. I don't see how it is possible for a man to die worth $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 in a city full of want, when he meets almost every day the withered hand of hunger and the white lips of famine. How a man can withstand all that and hold in the clutch of his hand $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 is beyond my comprehension. I do not see how he can do it. I should not think he could do it any more than he could keep a pile of lumber when hundreds and thousands were drowning in the sea. Do you know I have known men who would trust their wives with their hearts and their homes, but not with their pocket-books—not with a dollar. When I see a man of that kind, I always think he knows which is most valuable. Think of her asking you every day for a dollar or two dollars, or to humbly beg for fifty cents. "What did you do with that dollar I gave you?" Think of having a wife that is afraid of you! What kind of children do you expect to have with a beggar and a coward for a mother? Oh, I tell you if you have but a dollar in the world and you have got to spend it, spend it like a king; spend it as though it were a dry leaf and you the owner of unbounded forests. That's the way to spend it. I had rather be a beggar and spend my last dollar like a king, than to be a king and spend my money like a beggar.

—A writer says that the majority of men, if they could have their own way, would not clean house oftener than once in ten years. We have heard of fellows being as clean as that, but not many.

—The Albany Law Journal has discovered the misadventure which was the main cause of the late William Cullen Bryant's quitting the bar. In an action for slander, for saying that one had "burned his own store," he had neglected to insert the proper inuendo that it was done to defraud the insurers. He naturally lost his case, and as amendments were not then in vogue, it was lost irrevocably.

—People have been led to commit suicide by various causes. Many a young man has killed himself in despair because a girl has jilted him. Not long ago a Texas man put a bullet through his brain because he thought he had killed his mother-in-law; he did not propose to be hanged for that offense. In the same state a grown-up girl shot herself because her mother had whipped her; and a boy of thirteen killed himself because his cruel parents refused to allow him to marry the girl he loved. A North Carolina young lady drowned herself because her father failed of an election to the legislature; a twenty-year-old youth of the state shot himself because his father would not let him lie abed in the morning, and a woman took a fatal dose of Paris green because her neighbors gossipped about her.

MARRIED.

STEVENS—PIGOTT. In Chelsea, Mass., Dec. 30th, by Rev. C. H. P. Nason, Mr. F. B. Stevens of Malden, formerly of this city, and Miss Audie Pigott, daughter of Mr. M. M. Pigott of Chelsea.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

Bark Antioch, Weeks, from Seattle arr at San Francisco 11th.

The New Hampshire poor house which burned the other day, roasting alive a dozen or more inmates, was well provided with fire escapes, but the doors leading to them were all securely locked, and the keys no one knew where. The gentlemen who run this institution are perhaps not aware that there is a place where they do not lock up their fire escapes—where, as a matter of fact, they have no fire escapes to lock up.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Now I See!"

So said the blind man after the Saviour had healed him. Actual blindness is not easy to cure, although it is sometimes done. But remember that disease of the eyes often result from impure blood. If you have any reason to think your bad eyes may have come from this cause, lose not an hour of time in buying a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which will cost you only one dollar, and take it to cleanse your blood. You can implicitly trust it to this. Or drop a line to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. State your case fully and get the doctor's opinion free.

The Fall River, Mass., railroad company, whose trestle approach to the city was shifted by ice a few days ago, has decided to fill in the trestle with earth for its entire length, two miles, involving an outlay of $25,000.

WHAT SAYS PROFESSOR CARNOCHAN of the Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic? "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it." It imparts fresh energy into an enfeebled, disordered system.

In the New York assembly a bill has been introduced providing that the sheriffs in each county shall lay on twenty lashes on the bare back of any husband convicted of maltreating a wife.

I have suffered for years with irritation in the stomach, loss of appetite, restlessness at night, irritability of temper; two bottles D. R. V. G. has cured me. I am well now.

Senator Schroeder has introduced in the state senate at Albany, N. Y., a bill prohibiting telegraph companies organized under the laws of that state from selling out to other companies, or "consolidating" with them in any way.

Physicians Recommending Stimulants for invalids consult their own interests and those of their patients by writing for "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon," bottled only by Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston. Said by the present and past state assayers to be absolutely pure—a feature for medicinal use.

Timothy C. Murphy of Norwich, Conn., has been awarded a medal by the government "for heroism shown in saving lives." He has saved twelve persons from drowning during the last seven years.

The Portland Argus says, on supposed good authority, that the will of the late J. B. Brown bequeaths to the widow of the deceased the homestead, half a million of dollars, and another half a million in trust; the remainder of the great property is to be divided among the three children. It is understood that nothing was left to any relative, outside of the immediate family of the deceased, and that no public bequests of any kind were made.

A train on the Lowell road, leaving Lawrence on the morning of Jan. 19th, while backing into the depot, ran into a barge-load of Andover operatives employed in a mill in Lawrence. A horse was killed, and the forward end of the barge demolished. The passengers, upwards of twenty, managed to escape without serious injury. The crossing tender claims that the gates were properly closed, though others say that the team was hemmed in between the gates on either side of the tracks.

About five years ago, Willard Dean of Grafton, Vt., while raking hay, ran against an apple-tree limb, which entered his eye just below the eyeball. For a long time it was feared he would lose the eye, but it finally got better, and although it has troubled him a good deal since, he has called it well. Recently, however, it pained him very keenly, and upon examination he picked out a piece of wood broken from the limb, more than half an inch long and a quarter of an inch in diameter.

John B. Gibson, the wealthy middle-aged proprietor of the Gibson house of Cincinnati, was some years since sued for heavy damages for breach of promise, and the suit is still pending. To prevent annoyance Mr. Gibson travelled abroad, and there met Mrs. Reakart, a wealthy Cincinnati widow, a friend of his early days, and they agreed to be married. The wedding has come off, and Cincinnati people not having been consulted in advance, the higher social circles of that city are greatly agitated by the event.

The London Economist thinks it not improbable that the United States may succeed in funding a debt of 687 million dollars at three per cent, and is of the opinion that a reduction of the rate of interest on British consols may follow in the near future.

—A bright little girl not long since was urging her mother to go up stairs and hear her say her prayers before retiring. Her mother, not finding it convenient, told her that Jesus could hear it just as well. "But, mother," replied the little daughter, "Jesus can't turn off the gas."

—A devoted Methodist, it is said, asked John Wesley what he thought as to his marrying a certain woman well known to both. Wesley advised him not to think of it. "Why," said the other, "she is a member of your church, isn't she?" "Yes" was the reply. "And you think she is truly a Christian woman?" "Yes," said Wesley, "I believe she is." "Well, then, why not marry her?" "Because," replied Wesley, "because, my friend, the Lord can live with a great many people that you and I can't."

—Near Paris a peasant girl was deserted by her lover, who had promised to marry her. Some time afterward he called and found her washing clothes in the garden, near a well. They had been chatting a while, when suddenly the girl, as if by accident, dropped a cloth in the well, and exhibited great grief over the loss of it. Her companion volunteered to lean over in the well and fish the garment out; but while he was so engaged the girl caught him by the feet and threw him in. In reply to his cries, she told him if he would promise to marry her she would pull him out. He promised, but no sooner was he out than he brought a suit against her for trying to murder him. Then at last he withdrew it, and married her.

WHAT HAPPENED TO

MR. JOSEPH BEACH.

Stone in the Kidney expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" about two weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered since October 18th, 1876, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "It will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any clinoid-ra arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" is sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, N. Y.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with Whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents, BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business in our line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Some years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, of Buffalo, N. Y., and London, was sent for to examine a terrible disease of the knee-joint, resulting in ulceration and extensive sloughing of the bone and tissues. The man's life had been despaired of by the previous attendants. Amputation at the thigh was promptly decided upon and skillfully performed by Dr. Pierce, and as after treatment to purify the blood and prevent a recurrence of the malady the doctor's Golden Medical Discovery was freely prescribed. The man's system was thoroughly purified and strengthened, he rapidly gained his health, the stump healing nicely, and he is to-day a happy man. This case was among the first in which this wonderful blood-purifier was tested. It has since manifested its wonderful power over the worst scrofulous and other blood diseases. Taken for a time it so purifies and strengthens the system as to strongly fortify it against the encroachments of diseases. Sold by druggists.

MIDDLEVILLE, Mich., Feb. 15th, 1879.

Hon. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—I would say that I have sold your medicines for seven years. The Golden Medical Discovery is the best cough remedy I have ever used and in every case where I have recommended it, it has cured. I have used it in my family for my children. It cures their colds and coughs in a day or two. My wife has used it several times when down sick. It invariably gives immediate relief. Its sale increases daily.

J. B. KESTER, Druggist.

—A well-known plumber placed a handsome stove in his window last week, and several young men in the neighborhood, knowing his peculiarities, thought they would have some fun with him about it. Each in succession entered the store, and asking the price, gave vent to a prolonged whistle of astonishment. By the time that the fourth joker had left, the storekeeper was wrought up to a frenzy of rage, and when a dumpy-looking young man came in a few minutes later and cast one glance at the stove, he got between the customer and the door, and in a voice of thunder, said: "Young man, the price of that stove is eight hundred and seventy-five dollars, and if you pucker up your mouth to whistle, I'm going to get some wholesome exercise out of you with this club."

For impaired digestion, and for debility from any cause, I know nothing equal to Fellows' Compound Hypophosphites. Its direct effect in strengthening the nervous system renders it suitable for the majority of diseases. Weakness of the joints and muscles, of the blood, and inward wastings may be cured by Fellows' Hypophosphites.

WM. S. HOWE, M. D., Pittsfield, Me.

—Robert Smith, a North Carolina farmer who had been annoyed by thieves, shot and killed a man who entered his orchard. The intruder proved to be an honest stranger, with no intent to steal. Smith was convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged. His neighbors sympathized with him, and, failing to get executive clemency, forcibly released him from jail, and sent him secretly out of the state.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

—The scarcity of fuel during the recent cold snap forced Waco, Tex., to burn 10,000 bushels of cotton seed to keep warm.

I have been troubled with flatus in the stomach and bowels, sometimes seriously so. D. R. V. G. has cured me. I recommend it to all.

D. Candee, Alderman 6th Ward, Syracuse, N. Y.

—A patent medicine notice in many of our exchanges is headed, "An Editor's Escape." We haven't read it, but we are glad he escaped. We suspect that while the man with the bill was coming upstairs, the editor jumped out of the window and slid down the rain-spout.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1881.

The Strafford County Fire.

From the evidence of Superintendent Caswell of the Strafford county farm, at the coroner's inquest in Dover, we have carefully gleaned the following facts:

There were two furnaces in the building, both in charge of an inmate, no one overseeing him but the superintendent, who had been sick several weeks. There was no zinc over tops of furnaces. There are six wells on the premises, but they furnish only a little water; five of them have pumps. For two months a good part of the water for the buildings was hauled from the river. A ram supplied the main house, in ordinary times with care giving enough; the ram was supplied from a spring 2700 feet away on the opposite side of the river, 66 feet lower than the underpinning of the house. At the time of the fire the ram furnished one quarter-inch stream about eight hours a day; it was shut off during the night, and let on at five o'clock in the morning. The ram was in charge of an inmate. There were three cisterns, supplied when water was plenty from the roofs and the spring; two were empty; one under the hospital might have had three or four hogsheads of water in it. [There was also a hogshead about two-thirds full in the cellar, which was furnished by the ram.] There was no water in the house on the night of the fire except as above stated; none in the pails in the sink; there were no pails or buckets in the halls, and never had been; there were pumps in the cisterns to throw water from the cisterns to the third story, and a tank in the third story with a cock to draw in buckets; the tank, like the cisterns, was empty. There were two portable fire extinguishers; they were once used successfully in extinguishing a fire in the building; but when the late fire broke out they were not charged, and had not been since a year ago last August. There never has been a watchman on the premises. Thirteen persons perished.

Chili Triumphant.

A telegram from Valparaiso reports that a great battle has been fought near Charillos, Peru, nine miles south of Lima. The Peruvians were defeated and driven from their positions with heavy loss. The Chilians held Charillos.

A despatch from Buenos Ayres, dated Jan. 20th, says the Chilians attacked and completely defeated the Peruvian army at Miraflores. Gen. Pierola, president of Peru and commander of the army, fled. The Chilians occupied Lima without resistance on the 17th inst.

The Senatorial Election Question.

In the national Senate, on the 20th inst., Mr. Rollins urged the Senate to take action on the question of electing senators in New Hampshire, which was raised during Senator Wadleigh's term. There is a conflict between the provisions of the constitution of New Hampshire and the laws of the United States, which raises a question at the commencement of the term of every senator. The state has to be half represented, or the governor has to appoint a senator for three months. The Senate refused to consider the question that day.

News and Notes.

At Hardwick, Mass., a boy fifteen years old, named DeLargy, has been arrested for setting fire to two school houses successively burned upon the same site, where the boy attended school. His father furnished bail.

The United States district-attorney of Utah gives the reasons for the difficulty attending the conviction of Mormons for bigamy. In the first place, it is nearly impossible to prove bigamous marriages, because all such ceremonies are performed in the "endowment house," and all present are sworn to secrecy. When they are required to testify in the court, if they perjure themselves, they believe it is for the good of their religion. Again, the law is such that conviction cannot take place if marriage occurred three years before. About nine out of ten of the Mormons would escape conviction for bigamy under this statute of limitations.

A verdict in favor of the United States life insurance company has been rendered in New York on the ground that the insured, whose policy amounted to $10,000, did not honestly answer questions, and made misleading statements.

Mrs. Anthony Osborne, an aged resident near Delaware Station, N. J., took a bedquilt to an outhouse on the 18th inst., and after saturating the quilt with kerosene oil, wrapped it about her, laid down, and touched a match to it. She died of her injuries.

The Pennsylvania board of pardons has recommended a pardon in the case of John S. Morton, ex-president of the Market street railway of Philadelphia, now under sentence of ten years for a fraudulent issue of the bonds of that road.

James Russell, of Newark, N. J., being rejected by a woman in New York city to whom he had paid suit, threw vitriol in her face and the faces of her sister and brother-in-law, disfiguring them for life.

James Hogg shot his daughter at Carthage, Mo., and committed suicide. The girl recovered, but afterward concluded that, as her father had desired it, she ought to die. She drowned herself in a well.

The $20,000 on the body of the Rev. John E. Giles, the tramp colporteur found dead at Niskayuna, N. Y., has been paid over to Mrs. Jane E. Giles of Michigan, who has established her identity as his wife.

Political Notes.

Wade Hampton stopped his subscription to the Charleston Mercury, because it printed an article he did not like. In a private letter to the editor he called him impertinent, and his paper a nuisance. Whereupon the editor wrote a bitter article on the shortcomings of South Carolina "Bourbons," and ended by giving his address.

The Solid South, a paper printed at Memphis, Tenn., by the Union-hating blatheskite Kernan, has suspended publication.

The illegal matter which the post-office department detected under the franks of democratic congressmen weighed two tons, and the number of envelopes franked is 80,000. The detection of this fraud is indignantly denounced by men who made themselves a detective force during two Congresses.

The "Midwinter (February) Scribner" has always been a special number, as superbly rich as the choicest literary matter and the most beautiful wood engravings can make it. Of last year's midwinter number the London Times said: "It is a really magnificent triumph of American pictorial art and literary genius." The English publisher of Scribner has telegraphed for 17,000 copies of the present number,—an advance of 6000 upon his orders last year, and the largest edition of an American magazine ever sent to England;—in fact, it is said to be larger than the monthly sales of any English magazine. The American edition of Scribner has grown during 1880 about 20,000 copies.

A delightful feature of the magazine this year is a series of sparkling novelettes, or condensed novels, instead of a serial story. "A Fair Barbarian," the story of a piquant American girl in England, by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, begins in this February number with a twenty-two page installment, and will run through three issues. Since the death of George Eliot it may be said that Mrs. Burnett commands a larger English-speaking audience, than any other woman. Her novelette will be followed by one by George W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc., and afterward Boyesen's "Queen Titania" will be published. "Peter the Great," by Eugene Schuyler's historical work, begun in February, 1880, will be finished in October of this year. By means of the recently published special offers of Scribner, the whole of this great work, with its wealth of illustrations, can be had at a very low price, in connection with a year's subscription. All book-sellers can give the terms.

In the same ratio that Scribner's Monthly is prospering, "St. Nicholas," the famous magazine for boys and girls, issued by the same publishers, grows apace. About 100,000 copies of the Christmas number were sold, while the January number has been for some time out of print. In February, there is a full account of the Obelisk, richly illustrated from sketches and photographs, showing the great monolith in all stages of moving.

—A Boston correspondent of a New Hampshire paper writes: "Do you in the Granite State love to sneer at 'Boston culture?' Then your heart will glow when I tell you about an irreverent New Yorker condemned by business obligations to spend Christmas week here. Thanking to amuse himself by seeing the city, he stepped on a Beacon street car and said to the conductor, "Does this car pass the museum art Au-se-um?" 'No,' was the reply, 'but it passes the new art Mu-se-um.'"

—At a recent bird show in Berlin, Germany, green canaries were exhibited. Others were red, light brown and gray. The variations of color had been caused by the daily use of cayenne pepper in their food. The pepper was at first given in small quantities, and the birds appeared to like it, but the feathers soon fell, giving them a moulting appearance. In a short time new feathers of divers colors sprouted. The variations were ascribed to the different qualities of the pepper, and to the quantity given.

SOOTHING INSTANTLY,

even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Slumps in Dwight. It has cured Tetter, Scurvey, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.

PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,

A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, all the doctors failed to cure, I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and he gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.

J. STREAM, R. Druggist 25 years.

It is the only sure cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.

Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of DR. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for sick headache, and 20 drops is the largest dose. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and all painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.

Wm. H. Morse, Janitor Fe ge School, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.

DR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more humanitarian act could be done. Advice free. Come and see, and. Bring on the worst cases as you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

The Newmarket Manufacturing company has been running mostly by steam power for the past six months, while the Swampscott Machine company at South Newmarket has been obliged to haul water half a mile for two months past.

Mrs. Daniel D. Mahoney of Dover was knocked down and run over one evening recently, by a "double-runner" on which four or five young persons were sliding in the street; she sustained painful injuries, the point of one of the runners gashing one of her feet badly, and was for several days unable to attend to her household duties.

The Middle street Baptist society, at their adjourned annual meeting on Thursday evening, elected Lewis E. Staples clerk, and Joseph D. Ackerman, John M. Tebbetts, George W. Plumer, Wm A. Hodgdon and Lewis E. Staples, as wardens. The subject of building a new chapel, with modern arrangements, was referred to a committee to report in three weeks.

The next entertainment of the Star Course is to be on Tuesday evening next, as per advertisement. The comic opera is said to be a fine musical sketch, and the "Bric-a-Brac" interspersed makes an evening of enjoyment. This company played in the Star Course at Dover last season, and pleased so much that they have repeated their entertainment twice in that city to large audiences; and it is said they gave the best satisfaction of any entertainment in the course.

The Dover Republican thus refers to the occurrences at St. John's Lodge of Masons, of this city, on the evening of the 19th inst.: "The exemplification of the work was performed in a highly creditable manner, and at its close remarks for the good and welfare of the order were made by visiting and resident Masons. The banquet which followed, in table arrangement and culinary excellence rather surpassed anything of the kind previously furnished in this vicinity, and was heartily partaken of and relished by those who were fortunate enough to obtain a sitting. On account of the large number present, some time was required in serving all; but those who 'awaited with patience' were amply rewarded, and none we believe were overlooked."

Instructions have been issued to the police to stop coasting in the streets.

Large quantities of smelts are being taken in the rivers near Exeter and Newmarket.

Five schooners, loaded with frozen herring for bait, were in the lower harbor on Friday.

Rev. B. F. Jefferson of South Strafford, Vt., has received and accepted a call to the Freewill Baptist church at Newmarket.

One of the crew of the fishing schooner Helen F. Tredick on a recent trip hauled up on his trawl a large single block with a wooden pin. The shell of the block was about destroyed by worms, but the lignum vitæ sheave was as good as when first made.

The edict has gone forth that the speeding of fast horses on the street, contrary to law, must be stopped; Richards avenue we believe is the exempted from the operation of this decree, so the owners of fast nags can scoot up and down that thoroughfare at as breakneck a rate as they choose.

Among the fishing vessels that came in on Friday were the Mary E. Smith, Bonita, Lucy, Christie Campbell, Azelia, Rover's Bride, Helen F. Tredick, Grace Choate, Flying Eagle, Emma S. Osier, Julia A., Flora Temple, Mary E. Caswell, Florence Nightingale, Champion, Ella M. Johnson, Josie Johnson, Norma, Fleur De Lis, E Pluribus Unum, Flying Cloud, Daniel C. Baker, Nettie Adams, Gen. Grant and others, with a total catch of about 150,000 lbs. of fish.

Stephen W. Clarke, principal of the High school for the past ten years, contemplates resigning his position at an early date to go into business in Manchester, having with Mr. James E. Dixon bought out one of the finest jewelry establishments in that place. The retirement of Mr. Clarke from the High school will be a severe loss, his thorough qualification as a teacher and his painstaking efforts with his scholars having gained for him a reputation far beyond the limits of Portsmouth. It will be remembered that Mr. Clark was given the only medal granted by the Paris Exposition to any teacher in New Hampshire. The secret organizations of Portsmouth — and their name is legion—of nearly every one of which Mr. Clarke is a member and a prominent one at that, will miss him; in fact we all shall miss so representative a gentleman—but what is our loss is Manchester's gain, if there is any consolation in that.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Alderman, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Jan. 20th:

The city marshal's annual report, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1880, was submitted, and referred to the committee on police.

Several bills were ordered to be paid, among them one for water at the engine houses.

Alderman Noyes, from the committee to whom was referred the matter of finding a room for the public library now occupying quarters in the custom house, reported, giving the terms on which rooms could be secured in Treadwell's building, corner of Pleasant and State streets, in Franklin buildings, and in Mechanics' block. After considerable talk the matter was recommitted for further report.

A motion to increase the salaries of the assessors of taxes to $50 a year each, was defeated by a vote of five to three, and further consideration of the matter was indefinitely postponed.

USEFUL FIRE EXTINGUISHERS.

One of the Dover papers has been very severe upon the management of the Stratford county farm since the fire at that place, alleging that the disaster was due to reckless neglect or utter incompetence somewhere. However this may be, the superintendent of the farm in his testimony before the coroner's jury made one most astounding statement, viz., that there were on the premises when the fire broke out two portable fire-extinguishers, but that neither of them was charged, nor had been since a year ago last August, although they had once been successfully used to extinguish a fire! There is a grave significance in this admission, especially when taken in connection with the superintendent's statement that when he first saw the flames "probably a pail or two of water would have put the fire out if we had had it." Fire escapes with the doors leading to them securely locked, and fire extinguishers containing nothing, may do very well to pass an official inspection, but do not amount to much when the hour of need arrives.

ODD FELLOWS' SOCIABLE.

On Thursday evening last, Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., gave one of the social entertainments for which that organization has for some years been noted. Hon. Emmons B. Philbrick, of Rye, acted as master of ceremonies, and in his opening remarks feelingly alluded to the loss sustained by the lodge and the order, in the death of Bro. William Kenudy. The exercises were very pleasing, consisting of readings by Miss Flagg, singing by the choir of the Pearl street church, violin playing by Miss Fannie Hoyt of Newington, twelve years old, a remarkably promising pupil of Mr. Henry Harlow's, songs by Miss Grace Varrell, aged ten years, music by Messrs. Harlow and Cole, speeches, etc. Over three hundred persons — members of the order, their ladies and invited guests—sat down to supper, the tables having to be set a second time to accommodate all. During the evening Past Grand Wm. C. Robinson, who has lately taken to himself a mate, was called forward by Mr. Philbrick, who in appropriate terms presented him, on behalf of the ladies of the order, with a large and handsome bride cake. The festivities were kept up until about midnight.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

At a council fire of Newichewannock Tribe, No. 4, Improved Order of Red Men, held Friday evening, Jan. 21st, on motion of E. P. Johnson of Manchester the following resolutions were adopted:

On the sleep of the 7th Sun, Cold Moru, after the council fire had been quenched, and the red man and pale face alike were wrapped in silent slumbers, the messenger of death, for the third time, entered our camp. While we submit with bowed heads and heavy hearts to the rulings of the Great Spirit, we are compelled to believe, with the Palmist of old, that to die is gain.

Resolved, that we mourn the loss of our late brother Charles A. Stevens, and cherish his memory.

Resolved, that we pattern by his noble conduct, not only in the council but in the forest of life.

Resolved, that the Tribe has not only lost a noble brother, but the mother a dutiful son.

Resolved, that this Tribe express their heart-felt sympathies with the afflicted family, and most especially with the mother, who has the silent prayers of the Tribe.

Resolved, that a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions be forwarded to the bereaved family.

Resolved, that the local papers be requested to publish the same.

PROGRESS.

The good seed planted in this city some years ago, in the organization of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, is leavening the whole lump in fine style. [This simile does not appear to read exactly as we would like to have it, but it is the best we can do just now.] The beneficial influence of the society is easily discernable in this city, in the comparative variety of cases of positive cruelty to, or cruel neglect of, dumb beasts; and much good has been done in other places in the state, through the activity of the society's agents.

On Wednesday of this week the Portsmouth society—the "New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," regularly chartered by act of the legislature, and having jurisdiction all over the state—was we believe the only organized society in New Hampshire; but on Wednesday evening, at Dover, at an adjourned meeting of citizens favoring the establishment of a society in that city, the project was carried into effect by the choice of permanent officers, among whom are the following:

President—John Bracewell.
Vice Presidents—Z. S. Wallingford, Wm. Hale, Jeremiah Smith, Charles M. Murphy, Mrs. Hannah Sawyer, Mrs. John P. Hale, Charles H. Sawyer, William S. Stevens, Charles A. Tufts, Eli V. Brewster, Mrs. George R Spalding, Mrs. D. H. Wendell, Mrs. J. M. Haynes, Rev Dr. A. H. Quint, Oliver Wyatt, Samuel M. Wheeler, Daniel Hale, Mrs. Henry A. Worthen, Mrs. Charles M. Jones.
Secretary—Geo. S. Frost.
Treasurer—T. B. Garland.
Counsel—J. Colby Caverly.

It was voted to call the new organization the "Dover Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," and committees were appointed to draft a constitution, solicit subscriptions and membership, etc., and report at a future meeting.

The Dover dailies, the Democrat and Republican, in the past have not spared their denunciations of cases of cruelty or neglect of animals brought to their notice; and they will no doubt render valuable aid in carrying out the object of the new organization, which under such energetic officers as have been chosen must be a power for good.

Manchester as yet has no such society, but Mr. D. K. White has been acting as local agent, and A. J. Crosby of Manchester was recently fined $15 in the supreme court for cruelly beating a horse, the complaint against him having been entered by Mr. White. The Manchester Times, commenting on this case, uses the following language, which is applicable to other places beside Manchester:

There are cases of flagrant neglect of horses during cold winter nights frequently occurring, their drivers leaving them unprotected, while they are within doors and comfortable. It is a crime against humanity to do this, as well as against the laws of the state; and it makes no difference whether the driver is in a rum shop or a prayer meeting—he is just as guilty.

The Whitaker court-martial was opened in New York on the 20th inst., and adjourned to Feb. 3d.

John G. Farr, who killed his wife in a house of indifferent reputation at Belfast, Me., and has been on trial at Portland for the crime, was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

The city authorities of Boston have prohibited the use of double runners on the common, and the small boys with single sleds will now have a chance for a good time.

—The Rochester Herald advises the man who intends to be a millionaire to never visit a church fair.

A little girl in Bethel has swallowed a nickel, which has stuck in her throat and is described as acting like a stove-damper. She can swallow liquids and small mouthfuls of solid food, but large ones turn the coin and close the passage.

Col. Joseph Cilley, of Nottingham, recently celebrated his 90th birthday. He is a veteran of the war of 1812, having received a wound at Lundy's Lane, from which he still suffers, and was a member of the United States Senate in 1846-7, being elected to fill the unexpired term of Levi Woodbury. He is in full possession of his mental faculties, and takes a great interest in the news of the day.

In the case of Geo. A. Crosby vs. the city of Manchester, the jury, after being out all night, returned a verdict for the city. The case has excited much interest, being the first case brought in New Hampshire courts to test the liability of a horse railroad corporation for damages occasioned to teams in crossing its track. The said suit was against the city in the first instance, which summoned the railroad to come into court and defend. A large number of cases were held in reserve, awaiting the issue of the present case.

Rufus Hatch has secured a temporary injunction against the consolidation of the telegraph companies, and brings a suit to make the injunction permanent. The New York legislature has also taken the matter up and will investigate the result of the agreement.

STOMACH

BITTERS

Sleep, Appetite and Strength

Return when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is systematically used by billious dyspeptic sufferers. Moreover, since the brain sympathizes closely with the stomach and its associate organs, the liver and the bowels, so their derangement is rectified by the action of the Bitters, mental despondency produced by that derangement disappears.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers, generally.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

☞ Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this, under any circumstances.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

THE UNWELCOME VISITOR.

Over the roofs of the city
Gather the clouds as a pall;
Downward so slyly drifting,
Softly the snowflakes fall—
Fall upon palace and hovel,
Fall upon tower and street,
Soon to be crushed by a million
Hurrying, scrambling feet.

Now for the bells and the runners!
Out with the horse and the sleigh!
Hurry! be quick! for the snow fall
Scarcely may last us a day.
Soon it will leave us, obeying
Nature's continual law—
After the clouds, the sunshine;
After the snow, the thaw.

Quickly the wheels will crunch it,
Making the snow with mud;
Then from the housetops and gutters
Water will pour in a flood.
Then through each a[illegible] sewer
Terrible torrents will rush—
After the clouds, the sunshine;
After the snow, the slush.

Snow, thou art beautiful, truly,
Anywhere else but here;
Here is thy presence a nuisance,
Only in one sense dear.
Poets may sing of thy glories;
Facts put a stop to their gush—
After the clouds, the sunshine;
After the snow, the slush.

FROZEN FOOT.—Wm. H. Morse, of 56 Poplar St., Chelsea, Mass., had his left foot very badly frozen, while attending a fire in South Boston. The doctors in attendance said it would have to be amputated, but he used some of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil" and is entirely well. See adv.

Experiments by Prof. Cohn of Breslau with the electric light show that letters, spots and colors are seen at a much greater distance through the medium of electric light than by day or gaslight. The sensation of yellow was increased sixty fold as compared with daylight, of red six fold, and blue two fold; showing that the electric light would be very useful where it is necessary to observe signals at a great distance.

Physicians Recommending Stimulants for invalids consult their own interests and those of their patients by writing for "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon," bottled only by Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston. Said by the present and past state assayers to be absolutely pure—a feature for medicinal use.

Benjamin S. Schell was arrested at Atlanta, Ga., Thursday, for attempting to marry Hattie Gertrude Posey, eight years old. It is suspected that the girl has been kidnapped.

A Boy Again.

Pain and sickness bring on old age with fearful rapidity. They make an incessant drain on the vital forces, and the weary steps and faded cheeks of age often come, when the enjoyment of life should be at its highest. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" turns this kind of old age into youth again. Headache, pains in the limbs, troubles of the liver, bowels or kidneys vanish before it, and feeble men and women become like relicking school boys and girls once more. One dollar a bottle, either at your druggist's or from the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

The railroad question has got into the Maine legislature. A bill to regulate fares and freights has been offered in the house.

J. N. Beck, of Toledo, Ohio, says:—My father before wearing the "Only Lung Pad," could not sleep nights on account of his violent coughing, since wearing it he has slept soundly every night.—See Adv.

An earthquake lasting about ten seconds was felt throughout the region of Bath, Maine, at 9:45 o'clock last Thursday evening. There was at first a loud report, followed by a rumbling sound as of a heavy team driven over frozen ground. Windows rattled and distinct oscillations were felt.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

Some people are hard to suit. The Californians find fault with the Chinese treaty because the word "laborers" is not specific enough. They want all the Chinese to go. But as the complaint against the Chinese and the danger to America arose from the cheap labor furnished by imported coolies, it would seem that the word "laborers" covers the ground. The United States is allowed control of the immigration of laborers, and the United States ought to be content.

I have been troubled with flatus in the stomach and bowels, sometimes seriously so. D. R. V. G. has cured me. I recommend it to all.

"Your 'and, Gov'nor."

The unusually successful run of "The Gov'nor" at the Boston Museum shows how the hand of the Governor has taken hold of the popular pulse. The play seems to maintain an undiminished power of drawing good houses. This of course is due in a great measure to the excellent stock company at the Museum. Mr. Barron's part has many sayings which were intended by the British author as witticisms, but they don't all take; a pun should be very good or else very bad to make the audience show the least appreciation of it. Mr. Warren's part is one which gives him abundant opportunities for his powers of facial expression, while Mr. Wilson is simply immense. Miss Bartlett admirably sustains her part, and acts Mrs. Butterscotch as if she had filled the role for years. The audiences show unabated enjoyment at each representation, and the piece shows an almost unprecedented run of good houses, such as the Museum Company is able to draw, with the manager's selection is as fortunate as in the present instance.

The Navy in Congress.

During the session of the committee of the whole House of Representatives, last week, the naval appropriation bill being under consideration, Mr. Atkins (Dem., Tenn.,) briefly explained the provisions of the bill, which appropriated $14,461,000—a net increase of $55,000 over the appropriation bill for the present year. The principal items of increase are $125,000 for the pay of the navy, and $18,000 for the marine corps. The principal item of decrease was in the appropriations for torpedoes.

Mr. Reagan (Dem., Tex.,) inquired how many naval vessels were afloat.

Mr. Atkins replied that there were about forty-three ships in commission.

Mr. Reagan called attention to the enormous number of officers and the large pay-list in comparison with that number of vessels.

Mr. Whitthorne (Dem., Tenn.,) chairman of the committee on naval affairs, admitted that there were too many officers in the navy. His committee had made the effort to reorganize the navy, but the attempt had not met with the concurrence of the House. He believed that the incoming administration ought to recognize that the United States had no navy, and begin to build from the bottom up.

The bill was then read by sections for amendments.

Mr. Hiscock (Rep., N. Y.,) moved to increase from $800,000 to $1,000,000 the appropriation for the bureau of steam engineering.

Mr. Atkins opposed the amendment. If the United States had no navy, as was stated, he was utterly opposed to extravagant appropriations to patch up the old hulks.

Mr. Hiscock contended that it was necessary to keep in repair the present navy while the new navy was being built.

Mr. Hawley (Rep., Conn.,) favored the amendment. When gentlemen said that there was no navy they meant it in a Pickwickian sense. There were good vessels in the navy which would always be of service, and they should be kept in a proper condition. It was high time, however, that Congress should deliberately sit down and devise a plan for a large addition to the navy, and then go to work and make appropriations of $5,000,000 for a series of years until a navy should be built.

After further debate the amendment was rejected. The committee then rose and reported the bill.

News and Notes.

Schooner Acme, at Carlboo cove, C. B., from Boston, reports falling in with a dismasted schooner in the bay of Fundy, but was unable to make out her name, a gale of wind blowing at the time, and although she stood by the distressed vessel nearly three hours, was at last compelled to leave to save her own crew.

Wednesday of last week, at Clay Village, Ky., Robert Huss entered Byron Harris's store and fired a revolver at Harris, who took up a shotgun and fired a load of buckshot into the face of Huss, causing instant death.

Minneapolis, Minn., has made the most rapid growth of any city in the last decade. It is now the 38th city in rank, has 46,887 population, and during 1880 new manufactories, business blocks and dwellings were erected of the value of $2,000,000.

A brief paragraph in the Providence, R. I., Star, Thursday, announced that the pupils of the high school were having an enforced vacation, so that needed repairs could be made in the boilers. The result of enquiries showed that a serious boiler explosion had occurred—an explosion which, had it happened during school hours, would most probably have caused a panic among the 500 persons in daily attendance at the school sessions. Fortunately the explosion took place at an hour when only one person, the night watchman, was in the building, and the affair was attended by no more serious consequences than the damages to the heating apparatus, amounting in the aggregate to about $3,500.

A case of murder is thought to have been perpetrated in the town of Easton, Conn., last December, and has been brought before the state's attorney. The story as related is that a German farmer, Andrew Higman, aged sixty-two years, was found dead in the cellar of his house on the morning of Dec. 13th; that on the day before, the son, who lived with his parents, brought to the house a woman of questionable character, which so displeased the father that he turned both out of the house. The next morning the old gentleman was found dead, and the woman who accompanied the son the day before was seen washing bloodstains from the clothing of the deceased, also arranging his hair to cover up wounds on his head. A doctor was called when the body was found, and pronounced it a case of heart disease. No investigation was had. The information just coming to light grows out of a dispute over the property in settling the estate.

The storm of Friday was the most severe that has been known for years. Of the five hundred wires leading to all parts of the country from the Western Union building in New York, not one worked after eleven o'clock Friday forenoon, and the loss to the telegraph company is estimated from $250,000 to $500,000.

A young man giving the name of Marshall W. Lowe was detained by the police at Providence, R. I., Thursday, until Miss Kate Field, the reader, had taken her departure for New York. It seems that Lowe followed Miss Field from New Haven, and became so persistent in his attentions and letter-writing to her that she called in the police. It was thought that Lowe was insane, but this idea was soon dispelled, and he was released from custody. When asked if he had ever met her before he replied: "Yes; I am intimately acquainted with her." He says he came to this country from London, England, last June, to act as a private secretary for a man doing a large business in New York. He says he is twenty-five years of age, and is single. He took his departure for New York at midnight.

Seventeen women of Star City, Ind., are being prosecuted for entering the only saloon in town, emptying the liquor casks, breaking the glassware, and cutting up the pool table with an axe.

A fire in New York, Friday morning, destroyed a large engraving establishment, involving a loss of $69,000.

Elliott Stock, a London publisher, lately issued an edition of the New Testament for two cents. He had sold 400,000 copies at last accounts. This beats the American Book Exchange.

Lieutenant Commander Gorringe has calculated the destructive forces of our climate, and says it will take 8,640 years to obliterate the inscriptions on the Egyptian obelisk. So we may rest easy.

John G. Farr was sentenced at Portland, Me., Friday, to imprisonment at hard labor for life at Thomaston. He took the sentence very calmly.

The Chicago Tribune thinks that there are no grounds for a Chinese labor scare. In a population of 684,000 in California there are less than 30,000 Chinese, and this number is rapidly diminishing.

Her Majesty's theatre in London took fire last Thursday night, and probably would have burned to the ground but for an old Philadelphia fireman—Mr. Marshall, an employe of Mr. Haverly—who, without help from any one, extinguished the fire with the hose provided for such emergencies.

The Peruvian loss in the battle at Chorillos is said to have been 7,000 killed and 2,000 prisoners. Twenty-five thousand Peruvians were engaged in the battle at Miraflores. The Chilian loss is both battles were heavy. The diplomatic body at Lima have urged the conclusion of an armistice, and ask that the person of Senor Pierola be respected.

E. A. Southern, the eminent actor who is known throughout England and America as "Lord Dundreary," died in London on Friday.

Abbie Howard was driven from home in Pender county, N. C., with her baby in her arms. She wandered ten miles that day, and at night was permitted by a farmer to sleep on the bare floor of an outhouse, but he would give her nothing to eat, and drove her away in the morning. On the second evening she staggered into a house where a religious meeting was being held, and begged the worshippers to pray for her. She had killed her child, being unable to feed it.

The possessor of Benjamin Franklin's papers offers them to the government for $25,000, which is cheap enough considering their historical value and the interest which attaches to them. They contain the original manuscripts of Franklin's official correspondence in Europe, during the years 1775 to 1780, and his negotiations which resulted in a treaty of alliance with France, and in triumph instead of defeat for the colonies. Franklin's efforts and diplomacy obtained the money and troops without which the British could not have been beaten, and the opportunity of possessing the very instruments which procured our salvation is too good to be lost.

Miss Kate Ricketts fired at a Baltimore bank president because a check she drew on the bank was dishonored, her father having drawn all the money.

An abstract of the gross produce of the revenue of Great Britain and Ireland for last year shows that it exceeded the previous year by £600,000. There was a decrease of nearly a million in customs and excise, but there was an increase in stamps of £946,000, and the post-office and telegraph service showed an increase of nearly £150,000, besides an increase in interest on advances of £200,000. The land tax and house only tax gave an increase of £75,000.

A Spectre Train.

One of the most singular events that ever arose in the experience of railroad men came across the engineer, fireman and brakemen of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific express which left Davenport for Council Bluffs on the evening of Thursday, the 30th ult. The train pulled out of this city, James Raynor conductor, at 7:10 o'clock. The weather was bitter cold that night, it will be remembered, the mercury falling to fifteen degrees below zero. Nothing unusual happened until after the train had gone from Marengo at eleven o'clock, and about three miles west of the town, the engineer, J. R. Wilkinson, saw in the distance ahead a locomotive headlight, and he says to his fireman, David Myers, "Dave, what on earth is that train on the track on our time for?" Dave looked ahead, and there was the headlight sure enough, and Wilkinson immediately closed his throttle, applied the air brakes, and stopped. The brakemen jumped off to ascertain the cause of the halt, and they, too, saw the headlight coming. The engineer and fireman watched the distant glare a moment, and it quivered exactly as a headlight does when viewed at a distance from a fast approaching engine, and the track for a long distance in front of it glistened like silver in its light. The conductor did not get off to see the light, and so missed the sight. But as there was a train ahead, with an apparent right to the track, the express train backed to Marengo in short order. There a telegram was sent to the train despatcher at Des Moines, informing him of the unexpected train, and asking for instructions. His answer was: "No train between Marengo and Brooklyn—go ahead." "But the engineer reports seeing a train!" "Impossible—there is no wild train on that section, and regulars are all right—go ahead, I tell you." And again the train pulled out of Marengo—but the strange headlight was seen no more. To those who beheld it when the train stopped, it was as real as any light they ever saw; and all were as certain that there was a locomotive with a train coming toward them, as that they lived. It is now believed that a sort of mirage or reflection of Wilkinson's headlight was produced at the place by some freak of the elements in that clear, cold, frosty air, and that this was what Mr. Wilkinson, Dave Myers, and the brakemen saw. It was real enough to send the train speeding back to Marengo for instruction. Maybap it was a spectre train, of which there are several in railroad lore.—Davenport Democrat.

—It is said that a woman's voice can be heard for two miles by a man in a balloon. This is perhaps the reason that so few men go up in balloons.

SOME FACTS!

NO FANCY FAR-OFF EVIDENCE,

BUT HOME TRUTHS!

IT DOES its work WELL, pleasantly and speedily. Good common-sense folk say so. Nature's law is harmonious. Grapes can't grow on thorns, nor can health be attained by the use of poison in winter or summer, by poisonous medicine or nitrates, (which only impair nutrition and impoverish the blood.) DR. SMITH'S is no misnomer, but is just what it purports to be. It cures and that is why it sells. Some dealers have sold $ 0,0 worth in a day. No listening, smartly medication. No opium, camphor, alcohol, capsicum nor water, Not a drop! Pleasant and even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

Electric Oil!

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Mason in Dwight. It has cured Tetter, Scurvey, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.

PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,

A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, all the doctors failed to cure. I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and the man gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.

J. STREAMER, Druggist 25 years.

It is the only safe cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.

Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of DR. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for sick headache, and 20 drops is the largest dose. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.

Wm. H. Morse, Janitor of Person School, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.

DR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more humanitarian act could be done. Advice free. Come and be cured. Bring on the worst cases as you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

AROUND HOME.

County Solicitor Walter C. Harriman started on a trip to the south for his health on Saturday.

A special meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will be held at Dr. May's office this (Monday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, to consider an amendment to the constitution.

The big eagle which for fourteen or fifteen years has kept guard over the vane on the top of the south wardroom, got disgusted with the weather Friday night, and flew down from his exposed perch.

District Deputy Grand Master Pender, of this city, and District Deputy Grand Lecturer Junkins, of Greenland, will pay an official visit to Rising Star Lodge, No. 47, of Newmarket, on Friday evening of this week.

Prof. Brown, the optician who has satisfactorily fitted so many of our citizens with spectacles in years past and within the last two weeks, will remain in the city but a very brief time longer, and orders for his services should be left at the Kearsarge house immediately.

"A Library of Religious Poetry; a collection of the best poems of all ages and tongues." This is not merely a collection of hymns, although some particularly beautiful hymns, with translations of the most notable foreign poems, are given. The book is one which will be appreciated by many who, unable to purchase the separate volumes of the works of the various well-known poets, have here an almost complete collection, a "library," in fact, of their best poems, and in addition the poems of authors whose works are more rare and expensive. The poets represented are nearly eight hundred in number; and the selections, with the biographical and literary notes, fill a royal-octave volume of over 1900 pages. The type is large and clear. The book contains fifteen fine steel engravings, portraits of some of the most widely-celebrated poets. The "Library of Religious Poetry" will be sold by subscription only, and bound in a style suitable for the library or drawing-room table, as the subscriber may desire. The agent for this city, a Portsmouth lady, will call upon our citizens to solicit their subscriptions for this really choice work.

The storm which commenced Friday morning, continuing and increasing throughout the day and night up to Saturday morning, was the most severe one of the season. The snow drifted badly, putting the city to a large expense to break out the streets and roads. The railroad trains were greatly impeded. The Dover train, due in this city at half-past eight Friday evening, did not arrive until midnight. The Pullman train from the east was two hours late Saturday morning, being drawn by three engines having a snow-plough ahead. The Dover train due at quarter-past seven Saturday morning, did not arrive until nine o'clock, and the Wolfeborough train was three-quarters of an hour late; four freight trains were waiting at the Eastern depot in this city, being delayed by the storm. The railroad men say that the most snow fell at the western end of the road, and the trains were delayed the most from Boston. The snow was packed very solid on the tracks, making it very difficult to force a way through it. The trains from Boston were two hours and twenty minutes late, Saturday forenoon.

Owing to the interruption of telegraphic intercourse we were unable to procure the weather probabilities on Saturday morning.

The fourth lecture in the course at the Universalist church will be given this evening, by Prof. J. H. Chapin, on "Life and scenes beyond the Rocky Mountains." Evening tickets thirty-five cents each.

Since the schooner Hattie Lewis has been laid up at the wharf of the Raynes shipyard, some person has bursted into her cabin by breaking the lock on the door. Nothing has been stolen, so far as is known, and the intruder or intruders probably only sought a stopping place.

The Scottish Troubadors, who are to appear at Music hall on Tuesday evening, are spoken of very highly in the papers of places where they have given their opera and bric-a-brac entertainment; the entertainment is said to be full of fun, and in every respect worthy of liberal encouragement.

Some world-renowned scientist whose name we have forgotten, says that somebody's comet — Newton's or Swift's or somebody else's — now visible in the southern hemisphere, is going to tumble into the sun this year, and by the concussion create such a terrific heat as will make things very warm on the earth's surface. We wish that comet would hurry up; nobody will care for any extra heat next July.

One of the crew of the fishing schooner Sarah E. Babson, of Newburyport, on Friday discovered a man robbing their trawls set in the bay. The schooner's men gave chase and captured the thief, and took from him about seven hundred pound of fish; but he begged so hard that they let him go, and he sneaked off to a Gloucester schooner which has for some time been suspected of being a trawl-robber.

A raft of timber cut on the Burnham place at Durham, and destined to be used in the erection of C. E. Walker & Co.'s coal pocket, had quite a frolic in coming down the river last week, first running into the Portsmouth & Dover railroad bridge, and afterward striking Portsmouth bridge and "turning a puddin'" a la the small boy, going end over end, and getting all mixed up with the piles of the bridge, to the great disgust of the men in charge.

Samuel Gordon Haley died at Oshtemo, Michigan, Jan. 14th, aged forty-eight years. He was born in Charlestown, Mass., graduated at Dartmouth college in 1860, and soon after became principal of Hopkinton academy, three years later becoming superintendent of schools at Newmarket. During a part of 1864 and 1865 he was at Washington, D. C., engaged in the benevolent work of the United States Christian commission, and he was for several years principal of the high school at Dover. Ten years ago he settled in Illinois, where he became widely known and very successful as a teacher and promoter of educational enterprises. He was deeply interested in historical researches and genealogy. He was active as a Freemason, and was highly esteemed as a Christian gentleman. He was buried at East Andover on Wednesday of last week.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Gov. Plaisted of Maine on Thursday of last week nominated F. W. Guptill of Saco and Albert Lord of Eliot to be justices of the peace.

The Journal says that "Mr. Hartley W. Mason has just purchased an eligible tract of land near York beach, easterly of the cottages recently erected by him, and on which he will soon build four or more cottages."

An excellent entertainment was given in the Congregational church at Kittery Point on Tuesday evening of last week, consisting of charades, recitations, and operatic and comic singing, the church being crowded. The singing of Miss Julia Duncan and Miss Annie Brooks was exceedingly fine, the latter's rendering of "The cows are in the corn" receiving a well-earned encore. The recitations of Woodbury Amee and William Brooks, and the singing of the Misses Wilson, deserve mention for the careful and pleasing manner in which they were given. The library fund of the church was materially benefitted by the entertainment.

Take Care of Wills.

In the British house of lords Lord Brougham once mentioned two somewhat remarkable facts, showing the necessity of having a safe place for the deposit of wills. The first case was one in which one of his noble friends, as a devisee, gained $150,000 a year. How the first lost it, and the last gained it, was by a will being found in a rusty old box, in an old travelling carriage, and which, therefore, might have been very naturally lost by accident or destroyed from ignorance. The second case was one also in which some of his noble friends were concerned, and the sum in question was no less than $750,000. This sum would have been entirely lost to the purposes for which it was intended, if the inquiries relative to the existence of a will with respect to it had been instituted in the winter instead of in the summer. The will was searched for everywhere, but could nowhere be found, until at last it was discovered in a grate, and stuffed like a piece of waste paper through the bars; if it had been winter instead of summer in all probability when the fire had been lighted it would have been destroyed.

"The Last Man's Society."

The death of John Vattier in Cincinnati, Thursday of last week, ends the history of a strange organization. In 1832 seven prominent Cincinnatians dining together, agreed to commemorate that event by an annual dinner, so long as they lived, the chair of each member to be placed at the table after his death. A bottle of wine was locked in a casket and the key thrown away, the same to be opened and the wine drank by the last survivor, after the death of all the others. Dr. Vattier was a member of this society, and some years ago, performed this last duty in remembrance of his dead associates. In past years he has eaten this annual dinner alone, with the six empty chairs, and dinner for six more prepared, but never used. His death ends the strange organization known as "The last man's society."

—During the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71 a French major, taken prisoner, was approached by a Prussian general, who promised him anything he wished if he would betray the French plan of campaign. "Any demand you may make," said the Prussian general, "will be accorded to." The Frenchman, although indignant, kept his temper and replied: "I will do what you ask on one condition." "And that is?" "That you will give me your esteem after I have spoken." The general tried to tempt him no further.

New Hampshire Items.

The widow of Thomas Burroughs of Barnstead committed suicide last Thursday, by hanging herself with a skein of yarn.

The annual levee and ball of the fire department of Concord took place Friday night, and was a very pleasant and successful affair. Many visiting firemen from various states were present.

David Perkins, ex-captain of the Manchester night police, has been appointed as a private detective for the large manufacturing corporations in that city, at a liberal salary.

Probably the first instance of cumulative voting in corporations under the law allowing minority representation recently promulgated by Gov. Head, occurred at the meeting of the stockholders of the Concord horse railroad, at the annual meeting Thursday night, when George E. Emery cast five votes for one director, instead of giving a single ballot for the whole number of directors.

Better facilities to reach the White mountains are promised us this year, and there is a report that the exorbitant fare upon the Mount Washington railway and the no less exorbitant prices of the Summit house are to be reduced.—New York Times.

C. M. Richardson, of Laconia, has lately been awarded a patent for a car coupler, which according to all railroad men who have seen it, is a valuable invention. This coupler is superior to others in many respects, the most important of which is that it enables the cars to be coupled by a man standing at the end, doing away with the necessity of going between the cars, and thus will be the means of preventing many accidents. This coupler is as simple cheap and efficient as any other kind, and no doubt will soon come into general use.—Concord Blade.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Jan. 19.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1849; sheep and lambs 3240; swine 12,000. Veals 100; number western cattle 1436; eastern cattle 218; milch cows and others cattle 175.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $6 00 @ 6 75; first quality $5 75 @ 5 87½; second quality $4 50 @ 5 12½; third quality $4 @ 4 25; poorest grades of ox-, bulls, etc., $2 25 @ 3 75.

Brighton hides 9c per lb.

Brighton tallow 7c per lb.

Country hides 7½ @ 8c per lb.

Country tallow 4½ @ 5c per lb.

Calf skins 10 @ 12c per lb.

Sheep and lambs skins $1 25 @ 2 00 each.

The supply of cattle in market has been lighter than that of one week ago, but the trade has not been very active for beef cattle, and prices obtained in most instances will not vary much, if any, from those obtained one week ago. Cattle cost higher at the west, but the demand for shipping cattle has been light. There were but a few western cattle sold as low as 4c per lb live weight, sales for the large portion ranging at 4½ @ 5c per lb live weight. From Maine the supply consisted of a few beef cattle and quite a number of working oxen and milch cows, for which there has been a fair trade.

Working oxen—There was a fair supply in market and a moderate call for them. We note sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2800 lbs, for $225; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weig 2800 lb, $225; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3200 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2 00 lbs, $135; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 7 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $120; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 1 in, live weight 3800 lbs, $135; 1 pr, two year old steers $42; 5 pr, girth 6 ft 7 in, live weig 3200 lbs, for $105 per pair; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2200 lbs, $8.

Milch Cows—Extra $50 @ 70; ordinary $25 @ 45; per spring $18 @ 40 per head. We quote sales of 1 extra cow at $60; 1 do $65; 2 springers $50; 2 new milk cows for $70; 2 for $55; 2 springers at $ 0 each; 1 do $35; 1 cow and calf $30; 1 do $35; 1 do $30; 1 do $25, and 2 $30. Most of the cows in market were of common grade. Fair demand for nice milch cows.

Store Cattle—Nearly all the small cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter. No call for stores.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were all owned by A. W. Hollis, and co-s, landed at Brighton, from 6 @ 7c per lb, live weight. None offered on the market for sale; all for slaughter.

Swine—Store pigs and fat hogs have a branch show for this week's market coming the butchers, from 8½ @ 9½c per lb, live weight.

WHAT HAPPENED TO

MR. JOSEPH BEACH.

Stone in the Kidney expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" about two weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered a one-sided life, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach said hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—ex erienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 8th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "I will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any bodily ailment arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" is sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, N. Y.

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weakness; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; headaches; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental anxiety, physical fatigue. It is pleasant, agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) proved 96 of patients in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

Singing on the Stage.

Theatrical chorus singers are generally a very cheerful, chatty sort of people, and their inevitable good nature goes far to make their life behind the scenes endurable and enjoyable. The chorus is a little republic, where equality and fraternity are generally practiced. The chorus singer has an excellent opportunity of hearing freely the greatest musical artists, and improving his own style. The latest fashions in the audience can be calmly surveyed from the stage. Altogether, the business is a fascinating one in many respects.

There are many conscientious chorus singers who like to attend the rehearsals. But to most of the class those necessary preliminaries are viewed with distaste. During the rehearsals the chorus singer is not paid, and four or five weeks of daily rehearsing are required to get up an ordinary opera. Absenteeism run the risk of losing their engagements. Some managers have a habit of producing the opera with a large choral force, and after the first week reducing it by dismissing a dozen or more members. On the other hand, the manager feels terribly aggrieved if a good singer sees fit to leave the troupe voluntarily after a week's experiment.

The young ladies and young gentlemen who now sing in theatrical choruses are of a respectable class, and fully equal in social position and merit, were being superior in talent, to many of those who languidly listen to or chatter through their efforts in the auditorium. The pay, though almost fifty per cent less than it was ten years ago, is better than many of them—the girls particularly—can earn in most other vocations.—N. Y. Mail.

—A La Crosse, Wis., minister prayed for those "who were smitten with illness, and those who have gone a fishing, and also those too lazy to dress for church."

"Facts are stubborn things," and so are coughs and colds, but the latter will invariably yield to Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup, which costs but 25 cents.

The business men of Chicago have arranged to organize a company to build an independent telegraph line between that city and New York and Boston.

FROZEN FOOT.—Wm. H. Morse, of 56 Poplar St., Chelsea, Mass., had his left foot very badly frozen, while attending a fire in South Boston. The doctors in attendance said it would have to be amputated, but he used one of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil" and is entirely well. Sec sdy.

A six-days go-as-you-please contest for the "O'Leary international belt" commenced in the American Institute building at New York on Monday morning; twenty-two contestants started, in the presence of an immense crowd of sporting men and others.

I have been troubled with flatus in the stomach and bowels, sometimes seriously so. D. R. V. G. has cured me. I recommend it to all.

D. Candee, Alderman 6th Ward, Syracuse, N. Y.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

The proposed scheme for the "protection of person and property in Ireland," incorporated in the bill now before the British parliament, will enable the landlords to subjugate the oppressed people in a summary manner. It not only suspends the habeas corpus, but provides that persons arrested cannot be released, tried or bailed without an order of the privy council or the viceroy, and substitutes trial before two justices for trial by jury.

He Still Lives.

Some years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, of Buffalo, N. Y., and London, was sent for to examine a terrible disease of the knee-joint, resulting in ulceration and extensive sloughing of the bone and tissues. The man's life had been despaired of by the previous attendants. Amputation at the thigh was promptly decided upon and skillfully performed by Dr. Pierce, and as after treatment to purify the blood and prevent a recurrence of the malady the doctor's Golden Medical Discovery was freely prescribed. The man's system was thoroughly purified and strengthened, he rapidly gained his health, the stump healing nicely, and he is to-day a happy man. This case was among the first in which this wonderful blood-purifier was tested. It has since manifested its wonderful power over the worst scrofulous and other blood diseases. Taken for a time it so purifies and strengthens the system as to strongly fortify it against the encroachments of diseases. Sold by druggists.

MIDDLEVILLE, Mich., Feb. 15th, 1879.

Hon. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—I would say that I have sold your medicines for seven years. The Golden Medical Discovery is the best cough remedy I have ever used and in every case where I have recommended it, it has cured. I have used it in my family for my children. It cures their colds and coughs in a day or two. My wife has used it several times when down sick. It invariably gives immediate relief. Its sale increases daily.

Senator Dawes.

The re-election of Hon. Henry L. Dawes as a United States senator from Massachusetts seems to give general satisfaction. Mr. Dawes has congressional experience, and knows that his constituency expect certain practical duties to be ably and promptly performed by their senators. In this respect Mr. Dawes has proved a success, and he has a strong hold upon the substantial and energetic element of the republican party in the Bay state. There is an exception, to be sure, in the case of Col. Thos. W. Higginson, who represents the cultivated city of Cambridge, so celebrated for its production of sophomores and soap. Col. Higginson seems to think that Mr. Dawes lacks calibre because he never writes for the Atlantic Monthly, and has less taste in adornment for dining cu. than has Chief Justice Gray of the supreme court, who in Washington society might be able to reflect credit upon the time-honored commonwealth by his faultless dress coat, rather than by his judicial robes worn upon the Massachusetts bench. Cambridge may teach the Massachusetts people law, but not politics. Ever since the signal failure of New Hampshire's former chief justice in his Cambridge letter, while Royall professor of law, to demonstrate what a mistake it was to permit the advocate's cause of the down-trodden slave to enter political contests, the people have paid no regard to political suggestions coming from Cambridge, as the result of Col. Higginson's jeremiad in caucus shows. We are glad Mr. Dawes has been re-elected, as he is far more able to serve the state and the country than any other gentleman named as deserving the position.

The Senatorial Election Question.

Senator Rollins explained last week to the Senate the necessity for the enactment of an amendment to Chapter 1 of the Revised Statutes, that it may read:

The legislature of each state, which is chosen and organized next preceding the expiration of the time for which any senator was elected to represent such state in Congress, shall on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof proceed to elect a Senator in Congress.

Mr. Rollins in concluding his remarks said:

This is a question upon which men learned in the law have differed materially, some holding that under the Constitution of the United States the state is entitled to continuous representation; that though the person may change the office does not [illegible] law which by its operation creates a vacancy in the representation is invalid. The discussion in the Bell case shows marked differences of opinion among leading senators, and while the Senate substantially decided in favor of the right of the governor to appoint in that case, there was little unanimity among the majority in the reasoning upon which that conclusion was founded, and the opposition to that conclusion was so able that it has left the question in an exceedingly doubtful state.

The question is one which arises at the end of every term of a senator from New Hampshire, and it is, it seems to me, due to the Senate and the state that the question should be definitely determined. The state should not be deprived of representation for three months at the commencement of every term, nor should there be a discussion of the right of the governor to appoint, such as was witnessed at the commencement of the present Congress.

Not being a lawyer, trained to give opinions upon doubtful constitutional questions, I do not undertake to discuss the question of the legal construction of the statute, but I do think that I am not asking too much when I urge upon the Senate a definite settlement of this question which now appears encompassed with doubts. It is not desirable that the state should be but half represented, nor that the governor should be called upon to exercise powers which may be denied, in order to prevent that non-representation.

Mr. President, the Senate will see at a glance that if anything is to be done with reference to this matter, early action is absolutely necessary. If the bill which has been reported by the committee on privileges and elections, I understand with perfect unanimity, shall pass, it will enable the state of New Hampshire to elect a senator in Congress, and the question will be settled; but at this late hour, although the bill may pass the Senate, there is, perhaps, some doubt of its passage in the house, unless it be sent there promptly. At any rate, there is no probability of its passage there unless early action is taken here, and I ask the Senate, if they will not consider this bill to-day, to indicate some early day, perhaps to-morrow in the morning hour, when it may be taken up and disposed of.

News and Notes.

The reception to Gen. Grant and Gov. Cornell at Troy, N. Y., Friday, was a brilliant affair. Upon their arrival they were received by the citizens and soldiers, and after marching through the principal streets, they were escorted to the residence of Hon. John M. Francis, editor of the Troy Times. A largely attended public reception was held, at the city hall, under the auspices of the municipal authorities.

Five men were killed by a railroad accident near Tioga, N. Y., on the 22d inst. Four locomotives, attached to two trains, were smashed by a collision near East Line, N. Y., on the 22d, and two tramps who were stealing a ride were killed. On the 21st two trains were wrecked near Cobden, Ill., and two men were killed and three injured.

A despatch on the 22d inst. from San Marcial, N. M., says two miners, and probably five, have been murdered by Indians. The stage due at Fort Cummings on Saturday was attacked by Indians, the driver and a passenger killed, and the mail rifled; two Mexicans who came up as the Indians were rifling the coach were killed, and a woman with them carried off. Troops have gone in pursuit.

A few nights ago, near Chattanooga county, Tenn., Henry Yarnell's hay stack was set on fire, and while he and his hired man, Howe, were trying to put out the flames, Yarnell was shot dead and Howe mortally wounded. Two men named Brooks and Griffey were arrested on suspicion, and confined in a blacksmith shop under guard; during the night both prisoners were shot dead through the windows of the shop.

Letters from Custer and Bonanza, dated the 12th, describe snow slides burying seventeen persons. All but four have been rescued. The bodies of seven victims of the Alta avalanche last week were buried Sunday in that city. The danger appears to be over at Alta for the present.

Arthur Holmes, the ten-years-old son of Benjamin P. Holmes, died at his home in Summit, N. J., Friday. It is thought of hydrophobia. Six weeks ago Arthur's father went hunting; on his return the dog that had accompanied him went to his kennel. Arthur endeavored to get the dog out again, so as to lay a bed of straw in the kennel, and the dog sprang at him and bit him slightly on his cheek. Dr. Coles cauterized the wound, and no ill effects were noticed till Tuesday, the 18th. He died at four o'clock Friday afternoon in great agony.

The Wallingford Community of Connecticut are not negotiating for the disposal of their valuable possessions, as reported. The place, however, is offered for sale. It includes 300 acres of land, a valuable water privilege, a factory, two dwellings, and a number of smaller buildings and barns. The two dwellings are twenty and forty rooms each. Nearly all of the community have married, and all objection to them has been removed. They intend, however, to remove to Niagara Falls, N. Y., as soon as circumstances will permit.

Father Edward Purcell, the man who was responsible for the great financial crash in Catholic circles at Cincinnati two years ago, died Friday night at the Ursuline convent in Brown county, Ohio. Archbishop Purcell began many years ago receiving savings of small depositors in his church, and leaning the money to other Catholics who needed it, and to churches and benevolent societies. He entrusted the whole business to his brother, Father Edward, and in time it grew to vast proportions. Father Edward managed it without regard to business principles, keeping no accurate records, and sometimes loaning sums to Catholic merchants without so much as a note of hand for security. When the crash came, which took millions out of the pockets of needy people, no one was more surprised than he. He brooded much over the trouble in the solitude of convent life, and Friday night breathed his last. He was seventy-eight years of age.

It is announced that those popular comedians, Robson and Crane, who yearly make the circuit of the Union with their dramatic performances, have determined to rid themselves of the show-bill nuisance and expense, and to spend their advertising funds upon the newspapers. This is sensible. Possibly a few circuses and spectacles may attract audiences in out-of-the-way places by exhibiting pictures of capering sirens with pink legs, and piebald steeds, on walls and fences and in shop windows. But tragedians, comedians and people who provide musical and burlesque entertainments for the vast and yearly growing myriads of our reading population, only waste their money and cheapen the quality of attractions they offer by celebrating them in like manner with the gambols of clowns and the tricks of trained ponies.

A western druggist has just killed two children by giving them morphine instead of quinine, and his defense is that the physician who wrote the prescription in the usual hieroglyphics of the craft, gave an extra twist to one and put an unnecessary leg to another, and an out-of-place dot to a third, so that they read morphine rather more than they did quinine. How long will it be before plain English takes the place of murderous Chinese and mildewed Latin and ghastly Greek in pharmacy?

New Hampshire Items.

The President on Monday sent to the Senate the nomination of Hon. Charles H. Burns to be United States district attorney for the district of New Hampshire.

The house of Thomas Furnald at Nottingham was burglarized Tuesday night of last week, being rummaged from attic to cellar, and about $200 worth of property was destroyed and carried away, while the family were absent at Exeter.

Edward Waterhouse, a carpenter of Great Falls, was found dead in bed Friday noon by his wife. He had been on a spree previously.

Edward L. Bean of Nottingham has been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Odlin for breaking and entering the house of Thomas Fernald in that town a few days since. Bean is an old offender, and the proof is positive in this case. He is now in the Exeter jail in default of bonds. The property stolen has been recovered.

Frank Bartlett of West Thornton went to his barn to feed his stock, and saw something hanging from the side of a pet sheep like a rat's tail. Making an examination he found a big black rat so imbedded in her wool as to hide all but his tail.

A correspondent at Hillsboro' Bridge writes: "The measles have had a large circulation in this place the past two months among old and young. But very few families in the place have entirely escaped them; 150 to 200 cases have been reported, and for lack of more subjects the disease seems to be dying out at present. The long continued cold weather, with no thaw or rain since the middle of last November, begins to be seriously felt by our mills and the wells in this vicinity. There is three feet of snow on the ground, and teaming was never more brisk than at present."

One of the drivers of the city teams was seen to beat in a most unmerciful and cruel manner his tired horses, because they proved unequal to forcing their way through a deep snow drift on Lexington street, Saturday. Some of the residents on that street left their houses and remonstrated with the driver, who added profanity to his cruelty, requesting him to desist, but all to no purpose. After he had expended his strength he stopped. The above comes from good authority, and the man is to be complained of and if charges are true we hope he will receive his just deserts. The full force of the law should be applied.—Dover Republican.

SOME FACTS!

NO FANCY FAR-OFF EVIDENCE,

BUT HOME TRUTHS!

It DOES its work WELL, pleasantly and speedily. Good common sense folks say so. Nature's law is harmonious. Grapes won't grow on thorns, nor can health be attained by the use of poison in whatever name, any sophistication in medicine or alchemy, (which only impair nutrition and impoverish the blood.) DR. SMITH'S is no misnomer, but is just what it purports to be. It cures and that is why it sells. Some dealers have sold $ 6,000 worth in a day. No blistering, smarting medication. No opium, camphor, alcohol, capsicum nor water, Not a drop! Pleasant and even on a delicate infant, as all know who have tried it.

Electric Oil!

200 Doctors say so.

It has cured many severe cases at small expense. It has cured Mumps in Dwight. It has cured Tetter, Scurvy, Deafness, etc., in Pontiac, when everything else failed, as the oldest druggist there says himself.

PONTIAC, Dec. 20th,

A young man here suffering from Scurvey on the head over 15 years, all the doctors failed to cure, I cured with 3 bottles of Dr. Smith's "Electric Oil," and the man gave me $50.00. I never knew it to fail in such cases, and I have used it in deafness and other cases with eminent success.

J. STREAMER, Druggist 25 years.

It is the only safe cure of deafness. Try it on any pain, sore, burn, etc.

Ask anyone who has ever used it, what they think of DR. SMITH'S ELECTRIC OIL. It is a sure cure for sick headache, and 20 drops is the largest dose. It instantly relieves a burn, frostbite, felons, gathered breast and all painful sores and swellings, leaving no scar whatever.

Wm. H. Morse, Janitor of Ferson School, Chelsea, cured his foot, which was so badly frozen that he feared amputation.

DR. SMITH invites all candid Physicians to test this splendid remedy freely. No more humanitarian act could be done. Advice free. Come and be cured. Bring on the worst cases and you will see the charming results. Everybody should keep it on hand for any emergency, as a burn, wound, etc.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. William R. Martin is getting ready the spars for the schooner "Una."

Mr. Daniel Littlefield is getting out knees for ship builders in East Boston.

Messrs. Cobb & Call are hewing out the granite for the border of the fish pond on the farm of Hon. F. Jones.

Mr. Joseph G. Barnard is putting a new boiler and engine (sixteen horse power) into his planing mill on Hill street.

Mr. Daniel Mason is busy sawing timber for Mr. Daniel Littlefield and others, and making boxes for the Portsmouth and Rockingham shoe factories.

The schooner Agnes Bell, lying at anchor in the lower harbor, was run into on Sunday by the schooner Josephine, of Rockport, and had her main boom broken.

The morning train from Dover on Monday was over three hours late, owing to heavy drifts of snow on the road. The Eastern and Concord trains were about on time.

The following-named gentlemen have been drawn as jurors from ward two, to report at Exeter on Monday, Jan. 31st: Lyman D. Spalding, John S. Rand, Chas. M. Laighton, Howward S. Frisbee.

In the list of officers of the Rockingham Odd Fellows' Mutual Relief Association, as previously published, the name of Dr. Daniel W. Jones as medical examiner in chief was accidentally omitted.

Messrs. Critchley & Whalley are making fire escapes for the Portsmouth shoe factory, and engines for Thomas Kennedy & Son's new hosiery factory, for the laundry on State street, and for Mr. Floron Barri.

The opera of the "Rehearsal" by the Scottish Troubadors takes place this evening at Music hall, and the quaint and effective music of the Scotch artistes will make a pleasing entertainment, while it is said to be exceedingly amusing. There will undoubtedly be a good attendance.

A tea-party will be given to the mothers of the children who were entertained at Bow Mission hall on New Year's day, at the same place this (Tuesday) evening, at seven o'clock. Donations of food may be sent to the hall during the afternoon, and cash contributions may be handed to Mr. Foster at the post-office.

There is no occasion now to wait until one visits Boston before being relieved from troublesome corns. We have—let us be thankful—a resident chiropodist, a competent though modest practitioner who assumes no prefix of "Dr." to his name, and who can be found at his office in Mechanics' block, day-times or in the evening, ready to remove the cause of suffering which is known only to the corn-grower.

The monthly pay roll of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co., of Dover, foots up $48,000. The operatives are classed as follows: Females 918, males 734; Irish, 65.7 per cent; American, 22.5 per cent; French Canadian, six per cent; all others, 5.8 per cent. When the new works are all finished the company will run 120,000 spindles. The fall of the Cocheco river at that point is thirty-five feet in a level of 100 feet, and every one of the mills has both steam and water power.

Mr. Carl Meinerth, formerly of this city but for many years past a resident of Newburyport, where he has conducted an extensive business in photography besides giving lessons on the piano, flute and guitar, announces in the Herald of that city that on the 15th of Febuary he will give up business as a photographer, and hereafter devote his whole time to teaching music.

There was no excitement around the fish wharves on Monday; the only arrival was the schooner Water Lily with 3000 lbs. of cod fish.

It seems that all the robins do not migrate south, as they have been seen on warm winter mornings around the houses in the vicinity of Sagamore woods. The last two storms were heralded by large flocks of snow birds.

On Sunday three young men of this city visited Wallis' sands, Rye, landing at the Seavey's mill bridge. On their return one of the party, Charles E. Allen got into an eel hole, but as cold as the day was he rowed to the Israel residence at little harbor, and from their walked home in his wet and frozen clothes.

Schooner Wm. B. Keen, Capt. Becker, left this port Monday night, 17th inst., for St. Andrews, Nova Scotia, took on board 95,000 frozen herring at that place, and arrived back in the lower harbor at ten o'clock on Sunday night, the 23d. The Keen with other vessels was driven out of St. Andrews harbor by the intense cold, fearing a freeze-up, and the gale of Friday and Saturday sent her along flying.

Mrs. Daniel D. Mahoney of Dover has instructed counsel to enter suit against that city, to recover for injuries received by being run into on the public street by a double-runner sled. While we do not consider it just to hold a city or town responsible for accidents which occur from slippery sidewalks or snow-filled streets, in cases where the authorities have done all in their power to make things safe, there can be only one opinion as to the justice of Mrs. Mahoney's claim. If the municipal authorities permit the public highways to be used for improper purposes, the municipality should be held to a rigid accountability for any damage that may result.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

MONDAY, Jan. 24th.

A few unimportant motions were heard.

Case Goss vs. Goss, of Rye, decree of divorce ordered.

Insurance Co. vs. John W. Smart in order for trial.

New docket to be called at half past two o'clock to-day, and probably final adjournment Wednesday.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

There was a very good attendance at the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening. Mrs. Adams conducted. A very interesting dialogue was presented, entitled "The blue beans," and Misses Fletcher and Horn gave each a recitation, respectively entitled "The model church" and the "Wreck of the Hesperides." Remarks were made by several ladies and gentlemen. A dialogue was announced for the next meeting, and Mr. Janvrin is to take part.

At the bethel service Sunday afternoon, nearly every seat was occupied. The quartette opened the exercises with a beautiful anthem, finely rendered, after which special prayer was offered for seafaring men. By special request the quartette sang "I have a Savior." Mr. Howard Anderson conducted the social service, and quite a number took part. Captain John Clark, the oldest sea captain in the city, was expected, but was not able to attend; health and weather permitting, he will be present next Sunday afternoon, and take part in the service.

The reform club held a social service Sunday evening. There was a good attendance and a very interesting meeting.

L.

JOSEPH NEWMARCH PRESCOTT.

Col. Joseph Newmarch Prescott died on Saturday evening at the residence of his son-in-law, Hon. Richard S. Spofford, at Salisbury, Mass. Col. Prescott was born at Newcastle in 1807, his great-grandfather being the famous Judge Newmarch, in whose house he was born, and his grand-mother a sister of Sir William Pepperell. He was educated for a commercial life, and first began business in Boston, afterwards going to Calais, Me. In 1849 he was one of the thousands who flocked to the Pacific coast, and after a short stay in San Francisco moved to Oregon City, Oregon, of which city he was one of the first settlers. He was three times elected mayor of Oregon City, and remained in active business there until stricken with paralysis, when he returned to New England to spend his declining years among his children, of whom he leaves five and a widow. Otis Prescott, his son, is in business in New York city; two daughters, Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford and Miss Mary N. Prescott, are widely known in the literary world; and the remaning two daughters, Kate and Edith, are wedded to Edward A. Mosely and Arthur C. Richardson respectively. Col. Prescott, besides his fine business capacity, was well informed on general topics, and was especially reliable in matters of American history and politics. His remains were deposited in Oak Hill cemetery, Newburyport, on Monday, to remain until spring, when they will be brought to Newcastle and laid to rest with the dust of his kindred.

ANNALS OF PORTSMOUTH.

Among the valuable books recently presented to our public library is the "Annals of Portsmouth"—not by Adams, but a historical, biographical and statistical account of our English namesake, whose former mayor shew such an interest in our own city, and through whose instrumentality the photographic views of Portsmouth, Eng., are now to be seen in our city rooms. The annals make a book of three hundred pages, replete with the recital of historical events which have occurred within the three centuries since the French fleet visited Portsmouth in 1545. The account is given of the establishment of the first newspaper in June, 1747, called the "Portsmouth and Gosport Gazette." The loss of the Royal George is recited. The story of John Pound, the poor cobbler, with the ragged school, one of the worthies of Portsmouth, whose portrait, with likenesses of several pupils painted by Sheafe, has been reproduced in engravings; the visits of notable personages to Portsmouth; the list of mayors since Sept., 1531, the first one of whom, unlike modern mayors, is stated to have built the first city hall at his own expense, and other similar accounts, fill the book. A description of the silver plate belonging to the corporation of Portsmouth, and which is three hundred years old; the tokens, or copper coins of Portsmouth and Portsea, upon several kinds of which the name of the town is spelled several different ways, are fully described. The book is full of interest, and was sent by Ex-Mayor Kent to Ex-Mayor Marvin, and by the latter presented to the Public Library. The annals are collected from various publications made concerning the events referred to, and are published by a London firm. The book is well worth a place in our library.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Our reporter recently called at a house in Kittery, and there met three sisters, all enjoying good health, whose united ages were two hundred and forty years.

More wood is being cut in York this winter than ever before. One party is moving 500 cords from the vicinity of Mount Agamenticus to Cape Neddick.

A gentleman who tried to travel through Eliot last Saturday, and did travel through that town on Monday, says that never before within his recollection were the roads there so well broken out as after the last great storm.

Several years ago, when the late John H. Burleigh of South Berwick was running for Congress, toward the close of the campaign in response to urgent solicitation he loaned the republican city committee of Portland $1500, taking a note for the amount, signed by Fred N. Dow, Convers O. Leach and another gentleman—all members of the then city committee. This note has never been paid, and the heirs of Mr. Burleigh have begun a suit against the three gentlemen to recover the above-mentioned sum, and their property has been attached to the amount of $3,000. The case will be tried in York county.

It was reported on the streets, Monday, that quite an excitement had been occasioners in Eliot by the commencement of gold-mining operations on a ledge on the Nathan Paul farm, not far from the Congregational church. The story was that stone yielding $8 in gold and silver to the ton had been taken from a ledge struck in digging a well, and that some Boston men had undertaken to test the value of the discovery; the ledge was said to crop out on several neighboring forms. Major Urch was at Eliot neck on Monday, and reported on his return that nobody there seemed to know anything about any gold mine until he told them about it.

A remarkable family is that of Joshua and Nancy Russell, aged eighty-six and eighty-one years respectively, who live in the town of Alfred. The fruits of their union were three children, to wit, Cyrus, (now living at Kennebunk,) Bradford, and Rosilla. Cyrus has raised a family of seven children, and Bradford two; Rosilla is unmarried. Five of the children of Cyrus are married, and nine children are the results. The two children of Bradford have each four children, making in all a family of thirty-one persons. The singular part of this story is that there has never been a death in the family of Joshua Russell, down to the present generation, and that there are now residing under the roof of the old homestead at Alfred, persons representing four generations.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonic to retain it, and merits of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

—The carob bean, which is grown all over the Mediterranean seaboard and islands, is little known in this country by name. It forms an important ingredient in cattle-foods, is now employed in France for making brandy since the continued failure of the vines, and is eaten by the peasants in Russia and the east. Last year was a wonderful year for Cyprus; and the yield, as valued for the tithes, amounted to $110,000.

ILLUSTRATION.—At age 25 an annual premium of $16.91 will secure a policy for $1000, payable at death. By the same annual outlay and the ordinary methods of investment it would take 26 years, at six per cent compound interest, to save $1000.

Can any man afford to risk the chances of living twenty-six years to make a thousand dollars for his family, when he can secure the same benefit at once by taking a life insurance for this amount?

If he feels that he cannot afford to be without insurance on his house, which may never burn, can he afford to be without insurance on his life, which is sure to end sooner or later?

WHAT HAPPENED TO

MR. JOSEPH BEACH.

Stone in the Kidney expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" about two weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered a late October 18th, 1879, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "I will always afford my pleasure to recommend Dr. "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any of those arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" is sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, N. Y.

A Boy Again.

Pain and sickness bring on old age with fearful rapidity. They make an incessant drain on the vital forces, and the weary steps and faded cheeks of age often come, when the enjoyment of life should be at its highest. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" turns this kind of old age into youth again. Headache, pains in the limbs, troubles of the liver, bowels or kidneys vanish before it, and feeble men and women become like rollicking school boys and girls once more. One dollar a bottle, either at your druggist's or from the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

The court of claims has rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the First National bank of Newton, Mass., vs. the United States, for $870,025. This is one of the actions growing out of the Hartwell defalcation from the Boston sub-treasury.

HENRY VAN NORTWICK, of Toledo, Ohio, says:—A friend prevailed upon me to try an "Only Lung Pad," and I obtained immediate relief from a racking cough. I know the Pad helped me.—See Adv.

Jay Gould is at the head of an association which proposes to control not only the land telegraph lines, but also to control all the American companies owning or controlling cable connections with other countries, and also to extend southward the cables which now connect this country with Cuba and the West Indies.

G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon.

Always reliable, and endorsed by the certificates of two Massachusetts Assayers. For sale by all druggists and grocers.

The final report of the committee on the affairs of Andrew Smith, late town treasurer of North Andover, Mass., shows that it has been impossible to ascertain to what extent he misappropriated the town's money, and that recovery from his bondsmen is well-nigh impossible.

Free of charge. Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles, 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

Gen. William Newell of Durham, Me., who recently died at the age of eighty-one, had held many important offices, and was a well known military man. At the breaking out of the late war, though over sixty years old, he offered himself as a private soldier, and colored his hair and beard to conceal his age, and when asked if he was not over forty-five, answered "a leetle." When his real age and rank were known, he was placed in the hospitals to care for the sick.

Ten years ago while gathering ice, I strained my back and took cold; urination has been painful ever since, until after consuming three bottles D. R. V. G. I am now 69 years old, and feel like a colt.

B. B. Blodgett, Baker, Syracuse, N. Y. Guaranteed by all Druggists.

The fishing arrivals were more numerous at Gloucester on Monday than for any day since the season opened, numbering nine from Georges with 225,000 pounds split codfish, and 36,000 pounds fresh halibut; five from Eastport and Grand Menan, with frozen herring; and one from the banks, with 40,000 pounds fresh halibut, which sold at eleven cents per pound for white and seven cents for gray.

Railroad Wages Thirty Years Ago.

The Nashua Telegraph has recently unearthed the annual report of the Concord railroad for 1851, which appears to a much more exhaustive and complete document than those sent out in these times. It filled eighty-one pages, and contained a list of all the tools owned by the road, of all the furniture in the stations on its line, and every other article however, small, that went to make up its assets; and, besides these, a complete roll of all the employes of the road, from the superintendent down to the wood sawers, with the wages paid to each. Isaac Spalding was president, with a salary of $1,000; Hon. N. G. Upham was superintendent, and got for his services $2,000 a year; the chief clerk got $800 and the assistant $340, the latter being Henry McFarland, now treasurer of the Union Pacific with a salary of $5,000; George Clough was a passenger conductor and got $50 a month, which was the pay of the station agent at Nashua; engineers on passenger trains had $2.25 per day, and those on freight trains $2; brakemen and firemen $1.25; wood sawers and section men $1; the ticket agents at Concord and Manchester had $800 a year, and Ex-Gov. James A. Weston, who was the road engineer, $1,000; the wood shop at Concord was in charge of Hon. John Kimball, who had $3.19 1-2 per day, and one of his workmen was his brother, Benjamin A. Kimball, who got but $6 a week. These last mentioned are now the wealthiest men in Concord, and one is a director of the road. At that time the road did but a third as much business as now, but it paid ten per cent dividends.

The Peterboro' cotton mills are running only about one-third of the time, on account of the scarcity of water.

The snow fall in the Pemigewasset valley has been the heaviest known for years, and as the snow has not melted for over sixty days it is now three to four feet deep on a level in the woods. Lumbermen in many places have been obliged to suspend operations almost entirely.

Sherburn Persons, a well known resident of Orange, dropped dead Monday as he was starting for a physician for his son. He was about forty-eight years old.

David Stiles, a milkman, while crossing the railroad with a load of milk one-fourth of a mile above the station at South Lyndeboro, was instantly killed, Monday morning. Mr. Stiles was sixty-five years of age, lived with a son, four miles from Lyndeboro, and was in the habit of carrying milk every morning to the depot. It is supposed he had his head tied up on account of the severe cold, and did not hear the whistle.

William F. Plaisted's farm house at Compton was burned Sunday night, from a defect in the chimney. Loss $1700; no insurance.

News and Notes.

The supreme court at Washington has reversed the decision in the case of Hallet Kilbourne, for false imprisonment against the House of Representatives. Four years ago Kilbourne was imprisoned for contempt, and when he was released, sued the sergeant at arms and Speaker Randall for $100,000 damages for false imprisonment. The defendants answered that they had locked Kilbourne up on the order of the House. This was held a sufficient answer, but now they must make other defence.

Edward Jenks of North Brookfield, Mass., thirty years old and unmarried, committed suicide by shooting himself on Friday.

At Gloucester, Mass., Saturday, while the noon train on the Eastern railroad was engaged in shifting cars at the depot, the engine ran into the baggage car on the regular train, the tender being driven half way through the car, bursting the water tank and damaging the engine considerably.

Oscar E. Perrigo, one of the proprietors of the Richmond, Va., Engraving Co., has been arrested for bigamy. It is charged that he married Jennie Gann, while Sarah Sylvester and Bella Flagg, other wives of Perrigo, were living. Perrigo, who is a prosperous citizen, a member of the Knights of Honor and an officer in the first Virginia regiment, came from Boston originally. He acknowledges having been married to Sarah Sylvester in Boston, but claims to have been divorced from her, and denies ever having married Bella Flagg.

Marshall Clark, aged about sixty years, a highly respected and wealthy citizen of South Britain, Conn., hung himself in his barn on the 19th inst. No cause appears except partial derangement.

There is now no longer any doubt among the people of North Adams, Mass., about Ex-Deputy Sheriff Rufus G. Walden having absconded. On examination of the agricultural society's books, of which organization he was treasurer, a deficit of $280 is shown. Besides this, it is alleged that Walden carried away $88 worth of silver belonging to the society. An investigation of his insurance accounts shows a deficit of between $200 and $800, dating back from October of last year.

The trustees of the Provident Institution for Savings and the Suffolk Savings bank, the two substantial savings banks of Boston which were able to stand against the depression which crippled the other twenty-five banks in that city, have voted to reduce their annual dividends from four to three per cent, a course which will doubtless be followed by the other savings institutions in Boston and other cities in Massachusetts.

There is four inches of snow at New Orleans. Five inches of snow has fallen at Mobile, damaging the trees materially.

Mrs. Elias Cummings, colored, on Saturday night gave birth to four boys at Cranston, N. J.

It is now announced that on Saturday and Sunday last the Apaches in the vicinity of San Marcial, N. M., killed fifteen persons and wounded several. Nine reported missing were probably killed. J. M. Robinson, mining engineer of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, is reported as missing. Two others of his party were killed. Capt. Jack Crawford's mining camp is reported to have been attacked, and three men killed. The Apaches were headed for the northwest. Companies of troops and citizens of San Marcial are in pursuit. The band of Indians numbers from forty to sixty.

Mrs. Caroline Allen, of Flushing, L. I., is under arrest on a charge of attempting to murder Mary Hammond by confining her in a locked room without clothing, fire or food.

The wife of a certain farmer in Connecticut is said to be the best dog breaker in that state, and many gentlemen who own fine animals intrust them to her care. She hunts over them in the field, and is an excellent shot. Her luck at trout fishing is something wonderful, and her skill in breaking colts is equal to her skill in breaking dogs. At the same time she is far from being unwomanly, and is known as a good housekeeper.

The earthquake on Thursday evening last was very distinctly felt in different portions of Maine. At Winthrop the shock was felt at 9:45 o'clock, and lasted about a quarter of a minute.

Mrs. Harriet Hanson died in Malden, Mass., of paralysis, Friday, Jan. 21st, aged 85 years, 10 months and two days. She was the daughter of Seth Ingersoll Brown, a non-commissioned captain of minute men under Gen. Joseph Warren at Bunker Hill. She married in 1822, William Hanson of Milton, N. H., whom she survived fifty years. She was a strong advocate of woman suffrage, and was registered as a voter at the last election for school committee in Malden. She was the mother-in-law of W. S. Robinson ("Warrington.")

A Big Storm in Spain.

Reports from Madrid say the inundations have caused the destruction of half the crop of oranges and lemons, and the loss is estimated at over $40,000,000 to the agricultural interests. Seville, Cordova and Burgos were flooded, but the loss of life was slight. The loss to shipping on the coasts is supposed to exceed 100 vessels, and the damage done to vessels in ports like Buelva, Bilbao, Cadiz, Barcelona and Santander is also estimated at several millions. After ten days of gales and floods that cut off telegraphs, made trains forty-eight hours late, and interrupted the lines in the north and northwest of Spain, came a snowfall of unprecedented magnitude in the centre and even in the south of the peninsula. Madrid lies under one foot of snow, and snow has fallen in Andalusia, in Malaga and the Balearic Isles, besides blocking all passes and railways in the north of Spain for twelve days.

THE Exportation of American Flour to Great Britain alone increased from 900,000 barrels in 1876-7 to 4,470,000 barrels in 1879-80. This marvellous increase renders such stock as that of the "Niles Flour Milling Company" a most desirable investment. Mr. H. E. Townsend of Boston will receive subscriptions for a short time at par.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. eow&w 1 dg jan22

Hospital Sunday in New York.

The last Saturday and Sunday yearly are selected as days in New York City, when donations are solicited publicly, and exchanges and collections made in the synagogues for the seven Hospitals. The past season brought over $50,000. The idea is an imitation of a custom observed in London for years. They seem to have a saver plan in New Orleans. Instead of losing half a hundred little hospitals they charter a lottery, the world-famed Louisiana State Lottery, and make it pay a million of dollars to the Charity Hospital of N. O. Any one wanting information about the next drawing on Feb. 8th, can receive it by addressing M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y., or same person at New Orleans, La.

One morning recently, about seven o'clock, the inmates of a farmhouse at Minot, Me., discovered the reflection of the city of Lewiston, some eight miles away, vividly portrayed upon the sky. The city building, churches, one mill—thought to be the Androscoggin—trees, Lisbon street, a train at the Maine Central depot, and numerous buildings, were distinctly seen and recognized. This spectacle was visible about a half hour. No one building was visible for any length of time, but the objects were continually changing, at one time fading from sight, and then again plainly visible. At the sun rose it gradually faded away, the northern part of the city first disappearing from view.

Masked robbers gagged the watchman of the Chicago Iron works, Sunday night, blew open the safe, robbed it of $10,000 and left. As the watchman tells contradictory stories, he has been arrested.
